II. Outstanding dues to Member States from closed missions

7. As requested by the General Assembly in its resolution 65/293, the Secretary-General made proposals in his report on the updated financial position of closed peacekeeping missions as at 30 June 2011 (A/66/665) to address the issue of outstanding dues to Member States from closed peacekeeping missions with net cash deficits. In the present report, the Secretary-General is offering a new proposal to address this issue, as detailed below.

Table 5
Cash and liabilities in closed peacekeeping missions as at 30 June 2012

(Thousands of United States dollars)

Liabilities in closed missions with deficits	87 209
Total liabilities in all closed missions	270 068

8. As shown in table 5 above, the cash assets in the 19 closed peacekeeping missions with net cash surpluses totalled $211,047,000 as at 30 June 2012, and the cash assets in the five closed missions with net cash deficits totalled $490,000, for a total of $211,537,000 in cash assets. This amount is net of borrowings by active peacekeeping operations, which, as indicated in paragraph 4 above, amounted to $51,000,000 as at 30 June 2012. Upon settlement of borrowings by active peacekeeping operations, total cash assets would amount to $262,537,000.

9. As shown in table 5, as at 30 June 2012, total liabilities in the closed peacekeeping missions with net cash surpluses totalled $182,859,000, and liabilities in the closed missions with net cash deficits totalled $87,209,000, for a total of $270,068,000 in liabilities. The liabilities of $87,209,000 in the closed missions with net cash deficits include $63,080,000 in outstanding claims owed to troop-contributing countries (see annex II), and, as indicated in paragraphs 4 and 6 above, $10,816,000 owed to two closed missions with net cash surpluses and $12,820,000 owed to the Peacekeeping Reserve Fund.

10. The Secretary-General proposes using the total cash assets of $262,537,000 referred to in paragraph 8 above to settle the amounts still due to Member States in closed missions with cash surpluses ($182,859,000), the outstanding claims owed to troop-contributing countries in closed missions with cash deficits ($63,080,000), and the amount owed to the Peacekeeping Reserve Fund ($12,820,000) for a total of liabilities to be settled of $258,759,000. However, should the General Assembly approve this proposal, a mechanism to address the issue of cash requirements of active peacekeeping operations will be necessary, as explained in paragraphs 11 to 13 below.

III. Cash requirements of the Organization

11. As a result of the inherent unpredictability of receipts of assessed contributions, liquidity in peacekeeping missions is volatile, with cash surpluses of closed missions currently being used to alleviate the cash shortages in active peacekeeping operations. In accordance with financing resolutions of the General Assembly, notifications are issued to Member States for their assessed contributions to active peacekeeping missions up to the end of the mandate period for each mission as authorized by the Security Council. Experience has shown that there is a significant time lag, often ranging from about 60 to 120 days, between the issuance of notifications to Member States and the receipt of assessed contributions. Pending the payment of assessed contributions, any cash shortfalls for active missions are met from loans from closed peacekeeping missions.

12. As a result of outstanding assessments in the special accounts of some active missions, there has been a continuing need to borrow from closed missions. Cross-borrowing was required in the 2010/11 financial period for four active operations, namely, MINURSO, UNMIK, the United Nations Peacekeeping Force in Cyprus (UNFICYP) and the United Nations Organization Stabilization Mission in the Democratic Republic of the Congo (MONUSCO), for a total of $88.9 million. Cross-borrowing increased to $118 million in the 2011/12 financial period for seven active operations, namely, MINURSO, the United Nations Integrated Mission in Timor-Leste (UNMIT), UNFICYP, the United Nations Operation in Côte d'Ivoire (UNOCI), the United Nations Support Office for the African Union Mission in Somalia (UNSOA), UNMIK and UNSMIS, and totalled $51.0 million as at 30 June 2012. Additional cross-borrowing of $11 million from the accounts of closed peacekeeping operations has been required so far during the 2012/13 financial period for three active missions, namely, MINURSO, UNMIK and UNSMIS. Furthermore, the amount required for cross-borrowing by active missions peaked during the 2011/12 financial period at $93 million in September 2011 and during the first five months of the current period at $62 million in July 2012. Borrowings, settlements and peak levels of borrowing from July 2008 to November 2012 are reflected in annexes III and IV.

13. The Secretary-General recognizes that the liquidity of active peacekeeping operations is not directly linked to the issue of cash surpluses in closed missions. However, as shown in annex III, active peacekeeping operations have repeatedly faced liquidity problems that necessitated borrowing. It is therefore proposed that the General Assembly authorize temporary borrowing between active peacekeeping missions, which is currently not permitted according to the terms of the Assembly's resolutions on the financing of peacekeeping operations. In those resolutions, the Assembly emphasizes that no peacekeeping mission shall be financed by borrowing funds from other active peacekeeping missions. This new mechanism is not expected to negatively impact the operations of any active peacekeeping mission, as past data on cash requirements of active peacekeeping missions shows that the temporary needs for cross-borrowing of active peacekeeping missions have consistently been relatively minor compared to the total cash position of all active peacekeeping operations at any point in time. The Secretary-General would closely monitor the new mechanism and report on its working, including any adjustments needed, in future reports.

IV. Actions to be taken by the General Assembly

14. The actions to be taken by the General Assembly are:

- (a) To take note of the present report;
- (b) To consider the Secretary-General's proposals for the settlement of the outstanding dues to Member States in closed peacekeeping missions and to address the cash requirements of active peacekeeping operations;
- (c) To allow the retention of the net cash balance of $28.2 million available in 19 closed peacekeeping missions if no new mechanism is approved to address the cash requirements of active peacekeeping operations.
