Item 1. Election of officers

1. Rule 15 of the rules of procedure of the functional commissions of the Economic and Social Council provides that “at the commencement of its first meeting of a regular session the Commission shall elect, from among the representatives of its members, a Chairman, one or more Vice-Chairmen and such other officers as may be required”.

Item 2. Adoption of the agenda

2. Rule 7 of the rules of procedure provides that “the Commission shall at the beginning of each session, after the election of its officers, ... adopt the agenda for that session on the basis of the provisional agenda”.

3. In its resolution 1998/84, the Commission decided to adopt the proposal for the restructuring of its agenda submitted by the Chairman of the Commission at its fifty-fourth session, as contained in the annex to that resolution.

4. The Commission will have before it the provisional agenda (E/CN.4/2001/1) prepared by the Secretary-General in accordance with rule 5 of the rules of procedure, as well as the present annotations relating to the items included in the provisional agenda.

Item 3. Organization of the work of the session

5. At its fifty-sixth session, the Commission decided, in its decision 2000/111, that the fifty-seventh session of the Commission should be scheduled to take place from 19 March to 27 April 2001. The Economic and Social Council approved the recommendation in its decision 2000/285.

6. The attention of the Commission is drawn to the decisions it adopted at its fifty-sixth session concerning the organization of its work and the conduct of business, in particular those relating to speaking time and arrangements (see E/2000/23-E/CN.4/2000/167, paras. 14-20). The attention of the Commission is also drawn to decision 2000/106 adopted by the Sub-Commission on the Promotion and Protection of Human Rights at its fifty-second session (see E/CN.4/2001/2-E/CN.4/Sub.2/2000/46, chap. II).

7. Furthermore, the attention of the Commission is drawn to the relevant resolutions concerning control and limitation of documentation (inter alia, the latest General Assembly resolutions, 52/214 B, 53/208 B and 54/248 C). In this regard, it is also brought to the attention of the Commission that some documents prepared for the present session, in view of their length or late submission, cannot be issued in all official languages, the Conference Services Division of the United Nations Office at Geneva having insufficient capacity to translate documents that greatly exceed the page limits established by the General Assembly. Executive summaries of special procedures reports, if any, will, however, in all cases be translated into all the official languages.

8. The attention of the Commission is also drawn to Economic and Social Council decision 2000/286, in which the Council, taking note of Commission on Human Rights decision 2000/112, decided to authorize, if possible from within existing financial resources, 30 fully serviced additional meetings, including summary records, in accordance with rules 29 and 31 of the rules of procedure of the functional commissions of the Economic and Social Council, for the Commission's fifty-seventh session. The Council also approved the Commission's request to the Chairperson of the Commission at its fifty-seventh session to make every effort to organize the work of the session within the times normally allotted, so that the authorized meetings would be utilized only if they proved to be absolutely necessary.

9. In connection with the present item, the Commission will have before it a note by the secretariat containing statistics relating to the fifty-sixth session of the Commission on Human Rights (E/CN.4/2001/12). The Commission will also have before it a note by the secretariat concerning the main rules and practices followed by the Commission on Human Rights in the organization of its work and the conduct of business (E/CN.4/2001/CRP.1).

10. The attention of the Commission is also drawn to Economic and Social Council resolution 1990/48 of 25 May 1990 in which the Council authorized the Commission to meet exceptionally between its regular sessions, provided that a majority of States members of the Commission so agreed. In this connection, the Economic and Social Council adopted, on 28 July 1993, decision 1993/286 on the procedure for special sessions of the Commission on Human Rights. Up to the time of preparation of the present document, the Commission has held five special sessions, the last one from 17 to 19 October 2000 (see also paras. 44-45 below).

The Commission welcomed the offer by the Government of South Africa to host in 2001 the World Conference against Racism, Racial Discrimination, Xenophobia and Related Intolerance. The Commission recalled its resolution 1999/78 and decided to appoint an 11-member Bureau for the two sessions of the Preparatory Committee for the World Conference, comprising two representatives per regional group and a representative of the host country as an ex officio member. The first session of the Preparatory Committee was held from 1 to 5 May 2000 (A/CONF.189/PC.1/21). The Preparatory Committee decided, inter alia, to accept the offer of the Government of South Africa to host the World Conference and that the dates of the World Conference would be from 31 August to 7 September 2001. The Preparatory Committee also decided to recommend that the General Assembly establish an inter-sessional open-ended working group to meet in Geneva for five working days to develop the draft agenda, the draft declaration and the draft programme of action for the World Conference. In resolution 2144 A (XXI) of 26 October 1966, the General Assembly invited the Council and the Commission to give urgent consideration to ways and means of improving the capacity of the United Nations to put a stop to violations of human rights wherever they might occur. Sub-item (b) Procedure established in accordance with Economic and Social Council resolutions 1503 (XLVIII) and 2000/3

77. By resolution 1503 (XLVIII) of 27 May 1970, the Economic and Social Council established a procedure for dealing with communications concerning alleged violations of human rights. Particular situations referred to the Commission by the Sub-Commission on Prevention of Discrimination and Protection of Minorities (now the Sub-Commission on the Promotion and Protection of Human Rights) under Council resolution 1503 (XLVIII) were placed before the Commission for the first time at its thirtieth session in 1974. Since then, particular situations relating to 78 countries have been placed before the Commission under the procedure.

78. During its fifty-sixth session in 2000, the Commission on Human Rights revised the 1503 procedure. The inter-sessional working group on enhancing the effectiveness of the mechanisms of the Commission on Human Rights included in chapter three of its report (E/CN.4/2000/112) recommendations on how the 1503 procedure should be amended. Those recommendations were subsequently embodied in a draft resolution entitled "Procedure for dealing with communications concerning human rights" which was part of Commission decision 2000/109. The Commission's consideration of these situations may take place in two separate closed meetings. Should the Commission decide to hold two separate closed meetings, the modalities to be used are set forth in paragraph 7 of Council resolution 2000/3.

80. As has been the case since 1980, the States invited to attend the closed meetings of the Commission under Council resolution 1503 (XLVIII) will have the right to attend and to participate in the entire discussion of the situation concerning them, and to be present during the adoption of the final decision taken in regard to their situation.

81. Following established practice, the Chairperson of the Commission will announce in a public meeting the countries that have been examined under the procedure governed by Council resolutions 1503 (XLVIII) and 2000/3, as well as the countries no longer being dealt with under the procedure; otherwise, all actions taken under the 1503 procedure remain confidential until such time as the Commission may decide to make recommendations to the Council. The documentation pertaining to the procedure is also confidential.

82. At its fifty-seventh session, the Commission will have before it the report of the Working Group on Situations (E/CN.4/2001/R.1 and addenda). Observations which may be received from the Governments concerned (to be issued in the E/CN.4/2001/R.2 series) will also be made available. The above-mentioned confidential documents will be handed to the members of the Commission at least one week in advance of the first closed meeting.

Mainstreaming technical cooperation in all areas of human rights

221. At its fifty-fifth session, the Commission, in its resolution 1999/73, inter alia, called upon the Office of the High Commissioner to make available to the Commission on Human Rights on an annual basis details of the persons included on its roster of experts available for technical cooperation activities, to advertise widely in the media, especially in developing countries, its need for such experts and to invite all States to nominate experts for inclusion on the roster. The Commission decided to continue consideration of the subject at its fifty-seventh session.

222. At its fifty-fifth session, the Commission, in its resolution 1999/74, decided to continue its consideration of the question of assistance to States in strengthening the rule of law at its fifty-seventh session in the light of the report to be submitted by the Secretary-General to the General Assembly at its fifty-fifth session pursuant to Assembly resolution 53/142 and any relevant information that might be provided by the High Commissioner on that matter.

223. In connection with this issue, the attention of the Commission is drawn to General Assembly resolution 55/99, entitled "Strengthening of the rule of law", and to the report of the Secretary-General on that subject submitted to the General Assembly at its fifty-fifth session (A/55/177).

The Commission requested the Secretary-General to submit a further analytical report to the Commission on Human Rights at its fifty-eighth session on the progress and concrete achievements made as well as obstacles encountered in the implementation of the programme of advisory services and technical cooperation in the field of human rights and on the operation and administration of the United Nations Voluntary Fund for Technical Cooperation in the Field of Human Rights.

225. At the present session, the Commission will have before it the report of the Secretary-General (E/CN.4/2001/104).

In its decision 1998/112, the Commission, with a view to enhancing the effectiveness of the mechanisms of the Commission, decided to appoint the Bureau to undertake a review of those mechanisms with a view to making recommendations to the Commission at its fifty-fifth session. At its fifty-fifth session, the Commission had before it the report of the Bureau at its fifty-fourth session (E/CN.4/1999/104 and Corr.1).

At its fifty-sixth session, the Commission had before it the report of the inter-sessional working group (E/CN.4/2000/112) adopted by consensus by the working group on 11 February 2000.
