I. Mandate performance

1. The mandate of the United Nations Mission in Sierra Leone (UNAMSIL) was established by the Security Council in its resolution 1270 (1999) and subsequently adjusted by the Council in its resolutions 1289 (2000) and 1389 (2002). The Council further elaborated on the Mission's mandate in its resolutions 1346 (2001) and 1400 (2002).
2. UNAMSIL is mandated to help the Security Council achieve an overall objective, namely, to restore peace, stability and national reconciliation in Sierra Leone.
3. Within this overall objective, the Mission, during the performance report period, has contributed to a number of accomplishments by delivering related key outputs, as shown in the frameworks below.
4. The frameworks represent a shift towards a results-based budgeting approach. The 2001/02 budget did not include standard frameworks for planned results, which would have been the baseline against which performance would have been measured and reported. Therefore, the Mission's performance data for 2001/02 are presented in a transitional format showing the actual accomplishments and outputs for which information was available against generic indicators and output types rather than against a baseline.

Component 1: Political

Expected accomplishments
1.1. Progress towards political settlement of the conflict
Indicators of achievement	Actual accomplishments

Subtotal	—	423.9
Total	180.0	796.5

<sup>a</sup> Inclusive of land, buildings and airfield facilities.

<sup>b</sup> Estimated value of $13,140 from the World Food Programme and $243,500 from non-profit organizations and an individual as well as $167,227 from the Government of the United States of America.

III. Analysis of variances<sup>1</sup>

	Variance
Military observers	$1,093.9	7.9%

5. The lower than projected actual average cost of one-way air travel had a significant impact on the utilization of resources with respect to the deployment of military observers.

	Variance
Military contingents	$19,430.3	5.4%

6. The non-rotation of some contingents resulted in only 42 per cent of the resources allocated for the emplacement, rotation and repatriation travel of contingents actually being utilized, as several troop-contributing countries rotated their contingents once annually rather than adhering to the established policy of two rotations of contingent units per annum.

	Variance
International staff	$6,296.5	13.9%

7. The delayed recruitment of international personnel resulted in an actual average vacancy rate of 23 per cent, as opposed to the anticipated vacancy rate of 10 per cent for the period as well as the recruitment of staff below the approved grade levels.

<sup>1</sup> Resource variance amounts are expressed in thousands of United States dollars.

	Variance
National staff	$2,500.6	44.6%

8. The delayed recruitment of national civilian personnel resulted in an actual average vacancy rate of 16 per cent, as opposed to the anticipated vacancy rate of 10 per cent for the period and at the same time national staff were hired as individual contractors for a probationary period to determine their suitability prior to the granting of fixed-term appointments.

	Variance
United Nations Volunteers	$1,096.3	17.9%

9. The delayed deployment of United Nations Volunteers contributed significantly to the underutilization of resources and resulted in an actual average vacancy rate of 26 per cent.

	Variance
General temporary assistance	($392.1)	-

10. The recruitment of national staff as individual contractors prior to granting fixed-term appointments to suitable candidates resulted in additional expenditure.

	Variance
Consultants	($47.8)	-

11. The hiring of consultants in connection with the electoral process resulted in additional expenditure.

	Variance
Official travel	($83.8)	(9.6%)

12. Increased training of Mission personnel in order to improve the efficiency and effectiveness of support provided to the Mission resulted in the utilization of additional resources with respect to travel for training purposes.

	Variance
Facilities and infrastructure	$21,946.2	26.3%

13. The positive variance of 26.3 per cent resulted from a number of factors that have had an impact on the support provided to the Mission as a whole in the achievement of its objective. Among the prevailing factors were: the acquisition of fewer prefabricated units, since a number of troop-contributing countries utilized tents and leased premises; most troop-contributing countries were equipped with generators; lower actual consumption rates and costs with respect to utilities; and the majority of battalions and company units were relatively stable in their respective areas of deployment, thereby reducing the need for the replenishment of field defence supplies.

	Variance
Ground transportation	$5,698.9	38.6%

14. The variance was due to the minimal acquisition of additional vehicles and implementation of policies to manage the Mission's fleet of vehicles efficiently.

	Variance
Air transportation	$5,147.1	7.8%

15. The variance was due to the lower than projected utilization of flight hours by the Mission's fleet of 26 helicopters, comprising 12 commercially-contracted and 14 military-type helicopters contracted under letter-of-assist arrangements, as well as its fixed-wing aircraft.

	Variance
Communications	$896.4	4.0%

16. Lower actual prices with respect to the acquisition of communications equipment resulted in underutilization of the budget.

	Variance
Information technology	$578.4	17.7%

17. The variance was due to lower actual prices with respect to the acquisition of information technology equipment.

	Variance
Medical	$679.4	4.2%

18. The lower consumption of medical supplies contributed to the underutilization of medical resources.

	Variance
Miscellaneous supplies, services and equipment	$9,454.4	20.4%

19. The delayed deployment of military contingents resulted in the reduced utilization of resources with respect to rations.

IV. Actions to be taken by the General Assembly at its fifty-seventh session

20. The General Assembly, by its resolution 56/251 A of 24 December 2001, appropriated the amount of $699,230,584 gross ($693,126,185 net) for the maintenance of the Mission for the period from 1 July 2001 to 30 June 2002, inclusive of the amount of $7,230,584 gross ($6,685,385 net) for the support account for peacekeeping operations. In its resolution 55/251 B of 14 June 2001, the Assembly appropriated and assessed the amounts of $16,634,763 gross ($14,598,640 net) for the support account for peacekeeping operations and $1,737,712 gross ($1,560,456 net) for the United Nations Logistics Base at Brindisi, Italy. The amount of $699,230,584 gross ($693,126,185 net) was inclusive of the commitment authorization with assessments of $275 million gross ($273,375,000 net) granted to the Secretary-General under the terms of resolution 55/251 B.

21. The General Assembly, in its resolution 56/251 A, appropriated the amount of $692 million gross ($686,440,800 net), exclusive of the support account for peacekeeping operations, for the Mission for the 2001/02 financial period. The Assembly, however, approved the assessment of $651 million gross ($645,769,200 net), exclusive of the support account for peacekeeping operations and the United Nations Logistics Base, resulting in an unassessed balance of $41 million gross ($40,671,600 net). As summarized in the table below, compared with the expenditure of $617,646,400 gross ($612,925,900 net), the resulting unutilized balance of assessments for the 2001/02 period amounted to $33,353,600 gross ($32,843,300 net).
