Special Fund established by the Optional Protocol to the Convention against Torture and Other Cruel, Inhuman or Degrading Treatment or Punishment

Report of the Secretary-General

Summary

The present report provides information on the operations of the Special Fund established by article 26 of the Optional Protocol to the Convention against Torture and Other Cruel, Inhuman or Degrading Treatment or Punishment.

* A/69/150.

I. Introduction

A. Submission of the report

1. The present report was prepared in accordance with General Assembly resolution 68/156, in which the Assembly encouraged contributions to the Special Fund established by the Optional Protocol to the Convention against Torture and Other Cruel, Inhuman or Degrading Treatment or Punishment, and requested the Secretary-General to submit to the Assembly at its sixty-ninth session a report on the operations of the Special Fund.

B. Mandate of the Special Fund

2. The Special Fund was established pursuant to article 26 of the Optional Protocol to help finance the implementation of the recommendations made by the Subcommittee on Prevention of Torture and Other Cruel, Inhuman or Degrading Treatment or Punishment following a visit to a State party to the Optional Protocol, and to finance the education programmes of national preventive mechanisms.

3. The Special Fund receives voluntary contributions from Governments, intergovernmental and non-governmental organizations and other private or public entities. An overview of contributions to the Special Fund to date is provided in section III of the present report.

C. Management of the Special Fund

4. The Special Fund is administered by the Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights (OHCHR), in accordance with the Financial Regulations and Rules of the United Nations. As an interim scheme in place until the financial basis of the Fund is consolidated, the OHCHR Grants Committee, an advisory body to the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights, advises the High Commissioner on the eligibility of projects and awards grants based on the evaluation criteria set out in the guidelines for applications.

D. Eligibility criteria

5. Grant applications can be submitted for eligible projects aimed at implementing recommendations made by the Subcommittee on Prevention of Torture following a regular visit to a State party to the Optional Protocol, provided the recommendations are contained in a report made public upon request by the State party. At the time of reporting, 10 countries (Argentina, Benin, Brazil, Honduras, Kyrgyzstan, Maldives, Mali, Mexico, Paraguay and Sweden) fulfilled the primary admissibility criteria to seek funding from the Fund.

6. Grant applications may also be submitted for projects aimed at implementing recommendations made by the Subcommittee on Prevention of Torture following an advisory visit to a national preventive mechanism of a State party to the Optional Protocol, provided the recommendations are made public by the relevant national preventive mechanism and/or State party. At the time of reporting, four national preventive mechanisms had agreed that recommendations addressed to them be published (Germany, Honduras, Republic of Moldova and Senegal), and hence fulfilled the primary admissibility criteria to seek funding from the Fund. In addition, two State parties (Germany and Republic of Moldova) agreed that recommendations addressed to them following such a visit be published, and therefore fulfilled the primary admissibility criteria to seek funding from the Fund.

7. Applications may also be submitted by national human rights institutions that are compliant with the Paris Principles and by non-governmental organizations if the proposed projects are implemented in cooperation with the entity responsible for implementing the recommendations made by the Subcommittee on Prevention of Torture, be it the State party or a national preventive mechanism.

8. Each year, specific thematic priorities are identified in the context of the yearly call for applications, in consultation with the Subcommittee on Prevention of Torture. In addition, projects proposed that aim to address other specific recommendations contained in the visit reports and describing a pressing and compelling need can be considered.

9. The Fund aims to support projects that are sustainable, have a multiplier effect, have a potential for replication or that lay foundations for change. In addition to assistance for the establishment and consolidation of national preventive mechanisms, financial support may be provided for trainings on torture prevention for the judiciary and for personnel of detention centres and other relevant institutions. The Fund also provides assistance for the design of training materials and tools, such as registers, manuals and handbooks, for use by custodial institutions and the judiciary.

II. Activities of the Special Fund

A. Previous calls for applications

10. The Special Fund became operational in July 2011, and the first call for applications was launched on 1 November 2011 for projects to be awarded and implemented in 2012. During the call for applications for 2012, for which applicants could request grants of up to $20,000, 69 applications were received, of which 25 were deemed admissible. Grants totalling $166,877 were awarded to nine projects in five countries (Benin, Honduras, Maldives, Mexico and Paraguay). Details on the grants awarded for 2012 are contained in the annex.

11. The second call for applications to the Special Fund was launched on 15 August 2012. Applicants could request grants of up to $50,000 for project activities to be implemented in 2013. Thirty-four applications were received, of which four did not meet the primary eligibility criteria. Eight grants totalling $298,979.10 were awarded to projects in Benin, Brazil, Honduras, Maldives, Mexico and Paraguay. Details on the grants awarded for 2013 are contained in the annex.

B. Call for applications for 2014

12. The third call for applications to the Special Fund for grants to be awarded for 2014 was launched on 28 August 2013. Applicants could request up to $35,000 for project activities to be implemented in 2014. Twenty-four applications were received, of which six did not meet the primary eligibility criteria. As at 18 July 2014, seven grants totalling $198,509 had been awarded to projects aimed at implementing recommendations in five eligible countries (Benin, Brazil, Honduras, Maldives, Mexico and Paraguay). Details on the grants awarded for 2014 are contained in the annex.

C. Call for applications for 2015

13. The call for applications to the Special Fund for grants to be awarded for 2015 was launched in August 2014.

III. Financial situation of the Special Fund

14. The Fund received $403,362.60 in contributions in 2012 and $144,777 in 2013. In 2014, as at 15 July, the Fund had received $228,878.25 in contributions.

15. The table below shows the contributions received since the issuance of the Fund's previous report in 2013.

IV. Making a contribution

16. Since its creation, and despite its relatively limited donor base, the Fund has supported 22 projects in six countries across three regions. Working closely with the Subcommittee on the Prevention of Torture, the Fund has supported the training of more than 1,000 persons in torture prevention techniques and methodology.

17. As the first and only functional fund established by an international human rights treaty, and a model for engagement between the United Nations, State parties, national preventive mechanisms and civil society in the prevention of torture, the Fund's activities should be commensurate with the growth of the activities of the Subcommittee on the Prevention of Torture. The activities have resulted in an expanding number of eligible countries. The Fund's increasing visibility is also expected to lead to a rise in the number of applications.

18. The minimum required on an annual basis to guarantee a functioning Fund able to support an average of 20 projects per year, with a reasonable level of funding per project (e.g., $35,000), would be around $1.4 million. More contributions are therefore required to sustain and consolidate the Fund, which engages States and provides them with technical assistance in implementing activities aimed at preventing torture.

19. Contributions to the Special Fund may be accepted from Governments, intergovernmental or non-governmental organizations, private sector organizations and the general public, in accordance with the Financial Regulations and Rules of the United Nations. Only unearmarked funds are accepted.

20. Contributions to the Special Fund should be marked "Payee: Special Fund established by the Optional Protocol to the Convention against Torture, account CH". Payments may be made in the following ways:

(a) Bank transfer in United States dollars to the United Nations Geneva General Fund, account No. 485001802, J.P. Morgan Chase Bank, 270 Park Avenue, 43rd floor, New York, NY 10017, United States of America (Swift code: CHAS US 33; bank number: (ABA) 021000021);

(f) Cheque payable to the United Nations, addressed to Trésorerie, Nations Unies, Palais des Nations, CH-1211 Geneva 10, Switzerland.

21. Donors are requested to inform the Donor and External Relations Section of OHCHR when a payment has been made (including a copy of the bank transfer order or the cheque) to facilitate effective follow-up in the official recording procedure and for the preparation of reports of the Secretary-General.

V. Conclusions and recommendations

22. The Special Fund established by the Optional Protocol to the Convention against Torture and Other Cruel, Inhuman or Degrading Treatment or Punishment is the only functional fund established by an international human rights treaty. It is increasingly affirming itself as a model for engagement between the United Nations, State parties, national preventive mechanisms and civil society in the prevention of torture.

23. The minimum required on an annual basis to guarantee a functioning Fund able to support an average of 20 projects per year, with a reasonable level of funding per project (e.g., $35,000), would be around $1.4 million.

24. More contributions are therefore required to sustain and consolidate the Fund as a viable tool able to play an integral role in the torture prevention system of the United Nations.

25. Governments, intergovernmental and non-governmental organizations and other private or public entities are strongly encouraged to contribute to the Special Fund, in order to provide it with the resources required to carry out its mandate.
