Septuagésimo período de sesiones

Tema 117 del programa

La Estrategia Global de las Naciones Unidas contra el Terrorismo

Actividades del sistema de las Naciones Unidas para la aplicación de la Estrategia Global de las Naciones Unidas contra el Terrorismo

Informe del Secretario General

I. Introducción

1. En 2006 la Asamblea General aprobó por consenso la Estrategia Global de las Naciones Unidas contra el Terrorismo (resolución 60/228) y desde entonces la ha revisado cada dos años. Las cuatro resoluciones de examen resultantes complementan el contenido de la Estrategia y brindan orientación para aplicarla. Por otro lado, la Asamblea, en su resolución 68/276, pidió al Secretario General que presentara un informe a más tardar en abril de 2016. El presente informe y sus recomendaciones tienen por objeto seguir fomentando el debate sobre los temas planteados hace 10 años en la Estrategia al reiterar la importancia crítica que reviste la cooperación internacional amplia y específica para prevenir con éxito el extremismo violento y luchar contra el terrorismo y el papel que las Naciones Unidas deberían desempeñar para reforzar esa cooperación.

2. La Asamblea General ha dejado claro que la responsabilidad principal de aplicar la Estrategia recae en los Estados Miembros. Además, ha reconocido la importante función que desempeña el sistema de las Naciones Unidas a la hora de promover la coordinación y la coherencia al aplicar la Estrategia a nivel nacional, regional y mundial y de prestar asistencia a los Estados Miembros que la soliciten. La Secretaría, los organismos, fondos y programas y las organizaciones afiliadas contribuyen a la aplicación de la Estrategia ejecutando sus respectivos mandatos y participando en el Equipo Especial sobre la Ejecución de la Lucha contra el Terrorismo. En la actualidad el Equipo Especial cuenta con 38 miembros y la encargada de promover la coordinación y la coherencia entre ellos es la Oficina del Equipo Especial sobre la Ejecución de la Lucha contra el Terrorismo, ubicada en el Departamento de Asuntos Políticos, bajo la presidencia del Secretario General Adjunto de Asuntos Políticos.

3. En el presente informe se describen los importantes cambios que han tenido lugar en el panorama mundial del terrorismo en los últimos 10 años, los desafíos y oportunidades que siguen existiendo y la importancia que reviste la cooperación internacional para hacer realidad los objetivos de la Estrategia y, por último, se formulan recomendaciones sobre el camino a seguir. El informe incluye, además, dos anexos con información suplementaria, a saber: en primer lugar, un listado de instrumentos jurídicos internacionales y resoluciones pertinentes de la Asamblea General y el Consejo de Seguridad relacionados con el terrorismo y, en segundo lugar, un resumen de las actividades básicas realizadas por las entidades de las Naciones Unidas para aplicar la Estrategia y una matriz de los proyectos de lucha contra el terrorismo ejecutados por las entidades de las Naciones Unidas en todo el mundo.

II. Tendencias surgidas desde la aprobación de la Estrategia Global de las Naciones Unidas contra el Terrorismo

4. Desde que se aprobó en 2006 la Estrategia Global de las Naciones Unidas contra el Terrorismo se ha avanzado bastante en su aplicación, pero también se ha hecho frente a problemas imprevistos, sobre todo por la aparición de nuevos tipos de amenazas a la paz y la seguridad internacionales relacionadas con el terrorismo. El problema más grave es la propagación de ideologías extremistas violentas y la aparición de grupos terroristas impulsados por ellas. El extremismo violento es un fenómeno diverso sin una definición convenida internacionalmente. No obstante, en los últimos años grupos terroristas como el Estado Islámico en el Iraq y el Levante (EIIL), Al-Qaida y Boko Haram han configurado nuestra imagen del terrorismo y el extremismo violento y el debate sobre la manera de hacer frente a esta amenaza. Estos grupos traspasan las fronteras nacionales, lo que subraya la necesidad de que la comunidad internacional incremente su cooperación para prevenir su formación y para combatirlos.

5. Algunos de los fenómenos que han contribuido al resentimiento y al truncamiento de las aspiraciones son la incapacidad de la comunidad internacional de resolver conflictos prolongados y evitar otros nuevos; las intervenciones militares; el incumplimiento del derecho internacional, incluidos el derecho de los derechos humanos y el derecho internacional humanitario; la aplicación insuficiente de las resoluciones del Consejo de Seguridad y la Asamblea General; el aumento de los prejuicios contra determinadas religiones, grupos étnicos y culturas; la persistencia de los problemas de gobernanza; la lentitud del desarrollo socioeconómico y el arraigo de la marginación y la exclusión en algunas sociedades; y el incremento de la desigualdad entre los Estados y dentro de ellos. Estos fenómenos ponen de relieve las dificultades con que se encuentra la comunidad internacional al hacer frente a las condiciones que favorecen la propagación del terrorismo y el extremismo violento.

6. En los últimos años los grupos terroristas y extremistas violentos han infligido daños inmensos. Las estadísticas son escalofriantes: en el último decenio han muerto o resultado heridos miles de civiles en incidentes relacionados con el terrorismo y millones de hombres, mujeres y niños se han visto desplazados u obligados a abandonar sus hogares. Las mujeres y los niños son los que más sufren, ya que muchos de ellos han sido víctimas de abusos sexuales o esclavizados.

7. La mayor parte del sufrimiento es resultado directo de los conflictos y las guerras, que han aumentado en número e intensidad desde 2008 y que, en muchos casos, se caracterizan por la participación de agentes terroristas. Las Naciones Unidas también se han visto afectadas, ya que las misiones sobre el terreno y los equipos en los países de África, Asia y Oriente Medio han sido blanco de ataques. En consecuencia, el terrorismo ha estado cada vez más presente en el programa del Consejo de Seguridad.

8. Según el muy frecuentado sitio web de la Base de Datos Mundial sobre el Terrorismo, en 2006 se produjeron 2.729 incidentes terroristas en todo el mundo, muchos de ellos en el Afganistán, el Iraq y otros lugares de conflicto. El número de ataques ascendió a 3.236 el año siguiente y a 4.779 en 2008. En 2009 se redujo ligeramente, a 4.713, y en 2010 se incrementó a 4.782. Desde entonces la cifra se ha disparado: en 2014 hubo 16.818 ataques, con lo cual casi se cuadruplicó el número de 2010. El aumento del número de incidentes, especialmente desde 2012, es atribuible al impulso ganado por el EIIL y Al-Qaida a partir de las guerras del Iraq, la República Árabe Siria y el Yemen, donde controlan una parte considerable del territorio.

9. En 2006 los grupos terroristas disfrutaban de una cierta libertad de circulación desde sus bases por lugares sin gobierno. Al-Qaida, en un intento de ir a la vanguardia, preparó las condiciones para la toma de control del Estado en algunos países de mayoría musulmana. Su éxito fue limitado, pero causó muchas muertes, prácticamente todas ellas de musulmanes. No obstante, preparó el terreno para que surgiera una forma de terrorismo más despiadada y determinada. Al-Qaida en el Iraq se convirtió en el Estado Islámico del Iraq en 2006 y en el EIIL en 2013 para finalmente pasar a denominarse a sí mismo Estado Islámico a secas y proclamar el restablecimiento del califato en 2014.

10. El EIIL y Al-Qaida siguen siendo indistinguibles en cuanto a su proyecto y sus objetivos últimos, pero difieren en las tácticas que utilizan. Desde sus comienzos, la de Al-Qaida ha sido trabajar pacientemente, mientras que el EIIL considera que debe forzar la marcha. El EIIL se apropió de territorios e hizo de la consolidación de su control y de la ampliación de su alcance los pilares de su política. Sigue controlando una superficie considerable del Iraq y la República Árabe Siria y ha ampliado su alcance mediante afiliados en Libia, el Yemen y África Occidental, reivindicando al mismo tiempo “provincias” en otros países. Uno de los afiliados del EIIL, Boko Haram, ha sido particularmente notorio y letal. El EIIL también ha inspirado, alentado o dirigido ataques en países lejanos como Australia, Bangladesh, Bélgica, el Canadá, los Estados Unidos de América, Francia, Indonesia, el Pakistán, Somalia y Turquía. Además, ha atraído reclutas de más de 80 países, lo que supone una amenaza para la seguridad cuando los combatientes regresan a sus países de origen. Al-Qaida y sus afiliados se han visto obligados a competir, así que se han hecho con el control de territorios, sobre todo de la República Árabe Siria, Somalia y el Yemen, y siguen organizando ataques en Europa, el Norte de África, África Occidental y Oriental y Asia.

11. En líneas generales, a los grupos terroristas transnacionales les ha sido más fácil sobrevivir que a los que tienen un programa más nacionalista, un indicio de que la cooperación internacional ha sido menos eficaz que la acción nacional. Las dos excepciones son los talibanes en el Afganistán y Al-Shabaab en Somalia, que se mantienen fuertes porque los Gobiernos de esos países siguen careciendo de la capacidad, los recursos y el apoyo necesarios para derrotarlos.

12. Las tácticas terroristas también han evolucionado. Los atentados suicidas con explosivos son cada vez más frecuentes, al igual que los ataques complejos con un gran número de víctimas orquestados en uno o varios lugares por un grupo de atacantes que trabajan juntos y prevén morir. Se ha registrado una tendencia cada vez mayor a organizar ataques que cuestan poco y requieren una capacitación y planificación mínimas, pero que, a pesar de ello, tienen una repercusión considerable. Ahora es más probable que los terroristas actúen solos o en grupos pequeños, inspirados por notorias organizaciones terroristas en vez de estar dirigidos por ellas, y que ataquen en un momento y lugar elegidos por ellos, por lo que detectarlos es prácticamente imposible.

13. Otra tendencia preocupante ha sido la creciente tolerancia del terrorismo por parte de los Estados, especialmente cuando los terroristas atacan a los rivales. Al adoptar esta actitud se subestiman los efectos del terrorismo en la paz y la seguridad nacionales e internacionales, que son profundamente corrosivos. El terrorismo sigue siendo una amenaza y una preocupación comunes independientemente de cuál sea su blanco inmediato.

14. Han cambiado el papel que juegan los medios de comunicación y el uso de las redes sociales por parte de los grupos terroristas y extremistas violentos, por lo que constituyen una dimensión que es cada vez más importante abordar. Todos los planes, hasta los frustrados, atraen la atención de los medios de comunicación, lo que ayuda a alcanzar el objetivo de los autores de propagar el miedo y provocar una reacción. Esto ilustra el riesgo de que los medios de comunicación faciliten tanto el empoderamiento de los grupos terroristas como la atracción de nuevos reclutas. Los avances de la tecnología de las comunicaciones, y en particular Internet, han amplificado los mensajes e influido en las modalidades de reclutamiento. Los grupos terroristas y extremistas violentos han demostrado tener flexibilidad e inventiva y aprovechan los sentimientos de desencanto, injusticia y enajenación y el anhelo de tener un propósito de jóvenes descontentos, incluidas mujeres y niñas. La mayoría de los nuevos reclutas tienen entre 17 y 27 años, diferentes niveles educativos y distintas circunstancias sociales y económicas, lo que hace que sea aún más difícil entender y contrarrestar el atractivo del terrorismo y que a la comunidad internacional le resulte complicado responder eficazmente. Es necesario encontrar un equilibrio entre la protección del derecho de las personas a la libertad de expresión y la protección del público vulnerable frente a la incitación al odio, la discriminación o la violencia.

III. Respuesta internacional a la cambiante amenaza terrorista

15. El hecho de que estos sucesos hayan tenido lugar e incluso aumentado aun cuando el mundo ha destinado más recursos a la lucha contra el terrorismo plantea preguntas profundas como las siguientes:

a) ¿Los Estados Miembros han aplicado suficientemente los instrumentos jurídicos y normas de lucha contra el terrorismo no solo para combatirlo, sino también para hacer frente a las condiciones que promueven su surgimiento?

b) ¿El sistema de las Naciones Unidas ha logrado prestar la ayuda solicitada por los Estados Miembros para prevenir el extremismo violento y luchar contra el terrorismo?

c) Y, sobre todo, ¿los instrumentos y recursos preventivos a disposición de la comunidad internacional son suficientes para afrontar y superar los desafíos que plantean el terrorismo y el extremismo violento?

16. La aprobación de la Estrategia Global de las Naciones Unidas contra el Terrorismo supuso un consenso internacional sin precedentes con respecto a la necesidad de actuar de forma conjunta contra el terrorismo. Uno de sus grandes logros ha sido mantener la unanimidad de opiniones sobre que todos los Estados Miembros se ven afectados, por lo que a todos les conviene contribuir. El Secretario General cree firmemente que la Estrategia es tan pertinente hoy como lo era hace 10 años. La cooperación internacional, mediante la aplicación efectiva de la Estrategia, no solo es deseable, sino que es más urgente que nunca. Para aplicar la Estrategia más satisfactoriamente, la comunidad internacional debe volver a comprometerse a aplicar exhaustiva y equilibradamente sus cuatro pilares. La capacidad de los Estados Miembros de prevenir y combatir el terrorismo ha aumentado, como también lo ha hecho la función de prestación de asistencia para el desarrollo de la capacidad que desempeñan las Naciones Unidas. Sin embargo, a pesar de que se han llevado a cabo numerosas medidas, no se ha avanzado mucho respecto de las condiciones que favorecen la propagación del terrorismo ni de la garantía del respeto de los derechos humanos y el estado de derecho en la lucha contra el terrorismo.

17. El Plan de Acción para Prevenir el Extremismo Violento presentado por el Secretario General (véase A/70/674) tiene como fin seguir intensificando los esfuerzos para hacer frente a las condiciones que favorecen la propagación del terrorismo y el extremismo violento centrando la atención en etapas anteriores al punto de intervención habitual para prevenir el extremismo violento y, en última instancia, el terrorismo. Este planteamiento es coherente con el énfasis del Secretario General en la prevención en todos sus aspectos y complementa la importancia de la prevención, resaltada en los exámenes y procesos de alto nivel realizados en 2015, como el examen del Grupo Independiente de Alto Nivel sobre las Operaciones de Paz (véase A/70/95-S/2015/446) y el informe de seguimiento del Secretario General sobre el futuro de las operaciones de paz de las Naciones Unidas (A/70/357-S/2015/682), el estudio mundial sobre las mujeres y la paz y la seguridad y el examen realizado por expertos de la estructura de las Naciones Unidas para la consolidación de la paz (A/69/968-S/2015/490).

18. A medida que el mundo se adentre en el próximo decenio, habrá que seguir intensificando la cooperación internacional para luchar contra el terrorismo y prevenir el extremismo violento más eficazmente. Para ello, antes de nada es necesario realizar una evaluación franca de los 10 años transcurridos desde que se aprobó la Estrategia.

A. Formulación de un marco normativo y jurídico

19. La comunidad internacional ha respondido al desafío formulando el marco jurídico y estableciendo medidas para ponerlo en práctica prudentemente. Las Naciones Unidas han estado al frente de la formulación del marco normativo y jurídico internacional para afrontar el terrorismo en todas sus manifestaciones. En la actualidad el marco incluye los convenios y protocolos internacionales relacionados con el terrorismo y los derechos humanos, la Estrategia y las resoluciones pertinentes de la Asamblea General y el Consejo de Seguridad (véase el anexo I).

20. Además, los Estados Miembros continúan negociando un convenio general sobre el terrorismo internacional para intensificar aún más la cooperación internacional, y muchos de ellos han formulado sus propios marcos legislativos nacionales tomando como base el marco internacional existente y han cooperado bilateral y regionalmente para fortalecer la lucha contra el terrorismo.

B. Progresos realizados en la aplicación de la Estrategia Global de las Naciones Unidas contra el Terrorismo por parte de los Estados Miembros y las entidades de las Naciones Unidas

21. Los Estados Miembros se han esforzado mucho por aplicar los cuatro pilares de la Estrategia y muchos de ellos también han trabajado bilateral y multilateralmente para promover la cooperación regional e internacional en la lucha contra el terrorismo. La Secretaría ha recibido información relativa sobre todo a la aplicación de la Estrategia de los siguientes Estados Miembros: Albania, Alemania, la Argentina, Australia, Austria, Belarús, Bélgica, el Brasil, Bulgaria, Camboya, el Canadá, Chipre, Cuba, los Emiratos Árabes Unidos, Eslovenia, los Estados Unidos, la Federación de Rusia, Finlandia, Francia, Georgia, Grecia, Hungría, la India, el Iraq, Israel, el Japón, Kazajstán, Letonia, el Líbano, Noruega, Omán, los Países Bajos, el Reino Unido de Gran Bretaña e Irlanda del Norte, Serbia, el Sudán, Suiza, Tailandia, Ucrania y Zambia. También proporcionaron información sobre las actividades realizadas en apoyo de la Estrategia la Asociación de Naciones de Asia Sudoriental y la Unión Europea. Todos los Estados Miembros pueden consultar la información proporcionada solicitándolo a la Oficina del Equipo Especial sobre la Ejecución de la Lucha contra el Terrorismo, ubicada en el Departamento de Asuntos Políticos.

22. Al mismo tiempo, las entidades de las Naciones Unidas que tienen mandatos básicos de lucha contra el terrorismo y las que llevan a cabo programas y actividades pertinentes han seguido ayudando a los Estados Miembros a aplicar la Estrategia. En el anexo II figuran algunas de las principales actividades que han realizado esas entidades desde el examen anterior, en 2014, así como una matriz de las actividades de las Naciones Unidas.

C. Coordinación, coherencia y el enfoque “Toda la ONU”

23. De acuerdo con el informe anterior del Secretario General, en que se comprometió a seguir intensificando la coordinación y la coherencia dentro del sistema de las Naciones Unidas al prestar asistencia a los Estados Miembros para luchar contra el terrorismo mediante el enfoque “Una ONU”, el trabajo en este ámbito ha avanzado. En 2014 y 2015 varios de los grupos de trabajo interinstitucionales del Equipo Especial sobre la Ejecución de la Lucha contra el Terrorismo se reorganizaron por temas para hacer frente a los desafíos nuevos y emergentes.

24. Ha llegado el momento de aprovechar los esfuerzos colectivos para aplicar el enfoque “Toda la ONU” de manera más sistemática. Es necesario armonizar mejor los esfuerzos para conseguir un fin común y diseñar respuestas polifacéticas.

25. En la práctica, ello implica que las entidades que se dedican directamente a hacer frente a los problemas del terrorismo y el extremismo violento formulen estrategias colaborativas y que las que desempeñan un papel indirecto se aseguren de que sus actividades sean compatibles tanto con la prevención del extremismo violento como con la lucha contra el terrorismo. Para ello, las entidades del Equipo Especial deben intensificar su colaboración en el marco del Equipo Especial y mejorar así el flujo de información, recursos y conocimientos técnicos para aumentar la eficiencia, la rendición de cuentas y la repercusión de las actividades sobre el terreno. La implicación nacional es crucial para lograr resultados positivos y es necesario adecuar siempre las actividades a las de los Gobiernos anfitriones y el pueblo al que se sirve.

26. La importancia del enfoque “Toda la ONU” quedó demostrada tanto en el ámbito temático como en el técnico al coordinar la elaboración de un plan de ejecución de proyectos prioritarios de desarrollo de la capacidad para detener el flujo de combatientes terroristas extranjeros, de conformidad con lo recomendado por el Consejo de Seguridad (véase S/PRST/2015/11). Un grupo de trabajo interinstitucional del Equipo Especial sobre esos combatientes decidió que en la primera etapa 12 entidades de las Naciones Unidas ejecutaran 37 proyectos de desarrollo de la capacidad que se refuerzan mutuamente en esferas prioritarias determinadas en la evaluación de la esencialidad de los proyectos realizada por la Dirección Ejecutiva del Comité contra el Terrorismo. Con estos proyectos se pretende abordar íntegramente el “ciclo de vida” de los combatientes terroristas extranjeros, que engloba la radicalización, el entrenamiento, el viaje a las zonas de conflicto, la financiación, el combate y su posible retorno y reactivación, así como la reintegración y la rehabilitación si regresan a sus países de origen.

27. Otro ejemplo del enfoque “Toda la ONU” es la Iniciativa del Equipo Especial para la Asistencia Integrada contra el Terrorismo, que aúna a varias entidades de las Naciones Unidas para prestar asistencia coordinada y coherente para el desarrollo de la capacidad a los Estados Miembros que la soliciten. Todas las partes del sistema de las Naciones Unidas presentes en el país solicitante, a saber, el Coordinador Residente, el Representante Especial y otros miembros del equipo de las Naciones Unidas en el país, trabajan juntas durante el ciclo de vida de los proyectos. Mientras sigue respaldando los programas de la Iniciativa en Malí y Nigeria, el Centro de las Naciones Unidas contra el Terrorismo, vistas las amenazas a las que se enfrentan los países del Sahel, ha comenzado a planear la ampliación de la Iniciativa a todos los países del Grupo de los Cinco del Sahel y a algunos países de África Occidental, previa solicitud, de conformidad con lo solicitado por el Consejo de Seguridad en su resolución 2195 (2014) y en la declaración de la Presidencia del Consejo de Seguridad de fecha 8 de diciembre de 2015 (S/PRST/2015/24).

28. El Secretario General confía en que el enfoque “Toda la ONU” ayudará a transversalizar las prioridades antiterroristas en todo el sistema y a armonizar los enfoques de las entidades de las Naciones Unidas de acuerdo con el programa general de prevención de las Naciones Unidas.

IV. Fomento de la colaboración internacional para el próximo decenio

29. Está claro que en la medida que el terrorismo y el extremismo violento evolucionen, tomando caminos nuevos e imprevisibles, los esfuerzos por hacer frente a estos fenómenos también deben evolucionar. Es necesario incrementar la cooperación y la colaboración internacionales en esferas cruciales de la lucha contra el terrorismo a nivel mundial, regional y subregional. También es necesario que exista cooperación Norte-Sur y Sur-Sur para que las mejores prácticas de los Estados más afectados se den a conocer prontamente a fin de ayudar a prevenir la propagación del terrorismo y el extremismo violento a otros países.

A. Medidas para promover la aplicación equilibrada de los cuatro pilares de la Estrategia Global de las Naciones Unidas contra el Terrorismo

30. En su informe anterior (A/68/841), el Secretario General señaló que el éxito de la Estrategia Global de las Naciones Unidas contra el Terrorismo dependía de que se aplicasen equilibradamente sus cuatro pilares. Con respecto al pilar II, muchos Estados Miembros se han centrado comprensiblemente en utilizar sus escasos recursos para ampliar y fortalecer sus sectores de la seguridad y la justicia penal a fin de luchar contra el terrorismo. No obstante, si bien han reforzado las medidas de aplicación de la ley y de seguridad, no han prestado igual atención ni asignado iguales recursos a las medidas de prevención. Lamentablemente, las preocupaciones y obligaciones relativas a los derechos humanos, que son tan fundamentales para la lucha antiterrorista, han sido poco prioritarias para varios Estados Miembros.

31. Aunque hay indicios nuevos y alentadores de que los Estados Miembros están comenzando a centrar la atención en los pilares I y IV de la Estrategia, los esfuerzos deben acelerarse. Hacer frente a las condiciones que favorecen la propagación del terrorismo, que es en lo que consiste el pilar I, debe ser el objetivo principal de la labor de prevención. Para ello hay que reconocer la importancia y las necesidades de las mujeres y las niñas, que son víctimas de actos terroristas y radicalizadas y reclutadas por grupos terroristas con una frecuencia cada vez mayor. A efectos de prevención es igualmente importante prestar atención a los jóvenes. Actuar eficazmente en esta esfera supondría aplicar un enfoque renovado a la prevención y solución de conflictos, fomentar el diálogo, el entendimiento y la inclusión social, lograr el desarrollo socioeconómico equitativo y justo y promover el papel positivo que las mujeres y los jóvenes pueden desempeñar en la sociedad.

32. Por otro lado, el mundo no puede permitirse crear más terroristas al intentar combatirlos. No se puede recalcar lo suficiente la importancia del pilar IV de la Estrategia, que hace hincapié en el respeto de los derechos humanos y el estado de derecho en la lucha antiterrorista. Al Secretario General le complace señalar que los Estados Miembros han comenzado a solicitar la asistencia de las Naciones Unidas para concienciar y capacitar a sus agentes de seguridad y policía sobre esta cuestión tan fundamental.

B. Prevención del extremismo violento

33. El extremismo violento constituye, al igual que el terrorismo, una amenaza para todos los Estados Miembros, ya sea directa o indirectamente. En los últimos años, la respuesta de la comunidad internacional al extremismo violento se ha dirigido sobre todo a combatir la amenaza. Si bien esta labor debe continuar, es necesario ampliar el enfoque, actuar antes y hacer frente a las causas del extremismo violento.

34. El Plan de Acción para Prevenir el Extremismo Violento aborda este fenómeno desde la perspectiva de la prevención y complementa y refuerza aún más los pilares I y IV de la Estrategia. En él se describen una serie de medidas diseñadas para prevenir el extremismo violento desde las primeras etapas encarando sus causas subyacentes de manera práctica a nivel nacional, regional y mundial. En su mayoría, las 70 recomendaciones se dirigen a los Estados Miembros, que son los principales responsables de prevenir el extremismo violento.

35. La recomendación más importante del Plan de Acción es que todos los Estados Miembros consideren la posibilidad de formular un plan de acción nacional para prevenir el extremismo violento teniendo en cuenta las causas locales y nacionales de este fenómeno. Estos planes deberían seguir un enfoque de “todo el Gobierno” y “toda la sociedad” para fomentar las sinergias entre todos los agentes. En el Plan de Acción también se propone complementar los planes nacionales con otros subregionales y regionales.

36. El Secretario General ha propuesto que los planes nacionales y regionales incluyan elementos relativos a las siguientes siete esferas prioritarias: el diálogo y la prevención de conflictos; el fortalecimiento de la buena gobernanza, los derechos humanos y el estado de derecho; la colaboración con las comunidades; el empoderamiento de los jóvenes; la igualdad entre los géneros y el empoderamiento de la mujer; la educación, el desarrollo de aptitudes y la facilitación del empleo; y las comunicaciones estratégicas, en particular a través de Internet y los medios sociales.

37. Los Estados Miembros deberán tomar la iniciativa en la formulación y aplicación de sus planes de acción nacionales y regionales para prevenir el extremismo violento. El sistema de las Naciones Unidas puede ayudarlos, y también deberá examinar sus actividades para velar por que esté haciendo todo lo posible para ayudar a los Gobiernos a hacer frente a las causas locales del extremismo violento y por que todas las entidades pertinentes colaboren en la determinación de entregables concretos en las siete esferas prioritarias.

38. Los días 7 y 8 de abril de 2016 el Secretario General presidió conjuntamente con el Gobierno de Suiza, la Conferencia de Ginebra sobre la Prevención del Extremismo Violento: el Camino a Seguir, a la que asistieron un total de 745 participantes de 125 Estados Miembros, 23 organizaciones internacionales y regionales, 26 entidades de las Naciones Unidas y 67 organizaciones de la sociedad civil y empresas privadas. El Secretario General se sintió alentado por la firme respuesta a su llamamiento a la acción y la unidad al aplicar su Plan de Acción. La Conferencia contribuyó a detectar esferas de convergencia y sirvió de marco para examinar diferentes puntos de vista relativos a la prevención del extremismo violento. Además, constituyó un valioso foro para seguir estudiando el Plan de Acción en relación con el examen de la Estrategia por parte de la Asamblea General.

C. El papel de las Naciones Unidas en la mejora de la cooperación internacional

39. Las Naciones Unidas se encuentran en buenas condiciones de mejorar la colaboración a nivel nacional, regional y mundial. Su composición le proporciona un poder de convocatoria sin igual que se puede aprovechar para generar impulso político e intensificar así la cooperación internacional en esferas específicas de la lucha contra el terrorismo. Las Naciones Unidas pueden utilizar los recursos y los conocimientos técnicos de los diversos Estados Miembros que las componen para ayudar a otros Estados Miembros. Muchos están solicitando cada vez más asistencia a las Naciones Unidas y las entidades de la Organización han respondido al reto y reunido recursos para ejecutar programas cruciales. No obstante, hay que hacer más. Son particularmente necesarios los proyectos que fomentan la capacidad nacional, para lo cual es indispensable prestar asistencia, por ejemplo en forma de iniciativas de formación de formadores, en diversos ámbitos de la lucha contra el terrorismo.

40. Otra esfera que se puede beneficiar de una estrecha cooperación internacional y en la que las Naciones Unidas pueden ayudar es la formulación y difusión de mejores prácticas que puedan orientar las políticas de los Estados Miembros al adoptar medidas que respeten los derechos humanos para hacer frente a amenazas nuevas y emergentes con arreglo a la ley y de forma eficaz. En este sentido, el Secretario General reconoce las valiosas contribuciones que organizaciones regionales e internacionales como la Unión Europea, el Consejo de Europa y la Organización para la Seguridad y la Cooperación en Europa han realizado a la formulación y difusión de las mejores prácticas pertinentes. Las Naciones Unidas seguirán trabajando con todas ellas e intensificando sus esfuerzos para formular mejores prácticas y difundirlas en beneficio de todos los Estados Miembros.

41. Muchas entidades de las Naciones Unidas están prestando asistencia activamente a los Estados Miembros para el desarrollo de la capacidad en esferas cruciales de la lucha contra el terrorismo. El Secretario General agradece la valiosa contribución a esta labor de la Dirección Ejecutiva del Comité contra el Terrorismo, el Equipo de Apoyo Analítico y Vigilancia de las Sanciones dimanante de las resoluciones del Consejo de Seguridad 1526 (2004) y 2253 (2015) relativas al Estado Islámico en el Iraq y el Levante (EIIL) (Daesh), Al-Qaida y los talibanes y personas y entidades asociadas, la Oficina de las Naciones Unidas contra la Droga y el Delito (UNODC), la Oficina de Asuntos de Desarme de las Naciones Unidas, la Organización de Aviación Civil Internacional (OACI), el Organismo Internacional de Energía Atómica, el Grupo de Expertos del Comité establecido en virtud de la resolución 1540 (2004), el Fondo Monetario Internacional (FMI), el Departamento de Operaciones de Mantenimiento de la Paz, el Departamento de Asuntos Políticos, la Alianza de Civilizaciones de las Naciones Unidas, el Instituto Interregional de las Naciones Unidas para Investigaciones sobre la Delincuencia y la Justicia, el Programa de las Naciones Unidas para el Desarrollo, la Oficina del Alto Comisionado de las Naciones Unidas para los Derechos Humanos y al resto de entidades participantes. Desde que se estableció el Centro de las Naciones Unidas contra el Terrorismo se dispone de más medios para catalizar la asistencia para el desarrollo de la capacidad en los cuatro pilares de la Estrategia.

42. En los últimos dos años la labor realizada por el Centro de las Naciones Unidas contra el Terrorismo para desarrollar las capacidades de los Estados Miembros a fin de aplicar la Estrategia ha sido reconocida por la Asamblea General, el Consejo de Seguridad y los Estados Miembros. En diciembre de 2015 se presentó un nuevo programa quinquenal para el período 2016-2020 destinado a centrar la atención de manera estratégica en menos proyectos pero de mayor envergadura. El Centro ha seleccionado 12 esferas temáticas organizadas en torno a cuatro amplios resultados con los que contribuirá a aplicar íntegramente la Estrategia a nivel mundial, regional y nacional. Esos resultados son los siguientes: combatir y prevenir el extremismo violento; combatir el terrorismo; los derechos humanos y el apoyo a las víctimas; y la cooperación internacional.

V. Observaciones y recomendaciones

Programa de cooperación internacional

43. El terrorismo viola los principios fundamentales de las Naciones Unidas y no está justificado en ninguna circunstancia. Tampoco puede asociarse con ninguna religión, nacionalidad o civilización ni con ningún grupo étnico. De hecho, la demonización de determinadas religiones, grupos étnicos y culturas contraviene los derechos humanos, alimenta el discurso del extremismo violento y alienta la xenofobia, lo que puede causar daños irreparables a la labor de prevención del extremismo violento y de lucha contra el terrorismo.

44. Para que la Estrategia Global de las Naciones Unidas contra el Terrorismo siga siendo relevante es indispensable que los Estados Miembros cooperen estrechamente a nivel mundial, regional y nacional. El Secretario General se compromete a aprovechar la universalidad de la composición de las Naciones Unidas y su poder de convocatoria para seguir estrechando la cooperación internacional a esos niveles.

45. Para luchar contra el terrorismo es necesario contar con el consenso internacional. La Estrategia, en cuanto documento de consenso de la Asamblea General, constituye una plataforma firme a partir de la cual los Estados Miembros pueden colaborar. Este consenso de la comunidad internacional contra el terrorismo debe conservarse y reforzarse. El siguiente programa de cooperación internacional está fundamentado en la Estrategia y concede prioridad a actividades clave que favorezcan su aplicación equilibrada en los cuatro pilares. Las respuestas militares necesarias a corto plazo deben complementarse con medidas preventivas a mediano y largo plazo y todas ellas deben basarse en el respeto de los derechos humanos y el estado de derecho.

46. La responsabilidad principal de aplicar la Estrategia recae en los Estados Miembros. No obstante, el sistema de las Naciones Unidas, por medio del Equipo Especial sobre la Ejecución de la Lucha contra el Terrorismo, puede contribuir considerablemente a la aplicación a nivel nacional, regional y mundial. Es indispensable disponer de mejores prácticas que orienten a los Estados Miembros. Por ello, el Secretario General se compromete a que el sistema de las Naciones Unidas intensifique su labor de formulación y difusión de mejores prácticas y conocimientos técnicos en ámbitos relacionados con la lucha contra el terrorismo que abarquen los cuatro pilares de la Estrategia, ya que pueden ser beneficiosos para los Estados Miembros.

47. El Secretario General considera alentador que ahora existan varios foros internacionales y regionales, como el Foro Mundial contra el Terrorismo, que ayuden a aplicar la Estrategia, e insta a todas esas organizaciones a colaborar con las Naciones Unidas para armonizar sus esfuerzos de modo que se catalice la aplicación de la Estrategia de manera eficiente y coordinada.

48. Aunque el número de solicitudes de asistencia para el desarrollo de capacidad en cuestiones de la lucha contra el terrorismo que reciben las Naciones Unidas es cada vez mayor, sus recursos siguen siendo limitados. Por ejemplo, el Centro de las Naciones Unidas contra el Terrorismo tiene un presupuesto anual de tan solo 20 millones de dólares para destinar a los proyectos de desarrollo de la capacidad de todos los Estados Miembros, mientras que algunos Estados gastan miles de millones de dólares al año en respuestas militares y de seguridad al terrorismo. Para ser eficaces las Naciones Unidas deben ser estratégicas y prestar asistencia con mayor prioridad a los países y regiones más afectados del mundo. El Secretario General exhorta a todos los Estados Miembros a prestar el apoyo necesario al enfoque “Toda la ONU” aportando bastantes más recursos tanto económicos como técnicos. En ese sentido, acoge con agrado la decisión tomada recientemente por el Comité de Asistencia para el Desarrollo de la Organización de Cooperación y Desarrollo Económicos de contabilizar los fondos destinados por los Estados Miembros a varias actividades relacionadas con la paz y la seguridad, incluidas las de ciertos ámbitos de la prevención de conflictos y del extremismo violento, al determinar el grado en que se ha conseguido el objetivo de las Naciones Unidas de destinar a la asistencia oficial para el desarrollo el 0,7% del ingreso nacional bruto.

49. El Secretario General también se compromete a que las Naciones Unidas respalden la cooperación Sur-Sur promoviendo el intercambio de recursos, conocimientos técnicos y mejores prácticas entre países del Sur que tienen valiosas experiencias que compartir con la comunidad internacional, ya que constituye un recurso muy poco aprovechado que se debe movilizar.

50. La utilización eficiente y transparente de los recursos es de vital importancia. El Secretario General continuará consolidando el uso de mecanismos transparentes para establecer objetivos y resultados y medir la repercusión de los proyectos y actividades de las Naciones Unidas. Las entidades del Equipo Especial que llevan a cabo esos proyectos continuarán formulando y utilizando indicadores y puntos de referencia cuantificables para incrementar su repercusión.

51. En los últimos años se han desplegado cada vez más misiones políticas especiales y operaciones de mantenimiento de la paz de las Naciones Unidas a zonas afectadas por el extremismo violento y el terrorismo. La existencia de unas condiciones de seguridad inadmisibles y la imprevisibilidad y hostilidad de los agentes terroristas han repercutido negativamente en la capacidad de las misiones de las Naciones Unidas de ejecutar sus mandatos. Es necesario integrar la prevención del extremismo violento y la lucha contra el terrorismo en la labor general de la Organización de prevención y gestión de conflictos, especialmente por conducto de sus misiones sobre el terreno. El Secretario General considera que los representantes y enviados especiales que trabajan en esos entornos podrían sacar un provecho considerable de los conocimientos técnicos de los asesores sobre la lucha contra el terrorismo, de conformidad con sus mandatos. Estos asesores podrían ayudarles a integrar la lucha contra el terrorismo en las actividades de la misión, cuando corresponda, y catalizar las iniciativas de desarrollo de la capacidad de los Gobiernos anfitriones y las organizaciones regionales en esferas clave, de conformidad con los cuatro pilares de la Estrategia.

Pilar I: medidas para hacer frente a las condiciones que propician la propagación del terrorismo

52. El Secretario General insta a los Estados Miembros a conceder una gran prioridad a la prevención del extremismo violento, cuestión a la que ha dado la máxima prioridad en el último año de su mandato. Además, ha tomado buena nota de los constructivos debates celebrados por la Asamblea General en febrero sobre el Plan de Acción para Prevenir el Extremismo Violento y agradece que la Asamblea acogiera con beneplácito la iniciativa en su resolución 70/254. También acoge con agrado los debates sustantivos celebrados sobre el Plan de Acción a nivel ministerial en Ginebra el 8 de abril de 2016 y aguarda con interés que prosigan los debates durante el quinto examen de la Estrategia, que se llevará a cabo en junio de 2016. A este respecto, espera que los Estados Miembros alcancen un amplio consenso en apoyo del Plan de Acción que suplemente con eficacia los pilares I y IV de la Estrategia.

53. En relación con el Plan de Acción, el Secretario General recomienda que los Estados Miembros formulen planes de acción nacionales y regionales sobre la prevención del extremismo violento que tengan en cuenta los siete elementos prioritarios incluidos en él, a saber: el diálogo y la prevención de conflictos; el fortalecimiento de la buena gobernanza, los derechos humanos y el estado de derecho; la colaboración con las comunidades; el empoderamiento de los jóvenes; la igualdad entre los géneros y el empoderamiento de la mujer; la educación, el desarrollo de aptitudes y la facilitación del empleo; y las comunicaciones estratégicas, Internet y los medios sociales.

54. El Secretario General está reflexionando sobre cómo podría el sistema de las Naciones Unidas organizarse mejor para apoyar de un modo más integral la lucha contra el terrorismo y la prevención del extremismo violento. Para ello, estudiará con todas las entidades pertinentes opciones para suscribir acuerdos institucionales.

55. La participación de la sociedad civil es necesaria para crear un espacio en que se puedan promover el diálogo y las alternativas al extremismo violento. En relación con ello, en el Plan de Acción se señaló que la participación activa de las mujeres y los jóvenes en las actividades de las Naciones Unidas de prevención y lucha contra el terrorismo eran dos esferas prioritarias a las que debían prestar atención los Estados Miembros. A las mujeres y los jóvenes debe brindárseles la oportunidad tanto en el ámbito comunitario como en las altas esferas gubernamentales de manifestar su opinión sobre los efectos que tienen en sus vidas el terrorismo y el extremismo violento y las estrategias que utilizan para hacer frente a estas amenazas. En ese sentido, el Secretario General recomienda que los Estados Miembros y las Naciones Unidas aumenten la integración de sus agendas sobre la lucha contra el terrorismo y las mujeres y la paz y la seguridad, de conformidad con lo solicitado por el Consejo de Seguridad en su resolución 2242 (2015). También insta a las entidades de las Naciones Unidas a transversalizar las cuestiones de género en su labor de lucha contra el terrorismo.

56. Asimismo, el Secretario General alienta a los Estados Miembros a aplicar la resolución 2250 (2015) del Consejo de Seguridad implicando a los jóvenes en todos los niveles de adopción de decisiones sobre prevención y solución de conflictos, incluidas las instituciones y los mecanismos de lucha contra el extremismo violento.

Pilar II: medidas para prevenir y combatir el terrorismo

57. Aunque se desplace el péndulo hacia los pilares I y IV, hay que continuar reforzando y ampliando los mecanismos de colaboración existentes y los logros conseguidos en la lucha contra el terrorismo en los últimos 10 años. En particular, el Consejo de Seguridad, en su resolución 2178 (2014), exhortó a todos los Estados Miembros a cooperar urgentemente en la prevención del flujo internacional de combatientes terroristas extranjeros reforzando las medidas de control de las fronteras y de lucha contra la financiación del terrorismo, así como otras actividades conexas que fueran necesarias, como las iniciativas educativas que promueven la tolerancia, el pluralismo y la desradicalización. El Secretario General recomienda que los Estados Miembros cooperen estrechamente entre sí y con las entidades de las Naciones Unidas intercambiando información, mejores prácticas y otros recursos y participando en proyectos pertinentes en el marco del plan de las Naciones Unidas de desarrollo de la capacidad para hacer frente a los combatientes terroristas extranjeros.

58. El Secretario General reconoce los grandes avances realizados por los Estados Miembros por medio de mecanismos bilaterales y multilaterales para reforzar las medidas de seguridad de las fronteras. La Organización Internacional de Policía Criminal (INTERPOL) ha ayudado en esta labor diseñando y reforzando instrumentos y recursos esenciales. No obstante, muchos Estados Miembros aún no han transmitido la información pertinente. Para abordar las dificultades relativas al control de las fronteras, el Secretario General insta a todos los Estados Miembros y las organizaciones regionales a cooperar y transmitir información a las bases de datos pertinentes de INTERPOL.

59. También es necesario incrementar la cooperación internacional en relación con la resolución 2178 (2014) del Consejo de Seguridad, en la que este exhortó a que las compañías aéreas proporcionaran información por adelantado sobre los pasajeros a las autoridades nacionales competentes a fin de detectar la salida de su territorio, o el intento de entrada o tránsito por él, de las personas designadas por el Comité del Consejo de Seguridad dimanante de las resoluciones 1267 (1999), 1989 (2011) y 2253 (2015), relativas al Estado Islámico en el Iraq y el Levante (Daesh), Al-Qaida y las personas, grupos, empresas y entidades asociados con ellos. El Secretario General recomienda que los Estados Miembros fomenten el cumplimiento de la obligación de proporcionar información por adelantado sobre los pasajeros y otros sistemas similares con el apoyo de las entidades competentes del Equipo Especial, como la Dirección Ejecutiva del Comité contra el Terrorismo, la OACI, la Organización Internacional para las Migraciones, la Asociación de Transporte Aéreo Internacional, INTERPOL y el Centro de las Naciones Unidas contra el Terrorismo, y que introduzcan mecanismos jurídicos para promover el cumplimiento de las normas internacionales de derechos humanos que garanticen que en la legislación nacional se tiene en cuenta el conflicto potencial entre la obligación de proporcionar información por adelantado sobre los pasajeros por un lado y las leyes de protección de datos y la privacidad por otro.

60. Como puso de relieve el Consejo de Seguridad en su resolución 2253 (2015), es cada vez más importante impedir la financiación de las actividades terroristas, ya que grupos como el EIIL plantean nuevos desafíos al respecto porque obtienen ingresos de múltiples fuentes, como la falsificación, los secuestros para obtener rescate y la trata, así como la venta de mujeres y niñas. Aunque la mayoría de los Estados Miembros han tipificado como delito la financiación del terrorismo de conformidad con lo dispuesto en el Convenio Internacional para la Represión de la Financiación del Terrorismo y la resolución 1373 (2001) del Consejo, el número de condenas por financiación del terrorismo sigue siendo reducido. Además, un número considerable de Estados no cumplen plenamente la recomendación conexa del Grupo de Acción Financiera y pocos Estados han cumplido la obligación específica de luchar contra la financiación de los viajes de los combatientes terroristas extranjeros dimanante de la resolución 2178 (2014) del Consejo. El Secretario General recomienda que la comunidad internacional redoble sus esfuerzos para desarrollar la capacidad de los sistemas de regulación y supervisión financiera en todo el mundo a fin de no dar oportunidad a los terroristas de recaudar fondos y explotarlos. Para progresar en este ámbito será fundamental cooperar activamente con el sector privado estableciendo alianzas público-privadas con las instituciones financieras. Teniendo en cuenta las evaluaciones realizadas por entidades como la Dirección Ejecutiva del Comité contra el Terrorismo, la UNODC y el FMI podrían proporcionar a los Estados Miembros la asistencia para el desarrollo de la capacidad requerida para alcanzar estos objetivos.

61. Los terroristas han explotado inteligentemente las nuevas tecnologías de las comunicaciones para radicalizar y reclutar a jóvenes de todo mundo y hay un riesgo considerable de que en los próximos años se dediquen al ciberterrorismo, lo que sería devastador. Ello pone de manifiesto la necesidad de incrementar la cooperación internacional para combatir la radicalización y el reclutamiento por Internet, pero debe llevarse a cabo de forma que se garantice y promueva la libertad de expresión y se respeten las normas internacionales de derechos humanos. Debe prestarse atención también a la prevención de actos de ciberterrorismo perpetrados por personas asociadas al extremismo violento y al terrorismo. Las redes modernas de comunicaciones electrónicas constituyen la piedra angular de la infraestructura más crucial, necesaria entre otras cosas para que el gobierno y la industria desempeñen sus funciones básicas, y no será posible protegerla del ciberterrorismo si no se dispone de alianzas más sólidas con el sector privado.

62. La posible adquisición y uso de armas de destrucción en masa, en particular de material nuclear, por grupos terroristas constituirían una clara amenaza a la paz y la seguridad internacionales. Se trata de una amenaza con múltiples elementos yuxtapuestos —como el terrorismo, las armas de destrucción en masa y las ciberamenazas, que están cada vez más relacionados entre sí—, que debe abordarse de manera holística y coordinada. Para afrontarla, el sistema de las Naciones Unidas debe trabajar unido. El Secretario General tiene la intención de intensificar los esfuerzos de las Naciones Unidas por abordar los retos que suponen la seguridad nuclear y el terrorismo consultando a los Estados Miembros acerca de un enfoque integral de las Naciones Unidas. También se asegurará de que la Secretaría y las organizaciones internacionales asociadas adoptan medidas de forma coordinada en respuesta a esta cuestión. Además, se esforzará por que se apliquen universal e íntegramente la resolución 1540 (2004) del Consejo de Seguridad y el Convenio Internacional para la Represión de los Actos de Terrorismo Nuclear.

63. Para avanzar en todas las esferas mencionadas seguirá siendo necesario que la comunidad internacional coopere e intercambie información práctica.

Pilar III: medidas destinadas a aumentar la capacidad de los Estados para prevenir el terrorismo y luchar contra él, y a fortalecer el papel del sistema de las Naciones Unidas a ese respecto

64. El desarrollo coordinado de la capacidad de los Estados Miembros en esferas clave de la lucha contra el terrorismo debe ser una prioridad. Muchas entidades de las Naciones Unidas están prestando asistencia para el desarrollo de la capacidad en la lucha contra el terrorismo, labor que debe reforzarse mediante el seguimiento y la evaluación efectivos. El Equipo Especial seguirá estrechando la coordinación entre sus 38 entidades miembros y aumentando la coherencia de su labor por medio de los grupos de trabajo interinstitucionales que ha revitalizado, haciendo todo lo posible por reducir al mínimo la duplicación, promoviendo la transparencia y la utilización más eficaz de los recursos de los donantes y, al mismo tiempo, ampliando al máximo la repercusión sobre el terreno en apoyo de los Estados Miembros.

65. El Centro de las Naciones Unidas contra el Terrorismo y otras partes del sistema de las Naciones Unidas seguirán prestando asistencia para el desarrollo de la capacidad a los Estados Miembros y las organizaciones regionales para avanzar en la aplicación de los cuatro pilares de la Estrategia de forma equilibrada. El programa quinquenal del Centro para el período 2016-2020 constituye el marco para esta colaboración y el Secretario General alienta a los Estados Miembros a contribuir a la formulación, la financiación y la ejecución de proyectos de desarrollo de la capacidad, junto con el Centro y otras entidades pertinentes de las Naciones Unidas, para movilizar una respuesta más firme y sistemática al terrorismo a nivel nacional, regional y mundial.

66. Dado que el terrorismo es tanto multidimensional como regional, la cooperación entre regiones y dentro de ellas sigue siendo crucial. Los Estados Miembros de Asia Central ya han formulado y aplicado una estrategia regional y los de África Central y Meridional han adoptado recientemente estrategias similares. Para aplicar con éxito las estrategias regionales de forma equilibrada e integral y conseguir que los efectos sobre el terreno sean sostenibles, los Estados deberán cooperar eficazmente a fin de movilizar la voluntad política y los recursos necesarios para ello. Mientras continúa apoyando la aplicación de las estrategias existentes, el Centro de las Naciones Unidas contra el Terrorismo también respaldará la formulación de estrategias regionales de lucha contra el terrorismo en otras regiones, como África Oriental.

67. Para luchar eficazmente contra el terrorismo se requieren mecanismos firmes de justicia penal que puedan investigar y enjuiciar a los autores de actos terroristas, incluidos los casos de violencia sexual relacionada con los conflictos. Es importante prestar especial atención al diseño de cursos de formación especializada para los investigadores, los fiscales y los jueces para reforzar una respuesta del sistema de justicia penal al terrorismo que respete los derechos humanos y el estado de derecho. Las entidades de las Naciones Unidas con mandatos y conocimientos especializados, como el UNODC, seguirán prestando asistencia a los Estados en esta esfera tan importante.

Pilar IV: medidas para asegurar el respeto de los derechos humanos para todos y el estado de derecho como base fundamental de la lucha contra el terrorismo

68. Los Estados Miembros, los dirigentes y los funcionarios deben respetar los derechos humanos y el estado de derecho de conformidad con las obligaciones que les incumben en virtud del derecho internacional de los derechos humanos, el derecho internacional humanitario y el derecho internacional de los refugiados. Todas las leyes, políticas, estrategias y prácticas adoptadas para prevenir el extremismo violento y luchar contra el terrorismo deben estar firmemente fundamentadas en el respeto de los derechos humanos y el estado de derecho.

69. Los agentes de policía y seguridad desempeñan un papel crucial en la prevención de los ataques terroristas y la respuesta a ellos y, de ese modo, cumplen la obligación del Estado de proteger los derechos de quienes están sujetos a su jurisdicción. Los Estados Miembros deben seguir intensificando sus esfuerzos para crear conciencia entre sus fuerzas de seguridad acerca del derecho de los derechos humanos y para que se rijan por él en sus operaciones. El Secretario General alienta a que más Estados Miembros participen en proyectos de asistencia técnica específicos, como el proyecto mundial de formación y desarrollo de la capacidad del Equipo Especial para los agentes de policía, destinado a que integren las normas de derechos humanos y el estado de derecho en sus prácticas cotidianas y directrices operacionales.

70. A medida que se intensifican los esfuerzos, no deben olvidarse las víctimas de actos de terrorismo y sus familias. Para entender a las víctimas hay que tener en cuenta que entre ellas se cuentan las que escapan de zonas de conflicto en las que el terrorismo es prominente y, en especial, mujeres y niños que han sido objeto de secuestros, ataques y, en muchos casos, abusos sexuales por parte de extremistas violentos y terroristas. La comunidad internacional debe actuar de manera responsable para con todas las víctimas del terrorismo.

71. La conferencia de las Naciones Unidas sobre los derechos humanos de las víctimas del terrorismo, celebrada el 11 de febrero de 2016, constituyó un paso importante que resaltó la necesidad de incluir los derechos de las víctimas en los planes de prevención del extremismo violento y de lucha contra el terrorismo. Es necesario intensificar los esfuerzos por hacerles justicia a las víctimas y sus familias y por atender sus necesidades. El Secretario General recomienda que los Estados Miembros hagan todo lo posible por cumplir su obligación de enjuiciar a los autores y por atender las necesidades de las víctimas aprovechando la asistencia técnica prestada por las entidades de las Naciones Unidas con mandatos y conocimientos especializados en este campo, como la UNODC.

72. Las víctimas son los más firmes y valientes aliados con los que cuenta la comunidad internacional para poner al descubierto la hipocresía del discurso de los terroristas y extremistas violentos. El Secretario General recomienda que se hagan sentir más las voces de las víctimas para presentar discursos alternativos a los de los extremistas violentos y que se actúe con solidaridad llevando a cabo campañas mundiales de creación de conciencia, por ejemplo mediante el Portal de Apoyo a las Víctimas del Terrorismo. Además, exhorta a que más Estados Miembros aporten información práctica al Portal para incrementar su capacidad de apoyar a las víctimas.

73. Por último, el Secretario General expresa su más hondo pesar a todas las personas que han sido víctimas de actos de grupos terroristas y extremistas violentos, así como a las familias y comunidades de las víctimas. Las Naciones Unidas también han sufrido estas pérdidas tan trágicas, por lo que rinde tributo a los funcionarios que han dado su vida o han resultado gravemente heridos al intentar llevar la paz, la estabilidad y la esperanza a las partes conflictivas del mundo. Todas estas personas se merecen el máximo respeto de todos.

Supplementary information: development of the normative and legal framework***

The 19 international legal instruments consist of: Convention on Offences and Certain Other Acts Committed on Board Aircraft, 1963; Convention for the Suppression of Unlawful Seizure of Aircraft, 1970; Convention for the Suppression of Unlawful Acts against the Safety of Civil Aviation, 1971; Protocol for the Suppression of Unlawful Acts of Violence at Airports Serving International Civil Aviation, 1988; Convention on the Prevention and Punishment of Crimes against Internationally Protected Persons, including Diplomatic Agents, 1973; International Convention against the Taking of Hostages, 1979; Convention on the Physical Protection of Nuclear Material, 1980; Amendment to the Convention on the Physical Protection of Nuclear Material, 2005; Convention for the Suppression of Unlawful Acts against the Safety of Maritime Navigation, 1988; Protocol to the Convention for the Suppression of Unlawful Acts against the Safety of Maritime Navigation, 2005; Protocol for the Suppression of Unlawful Acts against the Safety of Fixed Platforms Located on the Continental Shelf, 1988; Protocol to the Protocol for the Suppression of Unlawful Acts against the Safety of Fixed Platforms located on the Continental Shelf, 2005; Convention on the Marking of Plastic Explosives for the Purpose of Detection, 1991; International Convention for the Suppression of Terrorist Bombings, 1997; International Convention for the Suppression of the Financing of Terrorism, 1999; International Convention for the Suppression of Acts of Nuclear Terrorism, 2005; Convention on the Suppression of Unlawful Acts Relating to International Civil Aviation 2010; Protocol Supplementary to the Convention for the Suppression of Unlawful Seizure of Aircraft 2010.

Although a number of terrorism-related resolutions/declarations were adopted by the General Assembly in the past, an important milestone was the 1994 Declaration on Measures to Eliminate International Terrorism (A/RES/49/60). Following a report by my predecessor in May 2006, “Uniting against Terrorism: recommendations for a global counter-terrorism strategy”, the General Assembly arrived at a consensus resolution on “The UN Global Counter-Terrorism Strategy” on 8 September 2006. The Strategy has been reviewed biennially since then. Additionally, from 2006, the General Assembly produced 48 resolutions which have addressed different aspects of terrorism, such as the protection of human rights and fundamental freedoms while countering terrorism; mandates of specialized UN bodies such as the UN CTITF and UNCCT; and preventing the acquisition by terrorists of radioactive materials and of weapons of mass destruction.

The Security Council initially used its sanctions regime to address terrorism, such as the 1999 adoption of resolution 1267 and 1269 aimed at the Taliban in Afghanistan and later, Al-Qaida and related groups. Subsequent Council resolutions such as resolutions 1373, 1540 and 1624, have strengthened the legal framework for preventing and combatting terrorism. Since 2013, the Council has enacted further resolutions, often invoking Chapter VII, to address new types of terrorist threats. These include, among others, SCR 2133 (2014) which addressed the issues of kidnapping and hostage-taking by terrorists, and SCR 2170 (2014) and 2178 (2014) on suppressing the flow of Foreign Terrorist Fighters (FTFs), financing and other support to terrorist groups in Iraq and Syria. Additionally, SCR 2178 (2014) addressed for the first time the need to counter violent extremism. SCR 2195 (2014) called for international action to prevent terrorists from benefiting from transnational organized crime. Similarly, in 2015, the Council adopted resolution 2199 (2015), aimed to prevent terrorist groups in Iraq and Syria from benefiting from trade in oil, antiquities and hostages, and from receiving donations. Resolution 2242 (2015) outlined sweeping actions to improve implementation of its landmark women, peace and security agenda, covering its work on countering violent extremism and terrorism. In resolution 2253 (2015), the Security Council expanded and strengthened its Al-Qaida sanctions framework to include a focus on ISIL, and outlined efforts to dismantle its funding and support channels. Over the past decade, other key UN bodies, such as the ECOSOC and Human Rights Council, contributed to the Organization's work in this area.

Annex II

Supplementary information: activities of United Nations entities in support of the United Nations Global Counter-Terrorism Strategy***

Many United Nations entities under the UN Counter-Terrorism Task Force framework actively work to implement the four pillars of the UN Global Counter-Terrorism Strategy. This attachment shows some of the major activities these entities have carried out over the last two years.

Pillar I: Measures to address conditions conducive to the spread of terrorism

Pillar I of the Global Counter-Terrorism Strategy commits Member States to implement measures to address conditions conducive to the spread of terrorism such as preventing and resolving conflicts, encouraging economic development, reducing social exclusion and marginalization, and fostering understanding among peoples of varied religions and cultures through dialogue. It also emphasizes the need to support victims of terrorism and their families, and in supporting and engaging with civil society groups, particularly women and youth.

Conflict prevention and resolution

The Department of Political Affairs (DPA) is the operational arm for much of my good offices, preventive diplomacy, and mediation work. This work is perhaps best exemplified by my special envoys, advisers and representatives, whether they lead regional political offices (in West Africa, Central Africa and Central Asia), regional strategies (in the Great Lakes Region, in support of the Middle East Peace Process), or are dispatched from Headquarters. Country-specific field-based missions, be they political or peacekeeping missions led, respectively by DPA and DPKO, also undertake preventive work as they look to identify and address possible triggers for a relapse or an escalation of conflict.

Where the United Nations has neither an envoy nor a mission, Resident Coordinators and the United Nations Country Teams assist national actors, at their request, in addressing emerging challenges. The Joint DPA-UNDP Programme on Building National Capacities for Conflict Prevention supports local capacity building in this vein. UNDP and several United Nations agencies, funds and programmes carry out a wide range of “structural” or “upstream” prevention activities aimed at addressing the root causes of conflict. In my capacity as Chair of the United Nations System Chief Executives Board for Coordination, I am engaging the broader United Nations system on how we can collectively strengthen our conflict prevention and peacebuilding work. Lastly, my Human Rights Up Front initiative has at its core a strong focus on prevention of large-scale human rights violations, which are often correlated with an increased risk of conflict.

Promoting economic and social development

Since its founding, the United Nations system has continued its support in this area through its specialised Agencies, Funds and Programmes, and particularly through its UN Country Teams in the field. I extend my sincere gratitude to all Member States as well as the United Nations system for working diligently over the last 15 years to successfully achieve the Millennium Development Goals. Moving forward, I am firm in my belief that the new 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development and particularly, SDG16 on building peaceful, just and inclusive societies, will further contribute our efforts to address one of the key conditions conducive to the spread of terrorism.

UNDP's approach to addressing conditions conducive to the spread of terrorism and violent extremism through inclusive development, the promotion of tolerance and respect for diversity serves as an example of our work in the field. It has been assisting Member States and civil society on building two critical sets of capacities: the governance of increasingly diverse and multi-cultural societies, and the mitigation of those factors that provide a tipping point from alienation towards radicalisation and eventually violent extremism. For example, in Mindanao in the Philippines, UNDP is supporting efforts by the Philippines Centre for Islam and Democracy to work with local religious leaders to woo disenchanted youth away from joining violent extremist groups, towards supporting peace-building in their communities. In Syria, UNDP has supported efforts in twelve out of the country's fourteen governorates to maintain social cohesion, through credible local intermediaries and local peace committees, by assisting different groups and sectors to work together to maintain local services. UNDP focuses particularly on the role of youth in peacebuilding. For example, in Bosnia and Herzegovina, UNDP and PBSO have collaborated to promote coexistence, trust and appreciation for diversity, by creating spaces to increase the influence of youth in policy dialogues.

Fostering dialogue and understanding

In 2015 the High Representative of the UN Alliance of Civilizations (UNOAC) continued his efforts to promote interreligious and intercultural dialogue. In this regard, the Secretary-General, the President of the General Assembly and the UNOAC High Representative hosted a high level debate in April 2015 on the role of religious leaders on issues related to conflict and violent extremism. UNOAC also supported dialogue and understanding efforts through its Fellowship Programme for young civil society leaders from around the world, and through institutionalizing of an Intercultural Innovation Award.

In April 2015 the United Nations Office on Genocide Prevention and the Responsibility to Protect, with the support of the King Abdullah Centre for Intercultural and Interreligious Dialogue and the Kingdom of Morocco, brought together religious leaders from around the world to discuss their role in preventing incitement to atrocity crimes.

Other activities

In December 2014, UNICRI jointly organised in Rome, Italy, together with the Global Counterterrorism Forum (GCTF), the first "Expert Workshop on Reintegrating Returning Foreign Terrorist Fighters: Challenges and Lessons Learned". A follow-up regional workshop was held in Manila, the Philippines. UNICRI has also been working in the area of de-radicalisation of prisoners and is developing re-entry programming for such prisoners, as well as for returning FTFs.

UNICRI also recently launched a four-year programme to counter radicalisation and violent extremism in the Sahel Maghreb region.

In January 2016, UNICRI initiated work toward developing and implementing a pilot diversion program for juveniles who are at risk or first time involved in FTF activities. In the first step, UNICRI finalised the preliminary desk review on the legal background/conditions in five countries (i.e., Bosnia and Herzegovina, Kenya, Morocco, Nigeria, Tunisia).

In May 2015, UNCCT supported UNESCO, the UNCT Pakistan and the Prime Minister of Pakistan's Youth Programme to convene a Needs Assessment Conference in Islamabad, Pakistan, on Youth Engagement, Skills Development and Employment Facilitation. The project aims to address needs of educational institutions to include technical skills, vocational training to promote of spirit of dialogue, understanding and skills development.

In June 2015, UNESCO convened in Paris an international conference on "Youth and the Internet: fighting radicalisation and extremism". UNESCO is also developing a Teachers' Guide on Violent Extremism, which is expected to be finalized in early 2016.

CTED has prepared six analytical reports on the foreign terrorist fighter phenomenon; raised awareness of the need to ensure full implementation of resolution 2178 (2014) through a wide range of events and activities; and enhanced its collaboration with UN Women and integrated gender as a cross-cutting issue into its activities. To strengthen its capacity to continuously monitor emerging developments, CTED has, pursuant to paragraph 19 of resolution 2129 (2013), established a Global Research Network.

Pillar II: Measures to prevent and combat terrorism

UN entities have stepped up engagement with Member States on a number of Pillar II topics, especially enhancing border control, countering the financing of terrorism and collaborating with regional organisations to develop regional counter-terrorism strategies.

Many UN entities under the umbrella of the CTITF framework, such as UNCCT, CTED, the 1540 Group of Experts, ODA, INTERPOL, OPCW, UNODC and others work to deliver capacity-building initiatives and knowledge-building undertakings. As part of the growing focus on stemming the flow of FTFs, the United Nations has launched or expanded major initiatives on building capacity of border officials and financial regulators. The recent resolutions of the Security Council, including resolution 2253 (2016), provide an impetus to the efforts related to countering the financing of terrorism, and the UNCCT has commenced activities related to addressing the growing threat from kidnapping for ransom in this regard. Keeping ahead of tactics employed by terrorists, the UN system has also carried out activities related to enhancing coordinated border management and addressing weaknesses in border control, especially with regards to securing unmanned spaces between distant border posts. The UN is also keen to explore work in sharing national practices on protecting cyberspace from terrorist attacks.

Activities on law enforcement and border control

The UNCCT Border Security Initiative, which is being implemented jointly with GCTF, and the Governments of Morocco and the United States, will enhance knowledge on good practices in border security and management and increase understanding of capacity needs in key regions and offer ways to address them. The project will also enhance collaboration with border communities and relevant authorities, with particular focus on the Sahel and Horn of Africa.

As a follow-up to the CTITF Experts Meeting on Coordinated Border Management, which took place at INTERPOL HQ in May 2015, the CTITF Working Group on Border Management and Law Enforcement held a subsequent workshop on coordinated border management in Nairobi, Kenya in December 2015.

Activities on preventing and responding to WMD attacks

To improve the ability of the UN system to respond to possible chemical or biological attacks the UNCCT implemented a project entitled ‘Ensuring effective inter-agency interoperability and coordinated communication in case of chemical or biological attacks’ jointly with OPCW and IAEA.

The IAEA established two Working Groups open to Member States to improve coordination of efforts in two areas -the Border Monitor Working Group (BMWG), and the Working Group on Radioactive Source Security (WGRSS). It also trained over 6000 individuals in nuclear security in over 200 courses and workshops. It assisted States in establishing Nuclear Security Support Centres, and continued to organise and facilitate meetings for the International Network for Nuclear Security Training and Support Centres (NSSC Network).

The UN Office for Disarmament Affairs (ODA) contributed to the efforts of the Security Council Committee established pursuant to resolution 1540 (2004) to enhance its engagement with Member States and their implementation efforts. Over 60 events in this regard have been held during the last two years. These activities have led to 21 Member States submitting voluntary national implementation action plans as encouraged by Resolution 1977 (2011).

Activities on combating the financing of terrorism

The UNCCT also launched a project on ‘International Good Practices on Addressing and Preventing Kidnapping for Ransom (KFR)’ which seeks to contribute to curbing the ability of terrorist organisations to raise funds through KFR. The Centre is also supporting a UNODC implemented project on ‘Mock Trials on Financing of Terrorism’ which seeks strengthen capacity of criminal justice officials in Argentina and Colombia to counter the financing of terrorism.

Activities on protecting vulnerable targets, critical infrastructure and the Internet

INTERPOL is developing a proactive SOCMINT (Social Media Intelligence) program, with both analytical and operational components, to support member countries to address the challenges and opportunities created by increasing use of internet and other information tools by terrorist groups such as ISIL.

Under the CTITF Working Group on Strengthening the Protection of Vulnerable Targets, the CTITF Office undertook a project to deliver capacity-building trainings to UN field security officers.

Pillar III: Measures to build States' capacity to prevent and combat terrorism and to strengthen the role of the United Nations system in this regard

Pillar III recognizes that States need to have the capacity to prevent and combat terrorism, and that international assistance in that regard must be provided in a coordinated and coherent manner. It specifically envisages a strong role for the UN in the provision and coordination of such coherent assistance in all four pillars of the Global Strategy. The CTITF's Integrated Assistance in Countering Terrorism (I-ACT) initiative, described in the main report, is designed specifically to provide holistic assistance to a requesting State by strengthening coordination and coherence among all UN entities working in that country.

Enhancing the implementation of legal and international instruments, providing legal assistance and enhancing the capacity of criminal justice officials and law enforcement officers

Most Member States visited by CTED continue to experience difficulties in their efforts to implement a robust criminal justice system framework for dealing with complex terrorism cases. CTED and other relevant UN entities continue to provide necessary assistance to Member States in this area.

DPKO and DPA-led field missions have also contributed in this regard. The United Nations Stabilization Mission in Mali (MINUSMA) supported the elaboration of a national strategy to counter both organised crime and terrorism, and supported the Government in the establishment of a specialised judicial unit on terrorism and transnational organised crime (Pôle Judiciaire Spécialisé). In Afghanistan, UNAMA worked closely with the Taqnin legislative Department at the MoJ and the parliament to draft new laws and/or amend existing laws in relation to terrorism. In Libya, UNSMIL provided technical assistance to the national MOJ while drafting the Libyan counter terrorism law in 2014. In Syria, UNSMIS reviewed the amendments of the Syrian counter terrorism law (2012) and highlighted the deficiency and contravention of its provisions with the international standards of human rights and due process.

UNODC has continued to promote the ratification of the 19 international legal instruments related to terrorism and to support Member States with their implementation. Since the establishment of the Global Programme on Strengthening the Legal Regime against Terrorism, UNODC's support resulted in 668 additional ratifications of the international legal instruments by assisted Member States, 139 pieces of legislation revised or drafted with UNODC assistance and more than 24,000 criminal justice officials provided with the enhanced knowledge and expertise in terrorism prevention issues. In 2015, legislative services were provided to 25 Member States, and more than 100 national and regional capacity building workshops were carried out. In 2015 UNODC in partnership with the EU and other donors launched a technical assistance initiative on Strengthening the Legal Regime against Foreign Terrorist Fighters in MENA and Balkan countries. Similar assistance was commenced for Central Asia, South East Asia and the Sahel. In addition, UNODC, in coordination with UNICEF, also initiated assistance to Cameroon, Chad, Niger and Nigeria on the criminal justice aspects of treatment of children allegedly involved with terrorist groups.

UNODC has been also implementing a project on strengthening national capacity for human rights compliance in criminal justice responses to terrorism. A training module on Human Rights and Criminal Justice Responses to Terrorism has been developed and considerably utilized in training and development of country-specific training materials, for example in Kenya and Nigeria. Ongoing technical assistance in the MENA region was complemented with a four-year initiative for Maghreb countries on Effective Counter-Terrorism Investigations and Prosecutions while Respecting Human Rights and the Rule of Law. A similar project has been successfully implemented for eight South Asian countries. UNODC has also launched a project to assist Member States upon request to improve the response of prison administrations to violent extremism in prisons, and it has been working on a comprehensive handbook on this topic to be used as a basis for such assistance.

By the end of 2015 UNODC/TPB has developed and integrated in its technical assistance programmes 38 tools and publications to support the implementation of the international legal instruments related to terrorism. The latest publications developed include Good Practices for Supporting Victims of Terrorism within a Criminal Justice Framework.

Other activities

The UNCCT has established a rapidly deployable List of Counter-Terrorism Advisors to support Member States on four key thematic areas: developing counter-terrorism strategies, countering radicalisation, vulnerable targets and victims support.

Through its project on ‘Facilitating the Development of a Regional Counter-Terrorism Strategy for Southern Africa’ the UNCCT worked with SADC Member States to develop a preventive and comprehensive regional counter-terrorism strategy for Southern Africa, which was adopted in August 2015. Likewise, the Centre, working closely with CTED and UNOCA, supported the development of an Integrated Counter-Terrorism and Non-Proliferation of Arms Strategy in Central Africa, which was adopted in [November] 2015. The Centre continued its work to fostering international counter-terrorism cooperation and promoting collaboration between national, regional and international counter-terrorism centres and initiatives, including by organising a conference of such CT Centres in Brussels and developing the Network against Terrorism web portal.

Pillar IV: Measures to ensure the protection of human rights and the rule of law while combating terrorism

Pillar IV of the Global Strategy calls on Member States to respect human rights, fundamental freedoms and the rule of law in all their counter-terrorism efforts. Pillar IV also seeks to promote and protect the rights of victims of terrorism.

Basic human rights reference guides

Under the CTITF Working Group led by OHCHR, progress has been made in the development of a series of reference guides for providing practical guidance for national action on human rights-compliant counter-terrorism measures. UNCCT has supported the updating of the reference guides on the stopping and searching of persons and on security infrastructure. Other relevant reference guides are in process of publication.

Support for victims of terrorism

CTITF/UNCCT organised the Conference on The Human Rights of Victims of Terrorism was held in New York on 11 February 2016, which strengthened understanding of the human rights of victims of terrorism at the international, regional and national level.

The UNCCT project on “Amplifying voices, building campaigns: Training and capacity building on the media in establishing a communications strategy for victims of terrorism” will hold the first two workshops in the Middle East and North Africa/Sahel regions in the second and third quarter of 2016.

The UN Victims of Terrorism Support Portal, launched during the fourth review of the Strategy, has had over 121,000 guest users by January 2016.

UNODC has been working with Member States to strengthen the implementation of national legislation and policies that support and protect victims of acts of terrorism. To maximize the impact of its technical assistance in this area, it has developed specialized tools, such as The Criminal Justice Response to Support Victims of Acts of Terrorism and Good Practices for Supporting Victims of Terrorism within a Criminal Justice Framework, that are fully integrated in UNODC’s provision of assistance.

Further activities to implement all the four pillars of the UN Global Counter-Terrorism Strategy are reflected in the summary matrix below:

Supplementary information: Matrix of United Nations Counter-Terrorism Projects and Activities

This summary matrix of counter-terrorism projects being carried out by UN entities under the CTITF framework is based on a more comprehensive CTITF matrix which was developed to promote transparency among UN agencies, ensure more rational allocation of resources to counter terrorism projects and avoid overlaps and duplication. The summary matrix provides a snapshot of the range and breadth of counter-terrorism-related assistance of the United Nations and is hoped to facilitate an efficient and balanced provision of capacity-building assistance across the four pillars of the Strategy. The global reach of these projects, covering diverse subregions such as West Africa, South Asia, Eastern Europe and the Middle East, demonstrates the resourcefulness of UN entities and the opportunities available for pooling resources and synergies. As such, it serves as a valuable source of information for programming, monitoring and evaluating projects.

This CTITF Matrix of UN Counter-Terrorism Projects and Activities includes essential information on all United Nations Counter-Terrorism Projects and Activities being carried out or planned by CTITF Entities. The Matrix is a practical information tool and a live data-base updated regularly by the CTITF Office in consultation with CTITF entities. As of December 2015, CTITF Entities have a total of 295 projects across the 4 pillars of the Strategy: 110 projects under Pillar I; 57 projects under Pillar II; 108 projects under Pillar III and 20 projects under Pillar IV.

The CTITF matrix shows that the United Nations counter-terrorism projects and activities have significantly expanded its geographical scope since 2014. Most projects currently are under Pillars I and III, which indicates that CTITF entities acknowledge importance to address the conditions conducive to spread of terrorism with a particular emphasis on youth, and to undertake necessary measures to build states' capacity to combat and prevent terrorism. Projects under Pillar II have more than doubled in number since the emergence of a new phenomenon of FTFs, and encompass important topics related to border controls, countering the financing of terrorism, spread of WMD, and information sharing capacities of member states. Pillar III projects have enlarged the scope of capacity-building activities, including strengthening law enforcement and criminal justice system capacities and enhancing collaboration among states and relevant institutions. The Matrix indicates a significant improvement in the collaborative work of member states and relevant agencies in terms of protection of human rights and the rule of law while countering terrorism (Pillar IV).
