133. Administrative and budgetary aspects of the financing of the United Nations peacekeeping operations

Support account for peacekeeping operations

Under the terms of paragraph 9 of General Assembly resolution 45/258 of 3 May 1991, the support account for peacekeeping operations was established effective 1 January 1990 for the purpose of meeting the needs of departments and offices at Headquarters providing direct support to peacekeeping operations. It became operational on 1 May 1990 by the incorporation of resources relating to the overload posts that were funded from the separate budgets of the five existing peacekeeping operations that were financed at the time outside the scope of the regular budget. Those peacekeeping operations were the United Nations Disengagement Observer Force, the United Nations Peacekeeping Force in Cyprus, the United Nations Interim Force in Lebanon, the United Nations Iran-Iraq Military Observer Group and the United Nations Observer Group for Central America.

In his report dated 29 February 1996 (A/50/876, para. 30), the Secretary-General proposed that the support account funding methodology be changed so that the General Assembly would appropriate the Headquarters backstopping requirements for the 12-month period ending 30 June of the following year and that Member States would be assessed on the same scale as that used for peacekeeping assessments. In its related report (A/50/897), the Advisory Committee on Administrative and Budgetary Questions recommended approval of the Secretary-General's proposal and stated that the requirements would be prorated among the individual peacekeeping operations rather than appropriated and assessed separately. In its resolution 50/221 B of 7 June 1996, the Assembly approved on a provisional basis, for the period 1 July 1996 to 30 June 1997, the new support account funding arrangements.

At its fifty-fifth session, under agenda item 117, Programme budget for the biennium 2000-2001, the General Assembly approved the support account post and non-post requirements in the amount of $9,190,200 gross ($8,741,600 net) for the period from 1 July 2000 to 30 June 2001; requested the Secretariat to expedite the processing of all claims and to present a progress report in that regard during the first part of its resumed fifty-fifth session (resolution 55/238, sect. I).

At its resumed fifty-fifth session in June, the General Assembly decided to continue the 562 support account-funded temporary posts; reaffirmed the need for the Secretary-General to ensure that delegation of authority to the Department of Peacekeeping Operations and field missions was in strict compliance with relevant resolutions and decisions, as well as relevant rules and procedures of the General Assembly; noted the intention of the Secretary-General to submit revised resource requirements for the support account for peacekeeping operations prior to the opening of the fifty-sixth session of the Assembly; noted with appreciation the intention of the Secretary-General to introduce changes in the presentation of the support account budget document in conformity with Assembly resolution 55/231 on results-based budgeting; requested the Secretary-General to address the need for streamlining the contingent-owned equipment procedures and to submit to the Assembly at its fifty-sixth session concrete remedial proposals to address concerns raised by the Advisory Committee on Administrative and Budgetary Questions; decided to appropriate the commitment authority of $3,501,600 approved by the Assembly in its resolution 54/243 A; approved the support account post and nonpost requirements in the amount of $73,645,500 gross ($64,361,800 net) for the period from 1 July 2001 to 30 June 2002; and decided to apply the unencumbered balance of $1,300,900 from the period from 1 July 1999 to 30 June 2000, inclusive of $1,273,000 in miscellaneous and interest income, and to prorate the balance of $75,846,200 gross ($66,562,500 net) among the individual active peacekeeping operation budgets, to meet the resources required for the support account for the period from 1 July 2001 to 30 June 2002 (resolution 55/271).

Financing of the United Nations Logistics Base at Brindisi, Italy

At its resumed fifty-fifth session in June, the General Assembly approved the cost estimates for the Logistics Base amounting to $8,982,600 gross ($8,174,400 net) for the period from 1 July 2001 to 30 June 2002; decided to apply the unencumbered balance of $430,500 in respect of the period from 1 July 1999 to 30 June 2000, the interest income of $289,000 and miscellaneous income of $340,000 ($1,059,500 in total) to the resources required for the period from 1 July 2001 to 30 June 2002; decided to prorate the balance of $7,923,100 gross ($7,114,900 net) among the individual active peacekeeping operation budgets to meet the financing requirements of the Logistics Base for the period from 1 July 2001 to 30 June 2002; and authorized the Secretary-General to provide for a civilian establishment of 10 Professional, 13 Field Service and 83 locally recruited staff (resolution 55/272).

Reimbursement to Member States for contingent-owned equipment and troop costs

At its fifty-fifth session, the General Assembly decided to convene a meeting of the post-Phase V Working Group during the period from 15 to 26 January 2001 to conduct a review of the issues itemized in accordance with Assembly resolutions 54/19 B and 55/229 (decision 55/452).

At the same session, the Assembly decided to request the post-Phase V Working Group to consider the current methodology underlying the calculations of standard rates of reimbursement to troop-contributing States, including ways to produce timely and more representative data, and requested the Working Group to report on the results of the review to the Assembly at its resumed fifty-fifth session through the Advisory Committee on Administrative and Budgetary Questions (resolution 55/229).

At its resumed fifty-fifth session in June, the General Assembly endorsed the recommendations of the post-Phase V Working Group on reform procedures for determining reimbursement of contingent-owned equipment; noted that the evaluation and standardization of United Nations peacekeeping training were currently being developed by the Secretariat in consultation with troop-contributing countries and requested the Secretary-General to submit a report on that issue to the Assembly at its fifty-sixth session, through the Special Committee on Peacekeeping Operations, for approval of those standards; requested the Secretary-General to submit to the Assembly for its approval at its resumed fifty-sixth session, taking into account the views expressed by Member States, a methodology for reimbursement for troop costs, covering troops and formed police units, and a questionnaire to be submitted to troop-contributing countries; decided that a future standard rate of reimbursement for troop costs should be based on new survey data that is representative of the costs incurred by around 60 per cent of countries that have contributed troops to peacekeeping operations; decided, on an interim and ad hoc basis, to increase the standard rate of reimbursement for troop costs to troopcontributing countries by 2 per cent, effective 1 July 2001, and that an additional 2 per cent increase, on an interim and ad hoc basis, would be effective as from 1 January 2002, bringing the total increase of the current rate of reimbursement for troop costs to 4 per cent; requested the Secretary-General to review the practical aspects of wet-lease, dry-lease and self-sustainment arrangements and to report thereon to the Assembly at its fifty-sixth session; and decided that the liability for damage to major equipment used by one country and owned by another should be based on the relevant provisions of their memoranda of understanding in accordance with the applicable rules and regulations of the United Nations (resolution 55/274).

Experiences learned from the use of resident auditors at peacekeeping missions

At its resumed fifty-fifth session in June, the General Assembly took note of the report of the Secretary-General (A/55/735) and endorsed the observations contained in the report of the Advisory Committee on Administrative and Budgetary Questions (A/55/828) (resolution 55/273).

141. Financing of the United Nations Mission in Sierra Leone

The Security Council, by its resolution 1270 (1999) of 22 October 1999, established the United Nations Mission in Sierra Leone (UNAMSIL) for an initial period of six months. By the same resolution the Council decided that UNAMSIL would take over the substantive civilian and military components and functions, as well as the assets, of the United Nations Observer Mission in Sierra Leone (UNOMSIL), which had been established by the Council in its resolution 1181 (1998) of 13 July 1998, and that the mandate of UNOMSIL should terminate immediately upon the establishment of UNAMSIL.

The mandate entrusted to UNAMSIL under the terms of Security Council resolution 1270 (1999) was to cooperate with the Government of Sierra Leone and other parties in the implementation of the peace agreement, to assist the Government in the implementation of the disarmament, demobilization and reintegration plan, to establish a presence at key locations, to ensure security and freedom of movement of United Nations personnel, to monitor adherence to the ceasefire agreement, to encourage and support the creation of confidence-building mechanisms, to facilitate the delivery of humanitarian assistance, to support the operation of United Nations civilian officials and to provide support, as requested, for the constitutional elections.

Subsequently, by its resolution 1289 (2000) of 7 February 2000, the Security Council revised the mandate of the Mission to include the following additional tasks: to provide security at key locations and Government buildings; to facilitate the free flow of people, goods and humanitarian assistance along specified thoroughfares; to provide security in and at all sites of the disarmament, demobilization and reintegration programme; to coordinate with and assist the law enforcement authorities in common areas of deployment; and to guard weapons, ammunition and other military equipment collected from ex-combatants and assist in their disposal or destruction.

In its resolution 1313 (2000) of 4 August 2000, the Security Council extended the mandate of UNAMSIL until 8 September 2000, and expressed its intention to strengthen its mandate.

By its resolution 1346 (2001) of 30 March 2001, the Security Council extended the mandate of UNAMSIL for six months and increased its military component to a strength of 17,500, including the 260 military observers already deployed.

At the first part of its resumed fifty-fifth session, in April 2001, the General Assembly appropriated $73,273,600 gross ($73,784,400 net) and apportioned among Member States $36,636,800 gross ($36,892,200 net) for the maintenance of the Mission for the period from 1 July 2000 to 30 June 2001, in addition to $504,399,051 gross ($496,545,461 net) already appropriated and apportioned under the terms of Assembly resolution 54/241 B, including $23,931,281 gross ($20,250,873 net) for the support account for peacekeeping operations and $3,741,370 gross ($3,328,988 net) for the United Nations Logistics Base at Brindisi (resolution 55/251 A).

At the second part of its resumed fifty-fifth session, in June, the General Assembly approved, on an exceptional basis, the special arrangements for the Mission with regard to the application of article IV of the financial regulations of the United Nations; authorized the Secretary-General to enter into commitments in the amount of $275 million gross ($273,375,000 net) for the maintenance of UNAMSIL for the period from 1 July to 31 December 2001; apportioned among Member States $137,500,000 gross ($136,687,500 net) for the period from 1 July to 30 September 2001; apportioned among Member States $137,500,000 gross ($136,687,500 net) for the period from 1 October to 31 December 2001, at a monthly rate of $45,833,333 gross ($45,562,500 net), subject to the decision of the Security Council to extend the mandate of the Mission beyond 30 September 2001; decided that, for Member States that had fulfilled their financial obligations to the Mission, there should be set off against the apportionment their respective share of the unencumbered balance of $2,450,800 gross ($2,336,400 net) in respect of the period ending 30 June 2000; and appropriated and apportioned among Member States $16,634,763 gross ($14,598,640 net) for the support account for peacekeeping operations and the amount of $1,737,712 gross ($1,560,456 net) for the United Nations Logistics Base at Brindisi for the period from 1 July 2000 to 30 June 2001 (resolution 55/251 B).

By its resolution 1142 (1997) of 4 December 1997, the Council extended the mandate of the Force for a final period until 31 August 1998. 146. Financing of the United Nations Protection Force, the United Nations Confidence Restoration Operation in Croatia, the United Nations Preventive Deployment Force and the United Nations Peace Forces headquarters

The United Nations Protection Force (UNPROFOR) was established by the Security Council on 21 February 1992 for an initial period of 12 months (resolution 743 (1992)). The mandate and strength of UNPROFOR were increased by subsequent Council resolutions. In response to the wishes of the host Governments of Croatia, Bosnia and Herzegovina and the former Yugoslav Republic of Macedonia, the Council decided on 31 March 1995 to establish three separate but interlinked peacekeeping operations: by resolution 981 (1995) it established the United Nations Confidence Restoration Operation in Croatia (UNCRO); by resolution 982 (1995) it extended the mandate of UNPROFOR in the Republic of Bosnia and Herzegovina; and by resolution 983 (1995) it decided that UNPROFOR within the former Yugoslav Republic of Macedonia should be known as the United Nations Preventive Deployment Force (UNPREDEP).

By its resolution 1025 (1995) of 30 November 1995, the Security Council decided to terminate the mandate of UNCRO on 15 January 1996. By its resolution 1031 (1995) of 15 December 1995, it decided to terminate the mandate of UNPROFOR on the date on which the Secretary-General reported that the transfer of authority from UNPROFOR to the Implementation Force had taken place. That occurred on 20 December 1995. In a letter dated 1 February 1996 (S/1996/76), the President of the Security Council informed the Secretary-General of the Council's concurrence in principle with his recommendation that UNPREDEP become an independent mission.

At its resumed fifty-fifth session in June 2001, the General Assembly decided to suspend for the immediate future the provisions of financial regulations 4.3, 4.4 and 5.2 (d) in respect of the remaining surplus of $174,743,027 gross ($175,519,370 net) in order to allow for reimbursement to troop contributors and in the light of the cash shortage of the combined Forces, and requested the Secretary-General to provide an updated report in one year (resolution 55/265).

147. Financing of the United Nations Operation in Somalia II

By its resolution 751 (1992) of 24 April 1992, the Security Council decided to establish the United Nations Operation in Somalia (UNOSOM). The mandate and strength of UNOSOM were subsequently increased by the Council in its resolutions 767 (1992) and 775 (1992). Owing to conditions on the ground, of the total authorized strength of up to 4,219, all ranks, only some 700, including 50 United Nations observers, had been deployed by the end of November 1992.

On 3 December 1992, in order to establish a secure environment for humanitarian relief operations in Somalia, the Security Council, acting under Chapter VII of the Charter of the United Nations, adopted resolution 794 (1992), which resulted in the deployment of the Unified Task Force (UNITAF) and of approximately 37,000 troops in southern and central Somalia.

In its resolution 814 (1993), the Security Council acknowledged the need for a smooth transition from UNITAF to the expanded UNOSOM II and decided to expand the size of the UNOSOM force and its mandate (UNOSOM II), which would require the deployment of a military component of up to 28,000, all ranks. The Council took further action in 1993 regarding UNOSOM II (resolutions 837 (1993), 865 (1993), 878 (1993) and 886 (1993)).

By its resolution 897 (1994), the Council authorized the gradual reduction of UNOSOM II to a force level of up to 22,000 and necessary support elements. By its resolutions 923 (1994) and 946 (1994), the Council renewed the mandate of UNOSOM II for additional periods expiring on 30 September and 31 October 1994 respectively. In its presidential statement of 25 August 1994, the Council endorsed the proposal contained in the report of the Secretary-General of 17 August 1994 (S/1994/977) to reduce the force level of UNOSOM II to 15,000, all ranks, by the end of October 1994. By its resolution 954 (1994), the Council extended the mandate of the Operation for a final period until 31 March 1995.

At its resumed fifty-fifth session in September 2001, the General Assembly postponed consideration of this item to its fifty-sixth session (decision 55/496).

By its resolution 797 (1992) of 16 December 1992, the Security Council established the United Nations Operation in Mozambique (ONUMOZ) for a period until 31 October 1993. By its resolutions 882 (1993) and 916 (1994), the Council extended the mandate of ONUMOZ until 30 April 1994 and 15 November 1994 respectively. By resolution 957 (1994), the Council extended the mandate of ONUMOZ until the new Government of Mozambique was to take office, but not later than 15 December 1994, and authorized ONUMOZ to complete its residual operations prior to its withdrawal on or before 31 January 1995. In its resolution 960 (1994), the Council welcomed the elections that had taken place in Mozambique from 27 to 29 October 1994 and endorsed their results.

At its resumed fifty-fifth session, in September 2001, the General Assembly postponed consideration of this item to its fifty-sixth session (decision 55/497).

149. Financing of the United Nations Peacekeeping Force in Cyprus

By its resolution 186 (1964) of 4 March 1964, the Security Council recommended that a United Nations Peacekeeping Force in Cyprus (UNFICYP) be established and that the Force be stationed for three months with a mandate to use its best efforts to prevent a recurrence of fighting, and, as necessary, to contribute to the maintenance and restoration of law and order and a return to normal conditions. Since then, the Council has periodically extended the mandate of UNFICYP, usually for periods of six months at a time, the latest extension of which was by resolution 1354 (2001) of 15 June 2001 for a further period ending on 15 December 2001.

Until recently, UNFICYP was the only United Nations peacekeeping operation that was not financed from assessed contributions by States Members of the Organization. In its resolution 831 (1993), the Security Council decided that those costs of the Force which were not covered by voluntary contributions should be treated as expenses of the Organization, with effect from the next extension of the Force's mandate on or before 15 June 1993.

At its resumed fifty-fifth session in June 2001, the General Assembly decided to appropriate to the Special Account for UNFICYP $42,389,220 gross ($40,697,146 net) for the period from 1 July 2001 to 30 June 2002, including $1,240,621 gross ($1,088,767 net) for the support account for peacekeeping operations and $129,599 gross ($116,379 net) for the United Nations Logistics Base at Brindisi; also decided, taking into consideration the funding through voluntary contributions from the Government of Cyprus of a one-third share of the cost of the Force, equivalent to $13,565,715, and of $6,500,000 from the Government of Greece, to apportion among Member States $22,323,505 gross ($20,631,431 net) at a monthly rate of $1,860,292 gross ($1,719,286 net), in accordance with the scheme set out in the resolution, subject to the decision of the Security Council to extend the mandate of the Force; further decided that for Member States that had fulfilled their financial obligations to the Force, there should be set off against the apportionment of their respective share in the unencumbered balance of $280,800 gross ($261,400 net) in respect of the period ended 30 June 2000; decided that for Member States that had not fulfilled their financial obligations to the Force, their share of the unencumbered balance should be set off against their outstanding obligations; also decided that $168,000 should be returned to the Government of Cyprus and that $74,600 should be returned to the Government of Greece; and further decided to continue to maintain as separate the account established for the Force for the period prior to 16 June 1993 (resolution 55/266).
