Lettre datée du 19 juillet 2022, adressée au Secrétaire général par le Chargé d'affaires par intérim de la Mission permanente de la Fédération de Russie auprès de l'Organisation
des Nations Unies

Je voudrais une fois de plus appeler votre attention sur l'activité illégale et scandaleuse affichée par le projet en ligne Mirotvorets (« Pacificateur », site Web : <https://myrotvorets.center>), qui est géré par des nationalistes et des radicaux ukrainiens avec le soutien clair et inéquivoque des autorités de Kiev. Lancé en 2014, ce projet a pour but de divulguer les données personnelles de prétendus ennemis de l'Ukraine pour qu'ils puissent être ainsi intimidés, menacés, voire tués par des militants d'extrême-droite. Ces dernières années, ce sont plus de 240 000 personnes, dont des politiques, des journalistes et des défenseurs des droits humains, qui ont été mis sur une liste noire au titre de ce projet. En violation des dispositions du droit international et de la législation nationale, les propriétaires de ce site Web ont publié les données personnelles de ces personnes, notamment les renseignements figurant dans leur passeport, leur adresse permanente, leurs numéros de téléphone et des liens vers leurs comptes sur les réseaux sociaux, mettant ainsi leur vie en danger.

Il est particulièrement consternant de voir que des enfants et des adolescents sont eux aussi devenus les cibles du projet Mirotvorets. Nous nous en sommes inquiétés dans les lettres que nous avons adressées, les 18 octobre 2021 et 4 janvier 2022, à Henrietta Fore, la Directrice générale du Fonds des Nations Unies pour l'enfance (UNICEF). À cette occasion, nous avons exprimé les craintes que nous inspirait le cas de Faina Savenkova, une écrivaine de 13 ans originaire de Lougansk, dont les données personnelles, y compris l'adresse de son domicile, avaient été publiées sur le site Web de Mirotvorets. Faina elle-même vous a également écrit à ce sujet. Hélas, nous ne pouvons que constater que l'intervention de l'UNICEF, qui était de pure forme, n'a visiblement rien changé à une situation qui met en danger la sécurité et le bien-être d'une enfant. Tous les dossiers ici mentionnés sont joints à la présente, pour référence (voir annexe).

En outre, force est de constater qu'en n'intervenant pas comme elle le devait, l'Organisation des Nations Unies a contribué à l'aggravation de la situation. Des organisations non gouvernementales (ONG) russes ont récemment découvert que les noms d'au moins 327 enfants et adolescents figurent désormais dans la base de données de Mirotvorets. En réalité, ces chiffres sont probablement bien plus importants. Les résultats des recherches menées par nos ONG sont recueillis dans l'annexe.

Nous réaffirmons que la pratique malveillante qui consiste à divulguer les données personnelles de mineurs, sur laquelle les autorités de Kiev ferment les yeux, est absolument inacceptable et doit être condamnée par l'ONU car elle représente une menace immédiate pour la sécurité des enfants.

C'est pourquoi nous vous demandons de prendre les mesures qui s'imposent pour appeler l'attention des autorités ukrainiennes sur les activités criminelles menées au titre du projet Mirotvorets et les contraindre à fermer le compte.

Je vous serais obligé de bien vouloir faire distribuer le texte de la présente lettre et de son annexe comme document de l'Assemblée générale, au titre du point 70 de l'ordre du jour, et du Conseil de sécurité.

Compte tenu des informations sensibles communiquées dans les documents figurant dans l'annexe, je vous saurais gré de faire circuler la présente sans les pièces jointes qui contiennent des données personnelles.

Le Chargé d'affaires par intérim
(Signé) Dmitry Polyanskiy

No. 3075 /n

New York, "18" October 2021

Dear Ms. Fore,

Attachment

Please find attached a letter addressed to H.E. Mr. António Guterres, Secretary-General UN, by Faina Savenkova, a child writer from Eastern Ukraine (Donbass). Despite being only 12 years old she is already quite well known for a number of her fairy-tales and science-fiction books. She lives in Lugansk. This city didn't recognize 2014 coup in Ukraine and had to face, together with Donetsk, a large-scale Ukrainian military operation which resulted in ongoing civil war.

Faina had nothing to do with this, she is just a normal kid going to school. She like other kids of Donbass lives under the threat of a possible shelling by Ukrainian army which has already took the life of dozens of kids in her neighborhood.

Being a writer, she describes what she sees in her posts on social media. In June this year on the occasion of the World children day she recorded an appeal to the members of the Security Council asking them not to forget about the children of Donbass. She is not engaged in politics, she just wants peace for her land.

The reason she wrote to the Secretary General is that she suddenly discovered that her name was included into the infamous "Mirotvorets" (Peacemaker) web-site, managed by Ukrainian nationalists and radicals with a clear support from officials in Kiev. This site was launched in 2014 to provide personal data of alleged "enemies of Ukraine" so that any extremist could find them and their relatives and intimidate or threaten their life. And Faina's home address is now on display at this site. It means that her life is in danger, and this threat is real. Hundreds of people were persecuted or even killed by Ukrainian radicals after appearing in the database of this site.

The fact that a 12-year old girl is being treated as an enemy of Ukraine is very illustrative. It shows with whom Kiev is in reality waging a war in Donbass: with children, women, peaceful civilians. They suffer most from Ukraine's refusal to implement Minsk agreements.

Faina has already submitted relevant questionnaire at the UNICEF web-site.

I hope that the UN will pay attention to this scandalous situation.

Please accept, Ms. Fore, the assurances of my highest consideration.

To: His Excellency António Guterres, Secretary-
General United Nations, United Nations
Headquarters New York, NY 10017.

Dear Mr. Guterres,

My name is Faina Savenkova, I am 12 (twelve) and I live in the city of Lugansk, Donbass.

Unfortunately, more than a half of my life has been spent in the conditions of war (sometimes more active, sometimes almost invisible for an outsider). Just like many children of my generation, I hardly remember the pre-war life of my region and the word "peaceful life" sounds as something unattainable.

This is the subject of my many essays and prose works which are published in Russia and, thanks to my friends, sometimes get translated into foreign languages.

In my texts I advocate the end of the war in Donbass, which I know mostly through the suffering of peaceful citizens, children in the first place.

Hence I decided to turn to the UN on the Day of Protection of Children. My plea to your Organization is to ask you to stop the shootouts, to save human lives, that are still lost in Lugansk and Donetsk every day.

But the war does not limit itself to shootouts and bombings. Just recently a Ukrainian self-styled site Mirotvorets (Peacemaker) declared me an unwanted person in Ukraine and published my personal data in the Internet. The Ukrainian government does not condemn or cut short the activity of this site, so the "Peacemaker" declared me an enemy of Ukraine. I am accused of participating in anti-Ukrainian public affairs campaigns and of spreading "fake" information.

This is not true, it is a lie whose aim is to make Ukrainian population hate me, to intimidate and denigrate me.

But now I am afraid for my life, and I am worried about my life, my health and the security of my family.

On October 13 I made a public appeal to Vladimir Zelensky, the president of Ukraine. I asked him to outlaw and block the "Peacemaker" site – there is more than enough legal reasons for such a move.

But the "Peacemaker" continues to operate. What is worse, it updates and makes more detailed the information on my family, deeply hurting me and my loved ones.

Unfortunately, I am not the only child who became a victim of the "Peacemaker"'s aggression. This site often publishes the personal data of the children like me.

I read about the activity of the UNICEF foundation, so I turn to you asking to influence the Ukrainian government pushing pushing it towards the fastest possible blocking of the Peacemaker's site in Ukraine, as well as its possible "mirror offsprings". Please, help me to force the Ukrainian government to fulfill its own laws. Children are protected by the law in almost every country in the world now. Now, please, add this "protection by action". Children should not become victims of harassment and psychological violence on the part of he adults.

Yours,

Faina Savenkova

Dear Ms. Fore,

I would like to draw your attention to ongoing violations of the rights of the children in Ukraine whose personal data is being published on the infamous website “Myrotvorets” (Peacemaker), managed by Ukrainian nationalists. This website was launched in 2014 to publicly reveal private information of alleged “enemies of Ukraine” to keep them intimidated, threatened and even killed by ultra-right supporters or sympathisers.

We have already raised this issue following the public disclosure of data of Ms. Faina Savenkova, a 13-year old writer from the Eastern Ukraine. We very much appreciate your heartfelt reaction to this scandalous case in your letter dated October 29, 2021 (attached). Officials and media both in Russia and Ukraine took great interest in UNICEF’s engagement in this situation. We talked to Faina and she was very much looking forward to meeting Mr. Murat Sahin, UNICEF’s representative in Ukraine, as was envisaged in your letter. Unfortunately this meeting still hasn't taken place, which is the reason of big disappointment for those who promote rights of children in Russia and Ukraine.

We have been recently informed that the personal data of at least three more children is on display at "Myrotvorets" (respective screenshots are attached to this letter, please handle this data confidentially).

Clearly this is only a tip of the iceberg and a meticulous search will produce many more results. It means that the case of Faina is not an isolated episode but rather an evidence of a consistent trend.

This is deeply concerning and is a clear violation of Article 16 of the Convention on the Rights of the Child (CRC) which states that "no child shall be subjected to arbitrary or unlawful interference with his or her privacy, family, home or correspondence, nor to unlawful attacks on his or her honour and reputation". Since CRC is at the heart of UNICEF's work we strongly believe that this violation shouldn't go unnoticed.

In this respect we would like to request UNICEF to publicly address this issue and appeal to the removal of any data of children from "Myrotvorets".

We would also like to ask your personal engagement in the case of Ms. Faina Savenkova in order to organize her in person meeting with one of the designated representatives of UNICEF office in Ukraine.

Please accept, Ms. Fore, the assurances of my highest consideration.
