Overall orientation

- 11.1 The General Assembly, in its resolution 57/7, endorsed the New Partnership for Africa's Development (NEPAD) as the framework within which the international community should concentrate its efforts for Africa's development and called upon the United Nations system to enhance its advocacy role and public information activities in support of Africa's development. In the same resolution, the Assembly underscored the need for a structure in the Secretariat in New York to review and report on the support provided by the United Nations system and the international community for NEPAD and on the coordinated implementation of outcomes of summits and conferences as they relate to Africa. Subsequently, in its resolution 57/300, the Assembly endorsed the creation of the Office of the Special Adviser on Africa and entrusted to it the role of coordinating reports and advocacy in support of NEPAD.
- 11.2 The Assembly welcomed actions taken at the regional level by the Economic Commission for Africa (ECA) regarding the priority areas of NEPAD. The Regional Coordination Mechanism of United Nations system organizations working in Africa has become the core mechanism for enhancing United Nations system-wide coherence, coordination and cooperation at the regional and subregional levels in support of the African Union and its NEPAD programme.
- 11.3 NEPAD has been the overarching framework for the implementation of the Millennium Development Goals in Africa. Despite progress made by African countries, levels of poverty, food insecurity and maternal and infant mortality remain high. Moreover, prospects for sustainable development are threatened by challenges to peace, security, governance, the rule of law and the environment. In the political declaration on Africa's development needs, adopted in 2008 (see General Assembly resolution 63/1), Member States noted that the full and timely achievement of the Millennium Development Goals in Africa remained elusive and reaffirmed their commitment to address Africa's special needs.

- 11.4 NEPAD remains critical to the three dimensions of sustainable development in Africa (economic, social and environmental), as highlighted in the outcome document of the United Nations Conference on Sustainable Development (General Assembly resolution 66/288, annex). Efforts to devise a post-2015 development agenda and sustainable development goals reflecting Africa's needs and priorities are currently under way, including through intergovernmental processes such as the sustainable development goals and their targets and indicators; the Third International Conference on Financing for Development; and the data revolution and future mandates arising from the post-2015 development agenda and the ongoing negotiations on technology transfer, as well as other aspects covered in the synthesis report of the Secretary-General on the post-2015 sustainable development agenda, entitled "The road to dignity by 2030: ending poverty, transforming all lives and protecting the planet" (A/69/700).
- 11.5 While the African Peace and Security Architecture of the African Union has contributed to peace and security on the continent, several African countries continue to experience factors of instability that undermine durable peace and sustainable development. The need for a comprehensive response to promoting peace, security and development was recognized in the report of the Secretary-General on the causes of conflict and the promotion of durable peace and sustainable development in Africa (A/52/871-S/1998/318). The General Assembly, in its resolution 67/293, requested the Secretary-General to continue to monitor and report to the Assembly on an annual basis on persistent and emerging challenges to durable peace and sustainable development in Africa and on the approach taken and the support provided by the United Nations system.
- 11.6 The United Nations is working to further support Africa in overcoming barriers to peace through the implementation of General Assembly resolution 67/302, in which the Assembly acknowledged the efforts to enhance coordination and cooperation between the African Union Peace and Security Council and the United Nations Security Council in the areas of peace and security, including the joint annual consultative meetings between members of the two Councils. The Assembly requested the Secretary-General to strengthen the role of the Interdepartmental/Inter-agency Task Force on Africa of the Office of the Special Adviser on Africa to bring greater coherence and coordination in the United Nations support to Africa for the Ten-Year Capacity-Building Programme for the African Union and its successor programme, the implementation of the post-2015 development agenda and the sustainable development goals, and other processes.
- 11.7 Increasingly, the international community has recognized the inextricable link between peace, security and development and the need to establish lasting conditions for peace as a basis for sustainable development. The Secretary-General, during visits to the Great Lakes Region and the Sahel with international and continental partners, has committed to provide practical support for peace, security and development in Africa. The Office of the Special Adviser on Africa will further reinforce the peace-security-development nexus in its advocacy and policy work.
- 11.8 The strategic plans of the African Union Commission and NEPAD for the period 2014-2017 coincide with ongoing negotiations to craft a successor programme to the Ten-Year Capacity-Building Programme for the African Union by 2016 and the adoption, in January 2015, of the African Union's Agenda 2063, reflecting the African agenda for the 50 years leading to 2063, including the decision to designate NEPAD as the implementing agency and to increase the coherence of the actions and initiatives of the African Union and its organs and of key stakeholders and partners. It is expected that the strategic plans of the African Union Commission and NEPAD will be adjusted to take account of the new strategic directions charted by Agenda 2063. Revisions to the biennial programme plan resulting from this process should be presented to Member States to ensure that the United Nations remains supportive of the work of NEPAD.

- 11.9 On the basis of General Assembly resolutions 67/293 and 67/294 and the report of the Secretary-General on strengthening the Office of the Special Adviser on Africa (A/68/506), the Assembly has decided to strengthen the Office to enable it to address emerging challenges and opportunities at the global and regional levels and to better support Africa, particularly NEPAD. The report contains recommendations for specific measures to strengthen the Office so that it can implement its existing and expanded mandate more effectively.
- 11.10 The General Assembly has also strengthened the Office of the Special Adviser on Africa to enable it to implement the mandate on the United Nations monitoring mechanism. The mechanism was established by Assembly resolution 66/293, following the report of the Secretary-General on a monitoring mechanism to review commitments towards Africa's development needs (A/65/165), submitted in compliance with paragraph 39 of the political declaration on Africa's development needs.
- 11.11 The Office the Special Adviser on Africa provides overall coordination and leadership for the programme, the joint responsibility for which it shares with ECA and the Department of Public Information of the Secretariat.

Overview of resources

- 11.12 The overall resources proposed for the biennium 2016-2017 for this section amount to $16,837,500 before recosting, reflecting a net decrease of $172,900 (or 1 per cent) compared with the appropriation for 2014-2015. Resource changes result from two factors: (a) technical adjustments relating to the removal of non-recurrent requirements; and (b) resource changes in line with General Assembly resolution 69/264 (further reductions). The proposed reductions will not have an impact on full and effective mandate implementation.
- 11.13 The distribution of resources is reflected in tables 11.3 to 11.5.

Technical adjustments

- 11.14 Resource changes reflect the removal of non-recurrent requirements totalling $18,300 relating to the one-time provision for standard common service costs associated with nine posts approved for the biennium 2014-2015.

Resource changes in line with General Assembly resolution 69/264 (further reductions)

- 11.15 Resource changes of $154,600 are proposed in line with General Assembly resolution 69/264 under non-post resources and relate mainly to travel of staff, consultants, experts, contractual services, general operating expenses, and furniture and equipment and take into account the anticipated impact of the approved standards of accommodation for air travel ($56,800) and further efficiencies ($61,700) that are anticipated during the biennium 2016-2017.

Extrabudgetary resources

- 11.16 The total projected extrabudgetary resources, amounting to $500,000, would complement resources from the regular budget under subprogramme 1 to support the involvement of a broader range of civil society and private sector actors in the activities relating to NEPAD, including expert group meetings and panel discussions. An increase of $123,000 for 2016-2017 under subprogramme 1 reflects resource mobilization efforts strengthened through advocacy activities and the development of project proposals to be shared with potential contributors and other development partners. Under subprogramme 2, a decline in extrabudgetary resources was experienced during the biennium 2014-2015 in support of such activities, and that trend is expected to continue in the foreseeable future. No extrabudgetary resources, therefore, are envisaged for the biennium 2016-2017.

Other information

- 11.17 Pursuant to General Assembly resolution 58/269, resources identified for the conduct of monitoring and evaluation would amount to $217,700, representing eight work-months of Professional staff and four work-months of General Service (Other level) staff, as well as a consultant, for the biennium 2016-2017, funded from regular budget resources; and consultants and travel funded from extrabudgetary resources.
- 11.18 The issuance of publications as part of the programme of work has been reviewed in the context of each subprogramme. It is anticipated that recurrent and non-recurrent publications will be issued as summarized in table 11.6 and as distributed in the output information for each subprogramme.

11.20 Substantive responsibility for this subprogramme is vested within the Office of the Special Adviser on Africa, which will be proactive in working closely with Member States, the African Union, the NEPAD Planning and Coordinating Agency and the entire United Nations system (including the Bretton Woods institutions) in the performance of its function. The subprogramme will be implemented in accordance with the strategy detailed under subprogramme 1 of programme 9 of the biennial programme plan for the period 2016-2017.

11.23 The distribution of resources for subprogramme 1 is reflected in table 11.9.

Table 11.9 Resource requirements: subprogramme 1

11.24 The amount of $12,556,600, reflecting a decrease of $136,800, would provide for the continuation of 32 posts (1 USG, 1 D-2, 2 D-1, 4 P-5, 7 P-4, 10 P-3, 1 P-2, 1 General Service (Principal level) and 5 General Service (Other level)) as well as non-post resources for other staff costs, consultants, experts, travel of staff, contractual services, general operating expenses, hospitality, supplies and materials, and furniture and equipment. The decrease of $136,800 under non-post requirements is due to: (a) a reduction in line with General Assembly resolution 69/264, as reflected in paragraph 11.15 above ($118,500); and (b) the removal of non-recurrent requirements for standard common service costs associated with nine posts approved for the biennium 2014-2015 ($18,300).

11.25 During the biennium 2016-2017, the projected extrabudgetary resources, amounting to $500,000, will complement resources from the regular budget to finance activities such as the preparation of policy papers on emerging issues in Africa, travel of representatives to attend conferences and meetings, and conference costs. Extrabudgetary resources play an important role in supporting the involvement of a broader range of civil society, private sector actors in mandated activities, including expert group meetings and panels, as well as increasing the profile of NEPAD among all stakeholders.
