Analytical study on the relationship between climate change and the human right of everyone to the enjoyment of the highest attainable standard of physical and mental health

Note by the Secretariat

1. In its resolution 29/15, the Human Rights Council requested the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights to prepare, in consultation with and taking into account the views of States and other stakeholders a detailed analytical study on the relationship between climate change and the human rights of everyone to the highest attainable standard of physical and mental health, and to submit it to the Council prior to its thirty-first session.
2. The Secretariat informs the Human Rights Council that, owing to the need for additional time for consultation and research, the Office of the High Commissioner will submit the above-mentioned report to the Council at its thirty-second session.
3. The Secretariat also informs the Human Rights Council that, pursuant to resolution 29/15, the Office of the High Commissioner addressed a note verbale to stakeholders to request their input for the study. The contributions received by the Office have been posted online and are available at the address www.ohchr.org/EN/Issues/HRAndClimateChange/Pages/StudyImpact.aspx.
