The Meeting, while emphasizing its full solidarity with the Government and the people of the Republic of the Sudan, expressed its support to the efforts for national reconciliation, peace and lasting stability in the Republic of the Sudan, full respect of the sovereignty, unity and territorial integrity of the Sudan, and called upon the international community to further support these efforts and the reconstruction and development of the Country and meet the humanitarian needs of its people, including in Darfur.

75. The meeting took note of the positive developments in relation to Darfur, particularly UNSC Resolution 1769 on the AU-Un hybrid operation and the agreement to hold peace talks in Libya on 27 October 2007.

76. The Meeting demanded the participation of all rebel groups in these decisive and final talks and called upon the international community to take the necessary punitive measures against individuals or groups that reject participation in the peace talks or in any way undermine the peace process.

77. The Meeting strongly condemned the recent murderous rebel attack against AMIS personnel in Darfur and expressed its sympathy and condolences to the families, countries, governments and colleagues of those who lost their lives in this tragic incident.

78. The Meeting reiterated the call for the constitution of a Ministerial Committee on the Sudan in order to follow-up on the issue of providing financial contributions by Member States to support the development plans in the country and in the war-affected areas and draw up a timetable for these efforts according to the priorities proposed by the Government of Sudan. It further called upon international community and donors to honor their commitments pledged in the Oslo Conference for Reconstruction of the Sudan with a view to ensuring full and effective implementation of the Comprehensive Peace Agreement.

HUMANITARIAN ACTIVITIES

89. The Meeting invited the OIC General Secretariat to pursue its humanitarian action in the Member States and to give increasing attention to protecting the most vulnerable social groups. In order to do so, the Meeting invited the OIC General Secretariat to strengthen its partnership relations with United Nations organs and agencies working in the humanitarian field in addition to the Non-Governmental Organizations (NGOs) of the Member States.

90. The Meeting called for the early establishment of a department for humanitarian affairs in the General Secretariat.

91. The Meeting expressed satisfaction with the major developmental and humanitarian activities of the OIC funds for Bosnia and Herzegovina, Afghanistan and Sierra Leone in furtherance of the spirit of solidarity and cooperation within the Ummah. It urged Member States, the Islamic Development Bank and the Islamic Solidarity Fund to support the Funds. The Meeting also recommended Member States to make good use of them when implementing their projects meant for the above-mentioned countries.

92. The Meeting expressed its satisfaction at the convening in Doha on 12-13 June 2007 of the 1st OIC International Donors Conference to consolidate food security in the Republic of Niger in order to enable it to consolidate and secure its strategic food reserves and develop its agriculture with a view to putting an end to the recurrent food shortages in this country. In this respect, the Meeting warmly congratulated the Government of the State of Qatar for having graciously hosted this Conference and thus contributing to the success of these important proceedings. The Meeting exhorted all participants therein to work for the concrete realization of the pledges and commitments made in order to enable this programme to get off the ground as soon as possible. The Meeting also appealed to the Member States and organizations to come to the rescue of the Sahelian countries and curb the recurrence of humanitarian disasters in the region.

93. The Meeting expressed its satisfaction with the remarkable success achieved by the OIC Alliance for the Safeguard of the Children Victims of Tsunami in Indonesia, which in two years has been able to assume the care of more than 19,000 orphans for a period of 15 years. 94. The Meeting expressed its satisfaction following the dispatch of a joint OIC-IDB mission to The Sudan in order to study and adopt practical modalities needed for urgent assistance to be extended to the Darfur states with a view of organizing the next Donors Conference for the development of Darfur.

UNILATERAL MEASURES

95. The Meeting reiterated its rejection of unilateral economic measures and attempts to impose unilateral economic sanctions on Member States. It expressed solidarity with Member States that are affected by such unilateral sanctions and requested that they be lifted immediately.

96. The Meeting reaffirmed, once again, Libya's legitimate right to reparations for the damages it sustained as a result of unlawful sanctions. The Meeting, reaffirming the previous positions of the Organization of the Islamic Conference (OIC), deeply regretted the Verdict issued against the Libyan Citizen Abdelbassit Al-Megrahi, and demanded his release, since his illegal conviction was based on pure political motive as was confirmed by the United Nations Observers, Eminent International Lawyers and witnesses. In this respect, the Meeting called on the international community and human rights organizations to intensify pressure on the governments concerned in order to ensure a prompt release of the Libyan Citizen.

DISARMAMENT AND NON-PROLIFERATION

97. The Meeting expressed its concern over the current impasse on issues related to disarmament and non-proliferation and called for a renewed determination towards achieving a balanced consensus on nuclear disarmament and nuclear non-proliferation in all its aspects. The Meeting also emphasized the imperative of promoting multilateral diplomacy in resolving disarmament and non-proliferation concerns, and, in this context, underlined that treaty-based multilateral institutions established under the auspices of the United Nations are the sole legitimate bodies to verify and ensure compliance with relevant international agreements.

98. The Meeting reiterated the proposal on the convening of a special session of the United Nations General Assembly as soon as possible with a view to reaffirming guidelines, principles and the priority of nuclear disarmament set out in the First Special Session devoted to Disarmament, assessing its implementation and evolving additional guidelines and practical measures, taking into account the existing and emerging challenges in the area of Disarmament and non-Proliferation.

99. The Meeting noted with concern the growing trend among some States to seek bilateral deals in the area of civil nuclear cooperation, with States that do not have a comprehensive safeguards agreement with the IAEA. This is a manifestation of double standards and discrimination and is in contravention to the commitments and obligations under the NPT. The Meeting cautioned that such selective approaches, based on narrow commercial and strategic interests, would undermine the global nuclear disarmament and non-proliferation regime.

100. The Meeting, while noting the adoption of the United Nations Security Council resolutions 1540 of 28 April 2004 and 1673 of 27 April 2006, the scope of which remains limited to preventing the acquisition of weapons of mass destruction by non-state actors, reaffirmed that adoption of these resolutions represents temporary arrangement to fill a gap in international rules. It also reiterated that the Security Council can not assume legislative responsibilities in matters pertaining to non-proliferation and disarmament issues, since those States which seek to perpetuate the monopoly of nuclear weapons also wield the power of the veto in the Council. In this regard, the Meeting renewed its call for concluding a non-discriminatory and universally negotiated international treaty on the elimination of WMDs which should replace the temporary arrangements assumed by the Security Council under resolutions 1540 and 1673.

101. The Meeting while noting the on-going talks between Pakistan and India over conventional and nuclear confidence building measures welcomed the proposal by the Islamic Republic of Pakistan for a Strategic Restraint Regime in South Asia to promote strategic stability and security.

102. The Meeting welcomed the signing of the Treaty on a nuclear-weapon-free zone in Central Asia in Semipalatinsk on 8 September 2006 by the Ministers of Foreign Affairs of Kazakhstan, Kyrgyzstan, Tajikistan, Turkmenistan and Uzbekistan and considered this effort by five Central Asian Countries, which are all Member States of the OIC, as an effective contribution to strengthening regional and global peace and security.

103. The Meeting urged all parties directly concerned to consider seriously taking practical and urgent steps required for implementing the proposal to establish a nuclear-weapon-free zone in the region of the Middle East in accordance with the relevant resolutions of the United Nations, and warned against the dire consequences of the continuing rejection of Israel to accede to the Nuclear Non Proliferation Treaty (NPT) and to place promptly all its nuclear facilities under the full scope of the safeguards of the International Atomic Energy Agency (IAEA). In this regard, the Meeting supported the draft resolution submitted by the Syrian Arab Republic to the Security Council on 29 December 2003 regarding the establishment of a zone free from nuclear weapons and other weapons of mass destruction in the Middle East and called upon the Security Council to act positively on the draft to achieve that lofty goal in the region.

104. The Meeting reaffirmed the need for total nuclear disarmament and for the elimination of nuclear weapons and other weapons of mass destruction. It called on Member States to actively take part in all related international initiatives and conferences. It called on all Member States to ratify fair and non-discriminatory international conventions and to encourage the establishment of nuclear weapon-free zones. It strongly condemned Israel for developing nuclear weapons and persistently refusing to allow the International Atomic Energy Agency access to its nuclear facilities in violation of all international agreements on nuclear proliferation.

105. The Meeting strongly condemned the statement made by the Prime Minister of Israel on 11 December 2006, in his interview with a German TV channel, in which he publicly admitted the possession of nuclear weapons by Israel.

106. The Meeting, while reaffirming the inalienable rights of Member States, including Iran, without discrimination, to develop research, production and use of nuclear energy for peaceful purposes, as enshrined in the NPT and the Statute of the IAEA, called and supported firmly the settlement of all outstanding issues exclusively by peaceful means and through negotiations, without preconditions and in the framework of the IAEA and in accordance with the NPT and the statute of the IAEA. It expressed concern over the pressure being mounted on Iran and its potential consequences for peace and security in and outside the region, and expressed its support and solidarity with that country. The Meeting also appreciated the cooperation of the Islamic Republic of Iran with the IAEA.

TERRORISM

107. Recalling Section VI of the Ten Year Program of Action adopted at the Third Extraordinary Session of the Islamic Summit Conference held in Makkah Al Mukarramah in December 2005, and Resolution 12/33-P adopted at the 33rd Session of the Islamic Conference of Foreign Ministers held in Baku in June 2006, the Meeting emphasized that terrorism completely contradicts the peaceful nature of the teachings of Islam, which urge tolerance, mercy and non-violence. It also condemned any connection between terrorism and any race, religion and culture. It renewed the call for an international conference under the auspices of the United Nations to define terrorism and to distinguish it from the legitimate struggle of people under colonial or alien domination and foreign occupation for self-determination in accordance with the United Nations Charter and international law. It also called for a high-level Meeting of the United Nations General Assembly on terrorism. It reiterated its welcome and support for the resolution issued by the International Conference on Combating Terrorism, which was held in Riyadh on 5-8 February 2005, relating to the establishment of an International Counter-Terrorism Center under the aegis of the United Nations, with a view to immediately exchange information as well as for cooperation and coordination among Member States in order to strengthen efforts to combat this dangerous phenomenon.

108. The Meeting emphasized that terrorism continues to pose a threat to international peace, security and stability. It does not have any justification and should be condemned unreservedly. Terrorism has no particular religion, race, ethnic origin, nationality or a geographic region. In this vein, any attempt to associate terrorism with any religion, especially with Islam would serve the interests of terrorists. It is not possible to combat terrorism effectively without international solidarity and cooperation. The international community should therefore agree to a common and consistent approach in identifying, defining, condemning, isolating and punishing all terrorists and their supports. Due to the transnational nature of terrorism, the efforts to fight against it should be carried out on a global scale. United Nations is the main forum to promote international cooperation against terrorism. Full compliance with the provisions of the UN Security Council resolutions and international conventions on the fight against terrorism is vitally important. Moreover, the Meeting rejected politically motivated attempts to unjustly associate Islam or any Islamic country with terrorism.

109. The Meeting took note of the adoption of the United Nations Global Counter-Terrorism Strategy and called for a review mechanism to provide a comprehensive Strategy which duly takes into account the root causes of terrorism and draw distinction between terrorism and the struggle for the right of self determination by the people under foreign occupation and colonial or alien domination. The Meeting recognized that foreign occupation, state terrorism, political and economic injustice and denial of right of self-determination to people are the main root causes of terrorism. The Meeting recognized that a time-structured approach, envisaging short, medium, and long term objectives, to the implementation of the strategy could best accommodate the contentious issues related to the strategy.

110. The Meeting also reaffirmed its determination to make every effort to reach an agreement on and conclude a comprehensive convention on international terrorism, including by resolving the outstanding issues related to the legal definition of terrorism and scope of the acts covered by the convention, so that it can serve as an effective instrument to counter terrorism.

111. The Meeting took note of the statement of the President of the Security Council reference S/PRST/2007/26 condemning the terrorist attack that took place in Marib, Republic of Yemen, on 2 July 2007, and expressed its deepest sympathy and condolences to the victims of these attacks and their families, and to the peoples and Governments of the Republic of Yemen and the Kingdom of Spain.

112. The Meeting also took note of the Statements of the President of the Security Council S/PRST/2007/10 and S/PRST/2007/32, condemning the terrorist attacks that took place in Algeria in April and September 2007 respectively, and expresses its deepest sympathy and condolences to the victims of these attacks and their families, and to the people and Government of Algeria.

113. The Meeting emphasized the importance to address the use of internet by terrorists and requested all countries to take the necessary measures to combat such use.

114. The Meeting expressed its deep appreciation and warmest thanks to his Excellency President Zine El Abidine Ben Ali, President of the Tunisian Republic, for his decision to host under his patronage the “International Conference on Terrorism: Dimensions, Threats and Countermeasures” in Tunis on 15-17 November 2007.

UN REFORM

115. The Meeting supported a comprehensive reform of the United Nations Organization to respond to the challenges facing humanity. The Meeting reiterated the need for evolving common perceptions and agreed approaches to address both the new and existing threats to international peace and security in the context of multilateralism. The Meeting also reiterated the OIC’s stance in support of the principle of the United Nations reform, including the expansion of the Security Council’s membership, in accordance with the relevant UNGA resolutions, and taking into consideration the principles of sovereign equality of all States and the need to ensure equitable geographic distribution.

116. The Meeting emphasized that the question of reform and expansion of the UN Security Council continues to be the primary preoccupation of the UN membership, including all OIC Member States for whom this is a matter of direct and vital interest. It, therefore, called on its Member States to actively and constructively take part in the UN reform process in accordance with the relevant declarations, statements and resolutions issued by the OIC. It emphasized the importance of a comprehensive reform enhancing the transparency, accountability, representativeness and democratization of the Security Council through the improvement of its working methods and legitimacy and effectiveness of its decision-making process. The Meeting reaffirmed its principled position that any reform of the Security Council must ensure adequate representation of the OIC Member States in any category of membership of the expanded Security Council.

117. The Meeting highlighted that in the current era of regional blocks, the OIC is the largest institution after the United Nations, which brings together one-fifth of the world population. The OIC’s demand for adequate representation in the Security Council is in keeping with the significant demographic and political weight of the OIC Member States, which bears particular importance, not only from the perspective of increased efficiency, but also to ensure the representation of the main forms of civilization in the Security Council. It therefore reaffirmed its decision that any reform proposal which neglects the adequate representation of the Islamic Ummah in any category of membership in an extended Security Council will not be acceptable to the Islamic World.

118. The Meeting also stressed an increased role of regional groups in determining their representation on the Council. It also recognized that there was wide support for increasing the number of non-permanent members in the Security Council.

119. The Meeting took note of the progress made in the discussions on Security Council reform during the 61st Session of the General Assembly, guided by the President of the Assembly. The Meeting underlined that the reform of the Security Council must be achieved with the broadest possible agreement. In this context, and keeping in view the continuing divergent positions among UN Member States on important aspects of Security Council reform, the Meeting stressed the importance of further constructive consultations between all UN Member States to agree on a common basis and framework for further progress without imposing any time limits or pushing divisive votes. In that regard, it called for building upon the points of convergence such as the need to enlarge the Council, to increase the representation of developing countries, and to improve the working methods and transparency of the Council's work.

120. The Meeting rejected any efforts to abuse the Security Council as a tool to pursue certain political and national agendas and stressed on the importance of non-selectivity and impartiality in the work of the Council.

121. The Meeting took note of the important contribution being made by the United Nations Peace Building Commission (PBC) as the intergovernmental advisory body to address the special needs of countries emerging from conflict and to assist them in laying the foundation for sustainable development. It expressed its profound appreciation for the active and constructive participation of the OIC Member States that are members of the Commission, namely Bangladesh, Egypt, Guinea-Bissau, Indonesia, Nigeria and Pakistan. It welcomed the invitation to the Organization of the Islamic Conference to participate in all Meetings of the Commission and expressed the continued engagement and support of the Organization to the work of the Commission. The Meeting agreed on the importance of the OIC General Secretariat to contribute to the Peace-building Fund, and in this regard, it requested the OIC Member States to consider providing financial contributions to the OIC Secretary General such that they may be transferred as the Organization's contribution to the Fund.

HUMAN RIGHTS AND FREEDOMS

122. The Meeting strongly condemned the publication of offensive, provocative, irresponsible and blasphemous caricatures of the Prophet (PBUH) in the print and electronic media of some Western countries under the pretext of freedom of expression and press freedom. It stressed that the right to freedom of expression should be exercised with responsibility and in accordance with the law.

123. The Meeting expressed its deep concern over the growing phenomenon of intolerance and discrimination against Muslim communities in non-OIC Member States, particularly in the West, including the promulgation and oppressive application of restrictive laws and other measures. It emphasized that all Islamophobic practices constitute an infringement of human dignity and contradict the provisions of the international human rights documents.

124. The Meeting emphasized the need to develop, at the United Nations, including the Human Rights Council, a legally binding international instrument to promote respect for all religions and cultural values and prevent intolerance, discrimination and the instigation of hatred against any group or followers of any religion.

125. The Meeting expressed its appreciation and full satisfaction for the laudable collective efforts of the OIC Group in Geneva to coordinate and harmonize the positions of the OIC Member States within the Human Rights Council; to deploy collective and intensive efforts to enable the HRC to take concrete measures for the respect and protection of human rights in the Occupied Palestinian Territory, including East Jerusalem and in Lebanon; to place two crucial issues for the OIC namely the situation in the Occupied Palestinian Territory, including East Jerusalem, and the issue of incitement to racial and religious hatred and the promotion of tolerance at the top of the permanent agenda of the Human Rights Council.

126. The Meeting expressed its appreciation for the active participation of Algeria, Azerbaijan, Bangladesh, Cameroon, Djibouti, Egypt, Gabon, Indonesia, Jordan, Malaysia, Mali, Morocco, Nigeria, Pakistan, Qatar, Saudi Arabia, Senegal and Tunisia in decision-making and institutional building process of the United Nations Human Rights Council and valuable efforts of the OIC Group in Geneva in taking a common position within the Council on matters of special interest to the OIC Member States.

127. The Meeting expressed its opposition to the practice of submitting country-specific resolutions on human rights situations which are selectively targeting developing and Islamic countries. It reaffirmed that this practice is one of the main reasons that transforms the work of human rights bodies into an extremely political exercise rather than contributing to the advancement of the cause of human rights.

128. The Meeting welcomed the progress made in the elaboration of modalities of the Universal Periodic Review within the framework of institutional building of the Human Rights Council, and looks forward to its early functioning as an innovative cooperative mechanism to promote the universality, interdependence, indivisibility and interrelatedness of all human rights and to ensure universal coverage and equal treatment of all States.

129. The Meeting stressed the need to find fair and just solutions to the problems facing Muslim minorities in the world, including in particular denying them the right to exercise their political, civil and cultural rights, the gross human rights violations which at times amount to ethnic cleansing, in addition to religious and sectarian segregation, socio-economic backwardness, and exclusion from effective political activity in their countries.

130. The Meeting agreed that the General Assembly representing universal membership, in accordance with the United Nations Charter must be enabled to exercise its authority in addressing all major issues, including peace and security, development and human rights. The Meeting further called for halting and reversing the encroachment by the Security Council on the Assembly's prerogatives and functions.

131. The Meeting reiterated its deep concern over the conditions of the Muslim minority in India. It urged the Government of India to take effective and immediate measures to end all violence and policies of discrimination against Muslims. The Meeting also reiterated its mandate to the General Secretariat to monitor the situation of Muslims in India and to collect further information on the challenges and difficulties that they are facing politically, socially and culturally, and to submit a report in this regard to the next ICFM.

DEVELOPMENT ISSUES

132. The Meeting, recognizing the central role of the UN Economic and Social Council (ECOSOC) in the promotion of socio-economic development, called for strengthening its role as an effective policy dialogue platform and to use its mechanisms for monitoring the implementation of the internationally agreed development goals, including the MDGs. In this context, the Meeting welcomed the first Annual Ministerial Review (AMR) and the launch of the Development Cooperation Forum (DCF) under the ECOSOC to further strengthen the leading role of this UN body on economic policy-making.

133. The Meeting took note of the final documents adopted in the second phase of the World Summit on the Information Society, held in Tunisia from 16 through 18 November 2005, following the first phase held in Geneva in December 2003, and emphasized the need for building on the commitments made in Geneva and Tunis by focusing on efforts aimed at bridging the gap between developing countries and industrial countries. It called on the Member States to focus on the follow-up of the Geneva and Tunis decisions, including by participating actively in the Internet Governance Forum.

134. The Meeting reaffirmed the need to strengthen the role and capacity of the United Nations system to assist developing countries' efforts to achieve the internationally-agreed development goals, particularly goal number 8 of the Millennium Development Goals which calls for developing a Global Partnership for Development and substantial increase in development assistance to achieve these goals.

135. The Meeting emphasized the need for the promotion of the new global economic order aimed at reversing the growing disparity between the rich and poor, both among and within countries through, inter alia, the eradication of poverty, the promotion of sustainable development, and the realization of the just aspiration of all peoples. In this regard, the Meeting also called for special attention to African Development issues and stressed the support of the international community to the NEPAD programme.

136. The Meeting reiterated that the pursuance of sustainable development should be the priority of all countries through the implementation of all internationally-agreed development goals and objectives at all levels, including those contained in the Johannesburg Plan of Implementation for the World Summit on Sustainable Development and the Millennium Declaration, and the Brussels Programme of Action for LDCs, and the Almaty Programme of Action for Landlocked Developing Countries. The Meeting also stressed that the multilateral trading and financial systems should be open, equitable, rule-based, non-discriminatory and sensitive to Least Developed Countries (LDCs) situation. In this context, it urged the international community to facilitate the accession of those OIC Member States that seek to join the World Trade Organization (WTO) on fair terms, irrespective of political considerations.

137. The Meeting urged the developed countries that have not done so, to materialize the target of 0.7% of GNP for official development assistance set for end of 2007, in order to enable the developing countries to meet the Millennium Development Goals (MDGs), as set by 2015. In this connection particular attention should be given to the implementation of the Monterrey Declaration.

138. The Meeting welcomed the launch of the OIC Poverty Alleviation Fund with an initial budget of 1.57 billion US Dollars aimed at poverty alleviation in Islamic countries with a particular focus on the Least Developed Countries (LDCs).

139. The Meeting called on United Nations Member States for the full implementation of the resolutions and the decisions of the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO) concerning the return of cultural properties to the peoples who were or still are under colonial rule or foreign occupation. It also stressed the need for UNESCO to identify the stolen or illegally exported cultural properties in accordance with the relevant conventions on the subject. It emphasized the need to expedite the process of returning these properties to their countries of origin, in compliance with the resolutions of the United Nations General Assembly. It further emphasized the right of the Islamic countries to maintain and conserve their national heritage, as it constitutes the foundation of the cultural identity of these countries.

140. The Meeting welcomed the outcome of the First OIC Anti-Corruption and Enhancing Integrity Forum held from 28-30 August 2006 in Kuala Lumpur and the follow-up Meeting of the Ad-Hoc Task Force held from 9 to 11 January 2007 also in Kuala Lumpur that inter alia examined the mechanisms to increase cooperation among Member States to address elements of corruption and agreed to establish a Secretariat in Kuala Lumpur to coordinate this effort.

141. The Meeting expressed its appreciation for Malaysia's hosting of the Islamic Conference of Health Ministers (12 to 15 June 2007) which is in line with the OIC Ten-Year Programme of Action that focuses on issues relating to vaccines for preventable diseases and its production in OIC member countries.

SUPPORT TO OIC MEMBER STATES' CANDIDATES AND PERMANENT OBSERVER MISSION OF THE OIC:

145. The Meeting expressed appreciation and satisfaction for the performance of the Permanent Observer Mission of the OIC to the United Nations in New York in discharging its duties in conformity with the resolutions of the OIC Summit and Ministerial Conferences.

146. The Meeting noted with deep concern the continued difficulties faced by the Permanent Observer Mission of the Organization of the Islamic Conference (OIC) to the UN in New York due to the absence of diplomatic status of the Mission. Recognizing the central role of the Permanent Observer Mission to the United Nations in New York, the Meeting urged the government of the United States of America, as the host country, to extend full diplomatic status to the Mission. The Meeting called for the establishment of Ambassadorial Level Committee in New York comprising the Troikas of the OIC Summit and the ICFM to pursue this issue with the Government of the United States.

Rationalization of the work of the Annual Coordination Meeting

147. The Meeting took note of the interventions made by the various delegations on the need to rationalize and improve the work of the Annual Coordination Meeting of the Foreign Ministers of the Member States of the OIC in New York. In this regard, it decided to, henceforth, make this important occasion a forum for interaction and exchange of ideas on issues of common interest to the Ummah instead of a mere occasion for long solemn declarations as is currently the case. It also called for greater coordination between the OIC General Secretariat and the OIC Group in New York.

148. The Meeting adopted the reports issued by:
