I. Introduction

1. The present report is submitted pursuant to General Assembly resolution 54/137 on the Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination against Women, in which the Assembly urged States that had not yet ratified or acceded to the Convention to do so in order to achieve universal ratification of the Convention by the year 2000 and emphasized full compliance by States parties with their obligations under the Convention, including compliance with regard to submission of reports in accordance with article 18. The Assembly urged States parties to limit the extent of any reservations they lodged to the Convention, formulate such reservations as narrowly as possible, ensure that no reservations are incompatible with the object and purpose of the Convention or otherwise incompatible with international treaty law, and to review their reservations regularly with a view to their withdrawal. It also urged States parties to take appropriate measures to ensure acceptance of the amendment to article 20, paragraph 1, on the Committee's meeting time and noted with appreciation the adoption by the General Assembly, in resolution 54/4, of the Optional Protocol to the Convention. The Assembly encouraged the Secretariat to extend further technical assistance to States parties, upon their request, in the preparation of reports, in particular initial reports, and invited Governments, agencies and others to disseminate the Convention and its Optional Protocol, and all relevant parts of the United Nations system to continue to build women's capacity to utilize human rights instruments, particularly the Convention and its Optional Protocol.

II. Status of the Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination against Women

2. The Convention was adopted by the General Assembly by its resolution 34/180 of 18 December 1979. It was opened for signature, ratification and accession in New York on 1 March 1980 and, in accordance with article 27, entered into force on 3 September 1981.

3. As at 1 August 2000, a total of 165 States parties had ratified, acceded or succeeded to the Convention, of which 60 had acceded to it and six had succeeded to

it. In addition, three further States were signatories to the Convention. The latest countries to ratify the Convention were Tuvalu and Niger on 6 and 8 October 1999, respectively (see annex I for the complete list of States that have signed, ratified, acceded to or succeeded to the Convention, the dates of the signatures and receipt of the instruments of ratification, accession or succession).

4. As at 1 August 2000, 23 States parties had deposited with the Secretary-General instruments of the acceptance of the amendment to article 20, paragraph 1, of the Convention (see annex II). From 1 August 1999 to 1 August 2000, Turkey deposited its instrument of acceptance of the amendment on 9 December 1999.

5. From 1 August 1999 to 1 August 2000, reservations were entered by Niger to article 2, paragraphs (d) and (f); article 5, paragraph (a); article 15, paragraph 4; article 16, paragraphs 1 (c), (e) and (g) and article 29, paragraph 1 (see annex III). Objections were received from Finland and Germany to the modified reservation entered by the Maldives (17 August 1999 and 16 August 1999) (annex IV). A communication was received from Portugal on 21 October 1999 with respect to the Joint Declaration of the Government of the People's Republic of China and the Government of the Republic of Portugal on the Question of Macau (see annex V). Withdrawals of reservations were received from Fiji on 24 January 2000 and from Turkey on 20 September 1999 (see annex VI).

III. Optional Protocol

6. By its resolution 54/4 of 6 October 1999 the General Assembly adopted the Optional Protocol to the Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination against Women. The Optional Protocol, which entitles individuals and groups of individuals to submit communications concerning alleged violations of the Convention in a State party to the Convention and the Protocol and also allows the Committee on the Elimination of Discrimination against Women to inquire of its own motion into grave or systematic violations of the Convention, was opened for signature, ratification and accession on 10 December 1999 in New York. On that day, 23 States parties to the Convention signed the instrument. The Optional Protocol will enter into force three months after the receipt of the tenth instrument of ratification has been deposited with the Secretary-General. As of 1 August 2000, 43 States parties to the Convention had signed and five States parties had ratified or acceded to the Optional Protocol (see annex XI).

IV. Committee on the Elimination of Discrimination against Women: working methods and capacity to fulfil its mandate

A. States parties' fulfilment of reporting obligations

7. Article 18, paragraph 1, of the Convention provides that States parties undertake to submit reports on the implementation of the Convention within one year after its entry into force for the State party concerned, and thereafter at least every four years and further whenever the Committee so requests.

8. From 1 August 1999 to 1 August 2000, the reports of 25 States parties were received by the Secretary-General. Reports were received from the following States:

Andorra (initial report);
 Armenia (initial report);
 Argentina (fourth periodic report);
 Austria (fifth periodic report);
 Burundi (initial report);
 Denmark (fifth periodic report);
 Fiji (initial report);
 Egypt (combined fourth and fifth periodic reports);
 Finland (fourth periodic report);
 Guyana (second periodic report);
 Kazakhstan (initial report);
 Lithuania (second periodic report);
 Kenya (combined third and fourth periodic report);
 Nicaragua (fifth periodic report);
 Norway (fifth periodic report);

Peru (fifth periodic report);

Portugal (fourth periodic report);

Singapore (initial report);

Sri Lanka (combined third and fourth periodic report);

Uganda (third periodic report);

Ukraine (combined fourth and fifth periodic reports);

Uruguay (combined second and third periodic report); Viet Nam (second periodic report);

Yemen (fourth periodic report);

Zambia (combined third and fourth periodic report).

9. From 1 August 1999 to 1 August 2000, the Committee considered the reports of 15 States parties: six initial reports; two second periodic reports; four combined second and third periodic reports; two third periodic reports; one combined third and fourth periodic report; one combined fourth and fifth periodic report; and one fifth periodic report (see annex VIII).

10. As at 1 August 2000, reports that had been submitted by 42 States parties had yet to be considered by the Committee (see annex VII).

B. Overdue reports

11. As of 1 August 2000, there were 236 overdue reports, of which 51 are initial reports, 55 second periodic reports, 39 third periodic reports, 56 fourth periodic reports and 35 fifth periodic reports (see annex IX). A list of the 106 States parties whose reports have been overdue more than five years is given in annex X.

12. At its twenty-second and twenty-third sessions, the Committee discussed ways and means to encourage States parties to submit overdue reports. At its twenty-third session, the Committee decided, on an exceptional basis and as a temporary measure in order to address the backlog of reports awaiting consideration and to encourage States parties to fulfil their reporting obligations, invited States parties with overdue reports to combine them in a single document. The Committee decided that the Secretariat should inform the relevant States parties of this decision (decision 23/1).

13. At the same session, taking into account article 20, paragraph 1, of the Convention, the Committee requested that the Secretariat explore the possibility of the Committee's holding one of its regular sessions in 2002 or 2003 — the twenty-sixth or twenty-eighth session — outside United Nations Headquarters and, in particular, in the Asia/Pacific region, in order to facilitate the consideration of the initial or periodic reports of States parties from that region (suggestion 23/1). The Committee agreed to continue consideration of further approaches to encourage States parties to fulfil their reporting obligations at its twenty-fourth session.

C. Pre-session working group

14. The pre-session working group of the Committee, which draws up a list of issues and questions on periodic reports, meets at the end of the session prior to the one at which those reports are to be examined so that written responses to the lists of issues and questions can be provided by these States parties well in advance of the next session, be processed in all six official United Nations languages, and distributed to Committee members prior to the session. At its twenty-second session, the Committee decided that the list of issues and questions formulated by the pre-session working group and the responses of States thereto should be circulated to experts prior to the session at which those reports are to be examined (see decision 22/II). At the same session the Committee decided that in drawing up the list of issues and questions, the pre-session working group should formulate a short list of questions and issues focusing, if possible, on major areas of concern in regard to the implementation of the Convention by States parties (decision 22/IV). The implementation of that decision has been taken in regard to the periodic reports of Austria, Cuba, Egypt, Finland, Germany, Iraq, Jamaica and Romania.

D. General recommendations

15. At its twenty-third session, the Committee decided that work on a general recommendation on article 4 of the Convention, concerning temporary special measures aimed at accelerating de facto equality between women and men, would begin at its twenty-fourth session in January /February 2001 with a general discussion and exchange of views with specialized agencies, other bodies of the United Nations system and non-governmental organizations.

E. Revised rules of procedure and procedures for the Optional Protocol

16. At its twenty-third session, the Committee adopted its revised rules of procedure as to substance (subject to editing by the Secretariat), in consultation with one of its members. The revised rules of procedure, which replace those adopted by the Committee at its first session, in 1982, will be adopted in final form at the twenty-fourth session of the Committee.

17. Also at its twenty-third session, the Committee discussed a working paper prepared by one of its members (CEDAW/C/2000/II/WP.2) on proposed procedures relating to the Optional Protocol to the Convention, including the respective responsibilities of the Committee and the Secretariat. The Committee agreed to continue discussion on proposed procedures at its twenty-fourth session, on the basis of the working paper and its discussions during the twenty-third session.

V. Efforts to encourage universal ratification of the Convention, its Optional Protocol and acceptance of the amendment to article 20, paragraph 1, of the Convention

18. The Special Adviser to the Secretary-General on Gender Issues and Advancement of Women and the Director of the Division for the Advancement of Women have continued their efforts to encourage universal ratification of the Convention and of the Optional Protocol, in the context of the Secretary-General's invitation to universal participation in the framework of the Millennium Assembly. Efforts have also been made to ensure acceptance of the amendment to article 20, paragraph 1, of the Convention, relating to the Committee's meeting time.

19. During the sixth meeting of Commonwealth Ministers for Women's Affairs, held in April 2000 in New Delhi, these issues were addressed by the Special Adviser during her speech to the meeting and in briefings. The Director of the Division also addressed ratification at the one hundred third meeting of the Inter-Parliamentary Union of Women Parliamentarians, held in Amman, in April 2000.

20. During the forty-fourth session of the Commission, the third meeting of the Preparatory Committee of the special session of the General Assembly for the five-year review of the Fourth World Conference on Women, and the twenty-third special session of the General Assembly on “Women 2000”, the Special Adviser and the Director of the Division for the Advancement of Women met with several delegations to discuss ratification and compliance with reporting obligations. Offers of technical support have been made to countries contemplating ratification and with regard to fulfilment of reporting obligations.

VI. Technical assistance to States parties

21. In September 2000 the Division for the Advancement of Women will convene a two-week workshop to support the capacity of policy and decision makers to implement the Convention and the concluding comments adopted by the Committee on the Elimination of Discrimination against Women on Cameroon. Similar events directed at enhancing knowledge and understanding of the Convention on the part of government officials and non-governmental organizations, and strengthening capacity for the preparation of initial and periodic reports and monitoring the progress achieved in the implementation of the Convention will be organized in response to the requests of States parties.

VII. Dissemination of the Convention, its Optional Protocol and the work of the Committee

22. The Division for the Advancement of Women continues to maintain a section on its home page on the Internet dedicated to the Convention, its Optional Protocol and the work of the Committee. The text of the Convention and the Optional Protocol, States parties’ reports, documents of the Committee, including its concluding comments, and any other relevant information are posted. Links between the Division’s homepage and other sites, including that of the Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights (UNHCR), allow for cross-reference to other pertinent documents.

23. The Division prepared a portable “ratification board” incorporating the status of the Convention and its Optional Protocol for the signing ceremony of the Protocol which took place on 10 December 1999. In collaboration with the Department of Public Information, the Division also issued a compact version of the Convention and the Protocol. A sales publication The Optional Protocol: Text and Materials, prepared by the Division, was published in May 2000.¹

Annex III

Reservations made by States parties to the Convention between 1 August 1999 and 1 August 2000

Reservations made by Niger

Article 2, paragraphs (d) and (f)

The Government of the Republic of the Niger expresses reservations with regards to article 2, paragraphs (d) and (f), concerning the taking of all appropriate measures to abolish all customs and practices which constitute discrimination against women, particularly in respect of succession.

Article 5, paragraph (a)

The Government of the Republic of the Niger expresses reservations with regard to the modification of social and cultural patterns of conduct of men and women.

Article 15, paragraph 4

The Government of the Republic of the Niger declares that it can be bound by the provisions of the paragraph, particularly those concerning the right of women to choose their residence and domicile, only to the extent that these provisions refer only to unmarried women.

Article 16, paragraph 1 (c), (e) and (g)

The Government of the Republic of the Niger expresses reservations concerning the above-referenced provisions of article 16, particularly those concerning the same rights and responsibilities during marriage and its dissolution, the same rights to decide freely and responsibly on the number and spacing of their children, and the right to choose a family name;

The Government of the Republic of the Niger declares that the provisions of article 2, paragraphs (d) and (f), and article 5, paragraph (a) and (b), article 15, paragraph 4, and article 16, paragraph 1 (c), (e) and (g), concerning family relations, cannot be applied immediately, as they are contrary to existing customs and practices which, by their nature, can be modified only with the passage of time and the evolution of society and cannot, therefore, be abolished by an act of authority.

Article 29

The Government of the Republic of the Niger expresses a reservation concerning article 29, paragraph 1, which provides that any dispute between two or more States concerning the interpretation or application of the present Convention which is not settled by negotiation shall, at the request of one of them, be submitted to arbitration.

In view of the Government of the Niger, a dispute of this nature can be submitted to arbitration only with the consent of all the parties to the dispute.

Declaration

The Government of the Republic of the Niger declares that the term “family education” which appears in article 5, paragraph (b) of the Convention, should be interpreted as referring to public education concerning the family, and that in any event, article 5 would be applied in compliance with article 17 of the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights.

Annex IV

Objections to reservations to the Convention made between 1 August 1999 and 1 August 2000

Objection by Finland to the modified reservation made by Maldives

[17 August 1999]

The Government of Finland objected in 1994 to the reservations made by the Government of Maldives upon accession to the Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination against Women. The Government of Finland has now examined the contents of the modified reservation made by the Government of the Republic of Maldives to the said Convention.

The Government of Finland welcomes with satisfaction that the Government of the Republic of Maldives has specified the reservations made at the time of its accession to the Convention. However, the reservations to article 7 (a) and article 16 still include elements which are objectionable. The Government of Finland therefore wishes to declare that it assumes that the Government of the Republic of Maldives will ensure the implementation of the rights recognized in the Convention and will do its utmost to bring its national legislation into compliance with obligations under the Convention with a view to withdrawing the reservation. This declaration does not preclude the entry into force of the Convention between the Maldives and Finland.

Objection by Germany to a partial withdrawal of the original reservation made by Maldives

[16 August 1999]

The modification does not constitute a withdrawal or a partial withdrawal of the original reservations to the Convention by the Republic of Maldives. Instead, the modification constitutes a new reservation to article 7 (a) (right of women to vote in all elections) and article 16 (elimination of discrimination against women in all matters relating to marriage and family relations) of the Convention extending and reinforcing the original reservations.

The Government of the Federal Republic of Germany notes that reservations to treaties can only be made by a State when signing, ratifying, accepting, approving or acceding to a treaty (article 19 of the Vienna Convention on the Law of Treaties). After a State had bound itself to a treaty under international law, it can no longer submit new reservations or extend or add to old reservations. It is also possible to totally or partially withdraw original reservations, something unfortunately not done by the Government of the Republic of Maldives with its modification.

The Government of the Federal Republic of Germany objects to the modification of the reservations.

Annex V

Communication received from Portugal

[19 October 1999]

In accordance with the Joint Declaration of the Government of the People's Republic of China and the Government of the Republic of Portugal on the Questions of Macau (hereinafter referred to as the Joint Declaration), the Government of the People's Republic of China will resume the exercise of sovereignty over Macau with effect from 20 December 1999. Macau will, from the date, become a Special Administrative Region in foreign and defence affairs, which are the responsibilities of the Central People's Government of the People's Republic of China.

In this connection [the Government of the People's Republic of China informs the Secretary-General of the following:]

The Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination against Women (hereinafter referred to as the "Convention"), to which the Government of the People's Republic of China deposited the instrument of ratification on 4 November 1980, will apply to the Macau Special Administrative Region with effect from 20 December 1999. The Government of the People's Republic of China also wishes to make the following declaration:

The reservation made by the Government of the People's Republic of China to paragraph 1 of article 29 of the Convention will also apply to the Macau Special Administrative Region.

The Government of the People's Republic of China will assume responsibilities for the international rights and obligations arising from the application of the Convention to the Macau Special Administrative Region.

In accordance with the Joint Declaration of the Government of the Republic of Portugal and the Government of the People's Republic of China on the Questions of Macau, signed on 13 April 1987, the Republic of Portugal will continue to have international responsibility for Macau until 19 December 1999, and from that date onwards the People's Republic of China will resume the exercise of sovereignty over Macau with effect from 20 December 1999. From 20 December onwards the Republic of Portugal will cease to be responsible for the international rights and obligations arising from the application of the Convention to Macau.

Annex VI

Withdrawals of reservations and declarations to the Convention between 1 August 1999 and 1 August 2000

Fiji

[24 January 2000]

The Government of Fiji notified the Secretary-General that it had decided to withdraw its reservations on articles 5 (a) and 9 of the Convention.

Turkey

[20 September 1999]

The Government of the Republic of Turkey has decided to withdraw its reservations made upon signature and confirmed upon ratification of the Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination against Women with regard to article 15, paragraphs 2 and 4; and article 16, paragraphs 1 (c), (d), (f) and (g).

The reservation and declaration made upon signature and confirmed upon ratification by the Government of Turkey with respect to article 29, paragraph 1, and article 9, paragraph 1, of the Convention, respectively, continue to apply.
