Summary

Lee A. Casey focuses on federal, environmental, constitutional, election and regulatory law issues, as well as international and international humanitarian law. Mr. Casey's practice includes federal, district and appellate court litigation, as well as matters before federal agencies. Prior to joining Baker & Hostetler, Mr. Casey was an associate with Hunton & Williams, practising in international, environmental, and constitutional law.

Mr. Casey served from 1986 to 1993 in various capacities in the federal Government, including the Office of Legal Counsel (1992-1993) and the Office of Legal Policy (1986-1990) at the United States Department of Justice. The Office of Legal Counsel is responsible for advising the Attorney-General and the White House on issues of constitutional law and statutory interpretation. The Office of Legal Policy served as a strategic "think tank" for the Reagan Justice Department and was responsible for reviewing candidates for appointments to the federal bench. In addition, from 1990 to 1992, Mr. Casey served as Deputy Associate General Counsel at the United States Department of Energy.

Mr. Casey, before joining the Government in 1986, was an associate in the Los Angeles firm of Mitchell, Silberberg & Knupp, practising in the litigation section, with an emphasis on copyright, contract and First Amendment issues. From 1982 to 1984, he practised at the Detroit firm of Dykema Gossett, focusing on corporate, securities, commercial, and intellectual property litigation.

Mr. Casey served from 1984 to 1985 as Law Clerk to the Honorable Alex Kozinski, then Chief Judge of the United States Claims Court. Mr. Casey is a member of the California, Michigan, and District of Columbia Bar Associations, and served from 1990 through 1994 as an Adjunct Professor of Law at George Mason University School of Law, Arlington, Virginia. Mr. Casey has published on matters relating to international and constitutional law in several journals and reviews including Fordham International Law Journal, Policy Review, Commentary, Common Sense, The American Enterprise Journal of Law & Politics and the University of Pennsylvania Law Review.
