Annex I

DECLARATION ON THE INVIOABILITY OF FRONTIERS

The signatories to this Declaration,

Reaffirming their commitment to the Charter of the United Nations, the principles of the Conference on Security and Cooperation in Europe and the founding instruments of the Commonwealth of Independent States,

Emphasizing that the inviolability of frontiers and the territorial integrity of States are basic principles in international relations and their observance is an essential condition for maintaining international peace, security and stability,

Recalling that, under the Charter of the United Nations, the territory of States is inviolable and may not be the object of the use of force,

Concerned at the serious violations of their frontiers committed by countries which are not part of the Commonwealth of Independent States,

On the basis of the inherent right of individual or collective self-defence under Article 51 of the United Nations Charter,

Declare the following:

1. The signatories to this Declaration consider that ensuring the inviolability of their frontiers is of vital mutual interest and is a common duty to be carried out on a multilateral or bilateral basis.

2. The signatories to this Declaration will continue to view any and all encroachments upon their frontiers as illegal acts which are grounds for adopting reciprocal and commensurate measures under international law, including the use of armed force, as a form of individual or collective self-defence. They shall work together to prevent and put an end to any outside attempt to encroach upon the territory of any of the States which are signatories to this Declaration.

3. The signatories to this Declaration will continue to put an end to any action carried out on their territory by individuals, groups or organizations which is aimed at breaching the inviolability of the frontiers of these States.

4. The signatories to this Declaration shall be collectively responsible for the inviolability of their frontiers with third-party States. At the same time, none of the signatories to this Declaration has the obligation to unilaterally ensure the security of the frontiers of another State.

5. The signatories to this Declaration reaffirm their willingness, by means of negotiations involving all the parties concerned, to find a way to terminate and prevent armed conflicts along frontiers.

6. The internal stability of the States which are signatories to this Declaration is a prerequisite condition of the security of their frontiers. To this end, each State shall take appropriate steps to strengthen its democratic institutions and achieve national harmony on the basis of respect for human rights and fundamental freedoms.

7. The signatories to this Declaration are counting on neighbouring States and the international community in general for their support and understanding of the situation.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF MEASURES FOR THE NORMALIZATION OF THE SITUATION ON THE TAJIK-AFGHAN FRONTIER

The heads of State of the Republic of Kazakhstan, the Republic of Kyrgyzstan, the Russian Federation, the Republic of Tajikistan and the Republic of Uzbekistan met in Moscow on 7 August 1993 in order to elaborate measures to bring about the normalization of the situation on the Tajik-Afghan frontier.

Those participating in the meeting expressed their deep concern at the serious aggravation of the situation. Particularly alarming are the actions by fighters from the Tajik opposition and the individual Afghan armed groups that support them and the systematic incursions into the territory of Tajikistan, which have resulted in an increasing number of victims among the civilian population, frontier guards and other military personnel.

The heads of State proclaim the following:

1. The Republic of Kazakhstan, the Republic of Kyrgyzstan, the Russian Federation and the Republic of Uzbekistan, guided by the founding instruments of the Commonwealth of Independent States and bilateral agreements with the Republic of Tajikistan, consider the Tajik-Afghan frontier as part of the common frontier of the Commonwealth of Independent States.

2. All urgent and necessary measures to ensure security on the Tajik-Afghan frontier will be adopted and, to this end, the contingent guarding the frontier will be reinforced with frontier troops and armed forces from Kazakhstan, Kyrgyzstan, the Russian Federation, Tajikistan and Uzbekistan.

3. The Republic of Tajikistan will receive additional military, economic and humanitarian assistance, including assistance to enable it to expedite the establishment of national armed forces and frontier troops capable of independently defending the sovereignty and territorial integrity of its State.

4. If armed attacks from the outside continue, reciprocal and commensurate measures will be taken to stop them, as envisaged by the Treaty on Collective Security concluded between the countries of the Commonwealth of Independent States and by bilateral agreements with Tajikistan, and in accordance with the right of individual or collective self-defence provided for in Article 51 of the Charter of the United Nations.

5. The States present at the meeting believe a political settlement is crucial and wholly possible, and they are willing to participate actively in the search for such a solution.

6. The Government of the Republic of Tajikistan will receive full support in its resolve to use all the political means at its disposal in order to further the peace process and engage in dialogue with political forces of differing views with a view to attaining civil and national harmony and establishing a basis for the democratic development of the country.

7. The willingness to build good-neighbourly relations and cooperation with Afghanistan in the interests of peace and stability in the region is confirmed. At the same time, it is expected that Afghanistan will adopt urgent measures banning the use of Afghan territory to launch hostile actions against neighbouring States and interfere in their internal affairs.

Those participating in the meeting appeal to the international community to support all efforts aimed at normalizing the situation on the Tajik-Afghan frontier and at reaching a political settlement in Tajikistan. They also hope that all the countries of the region will promote the peace process and urge the armed Tajik opposition to put an end to the bloodshed and begin constructive dialogue. They are open to cooperation with these countries and are ready to send their special representatives to conduct negotiations to find ways to accelerate a peaceful settlement.

The heads of these five States are counting on the United Nations and the Conference on Security and Cooperation in Europe to support their efforts and to send United Nations observers to the Tajik-Afghan frontier and provide humanitarian and technical assistance.

Those participating in the meeting appeal to all States members of the Commonwealth of Independent States to provide Tajikistan with assistance in dealing with the aftermath of the conflict.

MESSAGE FROM THE MINISTERS FOR FOREIGN AFFAIRS OF KAZAKHSTAN, KYRGYZSTAN, THE RUSSIAN FEDERATION, TAJIKISTAN AND UZBEKISTAN
ADDRESSED TO THE SECRETARY-GENERAL OF THE UNITED NATIONS,
MR. BOUTROS BOUTROS-GHALI

7 August 1993

Sir,

Our message to you is necessitated by the serious aggravation of the situation on the Tajik-Afghan frontier. The matter has led to large-scale attacks against the territory of the Republic of Tajikistan - a sovereign State, which is a Member of the United Nations. Recently, specific military operations have been undertaken aimed at breaching the frontier and stirring up armed conflict in Tajikistan. As a result of shelling and attacks by fighters from the Tajik opposition and individual Afghan armed groups that support them, there has been an increasing number of victims among the peaceful population and our soldiers taking part in defending the State frontier of Tajikistan are dying.

Kazakhstan, Kyrgyzstan, the Russian Federation, Tajikistan and Uzbekistan signed the Treaty on Collective Security within the framework of the Commonwealth of Independent States (CIS). In accordance with this Treaty and in implementation of the right of individual and collective self-defence under Article 51 of the Charter of the United Nations, we have taken a decision to provide Tajikistan with emergency supplementary assistance, including military assistance.

Our choice is not methods based on the use of force, but rather the search for a political settlement. We believe that the possibilities for such a settlement exist. We hope that in Afghanistan also a responsible approach will prevail and effective steps will be taken to prevent armed incursions into the territory of Tajikistan.

We are open to a broad and constructive dialogue with Afghanistan, the other States of the region and all parties concerned.

We address an urgent appeal to you to assist our efforts in this area.

Taking into account the threat to peace and security in the region, we request the Security Council to consider immediately the critical situation that has arisen on the Tajik-Afghan frontier and to take measures to ensure its inviolability, including the possible sending of United Nations observers.
