Strengthening the Terrorism Prevention Branch of the Secretariat

Report of the Secretary-General

Addendum*

1. In part V of the report of the Secretary-General on strengthening the Terrorism Prevention Branch of the Secretariat (A/57/152), the resource requirements were broadly discussed. The present addendum provides the detailed cost of the resources in the annex to the report and, in paragraph 2 below, addresses the procedural aspects of the provision of resources in the context of the contingency fund arrangements.

2. Should the General Assembly approve the strengthening of the Terrorism Prevention Branch, additional costs of $619,400 would arise inclusive of staff assessment requirements. These would be chargeable to the contingency fund under the provision of General Assembly resolutions 41/213 and 42/211. At the time the Fifth Committee reviews the consolidated statements of items chargeable to the contingency fund, it may wish to consider whether the costs in respect of the strengthening of the Branch could be wholly or partially deferred in 2003 or whether resources might be redeployed from other activities of lower priority. To date, it has not been possible to identify activities under section 14, Crime prevention and criminal justice, of the 2002-2003 programme budget which might be cancelled, postponed or modified in favour of the strengthening of the Terrorism Prevention Branch. In the light of this, the General Assembly may wish to consider the option of establishing posts in 2003 on the understanding that, given the limited resources available in the contingency fund and the length of the recruitment process, the posts could be made available for the initiation of recruitment activity but would not be occupied until late 2003 or early 2004. In such a case, the related appropriation required for the biennium 2002-2003 would be substantially reduced or eliminated. It would of course need to be clearly understood that once such posts are approved, a full financial provision for them would be required in the biennium 2004-2005.
