If the objections raised or observations made are those referred to in paragraph (b) (i) above, the Pre-Trial Chamber shall separate these issues and adjourn the confirmation hearing. It shall render a decision, which may be appealed in accordance with the conditions laid down in article 82 and in rules (x) to (xx).

If the objections raised or observations made are those referred to in paragraph (b) (ii), the Pre-Trial Chamber shall decide whether to join the issues raised to the examination of the charges and the evidence, or to separate them, in which case it shall adjourn the confirmation hearing.

(d) During the hearing on the merits, the Prosecutor and the person shall present their arguments in accordance with paragraphs (5) and (6) of article 61.

The President of the Pre-Trial Chamber may also invite victims or their legal representatives to speak, if they have been allowed to participate in the hearing. In this case, the person and the Prosecutor shall always have the right to reply after the victims or their legal representative.ⁱ

Subject to the provisions of article 61, article 69 shall apply mutatis mutandis at the confirmation hearing. The Pre-Trial Chamber shall permit the victims participating in the hearing, the Prosecutor and the person, in that order, to make final observations. The President of the Pre-Trial Chamber may, in exceptional cases, authorize anyone participating in the proceedings to speak again, in which case the person shall have the right to reply.

Rules 5.11 to 5.21^j

[N.B. The following rules replace rules 58.1, 58.2 and 58.3 in document PCNICC/1999/DP.7 and rules 65 to 73 in document PCNICC/1999/DP.1. The placement of rules 5.11 to 5.21 will be decided at a later stage.]

Rule 5.11. Disclosure for the purposes of the confirmation hearing

In accordance with article 61, paragraph 3, the Pre-Trial Chamber shall take the necessary decisions regarding disclosure between the Prosecutor and the person in respect of whom a warrant of arrest or a summons to appear has been issued. During disclosure the person concerned may be assisted or represented by the counsel of his or her choice or by counsel assigned to him or her.

For that purpose, the Pre-Trial Chamber shall hold status conferences to ensure that disclosure takes place under satisfactory conditions. For each case, a pre-trial judge shall be appointed to organize such status conferences, on his or her own motion, or at the request of the Prosecutor or the person concerned.

ⁱ This provision will be considered at the July/August session of the Preparatory Commission as part of a comprehensive discussion of the participation by victims in proceedings before the Court.

^j Rules 5.11 to 5.21 are reproduced from discussion paper PCNICC/1999/WGRPE/RT.4.

Rule 5.12. Communication of the disclosed evidence to the Pre-Trial Chamber

All evidence disclosed between the Prosecutor and the person concerned for the purposes of the confirmation hearing shall be communicated to the Pre-Trial Chamber.

Rule 5.13. Restrictions on disclosure

The Pre-Trial Chamber shall, on its own motion, or at the request of the Prosecutor, the person concerned or any State, take the necessary steps to ensure the confidentiality of information, in accordance with articles 54, 72 and 93, and, in accordance with article 68, to protect the safety of witnesses and victims and members of their families, particularly by authorizing the non-disclosure of their identity.

Footnote

The question of the non-disclosure of the identity of witnesses needs further discussion.

Rule 5.14. Prior statements of a person subject to a hearing under article 61

The Prosecutor, where such material will not otherwise be provided in accordance with article 61, paragraph 3, shall provide the person before the Court with copies of all prior statements given by that person to the Prosecutor. This shall be done within a reasonable time before the hearing to confirm charges against the person. This requirement is without prejudice to the application of rule X.

Rule 5.15. Pre-trial disclosure relating to prosecution witnesses*

(a) The Prosecutor shall provide the defence with the names of witnesses whom the Prosecutor intends to call to testify at trial and copies of the statements made by those witnesses. This shall be done sufficiently in advance of the commencement of the trial to enable the adequate preparation of the defence.

(b) The Prosecutor shall subsequently advise the defence of the names of any additional prosecution witnesses and provide copies of their statements when the decision is made to call those witnesses.

(c) The statements of prosecution witnesses shall be made available in a language which the accused fully understands and speaks.

(d) This rule is subject to the protection and privacy of victims and witnesses and the protection of confidential information as provided for in the Statute and rule 5.19.

Footnote*

This rule may be applicable, mutatis mutandis, before the Pre-Trial Chamber, for the purposes of the confirmation hearing. It needs further discussion.

Footnote

The question of the non-disclosure of the identity of witnesses needs further discussion.

Rule 5.16. Inspection of material in possession or control of the Prosecutor

(a) The Prosecutor shall on request permit the defence to inspect any books, documents, photographs and tangible objects in his or her possession or control which are material to the preparation of the defence or are intended for use by the Prosecutor as evidence for the purposes of the confirmation hearing or at trial or were obtained from or belonged to the person.

(b) This rule is subject to the protection and privacy of victims and witnesses and the protection of confidential information as provided for in the Statute and rule 5.19.

Footnote

This rule relates only to the inspection of material held by the Prosecutor. The issue of whether the Prosecutor should have access to material held by the defence also needs consideration.

Rule 5.17. Disclosure by the defence regarding the defence of alibi and certain grounds for excluding criminal responsibility recognized under article 31, paragraph 1

(a) The defence shall notify the Prosecutor of its intent to:

(i) Plead the existence of an alibi; in which case the notification shall specify the place or places at which the accused claims to have been present at the time of the alleged crime and the names of witnesses and any other evidence upon which the accused intends to rely to establish the alibi; or

(ii) Raise a ground for excluding criminal responsibility provided for in article 31, paragraph 1 (a) or (b); in which case the notification shall specify the names of witnesses and any other evidence upon which the accused intends to rely to establish the ground.

This shall be done sufficiently in advance of the commencement of the trial to enable the Prosecutor to prepare adequately for trial.

(b) Failure of the defence to provide notice under this rule shall not limit the right of the accused to testify on the matters dealt with in paragraph (a).

Footnote

This rule only provides for limited disclosure by the defence. It raises the fundamental issue of the extent of the obligation of the defence to disclose matters to the Prosecutor. This rule also needs to be considered as part of the discussion on the Rules of Evidence.

This rule may be applicable, mutatis mutandis, before the Pre-Trial Chamber, for the purposes of the confirmation hearing. It needs further discussion.

Rule 5.18. Procedures for raising a ground for excluding criminal responsibility under article 31, paragraph 3

(a) The defence shall give notice to both the Trial Chamber and the Prosecutor if it intends to raise a ground for excluding criminal responsibility under article 31, paragraph 3. This shall be done sufficiently in advance of the commencement of the trial to enable the Prosecutor to prepare adequately for trial.

(b) Following notice given under sub-rule (a), the Trial Chamber shall hear both parties before deciding whether the defence can plead the ground for excluding criminal responsibility. The Trial Chamber may permit an appeal in accordance with article 82, paragraph 1 (d), from its decision on whether the ground can be pleaded.

(c) If the defence is permitted to plead the ground either by the Trial Chamber or, following an appeal under article 82, paragraph 1 (d), by the Appeals Chamber, the Trial Chamber may grant the Prosecutor an adjournment to prepare to address the ground raised by the defence.

(d) Where a ground for excluding criminal responsibility under article 31, paragraph 3, was not raised prior to the trial, the Trial Chamber may grant the Prosecutor an adjournment to prepare to address the ground raised by the defence.

Rule 5.19. Restrictions on disclosure

(a) Reports, memoranda or other internal documents prepared by a party, its assistants or representatives in connection with the investigation or preparation of the case are not subject to disclosure.

(b) Where material or information is in the possession or control of the Prosecutor, the disclosure of which may prejudice further or ongoing investigations, the Prosecutor may apply to the Chamber dealing with the matter for a ruling on whether the material must be disclosed to the defence. The matter shall be heard on an ex parte basis by the Chamber. If the Chamber rules against disclosure, the Prosecutor may not subsequently introduce such material or information into evidence during the confirmation hearing or the trial without adequate prior disclosure to the accused.

(c) Where material or information is in the possession or control of the Prosecutor which is withheld under article 68, paragraph 5, such material or information may not be subsequently introduced into evidence during the confirmation hearing or the trial without adequate prior disclosure to the accused.

(d) Where material or information is in the possession or control of the defence which is subject to disclosure, it may be withheld in circumstances which would allow the Prosecutor to rely on article 68, paragraph 5, and a summary thereof submitted instead. Such material or information may not be subsequently introduced into evidence during the confirmation hearing or the trial without adequate prior disclosure to the Prosecutor.

(e) Where steps have been taken to ensure the confidentiality of information, in accordance with articles 54, 57, 64, 72 and 93, and, in accordance with article 68, to protect the safety of witnesses and victims and members of their families, such information shall not be disclosed, except in accordance with those articles.

(f) Where material or information is in the possession or control of the Prosecutor which is protected under article 54, paragraph 3 (e), the Prosecutor may not subsequently introduce such material or information into evidence without adequate prior disclosure to the accused.

(g) If the Prosecutor introduces material or information protected under article 54, paragraph 3 (e), into evidence, the Chamber dealing with the matter may not order the production of additional evidence received from the provider of the initial material or information, nor may that Chamber for the purpose of obtaining such additional evidence itself summon the provider or a representative of the provider as a witness or order their attendance.

(h) If the Prosecutor calls a witness to introduce in evidence any material or information which has been protected under article 54, paragraph 3 (e), the Chamber dealing with the matter may not compel that witness to answer any question relating to the material or information or its origin, if the witness declines to answer on grounds of confidentiality.

(i) The right of the accused to challenge evidence which has been protected under article 54, paragraph 3 (e), shall remain unaffected subject only to the limitations contained in sub-rules (g) and (h).

(j) The Chamber dealing with the matter may order upon an application by the defence that, in the interests of justice, material or information in the possession of the accused, which has been provided to the accused under the same conditions as those set down in article 54, paragraph 3 (e), and is to be introduced into evidence, shall be subject mutatis mutandis to sub-rules (f), (g) and (h).

Rule 5.20. Ruling on exculpatory evidence

The Prosecutor may request as soon as practicable a hearing on an ex parte basis before the Chamber dealing with the matter for the purpose of obtaining a ruling under article 67, paragraph 2.

Footnote

This rule does not identify any consequences of the failure to disclose exculpatory evidence. Consideration needs to be given to this matter.

Rule 5.21. Continuing requirement to disclose

If either party intends to present additional evidence or material, whether previously or newly discovered, which should have been disclosed earlier pursuant to the Statute or the Rules, that party shall promptly notify the other party, and the Chamber dealing with the matter, of the existence of the additional evidence or material.

Annex III

Annex III was prepared by the Secretariat on the basis of the oral report of the Coordinator for the Working Group on the Elements of Crimes presented to the Preparatory Commission at its 3rd meeting, on 26 February 1999.

1. The Working Group on the Elements of Crimes held eight meetings, from 17 to 26 February 1999. It had before it several proposals contained in documents PCNICC/DP.4 and Add.1–3; PCNICC/DP.5 and Corr.1 and 2; PCNICC/DP.9 and Add.1 and 2; PCNICC/WGEC/DP.1; PCNICC/WGEC/DP.2; PCNICC/WGEC/DP.3; PCNICC/WGEC/DP.4 and Add.1; PCNICC/WGEC/DP.5; PCNICC/WGEC/DP.6; and PCNICC/WGEC/INF.1.

2. At the first stage of the discussion, the Working Group considered the elements for the crime of genocide, in article 6 of the Rome Statute, as well as paragraph 2 (a) of article 8 concerning war crimes, on the basis of the proposals before it. The discussions in the Working Group focused mostly on substantive issues.

3. Taking account of the views expressed in the Working Group and of the written proposals, the Coordinator, in order to facilitate the discussion, prepared discussion papers PCNICC/WGEC/RT.1 to 3 (see appendix) for the elements of crime of genocide and for the elements of crimes relating to subparagraphs (i) to (iii) of article 8, paragraph 2 (a), on war crimes. The discussion papers reflected the substantive consideration of the elements of the crimes mentioned and are without prejudice to the eventual structure of the document on the Elements of Crimes. This issue is particularly relevant in relation to the use of footnotes, comments and introductory general paragraphs. Further discussion is necessary in order to design a structure acceptable to delegations.

Article 8: War crimes^c

[N.B. The present paper is without prejudice to its final format, in particular with regard to the inclusion of a general paragraph and footnotes.]

The following general paragraph would be included as an introduction:

“Consistent with the general principles of law defined in article 30, it is presumed that all actions described in the elements must be intentionally committed and the elements do not repeat the general intent implied for each action. Likewise, the elements presume that the conduct is not otherwise legally justified under applicable law referred to in article 21, paragraph 1 (b) and (c) of the Statute. Hence, the element of ‘unlawfulness’ that exists in the jurisprudence of many of these offences has not been repeated in the elements of crimes. Absence of a lawful justification for a particular action need not be proved by the Prosecutor unless the issue is raised by the accused.”^d

^c The discussion paper for article 8 is reproduced from PCNICC/1999/WGEC/RT.2 as orally amended by the Coordinator.

^d This sentence may require further reflection since it also relates to the work of the Working Group on Rules of Procedure and Evidence.

Article 8 (2) (a) (i): War crime of wilful killingElements

1. The conduct took place in the context of and was associated with^e an international armed conflict.^f
2. The accused killed one or more persons.^{g h}

Article 8 (2) (a) (ii)–1: War crime of torture^jElements

1. The conduct took place in the context of and was associated with an international armed conflict.
2. The accused inflicted severe physical or mental pain or suffering upon one or more persons.
3. Such person or persons were protected under one or more of the Geneva Conventions of 1949 and the accused was aware of the factual circumstances that established this status.
4. The accused inflicted the pain or suffering for the purpose of: obtaining information or a confession, punishment, intimidation or coercion, or obtaining any other similar purpose.^k

Article 8 (2) (a) (ii)–2: War crime of inhuman treatmentElements

1. The conduct took place in the context of and was associated with an international armed conflict.
2. The accused inflicted severe physical or mental pain or suffering upon one or more persons.^l
3. Such person or persons were protected under one or more of the Geneva Conventions of 1949 and the accused was aware of the factual circumstances that established this status.

^e Some delegations were of the view that the words “and was associated with” were unnecessary because they either were implied in the words “in the context of” or they limited the scope of these words.

^f The term “international armed conflict” includes military occupation.

^g The term “accused” has been used provisionally and needs to be discussed to ensure consistency with the Statute.

^h The term “killed” is interchangeable with the term “caused death”.

ⁱ This element specifies the requisite factual knowledge while clarifying that ignorance of the Geneva Conventions is not an excuse.

^j Some delegations expressed the view that the element of “official capacity” should not be deleted from the elements of torture.

^k Some delegations expressed the view that this element was not required to prove the war crime of torture.

^l Some delegations expressed the view that this element should also include conducts constituting “a serious attack on human dignity”.

Article 8 (2) (a) (ii)–3: War crime of biological experiments

Elements

1. The conduct took place in the context of and was associated with an international armed conflict.

2. The accused caused great physical or mental pain or suffering to or serious injury to body or health of one or more persons.
3. Such person or persons were protected under one or more of the Geneva Conventions of 1949 and the accused was aware of the factual circumstances that established this status.

Suggested comments relating to the crime of genocideⁿ

[N.B. The following suggested comments, which have not been discussed in detail, are without prejudice to their possible inclusion, to their status and to their relationship with the elements of crimes.]

1. The term “similar conduct” refers to conduct of the nature described in paragraphs (a) to (e) of article 6 of the Statute.
2. The term “serious bodily or mental harm” in article 6 (b) may include, but is not necessarily restricted to, acts of torture, rape, sexual violence or inhuman or degrading treatment.
3. It is recognized that rape and sexual violence may constitute genocide in the same way as any other act, provided that the criteria of the crime of genocide are met.
4. The term “deliberately inflicting conditions ... of life” in article 6 (c) calculated to bring about the physical destruction, in whole or in part, of a group as such may include, but is not necessarily restricted to, deliberate deprivation of resources indispensable for survival, such as food or medical services, or systematic expulsion from homes.
5. The term “forcible” in article 6 (e) is not restricted to direct acts of physical force and may include, but is not necessarily restricted to, threats or intimidation.

^m Some delegations preferred to replace “non-therapeutic” by language used in article 8 (2) (b) (x) of the Statute.

ⁿ The discussion paper on suggested comments relating to the crime of genocide is reproduced from PCNICC/1999/WGEC/RT.3.
