Agenda item 118

Programme budget for the biennium 2008-2009

Estimates in respect of special political missions, good offices and other political initiatives authorized by the General Assembly and/or the Security Council

Thematic cluster III. United Nations offices, peacebuilding support offices, integrated offices and commissions

Report of the Secretary-General

Summary

The present report contains the proposed resource requirements for 2009 for 10 special political missions grouped under the thematic cluster of United Nations offices, peacebuilding support offices, integrated offices and commissions, which emanate from the decisions of the Security Council.

The estimated requirements for 2009 for special political missions grouped under this cluster amount to $98,918,800 (net). After taking into account the estimated balance of $505,500 expected to remain unencumbered for the 10 missions at the end of 2008, the additional amount being sought for the missions under this cluster amounts to $98,413,300.

II. Special political missions

A. United Nations Office for West Africa

($5,788,600)

Background, mandate and objective

1. Following an exchange of letters dated 26 and 29 November 2001, respectively, between the Secretary-General (S/2001/1128) and the President of the Security Council (S/2001/1129), the United Nations Office for West Africa

(UNOWA), also referred to as the Office of the Special Representative of the Secretary-General for West Africa, was established in Dakar for an initial period of three years, from 1 January 2002. Its mandate was extended for an additional three years by another exchange of letters (S/2004/797 and S/2004/858) and following a midterm review to the Council (S/2004/797, annex). A second midterm review was submitted to the Council on 18 May 2007 (S/2007/294). In a letter dated 21 December 2007 (S/2007/754), the President of the Security Council informed the Secretary-General that the Council had agreed to extend the mandate of UNOWA until 31 December 2010, with an increase in its functions and activities, and requested the Secretary-General to report on the activities of the office every six months.

2. The work of UNOWA has been acknowledged on several occasions, including in a statement by the President of the Security Council on behalf of the Council (S/PRST/2005/9), made following the debate of the Council on the progress report of the Secretary-General on ways to combat subregional problems in West Africa (S/2005/86). The Council noted with appreciation the enhanced cooperation among the various United Nations political and peacekeeping missions in the subregion and encouraged UNOWA to promote an integrated and joint subregional approach with the Economic Community of West African States (ECOWAS) and the African Union, as well as with other key international partners and civil society organizations. In a statement by the President on behalf of the Council of 9 August 2006 on peace consolidation in West Africa (S/PRST/2006/38), the Council emphasized the regional dimension of peace and security in West Africa and encouraged the Special Representative of the Secretary-General for West Africa and the United Nations missions in the region to continue their efforts in coordinating United Nations activities to ensure their improved cohesion and maximum efficiency. At the Council's request, the Secretary-General submitted a report on 13 March 2007 on cross-border issues in West Africa (S/2007/143), with recommendations on enhancing United Nations inter-institutional cooperation in the subregion, with other United Nations missions and specialized agencies, and organizations such as ECOWAS.

3. As recommended by the Security Council in the statement of its President of 17 May 2004 (S/PRST/2004/16) and the Secretary-General in his report of 2 March 2005 on inter-mission cooperation and possible cross-border operations (S/2005/135), UNOWA facilitates collaboration among United Nations peace missions operating in the subregion (United Nations Integrated Peacebuilding Office in Sierra Leone (UNIPSIL), United Nations Mission in Liberia (UNMIL), United Nations Operation in Côte d'Ivoire (UNOCI) and United Nations Peacebuilding Support Office in Guinea-Bissau (UNOGBIS)). The Special Representative of the Secretary-General for West Africa coordinates and chairs quarterly meetings between the heads of United Nations peace missions to exchange views on political and security developments in their respective mission areas, assess emerging threats to peace from a subregional perspective and recommend follow-up and concerted action. UNOWA also provides missions with real-time security information for the subregion. In addition to consulting United Nations country teams when visiting countries in the subregion, UNOWA also collaborates with and facilitates linkages between United Nations specialized agencies and regional offices through regular meetings and discussions on integrated cross-border strategies for humanitarian affairs, human rights, development and security. The Special Representative of the Secretary-General makes regular use of the expertise of heads of other United Nations regional offices, who accompany him on some official trips to ensure a coordinated approach and response to subregional issues. In line with its mandate, UNOWA intends to strengthen this collaboration in 2009 by improving follow-up action and strengthening synergies and complementarity of activities and programmes.

4. Collaboration with other United Nations entities also takes place through the sharing of assets to maximize the efficient use of resources and minimize costs. UNOWA provides aviation support services to United Nations missions and agencies on a cost-reimbursement basis and assists United Nations delegations and senior officials transiting through Dakar. Existing assets and staff sharing arrangements with the Cameroon-Nigeria Mixed Commission will remain fully in place in 2009 and UNOWA will increase its support to the Mixed Commission, in line with its revised mandate.

5. UNOWA interacts with the Department of Political Affairs on substantive matters, including receiving strategic and political guidance, and facilitating and overseeing the effective implementation of the office's work. The Department of Field Support provides support to UNOWA on administrative, financial and logistical matters.

Status of achievement of objectives and expected accomplishments for 2008

6. UNOWA performance in enhancing the contribution of the United Nations towards achieving peace and security in West Africa should be measured against the following two key benchmarks:

(a) Effective and sustainable capacity by ECOWAS and other subregional organizations to help prevent, manage and resolve conflicts in the subregion;

(b) Development and implementation by the United Nations and its partners of concerted subregional strategies and policies aimed at consolidating durable peace and security in West Africa.

7. Between January and July 2008, UNOWA contributed to enhancing capability in West Africa towards a harmonized subregional approach to peace and security. The Mission pursued this objective by raising awareness of emerging peace and security threats, as well as facilitating cooperation among United Nations entities in the region and key subregional partners and civil society for the promotion of an integrated approach to regional issues. The head of UNOWA also exercised his good offices to address crisis situations and cross-border threats, in particular in the Sahel band.

8. In the field of human rights, UNOWA monitored human rights developments, participated in meetings and seminars and advised key subregional actors on human rights and gender-related issues and their mainstreaming into activities and programmes. In particular, UNOWA succeeded in assisting ECOWAS to put in place a human rights strategy and action plan and established a subregional working group on women, peace and security.

9. Despite progress made in certain areas, comparatively few activities were undertaken under the good governance programme, particularly with regard to the UNOWA/ECOWAS cooperation framework and assisting ECOWAS in implementing its various instruments, which is attributable to the lack of human resources needed to effectively manage good governance programmes. Nevertheless, awareness-raising activities, support to ECOWAS on electoral issues and collaboration with key partners for an integrated and subregional approach to good governance contributed to some progress in this respect.

Focus in 2009

10. In line with its mandate, in 2009 UNOWA will continue to increase awareness of subregional challenges considered to be the main causes of instability in West Africa and to facilitate the adoption of strategies among United Nations entities, Governments and non-governmental actors to address those challenges. Priority areas will continue to include: food insecurity, proliferation of small arms and light weapons, drug and human trafficking, youth unemployment, rapid urbanization, piracy and terrorism. UNOWA will place particular emphasis on building synergies and complementarities with United Nations entities in the subregion, as well as partnership with regional and subregional organizations and other stakeholders. It will also seek to increase its impact and visibility by taking a dynamic approach, improving harmonization and coordination with partners and further exploring the possibility of seeking direct contributions from Member States.

11. UNOWA will further increase its support to ECOWAS, particularly in the area of conflict prevention, including updating and implementing a joint workplan that includes good offices and high-level missions, regular meetings of focal points and experts; working group meetings; activities in the field; and cooperation through the ECOWAS-European Union troika and Meetings of the International Contact Groups on the Mano River Union and Guinea-Bissau. UNOWA will also continue to assist ECOWAS in implementing its new strategic vision for regional development and will further support implementation of a new and comprehensive Strategic Conflict Prevention Framework, including related protocols. Priority areas for cooperation in 2009 will include: sustainable development, poverty reduction, human rights, consolidation of democratic processes and progress towards the concept of a borderless West Africa by 2020.

12. The objective, expected accomplishments and indicators of achievement for 2009 are set out below.

Objective: To sustain peace and security in West Africa

Expected accomplishments	Indicators of achievement
(a) Progress towards a harmonized subregional approach to cross-border challenges and emerging threats to peace and security in West Africa	(a) (i) Increased number of joint activities (workshops, meetings, training, consultations, advocacy, campaigns, studies, field missions, working visits, monitoring) between partners, including subregional organizations, civil society, the private sector and other entities in the subregion to strengthen cooperation and to facilitate development of common and harmonized strategies

- Advice to the Working Group on Women, Peace and Security on updating the action plan for the implementation of Security Council resolution 1325 (2000) on women, peace and security
- 2 workshops on human rights and conflict prevention

External factors

13. The objective would be achieved on the assumption that:

(a) There will be no major conflict or crisis which would durably affect the economic, political and social well-being of individual countries or the subregion, and would shift the priority attention;

(b) National and regional stakeholders and their partners will demonstrate the necessary political will to engage in conflict prevention.

Total requirements	5 373.0	5 362.6	10.4	5 788.6	5 778.2	—	415.6

14. Resource requirements for 2009 totalling $5,788,600 net ($6,227,200 gross) include the costs for: two military advisers, including one new military adviser position ($161,700); salaries and common staff costs ($2,667,700) for a staffing complement of 30 positions as detailed in the table below, including two new positions at the P-4 level and one position at the Field Service level; services of experts and consultants ($192,100); official travel ($489,000); and other operational requirements, such as facilities and infrastructure ($122,800) and ground transportation ($89,000), air transportation ($1,768,900), communications ($143,200), information technology ($82,200) and other supplies, services and equipment ($72,000).

15. Increased requirements for 2009 are mainly the result of an increase in international staff positions, from 13 to 15, combined with the effect of an increase in the post adjustment multiplier from 40.1 to 54.2 per cent, partially offset by the application of a higher vacancy rate of 12 per cent in 2009 compared to 5 per cent in 2008.

16. In addition to the approved staffing establishment for 2008 of 28 positions, it is proposed to establish an additional position of a Gender Adviser (P-4) to cover six different activities in the gender area as foreseen in the strengthened mandate, an Administrative Assistant (Field Service) to provide dedicated support to the Office of the Director as well as to upgrade the position of an Administrative Officer from the P-3 to the P-4 level to provide efficient and effective support to UNOWA and the Cameroon-Nigeria Mixed Commission, in particular regarding the management of national staff in both missions.

B. United Nations Peacebuilding Support Office in the Central African Republic

Background, mandate and objective

17. Following a series of violent mutinies by the country's armed forces in 1996 and 1997, the Security Council decided to establish the United Nations Mission in the Central African Republic (MINURCA) on 15 April 1998. MINURCA replaced the Inter-African Mission to Monitor the Implementation of the Bangui Agreement (MISAB), a regional peacekeeping force. MINURCA facilitated successful legislative and presidential elections in 1998 and 1999, respectively.

18. In its resolution 1271 (1999), the Security Council decided that MINURCA should be succeeded by a United Nations post-conflict peacebuilding presence in the country. In his letter dated 3 December 1999 to the President of the Security Council (S/1999/1235), the Secretary-General proposed the modalities of such a presence to help the authorities of the Central African Republic address the country's security and development challenges. The United Nations Peacebuilding Support Office in the Central African Republic (BONUCA) was established on 16 February 2000.

19. Following an attempted coup d'état in May 2001 and the overthrow of the Government of President Ange-Félix Patassé by General François Bozizé on 15 March 2003, the BONUCA mandate was reoriented to assist the Government during the ensuing transition period. A constitutional referendum was held in 2004 and followed, in 2005, by multiparty presidential and legislative elections, won by General Bozizé and the coalition of political parties supporting him. The elections ended the transition period, thus restoring the constitutional order.

20. Despite the elections, the political and security environment remained fragile, among other things, due to a lack of dialogue between the Government and the country's socio-political actors and extremely slow pace of political, judicial, economic and security reforms. This situation triggered the emergence of new armed/rebel groups in the country's northern provinces, spearheaded mainly by the Front démocratique du peuple centrafricain (FDPC), the Armée populaire pour la restauration de la démocratie (APRD) and the Union des forces démocratiques pour le rassemblement (UFDR).

21. Since February 2007, the Government has signed three separate peace agreements with FDPC, UFDR and APRD. It is expected that these agreements will be further consolidated by the signing of a comprehensive peace agreement between the Government of the Central African Republic and all politico-military groups. The next step in the current peace process will be the holding of a genuinely inclusive political dialogue aimed at putting an end to the recurrent political and military crises in the country. On 25 April 2008, the modalities of the inclusive political dialogue were proposed to President Bozizé by a Dialogue Preparatory Committee he had established in December 2007, which comprises representatives of the Government, opposition, rebel movements and civil society. Its work was facilitated by BONUCA and the International Organization of the Francophonie, with technical support provided by the Centre for Humanitarian Dialogue.

22. Although the intensity of political conflict has relatively declined over the past year, insecurity continues to be a major challenge in most parts of the country. Apart from increased activities by highway bandits, the situation is further compounded by the activities of well-armed poachers and elements, believed to be Lord's Resistance Army rebels, as well as the establishment of self-defence vigilante groups in some parts of the country. The continued insecurity has resulted in increased human rights violations, growing impoverishment and massive population displacements, including to neighbouring Cameroon and Chad. Instability in the Darfur region of the Sudan and in eastern Chad, coupled with banditry along the common borders between these countries, has increased insecurity in the Central African Republic and continues to present threats to peace in the subregion as a whole.

23. In 2008, BONUCA continued to work closely with agencies and programmes within the United Nations country team in the Central African Republic, which includes the United Nations Development Programme (UNDP), the Office for the Coordination of Humanitarian Affairs, the Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR), the World Food Programme (WFP), the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations (FAO), the United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF), the World Health Organization (WHO), the United Nations Development Fund for Women (UNIFEM), the United Nations Population Fund (UNFPA), the Joint United Nations Programme on HIV/AIDS (UNAIDS), the World Bank and the International Monetary Fund (IMF). BONUCA regularly participates in coordination meetings of the United Nations country team and shares common security and medical services. The mission also maintains very close working relations on cross-cutting issues with MINURCAT, the United Nations Organization Mission in the Democratic Republic of the Congo (MONUC), the African Union-United Nations Hybrid Operation in Darfur (UNAMID) and the United Nations Mission in the Sudan (UNMIS).

24. BONUCA continues to facilitate various MINURCAT missions in the Central African Republic, thus assisting MINURCAT in the implementation of its task of creating security conditions for humanitarian activities in the north-eastern Central African Republic. The two missions regularly exchange information and coordinate their strategies and activities with regard to the implementation of their mandates in their respective areas of operation. BONUCA and MINURCAT participated in the national seminar on security sector reform in the Central African Republic, organized jointly by UNDP and the Government of the Central African Republic in April 2008.

25. In close coordination with the Government and with the support and guidance of the Peacebuilding Support Office, the Department of Political Affairs and UNDP, BONUCA facilitated the preparation of a national priority plan, which proposed key areas in the ongoing peace consolidation process for funding by the Peacebuilding Fund. BONUCA also continued to work in close cooperation with the African Union, the International Organization of La Francophonie, the Economic Community of Central African States (ECCAS), the International Conference on the Great Lakes Region, and the Economic and Monetary Community of Central Africa (CEMAC). BONUCA also works closely with a 500-strong subregional peacekeeping force, the Mission for the Consolidation of Peace (MICOPAX), formerly the Multinational Force of the Economic and Monetary Community of Central Africa (FOMUC).

26. The initial mandate of BONUCA was to support the Government's efforts in consolidating peace and national reconciliation, and to facilitate the mobilization of international support for the country's reconstruction and economic recovery. However, because of the continuing violence, the Office was not able to focus on the consolidation of peace, giving priority instead to peacemaking and conflict resolution. Thus, although it is understood that the primary responsibility for achieving long-term political stability rests with the Government of the Central African Republic, more work remains to be done by the international community to assist the country in peacebuilding and security sector reforms. At the same time, the presence of BONUCA and its efforts to pursue this overarching goal and foster peace and strengthen democracy should be limited in time and scope and be adapted to the transient political and security conditions in the country.

Status of achievement of objectives and expected accomplishments for 2008

27. The efforts of BONUCA were concentrated on providing support to the national stakeholders in organizing an inclusive political dialogue, including the provision of good offices in the resolution of a number of situations that could derail the ongoing national peace and reconciliation processes. In particular, BONUCA facilitated the work of a Preparatory Committee, set up by the authorities of the Central African Republic to prepare an inclusive political dialogue aimed at ending the recurrent conflicts in the country. The Office monitored the human rights situation and provided advice to the national and local authorities. In cooperation with the United Nations country team and the Government of the Central African Republic, BONUCA participated in the process of developing a national priority plan, which received funding from the Peacebuilding Fund.

Focus in 2009

28. In 2009, BONUCA will assist the Government in the implementation of the recommendation of the inclusive political dialogue as well as the peace agreements the Government signed with the country's rebel groups in 2008. The Office will also mobilize resources to help the Central African Republic enhance good political and economic governance and human rights and promote greater and more effective civil society engagement in addressing the country's multifaceted challenges, including the preparation of free and fair elections in 2010. A comprehensive and integrated United Nations strategy will be developed to ensure that the United Nations presence in the country fully responds to the challenges facing the Central African Republic, as well as supports various relevant programmes and activities, including those of the Peacebuilding Commission.

29. In order to provide adequate support to the recent stabilization and cessation of hostilities in the extreme north-western province of the country, Ouham-Pende, BONUCA will open its fourth human rights sub-office in the town of Paoua. The town has been the scene of gross human rights violations since 2005, when rebel groups launched attacks against Government institutions. Paoua has been the centre of most recent activities by APRD rebels, as well as most of the humanitarian activities in the Central African Republic. Ouham-Pende is considered to be a province of the country most affected by the current conflict. APRD is mostly located in that province and, following the 9 May and 21 June peace agreements, APRD fighters are expected to undergo a disarmament, demobilization and reintegration process. In this regard, BONUCA is named as part of the follow-up committee for the comprehensive peace agreement signed in Libreville on 21 June. The subregional peacekeeping force FOMUC/MICOPAX opened its latest base in Ouham-Pende in March 2008. Therefore, it is crucial that BONUCA establishes a sub-office in this part of the country.

30. The objective, expected accomplishments and indicators of achievement for 2009 are presented below.

Objective: To continue to contribute to efforts to consolidate national reconciliation, respect for human rights, democratic institutions and the rule of law, and to promote sustainable peace in the Central African Republic

Total requirements	6 409.9	6 900.1	(490.2)	8 818.1	9 308.3	909.5	2 408.2

32. The estimated requirements for the period from 1 January to 31 December 2009 would amount to $8,818,100 net ($9,515,100 gross) and comprise requirements for military observers ($138,100), civilian police advisers ($98,100), salaries and common staff costs ($5,374,900) for the staffing complement reflected in the table below, consultants ($36,600), official travel ($176,700), facilities and infrastructure ($483,200), ground transportation ($708,300), air transportation ($225,900), communications ($997,300), information technology ($190,600), medical services ($46,700) and other supplies, services and equipment ($341,700). Increased requirements for 2009 are mainly attributable to staff increases, increases in the mission subsistence allowance rates as well as to the acquisition and replacement of vehicles.

33. Estimated overexpenditures in 2008 in the amount of $490,200 are due mainly to higher common staff costs attributable to the strengthening of the local currency vis-à-vis the United States dollar, the unexpected extensive travel of the head of mission and of his team related to briefings on peace talks and the implementation of the BONUCA mandate, travel of staff members to attend mandatory training events which were not foreseen in 2008 as well as to increased costs for rent, utilities and petrol, oil and lubricants.

Change	—	—	—	—	—	1	(1)	—	—	1	—	1	—	5	1	7

34. The total civilian staffing proposed for BONUCA for the period from 1 January to 31 December 2009 includes 96 staff positions and the upgrade of the Gender Affairs Officer from the P-3 to the P-4 level in view of the continuous increase in the scope and range of activities of the existing position. It also includes the proposed additional five positions for the new sub-office of Paoua, comprising one Human Rights Officer (United Nations Volunteers (UNV)), two Human Rights Assistants (Local level), one Communications and Information Technology Assistant (Local level) and one Driver (Local level). Finally, one Communications Assistant (Field Service) and one Finance/Budget Assistant (Local level) are requested at the mission headquarters in Bangui. Over the past years, the volume of work in the Finance Unit has increased with the significant increase in the number of staff, from 47 in 2000 to 96 proposed in 2009. The additional position would enable the Finance Unit to support the regional offices in Bouar, Bossangoa, Bambari and Paoua, to ensure timely payments of petty-cash, salaries, hazard and travel claims, and to assist in budget preparation and monitoring. The proposed additional Communications Assistant (Field Service) position will ensure the proper functioning of the mission's very small aperture terminal (VSAT), high frequency (HF)/very high frequency (VHF), Thuraya and private automatic branch exchange (PABX) equipment. The increased number of sub-offices creates an additional workload in the area of VSAT, HF/VHF and PABX work at the mission's headquarters, thus requiring additional support to ensure continued efficient and reliable operations of the communications and information technology equipment and services both at the mission's headquarters and in the sub-offices.

C. United Nations Peacebuilding Support Office in Guinea-Bissau

Background, mandate and objective

35. In its resolution 1216 (1998), the Security Council requested the Secretary-General to make recommendations to the Council on a possible role for the United Nations in the process of peace and reconciliation in Guinea-Bissau. In his letter dated 26 February 1999 to the President of the Security Council (S/1999/232), the Secretary-General proposed the establishment of a United Nations Peacebuilding Support Office in Guinea-Bissau (UNOGBIS), which became operational in July 1999. As a result of the changing political climate and on subsequent requests by the Government, the mandate of the Office was repeatedly extended. In a letter dated 3 December 2007 from the President of the Security Council to the Secretary-General (S/2007/701), the mandate of the Office was extended until 31 December 2008, with a revised mandate that includes facilitating efforts to combat drug and human trafficking and organized crime, facilitating efforts to curb the proliferation of small arms and light weapons and contributing to the collection of weapons illicitly held and assisting with the holding of credible and transparent legislative elections in 2008, in close cooperation with the United Nations country team and other international partners.

36. The Office has played a pivotal role in ensuring that political tensions involving the leader of the African Party for the Independence of Guinea and Cape Verde, the Party for Social Renewal, the United Social Democratic Party, the Prime Minister, the President and the Parliament, which threatened the survival of the Government and could lead to institutional crisis, was solved through continuous political dialogue. The Mission also used its good offices to lower tensions between various branches of the security forces by facilitating close contact between all the relevant authorities and appealing publicly for the respect for the rule of law.

37. Following the placement of Guinea-Bissau on the agenda of the Peacebuilding Commission in December 2007, UNOGBIS has taken the lead in the Commission's engagement with Guinea-Bissau during 2008, by providing strategic guidance and support to the activities undertaken by the Peacebuilding Support Office in the country, and supporting the implication and ownership of national authorities in the development and implementation of quick impact projects and the integrated peacebuilding strategic framework.

38. Under its revised mandate, and within the framework of a comprehensive peacebuilding strategy, UNOGBIS continued to support efforts to strengthen the capacity of national institutions to maintain constitutional order, reform the security sector, assist in conducting free, fair and transparent elections in 2008 and consolidate peace and democracy; and facilitated efforts to combat drug trafficking and organized crime and to promote the rule of law and respect for human rights. It also supported national efforts to mobilize international support for those efforts. To fulfil its peacebuilding objectives, UNOGBIS worked closely with a cross section of Guinea-Bissau society to promote constructive dialogue, reconciliation and reconstruction within the country. Under the framework of Security Council resolution 1325 (2000) on women, peace and security, UNOGBIS facilitated the establishment of a gender thematic working group, in order to ensure coordination among the United Nations and national stakeholders, including civil society, on the integration of a gender perspective in socio-political development programming in Guinea-Bissau. Furthermore, considerable progress has been made in combating the proliferation of small arms and light weapons, since the establishment of the National Commission against the Proliferation of Small Arms and Light Weapons, comprised of representatives of the main State stakeholders, civil society organizations, the war veterans association, ECOWAS and UNOGBIS.

Status of achievement of objectives and expected accomplishments for 2008

39. In 2008, UNOGBIS has continued to collaborate with the United Nations country team in Guinea-Bissau, resulting in the effective alignment of peace consolidation and socio-economic development efforts in that country. Most of the peacebuilding activities of UNOGBIS were undertaken in consultation with relevant United Nations country team agencies, notably UNDP. Planning and preparations for the contribution of UNOGBIS to the 2008 elections was done in close cooperation with UNDP, which was the lead agency on that activity. At the request of the national authorities, UNOGBIS coordinated international electoral observers' teams in representation of delegations from regional organizations, States Members of the United Nations and non-governmental organizations, and provided them with technical and logistical support. UNOGBIS has increased its efforts to facilitate the fight against drug trafficking and organized crime in Guinea-Bissau, by working closely with the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime (UNODC), national authorities, ECOWAS and the European Union. UNOGBIS facilitated, in collaboration with UNODC and UNOWA, the holding of an ECOWAS regional conference on drug trafficking to create an additional platform to highlight drug trafficking concerns in Guinea-Bissau and to help tackle the phenomenon within a regional perspective. During 2008, UNOGBIS was also successful in enhancing cooperation and coordination with the African Union, ECOWAS, the Community of Portuguese Language Countries, the International Contact Group on Guinea-Bissau and other international partners, as well as inter-mission cooperation.

Future status of the mission

40. At the request of Guinea-Bissau authorities and based on the statement on Guinea-Bissau made by the President of the Security Council on behalf of the Council on 19 October 2007 (S/PRST/2007/38), the Secretary-General informed the Security Council in a letter dated 28 November 2007 (S/2007/700), that following the holding of credible and transparent legislative elections in 2008, he would explore the possibility of transforming the current office into an integrated office in Guinea-Bissau and would make recommendations in this regard to the Security Council in December 2008.

41. Based on the above and pending both a recommendation of the Secretary-General and a decision by the Security Council, the present report includes adjustments to the staffing structure and to operational costs required for improving mandate delivery and administrative support.

42. Any budgetary implications arising from a subsequent decision by the Security Council of transforming UNOGBIS into an integrated office would be presented to the General Assembly for its consideration during the first part of its resumed sixty-third session.

43. The objective, expected accomplishments and indicators of achievement of UNOGBIS are presented below.

- 1 seminar for community leaders and journalists on violence against women
- 1 seminar for women parliamentarians and journalists on the promotion of the women's rights, including on the implementation of the Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination against Women
- 2 seminars for officials of key Government ministries on the mainstreaming of gender in their local and national programmes
- Promotion of Security Council resolution 1325 (2000) and gender mainstreaming through the organization of 2 events to celebrate International Women's Day and the anniversary of the adoption of Security Council resolution 1325 (2000)
- 1 national seminar for women leaders on the role of women in the consolidation and socio-economic development of peace
- 500 booklets, 500 T-shirts and 300 hats, as promotional materials on women's rights and awareness on the campaign against gender-based violence
- 3 radio programmes on the Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination against Women

External factors

44. These objectives are expected to be achieved on the assumptions that:
- (a) legislative elections are held in a peaceful manner and are generally considered to have been free, fair and transparent, while the post-electoral climate is marked by stable relationships among all State organs; (b) measures to implement governance reforms, including those detailed in the security sector, are taken, with the full engagement of national stakeholders; (c) commitments are made by the national stakeholders and international partners within the framework of the Peacebuilding Commission; (d) the international community continues its technical and financial support for Guinea-Bissau's political, administrative and economic reforms, as well as its efforts to achieve a minimum of socio-economic development, through the poverty reduction strategy paper; and (e) there exists institutional stability in the relationships between the Presidency, the Executive, judicial bodies and armed forces and there are fewer political tensions.

45. Assuming that the mandate of UNOGBIS will be extended for another year, the resource requirements in 2009 are estimated at $4,833,000 net ($5,218,700 gross), comprising requirements of two military advisers and one civilian police adviser ($154,700), salaries and commons staff costs ($2,715,100) for the staffing complement of 32 positions detailed in the table below, official travel ($144,000), and other operational requirements, such as facilities and infrastructure ($647,600), ground transportation ($207,000), air transportation ($286,100), communications ($209,800), information technology ($135,800), consultants and experts ($36,500), medical services ($49,100) and other supplies, services and equipment ($247,300). Increased requirements for 2009 are mainly due to increased staffing levels, related increases for rental, maintenance and security services, Minimum Operational Residential Security Standards (MORSS) compliance costs and the inclusion of rental costs for the utilization of the UNOWA fixed-wing aircraft due to unreliable commercial air travel in the region.

46. Estimated savings in 2008 are mainly due to the delayed recruitment of staff, offset by the inclusion of additional security services and generator fuel requirements to comply with Minimum Operational Residential Security Standards (MORSS) requirements, increased costs of rental for shared premises based on a revised common maintenance services agreement with the United Nations country team as well as the installation of the Sun accounting system, the Mercury procurement system and the Galileo asset management system to process financial transaction and reporting since UNDP will no longer provide this service.

47. The proposed staffing requirements for 2009 amount to 17 international and 15 national staff. In addition there are two military advisers and one civilian police adviser. The proposed staffing includes a proposal for the establishment of three additional positions, namely a Peacebuilding Officer (National Officer) supporting the Peacebuilding Commission's initiatives, including the establishment of a Peacebuilding Strategic Framework for Guinea-Bissau, a Budget/Finance Officer (P-3) to deal with the operational and policy-related issues in the area of finance, since UNDP will not be able to continue providing administrative and finance services to UNOGBIS, an Information Technology Assistant (Field Service) who will manage and maintain the Sun and Progen accounting systems, the Mercury procurement system and the Galileo asset management system that will be established for UNOGBIS, as well as the conversion of one position of Translator from the Local level to the National Officer level due to the difficulties experienced in recruiting a qualified translator at the Local level.

D. United Nations Political Office for Somalia

Background, mandate and objective

48. Pursuant to Security Council resolution 1744 (2007), UNPOS will continue to encourage the Transitional Federal Government and Somali opposition parties to engage in an inclusive dialogue. UNPOS will also continue to facilitate the full deployment of the African Union Mission in Somalia (AMISOM), in concert with the African Union and other international partners. UNPOS will work equally with the various stakeholders within and outside the region, especially the Intergovernmental Authority on Development (IGAD), towards the achievement of genuine peace and sustainable stability in Somalia and the wider Horn of Africa region.

49. In its resolutions 1744 (2007) and 1772 (2007), the Security Council requested the Secretary-General to continue to intensify his efforts to strengthen the National Reconciliation Congress, to promote an inclusive political process and to assist the Transitional Federal Institutions in delivering on their respective mandates. In resolution 1772 (2007), the Council also requested the Secretary-General to provide an assessment of further measures that might be required to strengthen the ability of UNPOS to fulfil its enhanced role.

50. As a first step in the implementation of the relevant provisions of resolution 1772 (2007), in his letter dated 27 August 2007 to the President of the Security Council (S/2007/522), the Secretary-General informed the Council of his intention to upgrade the level of the Head of Office to that of Under-Secretary-General.

51. In his letter to the President of the Security Council dated 24 December 2007 (S/2007/762), the Secretary-General recalled his letter dated 20 September 2007 (S/2007/566) recommending that UNPOS be provided with the necessary resources to implement an integrated United Nations approach for Somalia leading to a common United Nations peacebuilding strategy and outlining the objectives for 2008 for UNPOS, inter alia, to help strengthen the Transitional Federal Institutions and foster inclusive dialogue between all Somali parties; coordinate United Nations political, security, electoral, humanitarian and development support to the Transitional Federal Institutions in concert with the Institutions and the United Nations country team. UNPOS would also work closely with United Nations Headquarters on contingency planning for a possible United Nations peacekeeping operation.

52. Such an integrated approach would lead to a common United Nations peacebuilding strategy consisting of the following key elements: the facilitation of dialogue among all Somali parties; the coordination of United Nations political, security, electoral, humanitarian and development support to the Somali Transitional Federal Institutions; and the collaboration with external partners engaged in the facilitation efforts.

53. In January 2008, the Secretary-General dispatched an inter-agency team led by the Department of Political Affairs to conduct a strategic assessment of Somalia with the aim of developing the aforementioned common United Nations approach for Somalia. The findings and recommendations of that assessment are contained in the report of the Secretary-General of 14 March 2008 (S/2008/178 and Corr.1 and 2). The central tenet of the strategic assessment is that the political, security and programmatic dimensions of the United Nations efforts must be closely linked and mutually reinforcing, in a harmonious three-track approach. Key recommendations of the assessment include the establishment, within UNPOS, of a joint planning unit to strengthen coordination of activities between the United Nations country team and UNPOS; strengthened UNPOS capacity to ensure that the office can fulfil its leadership role and forge linkages with the United Nations country team; and the relocation of UNPOS and the United Nations country team from Nairobi to Somalia, to enhance the United Nations delivery capacity. The recommendations in the strategic assessment were adopted by the Security Council in its resolution 1814 (2008).

54. In its resolution 1814 (2008), the Security Council called upon UNPOS, in coordination with the United Nations country team, to promote a comprehensive and lasting settlement in Somalia and to enhance its efforts to enable the Transitional Federal Institutions to implement the key requirements of the Transitional Federal Charter, namely to develop a constitution, hold a constitutional referendum and hold free and fair elections in 2009. The Council further requested the establishment of an effective capacity to enhance and monitor the protection of human rights in Somalia, as well as the establishment of a United Nations-led mechanism for consultations among humanitarian organizations operating in Somalia. UNPOS and the United Nations country team are expected to be relocated to Somalia in July 2009.

55. The Department of Political Affairs provides constant backstopping and headquarters support to UNPOS. UNPOS, as the lead United Nations entity on Somalia, continues to work in close cooperation with United Nations agencies and programmes in Nairobi, including the United Nations Office at Nairobi, the Office of the Resident and Humanitarian Coordinator and the United Nations country team to provide political guidance and to avoid duplication of efforts in the provision of a wide range of services. UNPOS activities continue to focus on its key role in facilitating the Somalia peace process. To ensure the coherence of United Nations intervention in the Somali conflict and for the development of an appropriate security arrangement to accompany the peace process, the Department of Political Affairs and UNPOS will continue close interaction with the planning team for Somalia of the Department of Peacekeeping Operations. The planning team is responsible for developing and implementing United Nations support to AMISOM and planning for the deployment of an international force for Somalia, as directed by the Security Council. The Office of the Humanitarian Coordinator focuses its activities on the delivery of humanitarian assistance, which, since July 2008, have been focused on critical, life-saving operations — the UNICEF nutritional feeding centres and WFP port facilities for transporting WFP food supplies into the country. UNDP development assistance continues to focus on support to the constitutional process, strengthening the rule of law and security support for the police and judiciary and direct capacity-building support to Government departments and agencies.

Status of achievement of objectives and expected accomplishments for 2008

56. During 2008, UNPOS activities have been focused on fulfilling its mandate as restated by the Security Council in its resolution 1814 (2008). As part of efforts to strengthen the capacity of the Transitional Federal Institutions and at their request, the Political Affairs Unit of UNPOS assisted the Transitional Federal Government with the development of policies to strengthen the functioning of its various institutions. These policies covered such issues as the structure and remit of the offices of the President and the Prime Minister, as well as the functions, structures and organization of the ministries. Support was also provided to the development of a comprehensive curriculum for the training of Somali senior civil servants in areas such as general administration, financial processes (including treasury, customs and taxation), magistracy rules and diplomacy.

57. UNPOS also provided support to the Transitional Federal Government with the development of a communications strategy aimed at promoting independent media and rehabilitating public media infrastructures; a gender mainstreaming strategy with the objective of empowering women and ensuring the implementation of Security Council resolution 1325 (2000); an economic, recovery and reconstruction strategy to support the transition of the country from a war to peace economy; a youth employment strategy to implement socio-economic reintegration of youth and former militias; and a Diaspora mobilization strategy to galvanize the Somali Diaspora to support peacebuilding in Somalia.

58. In January and February 2008, UNPOS sponsored confidence-building activities with the Transitional Federal Parliament in the Hiraan and Bay regions, in collaboration with a local non-governmental organization. These activities included the establishment of inter-clan peace networks and the organization of reconciliation initiatives at community level. UNPOS also trained a group of radio and print media journalists on professional standards and media management, as part of the efforts to enhance responsible independent reporting, in Baidoa from 7 and 13 January 2008. The Office facilitated the participation of representatives of women's groups in a constitution-making process seminar organized by a consortium of partners, held in Uganda from 6 to 16 May 2008.

59. During 2008, a key objective of the office has been to secure an inclusive political settlement in Somalia. The consolidation of two main political interlocutors in Somalia, represented respectively by the governing Transitional Federal Institutions and the opposition Alliance for the Re-Liberation of Somalia (ARS), was instrumental in creating the conditions for the focused and productive discussions that led to the Djibouti Agreement of June 2008. In the past, political discussions took place among multiple actors which often resulted in the further fragmentation of parties and unfocused discussions.

60. In January 2008, UNPOS organized a meeting in Sharjah, United Arab Emirates, to discuss a potential role of the business community in promoting peace and reconciliation in Somalia. Participants included economic operators from Somalia, other African countries and the Middle East. In March 2008, UNPOS and the World Bank jointly hosted a business and economic conference in Nairobi, which was attended by the Transitional Federal Government. The meeting focused on the current economic situation in Somalia and its potential for growth. The meeting resulted in a commitment by international economic actors, including multilateral organizations, to continue to support Somalia pending the restoration of minimum stability in the country. In April, UNPOS held a meeting in Nairobi with the ARS leadership to explore options for the restoration of peace and security in Somalia. The meeting resulted in the signature of a memorandum of understanding with ARS to attend political discussions with the Transitional Federal Government in Djibouti in May.

61. Following intense preliminary contacts, UNPOS facilitated proximity talks between the Transitional Federal Government and ARS in Djibouti in May and June 2008. During the first round of talks, held from 10 to 16 May, both parties affirmed their commitment to resolve the Somali crisis peacefully and requested the United Nations to support the implementation of any final agreement between them. At the second round, held from 31 May to 9 June 2008, the parties agreed to a timetable for the cessation of hostilities and the withdrawal of foreign forces. They also agreed to establish a joint security committee to facilitate and monitor the implementation of security arrangements, and a high-level committee to address issues relating to a lasting political settlement, justice and reconciliation. Prior to the second round of talks and in an effort to build confidence, the Transitional Federal Government halted its operations against insurgents in Somalia as a first step towards a ceasefire agreement. During the second round of talks, the parties moved from proximity to face-to-face discussions. While the Djibouti Agreement constitutes an encouraging development, further progress in the peace process requires the strengthening of UNPOS mediation and planning capacities.

Focus in 2009

62. It is anticipated that by January 2009 the progress in the political process will result in a significant improvement in the security situation in Somalia, so that it will be possible to contemplate the relocation of UNPOS and the United Nations country team to Mogadishu. In turn, the relocation will allow UNPOS to reach out to a wider pool of Somali stakeholders and to intensify and increase its mandated activities. During the first six months of 2009, UNPOS will continue to provide support and advice to the Transitional Federal Institutions for the development of a constitution, the holding of a constitutional referendum and the planning for free and fair elections as provided for in the Transitional Federal Charter. It will also pave the way for the reform of the security sector and further engagement of the international community.

63. UNPOS will also continue to support capacity-building activities for the offices of the President, the Prime Minister and the various ministries, as well as provide training to the members of the commissions of the Transitional Federal Charter on the constitution, elections, disarmament, demobilization and reintegration, human rights, reconciliation and the security sector. The training will be conducted by staff from UNPOS, United Nations country team, United Nations Headquarters and external experts, as required. With regard to the elections, UNPOS will provide leadership and coordinate the activities of the Electoral Assistance Division of the Department of Political Affairs and UNDP, especially the drafting of the electoral code, the training of trainers for Electoral Commission officials and observers as well as civil society organizations involved in the electoral process. The Office will also conduct outreach activities to disseminate information to the Somali public on the implementation of these milestone activities.

64. While UNPOS personnel will not be permanently located in Somalia during this time, it is envisaged that they will commute between Nairobi and Somalia to consult with national interlocutors, political and security conditions on the ground permitting.

65. The objective, expected accomplishments and indicators of achievement of UNPOS for 2009 are presented below.

Objective: To enhance peace, security and national reconciliation in Somalia

67. The resource requirements presented in the present document cover the period from 1 January to 30 June 2009. In its resolution 1814 (2008), the Security Council requested the Secretary-General to establish the necessary security arrangements for the relocation of UNPOS from Nairobi to Mogadishu. In this connection, a security assessment mission will be dispatched to Somalia during the fourth quarter of 2008. The outcome of the assessment mission will provide the basis for the development of planning assumptions and resource requirements for the relocation of UNPOS to Somalia. A supplementary budget for the period from 1 July to 31 December 2009 based on the recommendations of the assessment mission will be presented to the General Assembly at a later stage in accordance with established procedures.

68. Resource requirements for UNPOS for the period from 1 January to 30 June 2009 would amount to $5,998,800 net ($6,420,400 gross) relating to requirements for salaries, common staff costs and allowances ($3,140,300) for 77 positions, official travel ($668,300) and other operational requirements, such as facilities and infrastructure ($397,200), ground transportation ($217,000), air transportation ($768,000), communications ($352,400), information technology ($253,200), medical services ($27,900) and other supplies, services and equipment ($169,500).

69. The reduction of $9,266,300 in 2009 requirements compared to the 2008 appropriation is attributable to the 2009 requirements being budgeted for only 6 months compared to a 12-month period in 2008.

70. The estimated savings for 2008 are mainly due to reduced requirements as a result of higher actual vacancy rates than budgeted as well as savings under operational costs due to the inability to relocate to Somalia and restricted air movements because of the security situation in the country.

71. In paragraph 3 of Security Council resolution 1814 (2008), the Council approved the proposal of the Secretary-General to establish a joint planning unit in the office of the Special Representative of the Secretary-General to facilitate effective and efficient implementation of the integrated strategy (S/2008/178). Therefore it is proposed to establish a Joint Planning Unit, which would be comprised of UNPOS representatives and members of the United Nations country team. The Unit would help UNPOS to fulfil its leadership function and provide guidance and direction in the implementation of the mandate contained in resolution 1814 (2008), with a view to maximizing the chances of success of the Djibouti peace agreement.

72. The Unit would comprise a total of four positions: the Head of the Unit (P-5) who would also serve as the Chief of Staff, two Planning Officer positions (P-4 and P-3) and an Administrative Assistant (Field Service).

73. It is also proposed to establish the position of a Logistics Officer (P-4) to plan and implement the relocation of UNPOS from Nairobi to Somalia.

Background, mandate and objective

74. In paragraph 1 of its resolution 1829 (2008) the Security Council requested the Secretary-General to establish the United Nations Integrated Peacebuilding Office in Sierra Leone (UNIPSIL), the follow-on presence to the United Nations Integrated Office in Sierra Leone (UNIOSIL), for a period of 12 months starting on 1 October 2008. The Security Council welcomed the recommendations contained in the sixth report of the Secretary-General on UNIOSIL (S/2008/281) and decided that the mandate of UNIPSIL should focus on support to the Government of Sierra Leone in the following areas:

- (a) Providing political support to national and local efforts for identifying and resolving tensions and threats of potential conflict, whatever the source;
- (b) Monitoring and promoting human rights, democratic institutions and the rule of law, including efforts to counter transnational organized crime and drug trafficking;

(c) Consolidating good governance reforms, with a special focus on anti-corruption instruments such as the Anti-Corruption Commission;

(d) Supporting decentralization, reviewing the 1991 Constitution and the enactment of relevant legislation;

(e) Closely coordinating with and supporting the work of the Peacebuilding Commission, as well as the implementation of the Peacebuilding Cooperation Framework and projects supported through the Peacebuilding Fund.

75. The Security Council also underlined the importance of establishing a fully integrated office with effective coordination of strategy and programmes among the United Nations agencies, funds and programmes in Sierra Leone, and emphasized the need for the United Nations system to support and cooperate fully with UNIPSIL, in accordance with the Executive Representative's function as Resident Representative and Resident Coordinator.

76. UNIPSIL will therefore work closely with the United Nations country team and other international partners and will coordinate the development of coherent policies, integrated resource mobilization activities and the joint implementation of United Nations programmes and initiatives. In particular, it will provide political analysis and advice, technical expertise and policy support, reporting and monitoring on political, human rights and socio-economic development and evaluation of the peacebuilding impact of the United Nations in the country.

77. The head of UNIPSIL will report to both the Department of Political Affairs in his or her capacity as the Executive Representative and to UNDP in his or her capacity as the United Nations Resident Coordinator and UNDP Resident Representative. The Office will be led substantively by the Department of Political Affairs, with the support of UNDP, in close consultation with the United Nations country team, the Peacebuilding Support Office and other relevant stakeholders, while the Department of Field Support will provide administrative support.

78. The United Nations country team comprises nine United Nations agencies, funds and programmes (UNDP, UNFPA, WFP, UNICEF, UNHCR, WHO, FAO, UNAIDS and the United Nations Industrial Development Organization), as well as the World Bank, IMF, the African Development Bank, and the International Organization for Migration in Sierra Leone. The key strategic document for coordination of the activities of the United Nations country team and UNIPSIL in support of Sierra Leone is UNDAF and a joint workplan focusing on key areas emanating from Security Council resolution 1829 (2008). While each United Nations country team member pursues specific programmatic and operational priorities in accordance with individual mandated areas with a longer-term perspective, the collaboration and joint actions with UNIPSIL are largely focused on peace consolidation, security, democratic governance and human rights areas, taking cognizance of the post-conflict peacebuilding dimensions of United Nations support to Sierra Leone.

79. In the context of providing effective and efficient support to the mission, while maximizing synergies, UNIPSIL will enter into cost-sharing arrangements with the United Nations country team in the areas of medical services, safety and security and co-location in four regional offices (Makeni, Bo, Kenema and Koidu). It will outsource the provision of buildings and facilities maintenance to local subcontractors.

80. With the start of UNIPSIL, UNIOSIL ceased its operations and entered into its liquidation phase, which is envisaged to be completed by no later than 31 December 2008. Requirements of some $3,451,000 for the start-up of operations of UNIPSIL for the period from 1 October to 31 December 2008 comprised $1,296,600 to initiate the recruitment and deployment of personnel and $2,154,400 for operational costs to meet initial equipment requirements and recurring expenditures. These start-up costs were fully accommodated by utilizing the estimated unencumbered balance of the appropriation for UNIOSIL for 2008.

81. The objectives, expected accomplishments, and indicators of achievement are presented below.

Objective: To support long-term peace, security and socio-economic development in Sierra Leone

^a Start-up requirements for 2008 for UNIPSIL in the amount of $3,451,000 have been funded by utilizing estimated unencumbered balances from UNIOSIL after taking into account its liquidation requirements for the period from 1 October to 31 December 2008.

83. Resource requirements totalling $15,204,000 net ($16,290,300 gross) would provide for salaries, common staff costs and mission subsistence allowance ($5,739,300) for the establishment of 73 positions, mission subsistence and travel expenses of 7 Government-provided personnel (1 military and 6 police advisers) ($320,100), travel of staff ($298,500), facilities and infrastructure ($1,606,100), the maintenance and operation of 32 vehicles ($233,900) and one helicopter ($4,066,200), the set-up and maintenance of a communications network ($1,804,300) and information technology network ($824,700), medical supplies and services ($210,300), as well as other services, supplies and equipment ($100,000).

84. The UNIPSIL share in common services, which is included in the above estimates, will amount to some $122,100 and comprise the following.

Joint Medical Facility ($10,100)

85. The former UNIOSIL clinic and UNDP clinic have been combined into one United Nations medical facility whereby one United Nations Volunteer doctor, two nurses, two lab technicians, one driver and one Administrative Assistant will be contributed by the United Nations country team (totalling some $126,000) and UNIPSIL will contribute the Chief Medical Officer (P-4) as well as its share in common services ($10,100).

Field offices ($80,600)

86. UNIOSIL's assets (12 containers, 4 generators, 1 VHF repeater and 1 VSAT antenna) have been transferred to UNIPSIL, with annual costs being shared on a per officer ratio as set out in the table below:

Cost distribution per organization and regional office

(United States dollars)

^a Start-up requirements for 2008 for UNIPSIL have been funded by utilizing estimated unencumbered balances from UNIOSIL after taking into account its liquidation requirements for the period from 1 October to 31 December 2008.

88. The total proposed staffing complement for UNIPISL will comprise 73 staff (42 international staff and 31 national staff) and it will be headed by an Executive Representative of the Secretary-General at the Assistant Secretary-General level who will be supported by an integrated strategic planning unit and four thematic substantive sections focusing on the key areas of the mandate, namely peace consolidation, democratic institutions, human rights and rule of law, and police and security, as well as a mission support section.

89. The proposed staffing complement of the office can be detailed as follows:

Substantive positions (43 positions)

(a) Office of the Representative of the Secretary-General (7 positions). The immediate Office of the Representative of the Secretary-General will be responsible for the overall management of the mission, including the coordination of all activities of the United Nations in Sierra Leone and will comprise the Representative of the Secretary-General (ASG), a Senior Planning Officer (Peacebuilding) (P-5), a Special Assistant (P-4), a National Special Adviser (National Officer), a Security Officer (Field Service), an Administrative Assistant (Field Service) and a Driver (Local level);

(b) Political Affairs and Peace Consolidation Section (14 positions). The Political Affairs and Peace Consolidation Section will lead the mission's efforts in promoting dialogue with the political parties and key national stakeholders with a view to ensuring reconciliation and national cohesion and will consist of a Chief Political Affairs Officer (D-1), a Political Affairs Officer (P-4), 11 Civil Affairs Officers (5 P-3 and 6 National Officers) and an Administrative Assistant (Field Service);

(c) Human Rights and Rule of Law Section (7 positions). The Human Rights and Rule of Law Section will lead the mission's efforts in providing support for strengthening the rule of law and promoting and protecting human rights in Sierra Leone. In accordance with the mandate provided by the Security Council, the Section will provide policy support, technical advice and political advocacy for the constitutional review process, the legislative review process, the strengthening of the National Human Rights Commission, the Constitutional Review Commission and the Law Reform Commission. It will consist of a Chief Human Rights Officer (P-5), a Judicial Affairs Officer (P-4), a Human Rights Officer (P-4), a Social Affairs Officer (Youth and Gender) (P-4), two Rule of Law and Judicial Affairs Officers (2 National Officers) and an Administrative Assistant (Local level);

(d) Democratic Institutions Sections (10 positions). The Democratic Institutions Section will lead the mission's efforts in providing support for the consolidation and expansion of multi-party democracy and good governance in Sierra Leone and will lead the process for the conceptualization and formulation of policy and technical advice to the national and local institutions on anti-corruption, decentralization, public sector reform, civil sector reform, and the overall strengthening of national governance institutions. It will comprise a Chief Democratic Institutions Officer (P-5), a Civil Affairs Officer (Decentralization) (P-4), a Programme Officer (Anti-Corruption) (P-4), a Public Information Officer (Media Affairs) (P-4), a Public Information Officer (Radio Management) (P-4), an Electoral Officer (P-3), two Outreach Officers (2 National Officers), a Public Information Assistant (Local level) and an Administrative Assistant (Local level);

(e) Police and Security Section (5 positions). The Police and Security Section will lead the mission's efforts for providing support to the Sierra Leone Police, the Office of National Security and other security sector institutions. The Section will provide policy and technical support for the strengthening of the oversight and accountability mechanisms of the Sierra Leone Police, assist with the development of effective response strategies for counter-narcotics and organized crime, and continued capacity-building for national security actors to enhance their professionalism and effectiveness. It will comprise a Senior Police Adviser (P-5), a Drug Control and Crime Prevention Officer (P-4), two Police Advisers (2 National Officers) and an Administrative Assistant (Local level);

Administrative positions (30 positions)

(f) The Administration to support substantive operations will comprise a Senior Administrative Officer (P-5), Administrative/Human Resources Assistant (Field Service), a Chief Budget and Finance Officer (P-3), a Cashier (Field Service), a Finance Assistant (Local level), a Human Resources Officer (P-3), a General Service Officer (P-3), a General Service Assistant (Field Service), a Facilities Management Assistant (Local level), a Chief Medical Officer (P-4), a Procurement Officer (Field Service), a Transport Officer (Field Service), a Communication and Information Technology Officer (Field Service), a Communication Technician (Field Service), an information technology Technician/Network Administrator (Field Service), a Chief Aviation Officer (P-4), an Air Operation Officer (P-2), an Air Operation Assistant (Field Service), a Flight Follower (Local level), a Ramp Assistant (Local level), two Ground Handling Assistants (Local level), six Drivers/Firefighters (Local level) and two Drivers (Local level).

F. United Nations support to the Cameroon-Nigeria Mixed Commission

Background, mandate and objective

90. The United Nations established the Cameroon-Nigeria Mixed Commission to facilitate the implementation of the 10 October 2002 ruling of the International Court of Justice on the Cameroon-Nigeria boundary dispute. The mandate of the Mixed Commission includes supporting the demarcation of the land boundary and the maritime boundary, facilitating the withdrawal and transfer of authority along the boundary, addressing the situation of affected populations and making recommendations on confidence-building measures.

91. Resolutions and agreements on the four sections of the International Court of Justice ruling have been reached, comprising the withdrawal and transfer of authority in the Lake Chad area (December 2003), along the land boundary (July 2004) and in the Bakassi Peninsula (June 2006). The delineation of the maritime boundary was completed in May 2007 and the boundary line was transposed onto an agreed map in March 2008.

92. The Mixed Commission continues to support the formulation of confidence-building measures aimed at ensuring the security and welfare of the affected population, as well as promoting initiatives to enhance trust between the two Governments and their peoples. Key areas identified for action by Governments and their partners are: food security, education, health, water and basic infrastructure, including the rehabilitation of the Mutengene-Abakaliki road.

93. In promoting regional stability and enhanced cooperation between Cameroon and Nigeria, the Department of Political Affairs provides the Mixed Commission with political and strategic guidance as well as facilitates and oversees the implementation of the Commission's work. Administrative, financial and logistical support is provided by the Department of Field Support.

94. The Mixed Commission secretariat is hosted within the United Nations Office for West Africa (UNOWA) in Dakar. Cost-sharing mechanisms range from administrative and logistics support (travel and office management, including information technology and finance) to substantive issues such as public information and human rights. The UNDP offices in Cameroon and Nigeria provide support, including logistical and administrative, to the Mixed Commission and to the United Nations observers deployed to their respective countries. Regular consultation with other United Nations agencies and international organizations such as the World Bank and the African Development Bank has strengthened complementarities and synergies between stakeholders in support of the demarcation of the land boundary as well as confidence-building measures for the affected populations. United Nations agencies in Cameroon have formulated a joint programme for humanitarian assistance and community-based development in the Lake Chad area. The European Union supports local community development initiatives in Bakassi and other areas. The African Development Bank is working on a multinational highway programme between Cameroon and Nigeria.

Status of achievement of objectives and expected accomplishments for 2008

95. By the end of 2008, two out of four field assessments along the land boundary are expected to have been completed, amounting to an additional 380 kilometres of boundary assessed, bringing the total estimated length of boundary assessed to 1,150 kilometres. Obstacles to field missions in 2007 and 2008 included rainy season, political developments in Nigeria and delays in Nigerian budget allocation, resulting in an expected reduction of assessed boundary length of 350 kilometres in 2008. Three planned missions in 2009 are expected to add another 500 kilometres of assessed boundary, with the remaining 300 kilometres (areas of difficulty) now planned for 2010.

96. With regard to boundary demarcation, the majority of preliminary mapping and preliminary large-scale mapping through satellite imagery have now been completed. The year 2008 also saw the completion of the geodetic network contract (contract III), providing survey control stations from which the final survey of the constructed pillars will be done, following which, the first quality assurance contract is expected to be carried out by the end of 2008. Finally, the procurement procedures for contract II (ground control points) are well under way along with the drafting of agreements with the United Nations Office for Project Services to act as implementing partner for the first of the pillar emplacement contracts.

97. With regard to the maritime boundary, the Mixed Commission facilitated the process of transposing the maritime boundary line agreed upon in May 2007 onto an agreed map in March 2008. Negotiations have continued throughout 2008 concerning cross-border cooperation over oil and gas fields in the vicinity of the maritime boundary.

Focus in 2009

98. In 2009, the Mixed Commission will provide Cameroon and Nigeria with substantive support in technical, political, legal and economic affairs; continue to provide the parties with surveying and cartographic support to facilitate the work of the field assessment in connection with the demarcation of the land boundary between the two countries; and oversee the implementation of projects by external contractors, including the commencement of boundary pillar emplacement financed through voluntary contributions. Following a request from Cameroon and Nigeria, the Mixed Commission also intends to engage in legal and technical capacity-building activities, including negotiation skills, to facilitate the resolution of areas of disagreement that arise from the joint field assessment of the land boundary.

99. In 2009, the Mixed Commission expects to cover the remaining length of the land boundary field assessment and in 2010 to address the areas of disagreement arising from the field assessment. It is anticipated that the pillar emplacement contracts will commence in 2009 and conclude in 2011, with all the land boundary demarcation activities completed by 2012.

100. With regard to the maritime boundary, negotiations are expected to continue throughout 2009 to work on an agreed basis allowing an exchange of information paving the way for cross-border cooperation over oil and gas fields in the vicinity of the maritime boundary.

101. Meanwhile, Mixed Commission civilian observers will monitor the situation in areas of withdrawal and transfer of authority in the Lake Chad area, along the land boundary and in the Bakassi Peninsula. The United Nations will also advise on the implementation of confidence-building measures and projects to promote joint economic ventures, cross-border cooperation and environmental safeguards, all of which are necessary to ensure the sustainability of good relations of neighbourliness between the two countries. Ongoing support to the Lake Chad Basin Commission will be required to that effect, taking into consideration the provisions of Security Council resolution 1325 (2000) on women, peace and security as and when appropriate.

102. With respect to the Bakassi Peninsula, following the transfer of authority on 14 August 2008, a special status is being acknowledged by the Greentree agreement to Nigerian citizens residing in Bakassi for a period of five years. United Nations observers are expected to continue monitoring and reporting on the situation. Moreover, in May 2008, the Vice-President of Nigeria called upon the United Nations to provide coordinated assistance and support to Nigeria's voluntary repatriation programme for the repatriation of its citizens of Bakassi to "New Bakassi". The Chairman of the Mixed Commission will ensure leadership in the coordination of United Nations-supported projects implemented by Cameroon and Nigeria's country teams in each location.

103. The objective, expected accomplishments and indicators of achievement for 2009 are presented below.

Objective: To achieve an orderly and peaceful implementation of the decision of the International Court of Justice of 10 October 2002 regarding the land and maritime boundary between Cameroon and Nigeria

Expected accomplishments	Indicators of achievement
(a) Consolidation and continuation of progress towards demarcation of the land boundary and resolution of the remaining maritime boundary issues	(a) (i) Maintenance of the number of meetings of the Mixed Commission attended by Cameroon and Nigeria to discuss demarcation issues

Performance measures

Actual 2007: 4

Estimate 2008: 4

Target 2009: 4

(ii) Increased percentage of the land boundary for which agreement on pillar site locations has been reached following completion of the joint field assessment with Cameroon and Nigeria

Performance measures

Actual 2007: 36 per cent (696.6 kilometres)

Estimate 2008: 59 per cent (1,150 kilometres)

Target 2009: 85 per cent (1,650 kilometres)

(iii) Increased implementation rate of 10 demarcation contracts related to the land boundary (incremental)

Performance measures

Actual 2007: 15 per cent

Estimate 2008: 35 per cent

Target 2009: 55 per cent

(iv) Maintenance of a special meeting to implement Cameroon-Nigeria cooperation agreements related to their maritime boundary

Performance measures

Actual 2007: 1

Estimate 2008: 1

Target 2009: 1

Outputs

- 4 meetings of the Mixed Commission to discuss issues related to the peaceful implementation of the ruling of the International Court of Justice (to include demarcation issues aimed at: adopting the reports arising from field assessment missions; resolving areas of disagreement arising from the joint field assessment; and adopting the reports on the work done by contractors constructing and surveying the boundary pillars)
- 3 joint field assessment missions of an average of 6 weeks for 2 missions and 9 weeks for 1 mission along the land boundary to agree with the parties on the location of the boundary pillar sites

- 3 reports of the joint technical team arising from the 3 land boundary field assessment missions indicating progress on demarcation for presentation to the parties for adoption
- Legal and technical advisory meetings with the parties to facilitate the resolution of areas of disagreement arising from the joint field assessment
- 4 field missions of an average of four weeks along the land boundary to certify and supervise the work done by contractors on 2 of the 10 demarcation contracts aimed at constructing and surveying the boundary pillars
- 4 reports of the certifying officers on the work done by contractors carrying out the demarcation contracts for presentation to the parties for endorsement
- Advisory meetings with the parties to reach agreement on a memorandum of understanding between Cameroon and Nigeria on cross-border cooperation on oil and gas resources immediately adjacent to the maritime boundary

<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • 8 reports to the parties, following field visits, on possible confidence-building activities across the border to address the well-being of the affected populations and any human rights violation • 4 resource mobilization initiative missions with the World Bank, United Nations system entities, donors, the African Development Bank, Governments and other partners to encourage transboundary cooperation and joint economic programmes • Monthly advisory meeting with the parties on gender mainstreaming in line with the implementation of Security Council resolution 1325 (2000) on women, peace and security • 4 reports on confidence-building measures between the parties • 1 mission to follow up on the conclusions of the 2008 meeting of the Lake Chad Basin Commission held at presidential level to support confidence-building measures between Cameroon and Nigeria

104. The objective is expected to be achieved provided that Cameroon and Nigeria continue to adhere to the decision of the International Court of Justice and to the workplan adopted by the Mixed Commission; that the political, social and economic environments in the two countries remain conducive to the implementation of the Court's judgment; that the weather conditions are favourable; and that donor funding for the demarcation exercise is received.

105. Assuming that the mandate of the Mixed Commission will be extended for another year, the estimated requirements for the period from 1 January to 31 December 2009 would amount to $8,099,800 net ($8,460,400 gross) and comprise requirements for military advisers ($172,200), salaries and common staff costs ($2,197,000) for the staffing complement as reported in the table below and other operational requirements, such as consultants and experts ($1,968,900), official travel ($739,300), facilities and infrastructure ($275,800), ground transportation ($209,200), air transportation ($1,923,900), naval transportation ($55,500), communications ($246,900), information technology ($117,100) and other supplies, services and equipment ($194,000). The decrease in requirements for 2009 is mainly attributable to the lower estimated flight hours required for utilizing the UNOWA fixed-wing aircraft as well as fewer rental hours required for helicopters based on actual flying hours in 2008.

106. Estimated savings for 2008 are mainly due to the cancellation of field assessments owing to the rainy season and the subsequent non-expenditure under operational costs, the cancellation of missions of the Follow-up Committee as well as a higher than anticipated vacancy rate (8 per cent, compared to 0 per cent budgeted).

107. The proposed staffing requirements for 2009 amount to 16 international staff and 6 Local level positions, and include the continuation of three positions under “when-actually-employed” arrangements for the Follow-up Committee, namely two Under-Secretaries-General, comprising the Chairman (without remuneration) and one member for a maximum of 60 days, and one D-2 position to support the Committee for a maximum of 60 days.

108. Of the two P-5 positions funded on a when-actually-employed basis in 2008, one position is proposed to be abolished while the other position is proposed for conversion to a full-time Senior Legal Adviser (P-5).

109. In addition, it is proposed to create one additional position for a Technical Administration Officer (Cartographer) at the P-4 level to be based in the Cartographic Section of the Department of Field Support in New York to provide the Mixed Commission with specialized technical and administrative expertise related to the ongoing demarcation process.

G. International Independent Investigation Commission

Background, mandate and objective

110. In its resolution 1595 (2005), the Security Council established an International Independent Investigation Commission to investigate the assassination of former Lebanese Prime Minister Rafiq Hariri on 14 February 2005. On 15 June 2006, the Security Council adopted resolution 1686 (2006), extending the mandate of the Commission until 15 June 2007, and broadened the mandate by requesting the Commission to provide technical assistance to the Lebanese authorities with regard to their investigations into other attacks perpetrated in Lebanon since 1 October 2004. By its resolution 1748 (2007), the Council extended the mandate of the Commission until 15 June 2008. The Council further extended the mission’s mandate until 31 December 2008 by its resolution 1815 (2008).

111. By its resolution 1757 (2007), the Security Council established a Special Tribunal for Lebanon. It is expected that the Special Tribunal will start functioning before the expiration of the current mandate of the Commission in December 2008. In this context, as had been the intent of the Commission in the organization of its work to date, the Commission expects to hand over its findings to the proposed Tribunal before the expiration of its current mandate.

112. During 2008, the Investigation Division underwent substantial restructuring, to reflect both evolving investigation needs and to prepare for the handover to the office of the Prosecutor of the Special Tribunal for Lebanon. Further, the Commission has expanded its area of operations to The Hague and the Legal Advisory Section has now been successfully established to support the transition to the Special Tribunal. The Commission foresees that for the remainder of its mandate, its primary activities will be to pursue its investigations into the Hariri case as well as 21 other cases and to consolidate case narratives and findings to date and to finalize recommendations. The forensics work is a priority area in the current investigations. All forensic and related evidence will be transferred to The Hague before the end of 2008. The Commission will also continue to elaborate its large and complex data management system, which will be a key component in the successful handover to the Special Tribunal.

113. The Commission expects to continue to enjoy constructive cooperation with several other missions and departments in the United Nations system. As in the past, the United Nations Interim Force in Lebanon will continue to provide logistics and training support. The Economic and Social Commission for Western Asia also continues to provide medical services to the Commission for the duration of its mandate. The Commission also continues to cooperate closely with the Office of the Special Coordinator for Lebanon, the Department of Political Affairs, the Office of Legal Affairs and the Department of Peacekeeping Operations.

114. It is expected that substantive operations will cease at 31 December 2008 and the operation will be phased out during the first four months of 2009. Effective 1 January 2009, the liquidation team will initiate its activities along with a small substantive team which will finalize the disposal and packing of sensitive documents.

115. Resource requirements for the liquidation of the Commission are estimated at $3,056,900 net ($3,262,600 gross) include the costs for: salaries and common staff costs ($1,827,200) for a staffing complement of 73 (44 international staff and 29 national staff) which will gradually be phased out until the end of April 2009 as reflected in the table below; official travel ($22,100); and other operational requirements, such as facilities and infrastructure ($589,300) and ground transportation ($173,600), communications ($137,700), information technology ($79,500) and other supplies, services and requirements ($227,500).

116. Estimated overexpenditures for 2008 are mainly due to the requirement for specialized experts (forensic analysis, ibase analysis, investigation advisory, investigation analysis, DNA specialist and communications analysis) to finalize all evidence and cases in order for its transfer to the Special Tribunal for Lebanon by the end of the mandate on 31 December 2008, the creation of an office for the Commission in The Hague resulting in increased staff costs because of a higher daily subsistence allowance rate paid to staff deployed there, an increase in the daily subsistence allowance rate in Beirut ($207 for the first 60 days compared with $164 budgeted and $156 after 60 days compared with the budgeted rate of $123) and the requirement for additional consultants attributable to the change in the strategic planning and mandate of the Commission to finalize all evidence and cases for transfer to the Special Tribunal for Lebanon by the end of mission's mandate on 31 December 2008 compared with the 2008 estimates, which were prepared on a maintenance basis. In addition to the 17 existing cases for which the original budget was prepared, 4 new cases were added requiring additional specialized services in the areas of forensic assistance, information analysis, exhibits, legal advisory, document management, information analysis, witness protection coordination, crime scene analysis and investigation assistance.

117. The staffing proposals take into account the substantive, administrative, technical and logistical support requirements during liquidation, as well as the projected workload attributable to the recall, inspection and servicing of assets, including vehicles, information technology and communications equipment in preparation for their shipment, write-off and disposal; management of personnel during the drawdown period, including the separation or reassignment of international staff, career management counselling, separation of national staff and national staff capacity-building training programmes; return to the original condition and handover of premises and facilities to owners; and dismantling of military camps.

H. United Nations Regional Centre for Preventive Diplomacy for Central Asia

Background, mandate and objective

118. The Secretary-General proposed the establishment of the United Nations Regional Centre for Preventive Diplomacy for Central Asia in his letter dated 7 May 2007 to the President of the Security Council (S/2007/279), whose response is contained in his letter dated 15 May 2007 to the Secretary-General (S/2007/280).

119. The main function of the Centre is to strengthen the United Nations capacity for conflict prevention in Central Asia. The Centre contributes to addressing the multiple threats that face the region, including international terrorism and extremism, drug trafficking, and organized crime, through implementation of its terms of reference which are described below:

(a) To liaise with the Governments of the region and, with their concurrence, with other parties concerned on issues relevant to preventive diplomacy;

(b) To monitor and analyse the situation on the ground and to provide the Secretary-General of the United Nations with up-to-date information related to conflict prevention efforts;

(c) To maintain contact with the Organization for Security and Cooperation in Europe (OSCE), the Commonwealth of Independent States (CIS), Shanghai Cooperation Organization (SCO) and other regional organizations, encourage their peacemaking efforts and initiatives, and facilitate coordination and information exchange with due regard to their specific mandates;

(d) To provide a political framework and leadership for the preventive activities of the United Nations country teams in the region; also, to support the efforts of the Resident Coordinators and those of the United Nations system, including the Bretton Woods institutions, in promoting an integrated approach to preventive development and humanitarian assistance;

(e) To maintain close contact with the United Nations Assistance Mission in Afghanistan (UNAMA) to ensure a comprehensive and integrated analysis of the situation in the region.

120. The Centre is located in Ashgabat. The Government of Turkmenistan provides the premises rent-free, as well as utilities and maintenance, for the duration of the mandate.

121. The Department of Political Affairs provides political and substantive policy guidance, including on matters relating to interactions with Member States, regional organizations, civil society and other partners, to the Centre for the implementation of the mission's mandate. The Centre's programme of work is consistent with Headquarters guiding principles, and implemented in consultation with the Department of Political Affairs and the Department of Field Support. The Centre cooperates closely with the offices, programmes, funds and agencies of the United Nations system in promoting an integrated approach to the region.

122. UNDP provides administrative and logistical support services to the Centre while OHCHR plays a key role in the provision of expertise, guidance and support to the Centre's human rights component. The Centre liaises with the Office of Disarmament Affairs on specific issues, such as international support for demining efforts as well as with the Office of the Regional Disaster Response Adviser of the Office for the Coordination of Humanitarian Affairs in Almaty, Kazakhstan, and the UNODC office in Tashkent, in order to strengthen cross-border cooperation among the countries in Central Asia in the respective areas of disaster preparedness and addressing threats from drug trafficking and organized crime. The Centre also maintains close contact with UNAMA to ensure a comprehensive and integrated analysis of the situation in the region.

Status of achievement of objectives and expected accomplishments for 2008

123. In 2008 the Centre conducted extensive consultations with the five Governments of Central Asia, regional organizations (CIS, Collective Security Treaty Organization, European Union, Eurasian Economic Community, OSCE, Shanghai Cooperation Organization), the United Nations system and international partners in order to develop a comprehensive map of the most important potential causes of conflict in the region and a plan of action to address them, on the basis of cooperation among the countries of the region. To this end, the Centre convened an international conference in September 2008 at the working level, to be followed by high-level discussions in November 2008 at which the Centre's programme of work is intended to be adopted. Through this process the Centre actively engages with the Governments to identify areas of common concern, foster joint action, and support cooperative approaches to such challenges as water and natural resources management and ensuring food security. In addition, in 2008, the Centre hosted with UNHCR a regional workshop for Central Asian officials on guidelines for asylum-seekers, with a particular focus on the situation in Afghanistan, promoted cross-border measures in the framework of regional cooperation to ease the potential for humanitarian crisis during the winter months and plans to conduct a dialogue-building project in Kyrgyzstan among political parties, non-governmental organizations and parliamentarians.

Focus in 2009

124. In 2009 the Centre will focus on delivering the outputs described below with a particular emphasis on the conduct of two regional forums on the topic of cross-border security issues in Central Asia, including combating terrorism, organized crime and drug trafficking, and the effective management of borders as well as launching a training programme for junior diplomats from Central Asia in the area of preventive diplomacy.

125. The objective, expected accomplishments and indicators of achievement are presented below.

Objective: To sustain peace and stability in Central Asia

Expected accomplishments	Indicators of achievement
Increased regional cooperation among the five Governments of Central Asia (Kazakhstan, Kyrgyzstan, Tajikistan, Turkmenistan and Uzbekistan) to maintain peace and prevent conflict	(i) Number of joint capacity-building initiatives by the Governments of Central Asia on preventive diplomacy

Performance measures

Actual 2007: not applicable

Estimate 2008: 1

Target 2009: 2

(ii) Number of forums promoting an integrated approach to preventive diplomacy and humanitarian assistance

Performance measures

Actual 2007: not applicable

Estimate 2008: 1

Target 2009: 2

Outputs

- Advice to the Governments of Central Asia on managing cross-border threats, challenges to regional cooperation, crisis situations, and emerging trends concerning peace and stability in the region
- Guidance, recommendations and facilitation of relevant technical assistance to the five Governments of Central Asia for designing effective responses to regional challenges
- Two regional forums for the five Governments of Central Asia plus Afghanistan, regional organizations and the United Nations system on thematic issues relevant to peace and security in the region, such as combating terrorism, extremism, drug trafficking and organized crime; and the effective management of borders
- Development and implementation of a workplan with the five Governments of Central Asia and regional organizations addressing the thematic issues of combating terrorism, extremism, drug trafficking and organized crime; and the effective management of borders
- Facilitation through advocacy, outreach, and raising awareness of funding needs for technical assistance to State ministries concerning border management, water resources, and labour migration, along with related training programmes for key personnel
- Quarterly consultations with international and national non-governmental organizations in each of the five countries of Central Asia on thematic issues, such as development of civil society, role of minorities and youth unemployment
- 5 round-table meetings (1 per country) with national institutes of strategic research, think tanks, university researchers, non-governmental organizations, and other specialists on thematic issues such as combating terrorism, extremism, drug trafficking and organized crime; and the effective management of borders
- 1 training programme for junior diplomats from Central Asia on the topic of preventive diplomacy

- Participation in summit meetings of the respective organizations, CIS, SCO, OSCE, the Economic Cooperation Organization, and the Conference on Interaction and Confidence-Building Measures in Asia, with a view to encouraging peacemaking efforts and initiatives, building partnerships and developing joint initiatives
- Consultations at the secretariats of regional organizations in Moscow, Beijing, Vienna, Tehran and Almaty
- Quarterly consultations with the United Nations country team to promote information sharing, developing joint assessments and harmonization of activities
- 1 consultation in Kabul with the Government of Afghanistan and UNAMA to ensure comprehensive and integrated analysis of the region
- Monthly information bulletins and press releases on the activities of the Centre and the United Nations system in the region
- 2 briefing papers for Governments and research institutes in Central Asia on new trends in peacemaking relevant to Central Asia
- Quarterly press conferences with journalists and weekly updates on the Centre's website

External factors

126. The Centre is expected to achieve its objectives and expected accomplishments, provided that there is commitment by Governments and national stakeholders to preventive diplomacy and dialogue.

127. Resource requirements totalling $2,293,600 net ($2,519,600 gross) would provide for salaries, common staff costs and mission subsistence allowance ($1,302,300) for the continuation of 19 positions and the establishment of 6 additional positions, travel of staff ($258,000), facilities and infrastructure ($51,500), maintenance of vehicles ($29,800), communications ($380,600), information technology ($62,900) and other services, supplies and equipment ($39,300).

128. The above amount does not include estimated costs for the rental of office space and utilities at some $120,000 per year, which will be provided to the Centre at no cost by the host country.

129. Reduced requirements for 2009 compared to 2008 mainly reflect reduced operational costs due to vehicle and equipment purchases in 2008, partially offset by the proposed establishment of additional staff positions.

130. Estimated savings for 2008 mainly reflect the delay in the start-up of mission activities and the delayed deployment of staff, partially offset by higher than anticipated communications charges due to higher bandwidth requirements and the resulting higher transponder lease costs as well as additional requirements needed to maintain a minimum level of information technology functions to support the mission which includes standard mission disk-backup systems, more hardware to support the communications and information technology infrastructure using satellite systems, uninterruptible power supply (UPS) systems for unreliable electricity supply and more printers.

131. Based on a review of the staffing structure in 2008, it is proposed to establish six additional positions, comprising a Political Affairs Officer (P-3) to enable the Centre to have adequate support for the considerable portfolio of five countries plus multiple regional organizations which will be divided between the existing and newly proposed position, as well as five Local level positions, comprising two Security Guards for the provision of security at the mission headquarters on a 24 hour/seven-day-a-week basis; one Information Technology Assistant responsible for supporting the local and wide area networks (LAN/WAN), including installation, maintenance and repairs, as well as configuration of servers, computers and other information technology equipment; one Telecommunications Assistant to operate and maintain the mission telephone exchange, including programming, repairs and activation/deactivation of telephone extensions; the satellite communications links with the United Nations Logistics Base at Brindisi, Italy, including programming of the satellite modems, maintenance and repair of the satellite transceivers, and the maintenance of the VSAT terminal; and one Driver, who would provide backup capacity for the existing driver in supporting the head of mission, carrying out a number of daily messenger tasks, delivering correspondence (frequent notes verbales and requests), as well as retrieving and delivering air tickets.

I. United Nations Integrated Office in Burundi

Background, mandate and objective

132. The United Nations Integrated Office in Burundi (BINUB) was established pursuant to Security Council resolution 1719 (2006). In accordance with the proposed structure and mandate recommended by the Secretary-General in the addendum to his seventh report on the United Nations Operation in Burundi (ONUB) (S/2006/429/Add.1), BINUB was established to support the Government of Burundi in its efforts towards consolidating peace and stability in Burundi. The mandate of BINUB was extended by the Security Council in its resolution 1791 (2006) until 31 December 2008. The mandate is expected to be extended into 2009 based on the scope as defined by resolutions 1719 (2006) and 1791 (2007) until at least through the successful conclusion of a comprehensive peace agreement.

133. In close coordination with United Nations agencies, funds and programmes, the Government and other stakeholders, BINUB has focused on supporting efforts for the resumption of the implementation of the Comprehensive Ceasefire Agreement; consolidation of democratic institutions and good governance; completion of the disarmament, demobilization and reintegration process and the reform of the security sector; and protection of human rights and reform of the justice sector. The activities of BINUB are carried out in accordance with its mandate implementation plan. The United Nations integrated peace consolidation support strategy for the period 2007-2008, which was endorsed by the Government of Burundi on 16 March 2007, provides the overall programmatic framework for the implementation of the joint programmes and peacebuilding projects funded by the Peacebuilding Fund and in support of the activities of the United Nations system in Burundi. These projects also contribute to implementing Security Council resolution 1791 (2007). Within this framework, most joint programmes in the areas of peace and governance, security sector reform and small arms and human rights and justice, deliver targeted peace consolidation support to help meet the benchmarks outlined in the addendum to the report of the Secretary-General, dated 14 August 2006 (S/2006/429/Add.1).

134. The United Nations presence in Burundi is headed by an Executive Representative of the Secretary-General, who also serves as the United Nations Resident Coordinator and Humanitarian Coordinator, the UNDP Resident Representative and the Designated Official for Security. The Executive Representative is responsible for integrating United Nations activities and serves as the primary United Nations interlocutor with the Government in all political and development matters. In addition to the office of the Executive Representative, BINUB comprises five substantive sections covering key areas of its mandate, namely: (a) political affairs; (b) peace and governance; (c) security sector reform and small arms; (d) human rights and justice; and (e) public information and communications. The BINUB mission support and security sections provide the overall logistical, administrative and security support required.

135. During the first half of 2008, the overall political and security situation in Burundi deteriorated significantly. Hostilities resumed in April between the national security forces and Palipehutu-Forces nationales de libération (FNL), while renewed friction between and within political parties led to another political crisis, paralysing the work of Parliament and to a large extent the legislative agenda of the broad-based Government appointed in November 2007. Additional causes for concern included: population displacements as a consequence of the hostilities; continued widespread human rights violations perpetrated by the national security forces and alleged FNL combatants; lack of progress on transitional justice; and a difficult socio-economic situation rendered more precarious by high food and fuel prices. The overall security situation started to improve in May with the resumption of the peace process following the return of the Palipehutu-FNL leadership to Burundi.

136. Key remaining challenges include the recurrent internal political crises that have paralysed the work of Parliament, which, if not addressed, could jeopardize the peace process and the holding of the 2010 elections in a free, fair and peaceful atmosphere.

137. BINUB will continue working in close cooperation with MONUC. BINUB utilizes MONUC air assets when required on a reimbursable basis and relies on MONUC's expertise to maintain the data recovery and business continuity facility at the Entebbe Support Base. In turn, BINUB is assisting MONUC with administrative arrangements during troop rotations through Bujumbura International Airport and provides management for the MONUC transit camp in Bujumbura. BINUB is also collaborating with MONUC on the preparation of contingency plans in the event of deterioration in the security situation in Burundi.

138. The Executive Representative of the Secretary-General is concomitantly the Resident Coordinator of operational activities, the Humanitarian Coordinator and the Designated Official. The Deputy Executive Representative of the Secretary-General and the chiefs of BINUB sections are also members of the United Nations integrated management team, which is an expanded version of the United Nations country team. BINUB has three joint thematic programmes in the mandated areas of peace and governance; security sector reform and small arms; and human rights and justice. The mission planning and the United Nations agencies, programmes and funds use the same integrated peace consolidation support strategy (UNDAF), demonstrating programmatic and strategic integration. The integration of BINUB with the various United Nations agencies, programmes and funds present in Burundi has progressed steadily at the political, strategic and operational levels. In particular, the substantive responsibilities of BINUB in the areas of peace and governance, security sector reform and small arms, and human rights and justice are executed jointly with the UNDP and OHCHR. The integration of BINUB with the rest of the United Nations system has also progressed at the operational level. A common services agreement allows other United Nations entities to benefit from a large variety of BINUB services such as ground and air transport, office space, information technology, engineering, supplies and medical services.

Status of achievement of objectives and expected accomplishments for 2008

139. During the 2008 period, the mission: (a) increased its efforts to improve dialogue between the main political parties, which contributed to reaching required compromises for the resumption of normal activities/functioning of national institutions, including the Government and the National Assembly, and continued to support the Government in improving governance and public administration; (b) played a vital support role in facilitating the resumption of the process for full implementation of the Comprehensive Ceasefire Agreement after the outbreak of hostilities between Government forces and Palipehutu-FNL combatants in April 2008, with the return of the Palipehutu-FNL leadership to Bujumbura to resume full negotiations with the Government under the auspices of the South African Facilitation; (c) monitored and helped maintain gender balance within national institutions; (d) initiated and/or supported capacity-building and professionalizing of the media through numerous workshops and training activities; (e) assisted the Government and the national defence and security forces in the conceptualization of, and preparation for, the relevant tools and instruments for security sector reform and rightsizing, as well as coordinated international donor support for security sector reform and disarmament, demobilization and reintegration; and (f) enhanced monitoring of the enforcement of human rights standards and conducted training and sensitization campaigns throughout the country.

Focus in 2009

140. In its continuing pursuit of the objectives outlined in Security Council resolution 1719 (2006), as reiterated in resolution 1791 (2007) and subject to the extension of the existing mandate by the Council, BINUB will continue to play a robust political role in support of the peace process, in coordination with regional and international partners. In addition, BINUB will continue to assist the Government and people of Burundi to accomplish key peace consolidation objectives, including but not limited to: (a) improved democratic and accountable governance; (b) greater professionalism and accountability of the security sector; (c) increased respect for human rights, including the rights of vulnerable groups, women and children; (d) a transparent and equitable judicial system; (e) greater progress towards fighting impunity and towards the implementation of transitional justice mechanisms; and (f) deeper integration and harmonization of United Nations activities, as well as strengthened coordination and partnership between the Government, the United Nations system in Burundi and international partners to advance peacebuilding and socio-economic recovery.

141. The majority of the benchmarks for BINUB set out in the addendum to the report of the Secretary-General (S/2006/429/Add.1) have yet to be reached. The timing and details for any exit strategy will depend on progress made in 2009 in addressing the crucial challenges reflected in the benchmarks, including most notably the implementation of the Comprehensive Ceasefire Agreement between the Government of Burundi and the Palipehutu-FNL, negotiations for which resumed in May 2008. It is too early to provide a time frame for when the conditions would be stable enough for the Mission to leave without jeopardizing the fragile peace gains achieved. As long as the peace process remains reversible, BINUB can provide important added-value support to the national, regional and international actors involved in peace consolidation efforts in Burundi as well as the relevant work of the United Nations country team. From the outset, the integrated peace consolidation planning within the country team has been designed with a view to BINUB handing over to the country team, which will continue to accompany the Burundians as they move from post-conflict reconstruction and peace consolidation to longer-term development. In addition, BINUB activities have from the outset been redesigned to empower the Burundian actors themselves.

142. The objective, expected accomplishments and indicators of achievements are presented below.

Objective: Consolidation of peace and stability in Burundi

Expected accomplishments	Indicators of achievement
(a) Full implementation of the September 2006 Comprehensive Ceasefire Agreement	(a) (i) Facilitator's programme of action fully implemented Performance measures Actual 2007: not applicable Estimate 2008: return of Palipehutu-FNL leadership to Burundi; resumption of Joint Verification and Monitoring Mechanism and joint liaison teams activities; completion of the disarmament, demobilization, and reintegration of Palipehutu-FNL combatants Target 2009: Socio-economic reintegration and political integration of Palipehutu-FNL (ii) Percentage of political issues outlined in the Agreement of Principles of 18 June 2006 resolved, indicating functioning of the Political Directorate Performance measures Actual 2007: not applicable Estimate 2008: 25 per cent Target 2009: 75 per cent

Estimate 2008: 800

Target 2009: 1,500

(iv) Adoption and implementation of the innovative provisions of the revised Criminal Code and Criminal Procedure Code

Performance measures

Actual 2007: Criminal Code and Criminal Procedure Code revised

Estimate 2008: Adoption and promulgation of the revised Criminal Code and Criminal Procedure Code

Target 2009: The innovative procedures and mechanisms of the revised Criminal Code and Criminal Procedure Code implemented

Outputs

- Technical assistance to the Ministry of Justice in the design of a comprehensive needs assessment for justice sector reform covering legislation, procedures and infrastructure as well as the development of a strategic planning based on assessment of needs
- Technical and substantive advice to the Government to align its legislation with international human rights law in the administration of justice and treatment of prisoners, as well as to ensure the harmonization of its legislation on human rights law with all relevant internal legislation
- Technical support to the Government to strengthen capacities, through the training of judicial and penitentiary staff, including the Prosecutor's office, the bailiffs and the clerks, with an emphasis on juvenile justice, court administration, promotion of ethics and special litigation procedures
- Advocacy and technical support to the Government to speed up judicial procedures, to enforce judgements issued by courts and to reduce caseloads pending before the courts

- Technical assistance to the Government in the design of strategies and structures to implement juvenile justice provisions of the revised Criminal Code and Criminal Procedure Code and its affect on courts, prisons, police functions, alternative sentencing mechanisms, rehabilitation centre and community-based social services, including provision for the special needs of girls in the juvenile justice system
- Support to the Government in mobilizing funds for the implementation of reforms and in the rehabilitation of the infrastructure of courts, tribunals and prisons to permit them to function effectively and in compliance with international standards
- Provide support to the Government to monitor pre-trial detention, assess the situation and liaise with the judiciary to reduce prison overcrowding, pre-trial detention and the enhanced use of alternatives to incarceration
- Support the Government to create a paralegal system to ensure better access to justice and to enhance access to legal aid for the most vulnerable groups through a national plan for public legal assistance, including criteria for eligibility and budget with a resource mobilization framework, drafted and adopted by stakeholders, including the Ministry of Justice and the Burundian Bar Association
- Support the Bar Association to improve functions and organizational abilities as well as to develop their contribution to a national strategy on legal aid
- Assistance to the Ministry of Justice and relevant national stakeholders to provide a national strategy and a plan for a more effective, coordinated and integrated approach to victims of sexual abuse

Expected accomplishments	Indicators of achievement
(f) Progress in the fight against impunity and towards national reconciliation	(f) (i) Consultations between the Government of Burundi and the United Nations on the modalities and timeframes for the establishment of the truth and reconciliation commission and the Special Tribunal in accordance with the highest standards of justice and international human rights Performance measures Actual 2007: the Tripartite Joint Steering Committee created on 2 November 2007 with 6 designated members Estimate 2008: Joint Steering Committee functional and drafting of terms of reference of the Tripartite Steering Committee completed Target 2009: a framework agreement between the Government and the United Nations on the modalities for the establishment of a truth and reconciliation commission finalized

- (ii) Broad-based consultations for the setting up of a truth and reconciliation commission including the legal framework

Performance measures

Actual 2007: not applicable

Estimate 2008: modalities and planning for the broad-based consultations defined jointly with the Government

Target 2009: completion of all preparatory work, including the national consultative process for the establishment of the transitional justice mechanisms

Outputs

- Technical assistance and United Nations support to the Government and civil society with the organization and implementation of broad-based consultations and outreach activities on the transitional justice mechanisms, including town hall meetings and focus group discussions
- Technical support towards the completion of national consultation process on the establishment of a truth and reconciliation commission, including a support for resources mobilization planning as well as the mapping exercise to be extended in 2009 in order to take stock of past human rights violations
- Advice to the Government on how to develop a legal framework for the establishment of a truth and reconciliation commission and a special tribunal and its operational structures in conformity with international standards
- Advocacy for the implementation of the establishment of a truth and reconciliation commission and a special tribunal as tools for the fight against impunity
- Support training of national transitional justice stakeholders (judiciary, jury, civil society, the Local Bar Association) on transitional justice-related issues
- Assistance to the Government in developing a functioning national reconciliation documentation centre including database on violations
- Periodic meetings with the Government to advise on the establishment of the special tribunal in Burundi and its materialization

Expected accomplishments	Indicators of achievement
(g) Strengthened coordination and partnership between the Government, the United Nations system in Burundi and international partners for peace consolidation and economic recovery	(g) (i) Enhanced capacity of the Government for partners coordination as well as for monitoring and evaluation of the poverty reduction strategy paper and the Strategic Framework for Peacebuilding

Performance measures

Actual 2007: terms of reference of the Partners Coordination Group and its subsidiary organs developed

Estimate 2008: Partners Coordination Group formally established and convenes 2 meetings of its organs

Target 2009: 4 meetings of the Partners Coordination Group at the strategic and political levels

(ii) Increased use of the Strategic Framework for Peacebuilding to enhance political dialogue between the Government and its partners on peacebuilding challenges

Performance measures

Actual 2007: Peacebuilding Commission adopted Strategic Framework for Peacebuilding in June and Monitoring and Tracking Mechanism in December

Estimate 2008: establishment of the Monitoring and Evaluation Group for the Strategic Framework for Peacebuilding. Completion of the two first progress reports on implementation of the Strategic Framework for Peacebuilding. Two meetings of the Peacebuilding Commission with the Political Forum of the Partners Coordination Group

Target 2009: Two progress reports on implementation of the Strategic Framework for Peacebuilding. Two meetings of the Peacebuilding Commission with the Political Forum. Midterm review of the Strategic Framework for Peacebuilding

- Assistance in the development and the establishment of a national mechanism for coordinating, monitoring and evaluating international assistance and the implementation of the action plan for the poverty reduction strategy paper as well as of the Strategic Framework for Peacebuilding
- Provision of technical and strategic support to the United Nations/Government Joint Steering Committee for Peacebuilding to ensure that the project funded by the Peacebuilding Fund brings about the intended peace dividends

- Facilitation of technical and sectoral consultation and coordination structures between the Government, donors and the United Nations, resulting in at least 12 joint meetings focused on sustainable integration of vulnerable segments of the population (returnees, displaced persons, women, youth, etc.)
- Coordination of implementation of three joint programmes in the areas of peace and governance; human rights and justice; and security sector reform and small arms

External factors

143. It is expected that the objective will be met and the expected accomplishments achieved, provided that: (a) the Government and Palipehutu-FNL remain committed to the peace consolidation process; (b) no renewed fighting occurs; (c) the international community remains engaged with Burundi and provides the necessary political and financial support for capacity-building for reform programmes and for critical peace consolidation initiatives; (d) the security, socio-economic and political situation, including the preparations for 2010 elections, is conducive to the implementation of the BINUB mandate; and (e) the regional political and security situation does not deteriorate.

144. Resource requirements for BINUB for the period from 1 January to 31 December 2009 would amount to $37,898,400 net ($40,720,500 gross) relating to requirements for 7 military advisers ($364,600), 14 police advisers ($638,100), salaries, common staff costs and allowances ($23,642,400) for the staffing complement of 452 positions, consultants ($150,900), official travel ($722,400), and other operational requirements, such as facilities and infrastructure ($5,493,000), ground transportation ($1,287,900), air transportation ($2,819,300), communications ($1,513,400), information technology ($621,200), medical services ($338,100) and other supplies, services and equipment ($307,100). Increases for 2009 relate mainly to additional staff positions as indicated below and to the increase in the price of oil for generators, increased cost of security services and maintenance of office accommodation as well as additional rental and operational costs to cover the utilization of one fixed-wing aircraft made available by MONUC, partially offset by reduced requirements under operational costs due to the conversion of individual contractors to Local level staff positions.

145. Estimated overexpenditures for 2008 are mainly the result of a 30 per cent increase in the national staff salary scale and lower actual anticipated vacancy rates for international and national staff compared to budgeted rates (15 per cent compared to 30 per cent for international staff and 5 per cent for National Officers and 3 per cent for Local level positions compared to budgeted vacancy rates of 10 per cent, respectively).

146. It is proposed to establish the positions of a Humanitarian Affairs Officer (P-4) to support the Executive Representative of the Secretary-General for Burundi in his or her capacity as Humanitarian and Resident Coordinator as the Office of the Office for the Coordination of Humanitarian Affairs in Burundi scaled down its activities and an Interpreter (P-4) to cover the significant increase in the demand for interpretation since the resumption of the peace process in Burundi, which cannot be absorbed by existing staff. Further, a position of a Corrections Officer (P-4) is proposed to cover the mandate area described in paragraph 2 (d) of Security Council resolution 1719 (2006), whereby BINUB is to support the efforts of the Government of Burundi in consolidating the rule of law, in particular by strengthening the justice and corrections system, which was followed by a request from the Ministry of Justice for BINUB support on corrections issues.

147. Finally, it is proposed to convert the functions of a Cameraman Assistant, which have previously been performed by an individual contractor, to the Local level and as a result of a comprehensive review of administrative, clerical and technical functions currently carried out by individual contractors, such as functions of mechanics and drivers, handymen, communications and information technology customer support services, and construction, it was determined that these functions are of a continuing nature and it is therefore also proposed to convert these functions into 18 positions at the Local level.

J. United Nations Mission in Nepal

($6,932,600)

Background, mandate and objective

148. By its resolution 1740 (2007), the Security Council established the United Nations Mission in Nepal (UNMIN) for a period of 12 months, under the leadership of a Special Representative of the Secretary-General. UNMIN was established in response to requests by the Seven-Party Alliance Government and the Communist Party of Nepal (Maoist) for assistance in support of the peace process in Nepal (S/2006/920) and in relation to the subsequent signing of the Comprehensive Peace Agreement on 21 November 2006. Based on the requests of the parties to that Agreement, the mandate of UNMIN has included the following tasks:

- (a) To monitor the management of arms and armed personnel of the Nepal Army and the Maoist army;
- (b) To assist the parties through a Joint Monitoring Coordination Committee in implementing the agreement on monitoring of the management of arms and armed personnel of both the Nepal Army and the Maoist army;
- (c) To assist in the monitoring of ceasefire arrangements;
- (d) To provide technical support to the Election Commission in the planning, preparation and conduct of the election of a Constituent Assembly in a free and fair atmosphere.

149. In addition, an independent team of election monitors appointed by the Secretary-General and reporting to him has reviewed all technical aspects of the electoral process and the conduct of the election.

150. UNMIN assisted in a number of important developments in 2008 in accordance with its mandated tasks. The Mission completed the electoral assistance component of its mandate with the holding of the Constituent Assembly on 10 April 2008. In addition, the Electoral Expert Monitoring Team completed its task. The police advisory team, which was advising on electoral security, has been phased out. At its first meeting, the Constituent Assembly passed a resolution declaring Nepal a federal democratic republic on 28 May 2008.

151. On 22 July 2008, the Secretary-General informed the Security Council of a request by the Government of Nepal (S/2008/476) for a six-month extension of the Mission's mandate, without the electoral assistance component, from 23 July 2008. The Council, by its resolution 1825 (2008), decided to extend the mandate for six months until 23 January 2009 to enable UNMIN to perform the following tasks taking into account the completion of some elements of the mandate established by the Council in its resolution 1740 (2007):

- (a) To continue the monitoring and the management of arms and armed personnel of both the Maoist army and the Nepal Army in line with the 25 June Agreement among the political parties, which will support the peace process;
- (b) To assist the parties in implementing the agreement on monitoring of the management of arms and armed personnel within the framework of a special political mission.

152. UNMIN is coordinating the United Nations system activities that relate to the peace process in the spirit of the integrated approach adopted from the time of the inception of the Mission, such as cooperation with the United Nations country team in the areas of arms monitoring and civil affairs. With the downsizing of UNMIN, most of its components such as mine action, child protection, gender, social inclusion and HIV/AIDS would be transferred to the United Nations country team. UNMIN will continue to support the United Nations Peace Fund for Nepal, established on 13 March 2007 to complement the Nepal Peace Trust Fund, which is managed by UNDP. Both Funds are under the same governance structure.

153. UNMIN will continue to receive substantive guidance and operational support from the Secretariat, primarily the Department of Political Affairs, as well as the Department of Peacekeeping Operations and the Department of Field Support.

154. The UNMIN Arms Monitoring Office has successfully monitored the arms and armies of the two sides (Maoist army and Nepal Army), including around-the-clock surveillance at all weapons storage areas in the seven main Maoist army cantonment sites and at the designated Nepal Army site in Kathmandu. The Joint Monitoring Coordination Committee, chaired by UNMIN, remains a primary vehicle for the resolution of any disputes and general confidence-building. The next challenge will be the release and reintegration of disqualified Maoist personnel (minors and late recruits), on which UNMIN is consulting with the parties and United Nations agencies to identify options in the larger context of the planned integration and rehabilitation of Maoist combatants in the context of the future of the country's security sector as a whole.

155. UNMIN has closed all regional offices. However, a limited number of mobile liaison officers will be retained to liaise with local governments and other stakeholders in the peace process and forge partnerships with the United Nations agencies in view of transitioning functions to the United Nations country team and OHCHR.

156. Despite the landmark achievement of the election of the Constituent Assembly as the centrepiece of Nepal's political transition, the peace process still faces many challenges, including the issue of the two armies. The 25 June agreement has set a new framework and timeframe for the issue to be addressed but has not yet resolved the disagreements over the extent and manner of integration and rehabilitation of Maoist personnel and the action plan for democratization of the Nepal Army. The extension of the Mission's mandate by six months is intended to ensure the necessary support to the peace process, including in the area of arms monitoring. This would entail a gradual drawdown of arms monitoring arrangements through the reconstitution of the special committee. A report will be submitted to the Security Council in October 2008 to assess the progress made in this area.

157. The 2008 appropriation for UNMIN of $55,121,500 was intended to cover requirements to carry out mandated activities to July 2008 and for the liquidation of the Mission from August to December 2008. However, in paragraph 1 of its resolution 1825 (2008), the Security Council extended the mandate of UNMIN to 23 January 2009.

158. In accordance with the provisions of that resolution, UNMIN continued its operation on a smaller scale, consisting of 72 military advisers and staffing requirements as reflected in the table below, utilizing the resources already approved for 2008 to accommodate the operational requirements in line with the extension of the mandate of the Mission to the end of December 2008.

159. It is therefore estimated that the Mission will not require any additional resources for 2008 as the decision of repatriating United Nations Volunteers after the elections earlier than initially planned and the subsequent savings under operational costs resulted in unencumbered balances which could accommodate the above-mentioned continuation of operations on a smaller scale.

160. The estimated requirements for 2009 of $6,932,600 net ($7,384,000 gross) would cover requirements to carry out mandated activities through January 2009 and for the liquidation phase of the Mission from February to May 2009. It comprises requirements for military advisers ($412,700), salaries and common staff costs ($2,832,500) for the staffing requirements as progressively drawn down and reflected below and other operational requirements, such as consultants and experts ($10,400), official travel ($80,100), facilities and infrastructure ($552,500), ground transportation ($136,000), air transportation ($1,811,000), communications ($356,000), information technology ($239,600), medical services ($104,900) and other supplies, services and equipment ($396,900).

161. The proposed staffing level for the liquidation phase takes into consideration the administrative, technical and logistical support requirements during liquidation, as well as the projected workload attributable to the recall, inspection and servicing of assets, including vehicles, information technology and communications equipment in preparation for their shipment, write-off and/or disposal; management of personnel during the drawdown period, including the separation or reassignment of international staff, career management counselling, separation of national staff and national staff capacity-building training programmes; return to the original condition and handover of premises and facilities to owners; and dismantling of military camps.
