Sixty-eighth session

Item 105 of the preliminary list*

Comprehensive Nuclear-Test-Ban Treaty

Report of the Secretary-General

1. By paragraph 11 of its resolution 67/76 entitled “Comprehensive Nuclear-Test-Ban Treaty”, the General Assembly requested the Secretary-General, in consultation with the Preparatory Commission for the Comprehensive Nuclear-Test-Ban Treaty Organization, to prepare a report on the efforts of States that had ratified the Treaty towards its universalization and possibilities for providing assistance on ratification procedures to States that so request it, and to submit such a report to the Assembly at its sixty-eighth session.
2. The present report is submitted pursuant to that request. Information on the subject provided by the Preparatory Commission for the Comprehensive Nuclear-Test-Ban Treaty Organization is contained in the annex.

	October 2012	Alongside Mexico and New Zealand, Australia was the lead author of resolution 67/76, entitled "Comprehensive Nuclear-Test-Ban Treaty", adopted by the sixty-seventh session of the General Assembly. The resolution stressed the importance of the Treaty's immediate universalization.
	April-May 2013	At the second session of the Preparatory Committee for the 2015 Review Conference of the Parties to the Treaty on the Non-Proliferation of Nuclear Weapons, held in Geneva from 22 April to 3 May 2013, the Non-Proliferation and Disarmament Initiative submitted a working paper on the Treaty (NPT/CONF.2015/PC.II/WP.1) co-authored by Australia and Mexico. The paper recognized the Treaty's achievements to date and urged the eight annex 2 States yet to ratify the Treaty to do so without further delay. It also reiterated the particular responsibility of States with nuclear weapon capabilities to encourage the ratification of the Treaty.  Australia continued to place a high priority on the establishment of the Treaty verification regime and the development of related expertise in signatory States, contributing resources and expertise to develop the regime. One key focus continued to be leadership on the development of procedures for conducting an on-site inspection under the Treaty.

		regard to which further progress is urgently required. The Treaty is a core element of the international non-proliferation and disarmament regime, raising the threshold for the acquisition of nuclear weapons, preventing a qualitative arms race and reducing the reliance on nuclear weapons in national security strategies. The entry into force of the Treaty would also strengthen confidence in the international security system through the establishment of an effective verification mechanism. In this regard, all Comprehensive Nuclear-Test-Ban Treaty undertakings listed in the 2010 Review Conference action plan should be duly fulfilled. Some positive progress has been made towards the entry into force of the Treaty with the ratification by Indonesia, the first annex 2 State to ratify since the 2010 Review Conference.”
