I. Introduction

1. The budget for the maintenance of the United Nations Peacekeeping Force in Cyprus (UNFICYP) for the period from 1 July 2003 to 30 June 2004 was set out in the report of the Secretary-General dated 5 February 2003 (A/57/687 and Corr.1) and amounted to $44,368,400 gross ($42,595,700 net) exclusive of voluntary contributions in kind of $1,318,300. It provided for 1,230 military contingents, 35 civilian police, 47 international and 108 national staff.

2. On the basis of the recommendation of the Advisory Committee on Administrative and Budgetary Questions contained in paragraph 30 of its report dated 3 April 2003 (A/57/772/Add.4 and Corr.1), the General Assembly, by its resolution 57/332 of 18 June 2003, appropriated an amount of $43,798,800 gross ($42,096,500 net) for the maintenance of the Force for the period from 1 July 2003 to 30 June 2004. The appropriated amount included voluntary contributions from the Government of Cyprus in the amount of $14,567,500 equivalent to one third of the net cost of UNFICYP and $6.5 million from the Government of Greece. An amount of $22,731,300 gross ($21,029,000 net) was assessed on Member States for that period.

3. Expenditures for the period from 1 July 2003 to 30 June 2004 total $45,464,200 gross ($43,598,900 net) and exceed the appropriation of $43,978,800 gross ($42,096,500 net) by $1,665,400 gross ($1,502,400 net) owing to the increase of the UNFICYP civilian police strength authorized by the Security Council in its resolution 1486 (2003) of 11 June 2003 and the subsequent deployment of 12 additional police officers during the reporting period, the appreciation of the Cyprus pound and increases in the post adjustment multiplier factor for international staff. In March 2004, the Advisory Committee on Administrative and Budgetary Questions was informed that projected overexpenditure of approximately $1.6 million for the period from 1 July 2003 to 30 June 2004 would be reported in the budget performance report for the period.

II. Mandate performance

4. The mandate of UNFICYP was established by the Security Council in its resolution 186 (1964) of 4 March 1964. The mandate for the performance period was provided by the Council in its resolutions 1486 (2003) and 1517 (2003) of 24 November 2003.

5. UNFICYP is mandated to help the Security Council achieve an overall objective, namely, to ensure peace and security in Cyprus and the return to normal conditions.

6. Within this overall objective, UNFICYP has, during the performance report period, contributed to a number of accomplishments by delivering related key outputs, shown in the frameworks below. These frameworks are grouped by substantive civilian, military, civilian police and support components.

7. The 2003/04 period is the first period for which the mission was able to assess its performance against the planned results-based frameworks set out in the 2003/04 budget. The performance report compares the actual indicators of achievement, the extent to which actual progress has been made during the period against the expected accomplishments, with the planned indicators of achievement, and compares the actually completed outputs with the planned outputs.

	Variance
Military contingents	$119.5	0.5%

8. The variance of $119,500 under this heading is attributable primarily to savings under rotation and emplacement of military contingents as a result of favourable rotation costs of contingent troops under letter-of-assist arrangements and lower cost of emplacement travel by commercial aircraft arranged by the mission, as well as to savings arising from the lower actual troop strength (14,688 person-months) during the reporting period as compared to the budgeted strength (14,760 person-months).

	Variance
Civilian police	($90.9)	(45.9%)

9. The variance of $90,900 under this heading is attributable to additional requirements for subsistence and clothing allowances as well as to emplacement travel of 12 additional civilian police officers following the increase of civilian police strength authorized by the Security Council in its resolution 1486 (2003).

	Variance
International staff	($830.7)	(15.2%)

10. The variance of $830,700 under this heading is attributable to four successive increases in the post adjustment multiplier factor for international staff ranging from 25.8 in July 2003 to 36.6 in March 2004, combined with the implementation of a revised salary scale for professional staff in effect from January 2003 as well as to the higher actual requirements for common staff costs (education grant, assignment grant, home leave travel and separation costs).

	Variance
National staff	($934.8)	(22.5%)

11. The variance of $934,800 under this heading is attributable to the introduction, after the completion of the budget exercise, of a revised national salary scale in effect from 1 September 2003 and to the appreciation of the Cyprus pound during the reporting period, averaging 3 per cent (from £CY 0.51 to the United States dollar in July 2003 to £CY 0.478 in June 2004).

<sup>1</sup> Resource variance amounts are expressed in thousands of United States dollars.

	Variance
General temporary assistance	($5.2)	(10.4%)

12. The variance of $5,200 under this heading is attributable to higher actual requirements for the replacement of staff on maternity and sick leave and to the short-term engagement of two staff pending recruitment of an international secretary and an information technology assistant, as well as the engagement of temporary personnel to provide interpretation and translation services during absences of mission staff on leave.

	Variance
Official travel	$110.1	41.3%

13. The variance of $110,100 under this heading is attributable to lower expenditure for official travel owing primarily to the review of the United Nations Headquarters travel requirements and cancellation of the budgeted travel to the mission by the staff of the Department of Peacekeeping Operations, as well as to lower training-related travel requirements owing to the implementation of in-house training programmes, including engineering and information technology training courses conducted by local specialists.

	Variance
Facilities and infrastructure	($169.7)	(3.4%)

14. The variance of $169,700 is attributable primarily to the appreciation of the Cyprus pound during the reporting period and the corresponding increase in the cost of utilities and maintenance services provided by local contractors, the increased consumption of electricity owing to the replacement for safety reasons of gas heaters by electric heaters and the installation of additional air conditioners at contingent camps, the increased cost of diesel fuel in the south of the island as well as to expenditure related to the renovation of the low voltage electrical system at sector 4 headquarters.

	Variance
Ground transportation	($185.1)	(10.6%)

15. The variance of $185,100 is attributable primarily to the appreciation of the Cyprus pound during the reporting period and the corresponding increase in the cost of rental, repairs and maintenance of vehicles, as well as to the increase in the local third-party liability insurance.

	Variance
Air transportation	($56.5)	(4.0%)

16. The variance of $56,500 under this heading is attributable to a 24 per cent increase in the cost of aviation fuel in March 2003 combined with the appreciation of the Cyprus pound during the reporting period, as well as to the increase of air travel and master aviation insurance premiums.

	Variance
Communications	$121.1	13.6%

17. The variance of $121,100 under this heading is attributable primarily to the cancellation of the acquisition of a heavy-duty communications tower and other equipment in order to partially accommodate additional requirements referred to in paragraph 3 of the present report, the decreased number and lower acquisition cost of medium microwave links as well as to the implementation of in-house maintenance programmes as opposed to engaging outside contractors.

	Variance
Information technology	$91.8	11.8%

18. The variance of $91,800 under this heading is attributable primarily to the cancellation of the acquisition of some software packages and licences in order to partially accommodate additional requirements referred to in paragraph 3 of the present report as well as to the lower actual cost of licences and delayed implementation of a licensing agreement with a major hardware and software manufacturer.

	Variance
Medical	($35.9)	(17.3%)

19. The variance of $35,900 under this heading is attributable primarily to increases in the cost of medical services provided by local doctors and clinics and locally purchased supplies owing to the appreciation of the Cyprus pound during the reporting period, as well as to the increased requirements for medical supplies, including replenishment of stocks for medical emergencies.

	Variance
Special equipment	$215.3	70.4%

20. The variance of $215,300 is attributable to the revision by the Force's military specialists of requirements for the night observation devices and the resulting acquisition of 28 second-generation devices at a significantly lower cost compared to the budgeted cost of six third-generation devices.

	Variance
Other supplies, services and equipment	($14.4)	(2.9%)

21. The variance of $14,400 is attributable primarily to loss on exchange owing to the fluctuation during the reporting period of the value of convertible currencies compared to the United Nations operational rates of exchange.

V. Actions to be taken by the General Assembly

22. The actions to be taken by the General Assembly in connection with the financing of UNFICYP are:

(a) To appropriate and assess an additional amount of $1,665,400 for the maintenance of the Force with respect to the period from 1 July 2003 to 30 June 2004;

(b) To decide on the treatment of other income for the period ended 30 June 2004 amounting to $1,353,900 from interest income ($201,000), other/miscellaneous income ($68,000) and savings on or cancellation of prior-period obligations ($1,158,000) offset by prior-period adjustments ($73,100).
