Since the delivery of training-of-trainers courses does not fit within the new strategy, the activity has been suspended. Integrated Training Service training support to Member States includes the provision of United Nations peacekeeping predeployment training standards, which are currently undergoing comprehensive revision, and the development of new training aids. Those materials will be made available to all Member States and peacekeeping training institutions. Training guidance on mission-specific issues of an operational nature will also be made available to Member States and peacekeeping training institutions, as required. 8 United Nations civilian predeployment induction training courses for civilian field personnel	29	Civilian predeployment training courses were conducted for a total of 772 new civilian field personnel The increased output was attributable to several factors: the training was made mandatory for all personnel deploying to peacekeeping operations for the first time, which significantly increased the demand for training; a surge in recruitment of personnel for MINURCAT and UNAMID; and the need to reduce time between courses in order to expedite the deployment of new personnel
7 integrated mission training centre activities for all categories of personnel in United Nations field missions and 6 in-mission training evaluations	3	Total number of activities, including: 1 integrated mission training centre workshop and 1 training-of-trainers in training evaluation course were conducted for all field mission training personnel In-mission training evaluation of the civilian predeployment training was conducted in UNMIL The lower output was owing to the realignment of priorities of the Integrated Training Service with the Peacekeeping Training Strategy, as well as the conduct of a comprehensive needs assessment of peacekeeping training needs at Headquarters and in field missions
