I. INTRODUCTION

1. By its resolution 797 (1992) of 16 December 1992, the Security Council decided to establish under its authority a United Nations Operation in Mozambique (ONUMOZ), as proposed by the Secretary-General in his report to the Council 1/ and in line with the General Peace Agreement for Mozambique 2/ (hereinafter referred to as "the Agreement"), for a period until 31 October 1993. The mandate of ONUMOZ encompasses political, military, electoral and humanitarian components, and the operational concept of the Operation is based on the strong interrelationship between these four elements. The main activities entrusted to ONUMOZ under its mandate are as follows:

(a) Political: to facilitate impartially the implementation of the Agreement, in particular by chairing the Supervisory and Monitoring Commission and its subordinate commissions;

(b) Military: to monitor and verify the cease-fire, the separation and concentration of forces, their demobilization and the collection, storage and destruction of weapons; to monitor and verify the complete withdrawal of foreign forces, and to provide security in the five transport corridors; to monitor and verify the disbanding of private and irregular armed groups; to authorize security arrangements for vital infrastructures; and to provide security for United Nations and other international activities in support of the peace process;

(c) Electoral: to provide technical assistance and monitor the entire electoral process;

(d) Humanitarian: to coordinate and monitor all humanitarian assistance, in particular that relating to refugees, internally displaced persons, demobilized military personnel and the affected local population and, in this context, to chair the Humanitarian Assistance Committee.

2. In addition, the presence of a United Nations police component could be most useful, especially during the electoral campaign. Such a component could be headed up by an Inspector General and, pending the Security Council's decision as to the exact size of the component, could consist of up to 128 police officers, deployed in the regions and provincial capitals.

3. Pursuant to Security Council resolution 818 (1993) of 14 April 1993 by which the Council requested the Secretary-General to report on developments regarding the full implementation of the provisions of the Agreement, the Secretary-General submitted a report to the Council on 30 June 1993 3/ on progress made with regard to the political, military, electoral and humanitarian aspects of the mandate of ONUMOZ.

4. In his report the Secretary-General stated that, while progress had been made in several important areas, the original timetable contained in the Agreement, which anticipated that elections would be held in October 1993, was overambitious and needed to be reviewed in close consultation with the Government of Mozambique and the Resistência Nacional Moçambicana (RENAMO).

Discussions regarding a precise timetable for the full implementation of the provisions of the Agreement were taking place between the parties and, based on the outcome of those discussions, the Secretary-General would, in due course, be able to submit his recommendations to the Council on the extension of the mandate of ONUMOZ and its financial implications.

5. By its resolution 850 (1993) of 9 July 1993 the Security Council approved the report of the Secretary-General, 3/ welcomed the progress made to date in the implementation of the provisions of the Agreement but stressed its concern that the delays previously reported to the Council had not been entirely overcome. The Council requested the Secretary-General to keep it informed of further developments regarding the full implementation of the provisions of the Agreement and to submit a report to it by 18 August 1993 on the outcome of the discussions on the revised timetable, including those related to the assembly and demobilization of troops and to the formation of the new unified armed forces.

6. The report of the Secretary-General to the General Assembly at its forty-seventh session on the financing of the United Nations Operation in Mozambique 4/ included the following information: (a) the financial performance report for the period from 15 October 1992 to 30 June 1993; (b) the cost estimate for the period from 1 July to 31 October 1993; (c) the revised cost estimate for the entire mandate period from 15 October 1992 to 31 October 1993; and (d) the cost estimate for the period from 1 November 1993 to 31 October 1994.

7. By its resolution 47/224 C of 14 September 1993, the General Assembly, having considered the above-mentioned report of the Secretary-General on the financing of ONUMOZ 4/ and the related report of the Advisory Committee on Administrative and Budgetary Questions, 5/ appropriated an amount of $54 million gross ($52,785,200 net) for the operation of ONUMOZ for the period from 1 July to 31 October 1993.

8. By the same resolution, the General Assembly authorized the Secretary-General to enter into commitments for ONUMOZ at a rate not to exceed $20 million ($19,439,000 net) per month, should the Security Council decide to extend the mandate of the Operation beyond 31 October 1993, subject to obtaining the prior concurrence of the Advisory Committee on Administrative and Budgetary Questions for the actual level of commitments to be entered into for the period from 1 November 1993 to 28 February 1994. In this regard, the Assembly requested the Secretary-General to submit, no later than 8 February 1994, budget proposals, including revised estimates for the period the Council might have decided to continue the mandate of the Operation beyond 31 October 1993, as well as budget proposals for the subsequent period of six months.

9. Also by resolution 47/224 C, the Assembly requested the Secretary-General to take all necessary action to ensure that all United Nations activities related to ONUMOZ were administered under the authority of his Special Representative in a coordinated fashion with a maximum of efficiency and economy and in accordance with the relevant mandate, and to include information on the arrangements made in that regard in his report on the financing of the Operation.

10. Pursuant to Security Council resolution 850 (1993), the Secretary-General submitted a report to the Council on 30 August 1993 6/ in which he reported on further developments regarding the implementation of the provisions of the Agreement and on the outcome of the discussions held between the parties on the revised timetable. The Secretary-General reported that there had been several encouraging developments, the most significant of which was the start of direct talks between the parties on several important issues. The results of those talks would be presented to the Council shortly.

11. In the addendum to his report, 7/ the Secretary-General informed the Council that, on 2 September 1993, two major agreements had been reached between the Government of Mozambique and RENAMO and an appropriate document had been signed on 3 September 1993. The parties had agreed, in particular, to integrate into the state administration all areas which had been under RENAMO control. That understanding would have major implications for stability in the country and should help to promote national reconciliation.

12. The agreement, which would have major consequences for the functioning of ONUMOZ, concerned the impartiality of the national police. The parties had agreed to request the United Nations to monitor all police activities in the country, public or private, to monitor the rights and liberties of citizens in Mozambique and to provide technical support to the Police Commission (COMPOL). The proposed United Nations police contingent would be responsible for verifying that all police activities in the country were consistent with the Agreement. The Secretary-General indicated that it was his intention to send shortly to Mozambique a small survey team of experts and to inform the Security Council in due course of their findings, as well as of his final recommendations about the size of the United Nations police component. While awaiting the experts' recommendations, preparations would be made to commence deployment of the 128 police observers which had already been authorized by the Council in its resolution 797 (1992) of 16 December 1992.

13. By its resolution 863 (1993) of 13 September 1993, the Security Council welcomed the report of the Secretary-General, 8/ reaffirmed the importance it attached to the holding of elections no later than October 1994 and strongly urged the Government of Mozambique and RENAMO to agree with, and to apply, without further postponement, the revised timetable for the implementation of all provisions of the Agreement as described in the Secretary-General's report and appealed to the parties to cooperate fully with the Special Representative of the Secretary-General in that regard.

14. In the same resolution, the Security Council also requested the Secretary-General to examine expeditiously the proposal by the Government of Mozambique and RENAMO for United Nations monitoring of police activities in the country and welcomed his intention to send a survey team of experts in connection with the proposed United Nations police contingent, and to report thereon to the Council.

15. The Security Council further requested the Secretary-General to keep it informed of developments regarding the implementation of the provisions of the Agreement and to submit a report to it on the matter in good time before 31 October 1993.

16. By its resolution 879 (1993) of 29 October 1993, the Security Council decided, pending examination of the report of the Secretary-General requested under Council resolution 863 (1993), to extend the mandate of ONUMOZ for an interim period terminating on 5 November 1993.

17. Pursuant to Security Council resolution 863 (1993), the Secretary-General submitted a report to the Council 9/ on 1 November 1993.

18. With regard to the request by the Government of Mozambique and RENAMO for the United Nations to monitor all police activities in the country as well as the rights and liberties of citizens in Mozambique, the Secretary-General indicated that the survey team of United Nations police experts was at that time reviewing the police contingent's requirements and that he would submit a separate report on its establishment to the Security Council shortly. In the meantime, as a contingency measure, the Secretary-General intended, subject to the concurrence of the Council, to proceed with the selection and deployment of the 128 police observers already authorized by the Council in its resolution 797 (1992).

19. As noted in his previous report to the Council, 6/ the Secretary-General pointed out the need to provide additional patrols and surveillance, including permanent stationing of military personnel outside the main corridors. He again emphasized the need to bring the strength of the military component of ONUMOZ to the originally envisaged level in order to deploy troops in Zambezia Province and to improve security in that region in general, as well as to provide escort for humanitarian assistance convoys. In order to improve the security situation, the Secretary-General proposed to deploy a United Nations infantry unit in Zambezia Province; the implementation of the proposal would not affect the overall strength of the ONUMOZ military component.

20. With regard to air operations, the demand for ONUMOZ air transport had steadily increased with progress in the implementation of the Agreement. Besides air patrols, there was a growing need for the transport of equipment and United Nations personnel to and from the assembly areas and other points in the various regions, as well as for the transport of Government and RENAMO officers in connection with their training for the new army. It was expected that additional requirements for transport of Government and RENAMO soldiers to the assembly areas and their onward travel after demobilization would place an additional burden on the Mission's already overstretched air transport. Of the 18 helicopters required, only 13 had so far been authorized; moreover, ONUMOZ would require the further capacity of an extra C-130-type cargo aircraft.

21. In an addendum to his report, 10/ the Secretary-General indicated that the costs related to the deployment of 128 police observers to ONUMOZ and to additional requirements for transport and air operations would amount to approximately $6,480,000 for the six-month period from 1 November 1993 to 30 April 1994. The monthly costs thereafter were estimated at approximately $1,405,000.

22. By its resolution 882 (1993) of 5 November 1993, the Security Council welcomed the report of the Secretary-General, 11/ reaffirmed the vital importance it attached to the holding of elections no later than October 1994 and authorized the Secretary-General to proceed with the selection and deployment of the 128 United Nations police observers approved by the Council in its resolution 797 (1992) with a view to deploying the observers as soon as possible.

23. By the same resolution, the Security Council decided to renew the mandate of ONUMOZ for a period of six months, subject to the proviso that the Council would review the status of the mandate of the Operation within 90 days based on a report by the Secretary-General. In this regard, the Council requested the Secretary-General to report by 31 January 1994 and every three months thereafter on whether the parties had made sufficient and tangible progress towards implementing the Agreement and meeting the various timetables required, and also to report on the situation concerning the implementation of the mandate of ONUMOZ, taking into consideration the need to achieve cost savings to the greatest extent possible, while remaining mindful of the importance of an effective discharge of its mandate.

24. During the forty-eighth regular session of the General Assembly, in accordance with the provisions of General Assembly resolution 47/224 C, the Secretary-General sought the concurrence of the Advisory Committee for the actual level of commitments to be entered into for the period from 1 November 1993 to 28 February 1994. The amount requested for this period was $86,842,000 gross ($85,492,700 net).

25. In addition, pending the submission of the detailed report of the Secretary-General on the financing of ONUMOZ and on the assumption that the resumed session of the General Assembly would be held in April 1994, resources were requested for the continued maintenance of the Operation for the period from 1 November 1993 to 30 April 1994. 12/

26. Pending the submission in January 1994 of the report of the Secretary-General pursuant to Security Council resolution 882 (1993), the cost of the Operation for the six-month period from 1 November 1993 to 30 April 1994, inclusive, was estimated at $131,103,000 gross ($129,078,000 net). This amount included the additional cost related to the deployment of the civilian police and the strengthened air support.

27. By its decision 48/473 of 23 December 1993, the General Assembly authorized the Secretary-General to enter into total commitments up to the amount of $82,308,700 gross ($80 million net), inclusive of the authorization provided by the Assembly in its resolution 47/224 C, for the United Nations Operation in Mozambique for the period from 1 November 1993 to 28 February 1994. The Assembly decided also, as an ad hoc arrangement, to apportion at the time the amount of $61,731,500 gross ($60 million net) among Member States.

II. STATUS OF ASSESSED CONTRIBUTIONS

28. The table below summarizes the status of assessed contributions received and unpaid, taking into account applied credits, as at 31 December 1993. As shown, total outstanding assessments of $81,319,883 are due from Member States.

III. VOLUNTARY CONTRIBUTIONS

29. In paragraph 10 of resolution 47/224 C, the General Assembly invited Member States to make voluntary contributions to ONUMOZ in cash and in the form of services and supplies acceptable to the Secretary-General, to be administered, as appropriate, in accordance with the procedure established by the Assembly in its resolutions 43/230 of 21 December 1988, 44/192 A of 21 December 1989 and 45/258 of 3 May 1991.

30. The Government of Italy has made available an air component, consisting of approximately 110 personnel with a total of eight helicopters and three fixed-wing aircraft. The air component has been used by the Italian military forces in the mission area, and all associated costs for both personnel and equipment have been borne by the Government of Italy. These air resources are, however, available to the United Nations in emergency situations. As this resource was not requested by the United Nations, no budgetary provision has been made in the financial performance report for ONUMOZ for the period from 1 July to 31 October 1993 or in the cost estimates for the periods from 1 November 1993 to 30 April 1994 and from 1 May to 31 October 1994.

IV. FINANCIAL PERFORMANCE REPORT FOR THE PERIOD FROM
1 JULY TO 31 OCTOBER 1993

31. Annex I to the present report sets out by budget line item the initial appropriation for ONUMOZ for the period from 1 July to 31 October 1993, as well as the recorded expenditures for that period. It will be noted that an unencumbered balance of $21,527,100 gross ($21,212,300 net) exists in respect of this period. Supplementary information on the financial performance report for the period is contained in annex II.

V. REVISED COST ESTIMATE FOR THE PERIOD FROM
1 NOVEMBER 1993 TO 30 APRIL 1994

32. The revised cost estimate for ONUMOZ for the period from 1 November 1993 to 30 April 1994 amounts to $163,409,500 gross ($161,072,800 net) and is presented in column 1 of annex III, with the supplementary information thereon in annex IV. Annex VI contains the civilian staffing table of ONUMOZ, and details on civilian staff and related costs are shown in annex VII. The monthly rental costs for premises in Mozambique related to this period are contained in annex IX and the proposed vehicle establishment for ONUMOZ is contained in annex XI.

VI. REVISED COST ESTIMATE FOR THE PERIOD FROM
1 MAY TO 31 OCTOBER 1994

33. The estimated monthly cost of maintaining ONUMOZ for the six-month period from 1 May to 31 October 1994 is $165,303,000 gross ($162,231,600 net). A summary of the cost estimate for this period is presented in column 2 of annex III, and supplementary information thereon is presented in annex V. Annex VI contains the civilian staffing table of ONUMOZ and details on civilian staff and related costs are shown in annex VIII. Monthly rental costs for the period are contained in annex X.

34. The current mandate period of ONUMOZ will expire on 30 April 1994. Accordingly, the Secretary-General requests that the General Assembly, at the current session, make appropriate provision for the maintenance of ONUMOZ for a further period beyond 30 April 1994, should the Security Council decide to extend the mandate of ONUMOZ.

VII. REVISED COST ESTIMATE FOR THE PERIOD FROM
1 NOVEMBER 1993 TO 31 OCTOBER 1994

35. The revised cost estimate for the period from 1 November 1993 to 31 October 1994 is contained in column 3 of annex III. The total requirement for this period amounts to $328,712,500 gross ($323,304,400 net) and includes the additional requirements for the deployment of civilian police observers, for increased air operations needs for air patrols and for the transport of equipment and personnel, as outlined in the report of the Secretary-General to the Security Council. 11/

VIII. OBSERVATIONS

36. A trust fund known as the Trust Fund for the Implementation of the Peace Process in Mozambique was established by the Secretary-General in May 1993. The trust fund was established in line with Protocol III to the General Peace Agreement for Mozambique, entitled "Principles of the Electoral Act", part V, article V.7 (b), Financing and facilities. As at 31 December 1993 voluntary contributions to the fund in the amount of $5,394,322 and $497,000 had been received from the Governments of Italy and the Netherlands, respectively.

37. A trust fund known as the Trust Fund for Humanitarian Assistance in Mozambique includes two subprogrammes related to mine-clearing activities and to assistance for the disarmament and demobilization of troops. It is estimated that an amount of $28 million will be required to implement the mine-clearing programme in Mozambique. As at 31 December 1993, voluntary contributions for mine-clearing activities totalling $8,796,136 had been received from the Governments of Italy ($2,089,352), the Netherlands ($2,564,826) and Sweden ($4,141,958). With regard to assistance for the disarmament and demobilization of troops, it is estimated that an amount of $46.5 million will be required to implement the various activities under this programme. As at 31 December 1993, voluntary contributions for these activities totalling $17,988,845 had been pledged by the Governments of Denmark ($1,766,134), Italy ($8,025,000), Sweden ($5,548,705) and Switzerland ($2,649,006), of which an amount of $14,093,404 has been received.

38. In accordance with the request made by the General Assembly in paragraph 11 of resolution 47/224 C, under the authority of the Special Representative of the Secretary-General, the utmost care has been taken to ensure that all activities related to the United Nations Operation in Mozambique have been administered in a coordinated fashion with a maximum of efficiency and economy. In this respect, it has been decided that the planned relocation of ONUMOZ Mission headquarters from its present location to a proposed new complex will not be implemented as the project is no longer deemed economically viable owing to the passage of time. The transfer of assets from other peace-keeping operations has resulted in savings in the procurement of equipment. Also, the deployment of additional United Nations volunteers to the mission has resulted in a corresponding decrease in requirements under international civilian staff.

IX. ACTION TO BE TAKEN BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY
AT ITS FORTY-EIGHTH SESSION

39. The actions to be taken by the General Assembly at its forty-eighth session in connection with the financing of ONUMOZ are as follows:

(a) The appropriation of an amount of $163,409,500 gross ($161,072,800 net) for the maintenance of ONUMOZ for the period from 1 November 1993 to 30 April 1994, inclusive of the amount of $82,308,700 gross ($80,000,000 net) authorized by the General Assembly in its decision 48/473 for the period from 1 November 1993 to 28 February 1994;

(b) The apportionment of an additional amount of $101,678,000 gross ($101,072,800 net) for the maintenance of ONUMOZ for the period from 1 November 1993 to 30 April 1994, taking into consideration the amount of $61,731,500 gross ($60,000,000 net) already apportioned in accordance with decision 48/473;

(c) A decision to set off against the apportionment among Member States for the period from 1 November 1993 to 30 April 1994 their respective share in the unencumbered balance of $21,527,100 gross ($21,212,300 net) in respect of the period from 1 July to 31 October 1993;

(d) With regard to the period after 30 April 1994, provision by means of appropriation and/or commitment authorization at a monthly rate of $27,550,500 gross ($27,038,600 net), should the Security Council decide to extend the mandate of ONUMOZ beyond that date.

ANNEX II

United Nations Operation in Mozambique

Financial performance report for the period from 1 July to 31 October 1993

Supplementary information

(United States dollars)

Savings/
(overruns)

1. Military personnel costs

(a) Military observers (154 800)

Additional requirements totalling $157,400 for mission subsistence allowance ($89,300) and travel costs ($68,100) were partially offset by savings of $2,600 under clothing and equipment allowance.

The deployment of military observers to the mission area was at a slower rate than originally budgeted. While the original cost estimate for mission subsistence allowance provided for 354 military observers throughout this period, only 303 were on board as at 31 October 1993. Despite the delay in deployment, owing to reductions in the budget, the apportioned amount for this line item was lower than the cost estimate and resulted in an over-expenditure.

With regard to travel costs, it was originally estimated that all 354 observers would have been emplaced by 1 July 1993, and therefore provision was made only for the rotation of 21 observers who had been in the mission area prior to 15 October 1992. In fact, because of the delay in deployment, 52 observers were emplaced during this period.

(b) Military contingents 1 678 400

Projected savings totalling $3,280,100 under standard troop cost reimbursement ($342,800), welfare ($19,700), rations ($191,200), daily allowance ($1,900) and emplacement and rotation costs ($2,724,500) were partially offset by an additional requirement of $1,601,700 under meal and accommodation allowance.

The savings under standard troop cost reimbursement, welfare, rations and daily allowance were attributable to the delayed deployment of contingent personnel. While the cost estimates for these line items were based on a strength of 6,625 military personnel throughout the period, only 6,217 personnel had been emplaced as at 31 October 1993.

The savings under emplacement and rotation of military personnel were related to delayed deployment and the fact that 2,294 troops did not rotate during this period as originally planned. Military personnel from three contingents did not rotate as their Governments extended their stay in the mission area beyond six months.

The additional requirement under meal and accommodation allowance resulted from the fact that 200 staff officers were not provided with United Nations accommodation and mess facilities during this period. This number was significantly in excess of the original estimate.

(c) Other costs pertaining to military personnel -

The amounts allocated for contingent-owned equipment and death and disability compensation have been fully obligated to cover potential claims.

2. Civilian personnel costs

(a) Civilian police -

No resources were required under this heading.

(b) International and local staff 2 437 700

Projected savings totalling $2,444,200 under international staff salaries ($968,600), common staff costs ($818,700), mission subsistence allowance ($545,600) and travel to and from the mission area ($111,300) were partially offset by additional requirements totalling $6,500 under local staff salaries ($3,600) and other travel costs ($2,900).

The savings under international staff salaries, common staff costs, mission subsistence allowance and travel to and from the mission area were attributable to delayed deployment. While the cost estimate was based on an approximate strength of 238 international staff by the end of this period (355 staff minus a vacancy rate of 33 per cent), as at 31 October 1993, only 181 international staff had been deployed.

The over-expenditure under local staff salaries was related to a slightly greater number of local staff being recruited during this period than originally anticipated.

(c) International contractual personnel -

No resources were required under this heading.

(d) United Nations Volunteers (171 900)

An additional amount of $171,900 was required under this heading as a greater number of volunteers were sent to the mission area during this period than originally anticipated. While the cost estimate provided for 54 volunteers, 94 were deployed.

(e) Government-provided personnel -

No resources were required under this heading.

/...

(f) Civilian electoral observers -

No resources were required under this heading.

3. Premises/accommodation 5 260 100

Projected savings of $5,314,600 under alterations and renovations to premises ($212,800), utilities ($15,000) and construction/prefabricated buildings ($5,086,800) were partially offset by an additional requirement of $54,500 under rental of premises.

Premises had to be rented during this period in addition to those originally anticipated owing to the fact that certain facilities which were to be provided by the host Government at no cost to the United Nations were in fact not provided. For example, in order to provide adequate space for Mission headquarters, which is located in the Rovuma Hotel, seven floors had to be rented instead of the planned two.

Savings under alterations and renovations to premises were realized as alterations were not required to the extent originally estimated. It had been assumed that extensive alterations would be required to premises provided by the host Government; as these premises were not provided, additional rental space was utilized. It was more economical to rent suitable premises at slightly higher monthly rates than to rent premises which required extensive alterations and renovations.

Savings under construction/prefabricated buildings were realized as prefabricated buildings for working and living accommodations and aircraft hangars were not purchased, as originally planned. The purchase of these buildings was deferred to the next mandate period. Expenditures for this period were incurred for refrigerated containers only.

4. Infrastructure repairs 2 941 700

Savings under this heading were realized as the road repairs, bridge construction and establishment of water supply facilities were not executed as planned as a result of unforeseen delays in mine clearance.

5. Transport operations 1 370 100

Savings totalling $1,419,100 under purchase of vehicles ($69,100), rental of vehicles ($105,800), spare parts, repairs and maintenance ($1,004,100) and petrol, oil and lubricants ($240,100) were partially offset by additional requirements of $49,000 for workshop equipment ($11,800) and vehicle insurance ($37,200).

Savings under purchase of vehicles resulted from the fact that freight charges which had been budgeted for the transfer of minibuses from the United Nations Transitional Authority in Cambodia (UNTAC) were incurred in the previous mandate period.

Savings under rental of vehicles resulted from the delayed deployment of military and civilian personnel and to the earlier arrival of United Nations-owned and contingent-owned vehicles to the mission area.

Savings under spare parts, repairs and maintenance were realized because both purchased vehicles and contingent-owned vehicles were delivered with an adequate supply of spare parts.

Savings under petrol, oil and lubricants were realized partially because fewer vehicles were rented than originally budgeted for. Also, contractual arrangements for the supply of fuel resulted in lower prices per gallon for petrol (original estimate: $3.25 per gallon; actual cost: $1.49 per gallon).

The over-expenditure under vehicle insurance was attributable to the fact that the apportioned amount was significantly less than the cost estimate.

6. Air operations

(a) Helicopter operations 707 500

Savings totalling $707,500 under hire/charter costs ($339,600) and aviation fuel and lubricants ($367,900) are projected under this heading. Savings under these line items resulted from fewer excess flying hours being utilized than originally estimated. While the cost estimate provided for a total of 1,300 excess flying hours, only 87 hours were flown. The savings resulting from fewer hours flown were partially offset by slightly higher monthly hire charges ($51,100 compared to the estimated rate of $45,500 per helicopter) owing to prevailing market conditions.

(b) Fixed-wing aircraft 846 700

Savings totalling $846,700 under hire/charter costs ($372,000) and aviation fuel and lubricants ($474,700) are projected under this heading. The cost estimate provided for the commercial hiring of three medium-cargo/passenger aircraft and for one light-passenger aircraft for four months. No medium-cargo/passenger aircraft were contracted for during this period, resulting in savings of $504,000. Additional savings of $120,000 were realized by one light-passenger aircraft being contracted for two months only. These savings were offset by the commercial hiring of one Learjet at a cost of $63,000 per month for four months at a total cost of $252,000.

Savings under aviation fuel and lubricants resulted from fewer aircraft being contracted for than originally budgeted.

(c) Aircrew subsistence allowance 347 600

Savings of $347,600 were realized because fewer aircraft were contracted for ($245,600) and accommodation for the helicopter crews was provided by ONUMOZ ($102,000).

(d) Other air operations costs 236 500

Savings of $236,500 were realized under landing fees and ground handling. At the time the cost estimate was prepared, landing, parking, take-off and passenger taxes were being charged by the host Government. A Status of Forces Agreement, which has since been implemented, has resulted in only ground handling fees being charged.

7. Naval operations -

No resources were required under this heading.

8. Communications

(a) Complementary communications 3 117 100

Savings totalling $3,117,100 under communications equipment ($2,619,000), spare parts and supplies ($246,900), workshop and test equipment ($54,100) and commercial communications ($197,100) are projected under this heading.

Savings under communications equipment resulted both from the transfer of equipment from UNTAC valued at approximately $800,000 plus related freight charges, and from delays in the procurement of equipment.

Savings under spare parts and supplies, workshop and test equipment and commercial communications resulted from delays in the procurement and installation of equipment.

(b) Main trunking contract -

No resources were required under this heading.

9. Other equipment (71 200)

Additional requirements totalling $262,900 under office furniture ($31,400), office equipment ($100,800), data-processing equipment ($103,900) and miscellaneous equipment ($26,800) were partially offset by savings of $191,700 under generators ($123,200) and spare parts, repairs and maintenance of other equipment ($68,500).

The additional requirement under office furniture was related to the fact that it was expected that premises provided by the host Government would also be equipped with office furniture. However, as these furnished premises were not provided, additional office furniture had to be purchased to furnish rented premises.

The additional requirement under office equipment was for the purchase of photocopiers and typewriters and for freight on items transferred from UNTAC.

The additional requirement under data-processing equipment was attributable due to the acquisition of hardware and software for the SunAccount system, a computerized accounting programme for processing monthly financial information in the field, an expenditure which was not originally foreseen.

The additional requirement under miscellaneous equipment resulted from the local procurement of items such as water pumps, which were not originally budgeted for.

Savings under generators were realized because of the transfer of 85 5 KVA generators from UNTAC.

Savings under spare parts, repairs and maintenance are projected as equipment purchased during this period was covered under warranty.

10. Supplies and services

(a) Miscellaneous services 445 200

Projected savings totalling $445,500 under contractual services ($402,400), medical treatment and services ($21,400) and miscellaneous other services ($21,700) were partially offset by an additional requirement of $300 under official hospitality.

Savings under contractual services resulted in part because military personnel carried out some of the services related to the maintenance of camp-sites. Additional savings were realized because interpretation and security services and services related to the installation, repair and maintenance of communications systems were carried out by locally recruited staff.

(b) Miscellaneous supplies (708 800)

Additional requirements totalling $1,082,100 under medical supplies ($1,002,100), sanitation and cleaning supplies ($76,300) and subscriptions ($3,700) were partially offset by savings totalling $373,300 under stationery and office supplies ($1,600), uniform items, flags and decals ($192,700), field defence stores ($125,800), operational maps ($24,800) and quartermaster and general stores ($28,400).

The additional requirement under medical supplies was incurred partially because of a decision to purchase hepatitis A vaccine, which is much more expensive than the gammaglobulin vaccine which was originally planned for. Also, contingents which had been expected to be deployed with a six-month supply of medical provisions arrived in some cases with little or no medical supplies, thereby necessitating additional procurement for these items.

The additional requirement under sanitation and cleaning supplies was attributable to intensified efforts to combat diseases, in particular malaria, which affected up to one third of the military personnel during this period.

Savings under uniform items, flags and decals resulted from the delay in the deployment of military personnel and the fact that fewer flags and decals were purchased.

Savings under field defence stores resulted because fewer mine-clearing supplies and materials for observation posts were required than originally anticipated.

11. Election-related supplies and services -

No resources were required under this heading.

12. Public information programme 100

A savings of $100 is projected under this heading.

13. Training programmes -

No resources were required under this heading.

14. Mine-clearing programmes 425 200

Savings of $425,200 related to the establishment and operational requirements of a mine-clearing school are projected under this heading because of delays in programme implementation.

15. Assistance for disarmament and demobilization 2 319 700

Savings of $2,319,700 are projected under this heading as a result of delays in the operational plan for the demobilization of troops. Demobilization activities which were originally expected to commence in May 1993 were not initiated until December 1993. As a result, the purchase of food and other supplies required for the assembly areas was delayed. The expenditures incurred under this heading were for the acquisition of tentage, medical supplies, solar panels for electricity, generators for overnight electricity and INMARSAT C satellite equipment.

16. Air and surface freight 185 400

Savings of $600,000 under transport of contingent-owned equipment were partially offset by an additional requirement of $414,600 for commercial freight and cartage.

The savings under transport of contingent-owned equipment occurred because, as contingent strength did not reach the expected level of 6,625 troops, the requirement for contingent-owned equipment was reduced.

The additional requirement under commercial freight and cartage was attributable to additional unforeseen freight charges for equipment transferred from UNTAC.

17. Integrated Management Information System -

The amount authorized for this item was fully utilized.

18. Support account for peace-keeping operations -

The amount allocated has been transferred to the support account for peace-keeping operations.

19. Staff assessment 314 800

Savings under this heading resulted from overall vacancies in staffing for ONUMOZ.

20. Income from staff assessment (314 800)

This amount is derived from item 19 above.

(d) Standard troop cost reimbursement

5. Reimbursement to Governments is based on the existing standard rates set by the General Assembly in its resolution 45/258 of 3 May 1991 at $988 per person per month for basic pay, all ranks; $291 per person per month for a limited number of specialists; and $70 per person per month for usage factor in respect of personal clothing, gear and equipment, including $5 per person per month for personal weaponry and ammunition.

The type of fuel required is jet fuel A-1, which will be supplied at a cost of $1.29 per gallon. The calculations are as follows:

90 flying hrs. x 195 gal. x $1.29/gal. x 8 helicopters x 4 mos. =
$724,500

90 flying hrs. x 96 gal. x $1.29/gal. x 8 helicopters x 2.5 mos. =
