ANNEX I

Lttttr dated 23 October 1986 from His Excellency Mr. Ioan Totu, Minister for Foreign Affairs of Romania, addressed to the Stcretary-General

Sir,

In the spirit of active co-operation which exists between the Socialist Republic of Romania and the United Nations and with the approval of the President of the Socialist Republic of Romania, Nicolae Ceaugescu, I am writing to you on the par ticularly important subject of the net to halt the arms race and to adopt as soon as possible specific disarmament measures.

The Romanian ptoplt, llkt other ptopler of the world, is deeply concerned at the acceleration of the arms race and at the dangeroue trend of events towards confrontation and war. A similar concern is eloquently reflected in your annual report to the General Assembly at its present session and also in its plenary discussions.

Romania, firmly attached to its policy of peace and disarmament, has decided to make a reduction of 5 per cent in its armaments, armed forces and military expenditure before the end of this year. Such a dtcislon has been taken in full agreement with the will of the whole people, by the 11,000 participants in the recent Congress of Workers of the Socialist Republic of Romania. Subsequently, the Grand Nations 1 Assembly - the hightrt forum of State power - unanimously endorsed this initiative and decided to submit it for the approval of the whole people, in a referendum, so that Romania can proceed with the unilateral reduction of its armaments, armed forces and military exptnditurt.

Fur thermore, Romania feels that it would be of great importance if a whole series of States were to adopt a similar unllattral reduction of thtir armamerts, armed forces and military expendi ture. Along these lines, the President of Romania has just transmitted mesuages to all tht Heads of State and Government of Europe, and of the United States and Canada, containing an appeal that each of them should proceed, before the tnd of this year, to a reduction of at least 5 per cent of their armaments, even before the achievement of an appropriatt agreement. In view of the balance of world forces, such unilateral measures for the reduction of armaments, armed forcta and military expenditure could in no way endanger the security of any State and their defence capacity but, on the contrary, they would favour the transition to effective disarmament negotiations and constitute an expression of the will of the States concerned to embark resolutely on a course of disarmament and peace.

During the International Year of Peace, proclaimed by the unanimous will of States members of the international community, Romania and President Nicclae Ceaugescu are convinced that the United Nations, through the efforts and contributions of all States, will play an increasingly active role in international lift with a view to bringing about specific and genuine actions and agreements aimed at the halting of the arms race, the achievement of disarmament and the maintenance of peace. For this purpose, I would be very grateful if you would have the text of this letter, together with the appeal by the Third Congress Of Workers of the Socialist Republic of Romania in favour of nuclear and general disarmament, for peace, as an official document of the United Nations.

I am eure that the peoples of the world, working together with a profound sense of responsibility for both their present and their future, vill bring about a radical change in the trend of international events and that the United Nations will be able to play a leading role in eneur ing the tr iumph of the policy of peace, progress and human civilization.

Accept, Sir, the aceurancee of my highest consideration.

ANNEX II

Appeal by the Third Congress of Workers of the Socialist Republic of Romanis in favour of nuclear and general disarmament, for peace

The Third Congress of Workers of Romania, meeting in Bucharest from 4 to 6 September 1986, expressing the firm desire of the Romanian people as a whole for peace, understanding and co-operation, and vitally interested In the creation and consolidation of an international climate conducive to the implementation of Programmes for the multilateral development of the country, appeal.? to the working class, to workers and to people all over the world, in view of the current highly complex and serious international eituation, to join forces and intensify their struggle to eliminate the threat of a nuclear catascrophe and holt the dangerous and costly arms race, especially the nuclear-arms race, so that genuine progress may be made along the path to disarmement and towards the triumph of reason and peace on earth.

The Congress of Workers of Romania expresses to Nicolae Ceaugescu, General Secretary of the Romanian Communist Party and President of the Socialist Republic of Romania, the deep gratitude and affection of the Rananian people as a whole and its great appreciation for his prodigious theoretical and practical Activity and his immense achievements, dedicated unswervingly to the service of the supreme interests of our Socialist nation and of all nations and to free and dignified development in a world of international peace and co-operation.

The constructive and persevering proposals, initiatives and actions Of President Nicolae Ceaugeacu have had a wide international impact and have consequently promoted full affirmation of new principles of relations between States, the halting of the arms race and the resolute transition to disarmament, especially nuclear disarmament, the rettlement by peaceful means and by megotiations alone of all disputes and conflicts between States, the establishment of a new world economic order, and the preservation of peace, the most precious possession of all people on earth.

The initiatives taken by Socialis: Romania in favour of disarmament and peace and the special respect which our country enjoys in the world are quite naturally associated with the action6 of Nicolae Ceaugescu, General Secretary of the Romanian Communist Party and President of the Socialist Republic of Romania, which have aroused wide international interest and are marked by the highest sense of responsibility with regard to the fate of mankind; Nicolae Ceaugescu is known and appreciated everywhere, in all parts of the world, as a great and tireless here of Peace.

Like the other peoples of the world, the Romanian people is deeply concerned about the deterioration of the international situation as a result of the accelerating arms race, the deployment of new nuclear weapons in Europe and other parts of the world, the continuous improvement of weapons, the trend towards the militar ization of outer space, the persistence of armed conflicts, recourse to force, and the threat of force and Interference in the internal affairs of other peoples. Coneidering that the basic problem of our time is the preservation of peace and that it is the duty of every State and every people to do all they can to free mankind from the nightmare of a devastating nuclear war and from the arms burden, Romania has proposed a complex, realistic and constructive disarmament programme, and has made and is making sustained efforts at the international level to bring about the resumption and consolidation of the trend towards détente, the achievement of disarmament, and the preservation of the supreme right of peoples and nations to peace, life, freedom and independence.

The Congress of Workers of Romania, firmly supporting the new peace Initiative of Pr es iden t Nicolae Ceaugescu, appeals to the States of Europe, including the Socialist States, to adopt unilateral measures to reduce their armed forces, armaments and military expenditure by at least 5 per cent, even before an appropriate agreement in this field is concluded.

Convinced of the necessity and realism of such a concrete and constructive step, aaauming full responsibility before Its people and before mankind as a whole for the future and for the existence of life on our plandt, Romania is determined, as announced by President Nicolae Ceaugescu, to reduce its armaments, armed forces end military expenditure by 5 per cent by the end of this year. The decision taken by the Congrees of Workers to submit to the people as a whole, in a referendum, the proposal for the unilateral reduction of military expenditure if an agreement with other States, on that subject is not achieved, represente new and eloquent evidence Of Socialist Romania 's desire to make a direct contribution to bringing about a radical change of direction with regard to disarmament, so as to etrengthen détente and peace.

Considering that in view of the current balance of forces at the world-wide level such unilateral measures do not endanger the security or defence capability of any State, but on the contrary favour a transition to effective disarmament negotiations, the Congress of Workers of Romania renews its appeal to like states of Europe to reduce their armaments and proceed together along the path to genuine disarmament and peace.

Greeting with profound satisfaction the decision of the Soviet Union to extend until 1 January 1987 the unilateral moratorium on nuclear-weapon tests, the Congress of Workers of Romania calls for an appropriate agreement on the cessation of nuclear tests and considers that the United States of America and other nuclear States should respond positively to the Soviet moratorium, so that concrete agreements may be reached in the near future concerning the cessation of nuclear tests and the transition to practical measures aimed at halting the arm8 race and achieving disarmament, especially in the nuclear field. Our country considers that it is high time for other nuclear-weapon States to participate in negotiations concurning nuclear weapons; effective steps to reduce the weapons which they already possess would be taken only after the United States of America and the Soviet Union have substantially reduced their nuclear weapons. We also consider that the European States and other States of the world are directly concerned and should participate actively in the conclusion of agreements on the cessation of nuclear tests, the reduction of nuclear weapons and the halting of the militarization of outer space.

In view of the extremely serious situation in Europe, WC appeal to the workers and peoples of Europe to intensify their efforts with a view to the achievement of appropriate agreements leading to a halt in the deployment of medium-range nuclear missiles and subsequently the elimination of all nuclear weapons from the continent.

We are in favour of the conclusion, through appropriate agreements, of the Stockholm Conference on Ccanfidence- and Security-Building Measures and Disarmament and the Vienna Talks on Mutual Reduction of Forces and Armaments and Associated Measures in Central Europe; this would help to strengthen confidence and would Create favourable premises for the success of the forthcoming general European meeting in Vienna, which is supposed to give new impetus to the efforts to build ^a united Europe, peace, security and a-operation.

In accordance with the consistent position of Socialist Romania concerning the development of understanding and co-operation in the Balkans, we appeal to the workers and peoples of those countries to step up the common efforts to transform the Balkans into a zone of peace, free of nuclear and chemical weapons and without foreign military bases. At the same time, we express our support for the establishment of similar zones in northern and central Europe and on other continents.

In this year, unanimously proclaimed the International Year of Peece by the States Members of the United Rations, we consider it absolutely necessary that all States, all Governments, political leaders and peoples all over the world and all those who cherish the ideals of peace should work closely together, demonstrating the necessary political will to bring about a radical change of direction in the trend of international events, to eliminate negative phenomena from the world, especially the growing danger of a nuclear conflagration, to resolve conflict situations by peaceful means through negotiations, and to establish a climate of understanding, collaboration and peace on our planet, in which each people will be able to develop freely and independently, free of all foreign interference, and to devote its entire potential to advancing along the path of progress and civilization.

The workers of Romania and the Romanian people as a whole, who are engaged in a vast process of economic and social development and improvement of their material and spiritual well-being, reaffirm their determination to act in concert with other countries and peoples in order to achieve those noble objectives in firm solidarity with all progressive, democratic and peace-loving forces throughout the world. The Congress of Workers of the Socialist Republic of Romania appeals to the workers and peoples of the countries that are struggling for socialism, social progress and peace, to the working class-and peoples of the capitalist countries, to progressive and realistic democratic forces everywhere and to peoples throughout the world, to strengthen their collaboration and solidarity, to intensify their activities and, through their joint efforts, tot
