I. DRAFT DECISION RECOMMENDED FOR ADOPTION BY THE ECONOMIC AND SOCIAL COUNCIL

Situation of human rights in East Timor

The Economic and Social Council takes note of Commission on Human Rights resolution S-4/1 of 27 September 1999, and endorses the Commission's call upon the Secretary-General to establish an international commission of inquiry, with adequate representation of Asian experts, in order, in cooperation with the Indonesian National Commission on Human Rights and thematic rapporteurs, to gather and compile systematically information on possible violations of human rights and acts which may constitute breaches of international humanitarian law committed in East Timor since the announcement in January 1999 of the vote and to provide the Secretary-General with its conclusions with a view to enabling him to make recommendations on future actions, and to make the report of the commission of inquiry available to the Security Council, the General Assembly and the Commission on Human Rights at its fifty-sixth session;

The Council also takes note of the decision of the Commission to request the Special Rapporteur on extrajudicial, summary or arbitrary executions, the Representative of the Secretary-General on internally displaced persons, the Special Rapporteur on the question of torture, the Special Rapporteur on violence against women, its causes and consequences, and the Working Group on Enforced or Involuntary Disappearances to carry out missions to East Timor and report on their findings to the Commission on Human Rights at its fifty-sixth session and, on an interim basis, to the General Assembly at its fifty-fourth session, and to request the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights to prepare a comprehensive programme of technical cooperation in the field of human rights, in cooperation with other United Nations activities, focusing especially on capacity-building and reconciliation with a view to a durable solution to the problems in East Timor.

II. RESOLUTION ADOPTED BY THE COMMISSION
AT ITS FOURTH SPECIAL SESSION

1999/S-4/1. Situation of human rights in East Timor

The Commission on Human Rights,

Meeting in special session,

Guided by the principles embodied in the Charter of the United Nations, the Universal Declaration of Human Rights, the International Covenants on Human Rights, the Convention against Torture and

Other Cruel, Inhuman or Degrading Treatment or Punishment, the Convention on the Rights of the Child, international humanitarian law, including the Geneva Conventions of 12 August 1949 for the protection of war victims and the Additional Protocols thereto of 1977, and other relevant international human rights instruments,

Conscious of its responsibility to promote and encourage respect for human rights and fundamental freedoms for all, and resolved to remain vigilant with regard to violations of human rights wherever they may occur and to prevent such violations,

Reaffirming that all States have an obligation to promote and protect human rights and fundamental freedoms as stated in the Charter of the United Nations and as elaborated in the Universal Declaration of Human Rights and other applicable human rights instruments,

Recalling the Agreement between the Republic of Indonesia and the Portuguese Republic on the question of East Timor (the overall agreement), signed in New York on 5 May 1999, and the agreements between the Governments of Indonesia and Portugal and the United Nations of the same date regarding the modalities for the popular consultation of the East Timorese through a direct ballot and regarding popular consultation (the security agreement) (A/53/951-S/1999/513, annexes I-III),

Deeply concerned by the human rights situation in East Timor, and in particular reports indicating that systematic, widespread and flagrant violations of human rights and international humanitarian law have been committed in East Timor, as well as the situation of displaced persons in East and West Timor and elsewhere in the region,

Recalling Security Council resolution 1264 (1999) of 15 September 1999 in which the Council demanded that those responsible for such acts be brought to justice,

Recalling also its previous resolutions and statements by the Chair of the Commission on Human Rights on the subject, the most recent of which was the statement by the Chair made on 23 April 1999 at the fifty-fifth session of the Commission (E/1999/23-E/CN.4/1999/167, chap. IX, para. 243),

Deeply concerned by the report of the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights following her visit to Darwin and Jakarta* and the information provided by the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees and non-governmental organizations concerning the human rights and humanitarian situation in East Timor,

* This document will be issued subsequently as a document of the fifty-sixth session of the Commission.

1. Welcomes:

(a) The decision of the Government of Indonesia to allow the exercise by the East Timorese of their right of self-determination and the massive participation of the East Timorese in the free and fair popular consultation of 30 August 1999, as well as the announcement by the Government of Indonesia on 4 September 1999 of its intention to honour and accept the result of the popular consultation;

(b) The efforts deployed by the Secretary-General in promoting the consultation and in trying to implement fully the Agreement between the Republic of Indonesia and the Portuguese Republic on the question of East Timor and the expressed commitment of the Government of Indonesia to cooperate with the international community;

(c) The invitation by the Government of Indonesia of an international force and its deployment in East Timor as well as the contribution of all States, in particular those in the region, to restoring peace and security;

(d) The efforts of the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights in addressing the situation, including her visit to Darwin and Jakarta;

(e) The assurances given by the Indonesian authorities that the displaced persons have the freedom to exercise their right to return voluntarily, the assurances regarding the activities of the Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees and other international humanitarian organizations, including the security of the personnel of the Office of the High Commissioner, and the further assurances regarding free access to all displaced persons, in particular in West Timor;

(f) The humanitarian response to the current crisis;

(c) At the violence and intimidation directed against international agencies as well as most of the independent media;

(d) At the lack of effective measures to deter or prevent militia violence and the reported collusion between the militias and members of the Indonesian armed forces and police in East Timor;

4. Affirms that all persons who commit or authorize violations of human rights or international humanitarian law are individually responsible and accountable for those violations and that the international community will exert every effort to ensure that those responsible are brought to justice, while affirming that the primary responsibility for bringing perpetrators to justice rests with national judicial systems;

(d) To request the High Commissioner to keep the Commission informed of developments.

III. ORGANIZATION OF THE WORK OF THE SESSION

1. The Economic and Social Council, in its resolution 1990/48 of 25 May 1990, authorized the Commission on Human Rights to meet exceptionally between its regular sessions, provided that a majority of the members of the Commission so agreed.

2. The Economic and Social Council, by its decision 1993/286 of 28 July 1993, adopted at its substantive session the "Procedure for special sessions of the Commission on Human Rights".

3. By a letter dated 9 September 1999, addressed to the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights, the Permanent Representative of Portugal to the United Nations Office at Geneva, on behalf of the Government of Portugal, requested that a special session of the Commission be convened to discuss the situation in East Timor.

4. Pursuant to Economic and Social Council decision 1993/286, the States members of the Commission were requested, by a note verbale dated 9 September 1999, to indicate their wishes in regard to the request of the Government of Portugal, with a view to ascertaining whether the majority of the members agreed to the holding of a special session. A majority of 27 States members of the Commission having been deemed to have supported the convening of a special session, the Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights communicated to member States that the fourth special session of the Commission would be held on 23 and 24 September 1999. A number of States, both members and non-members of the Commission, registered strong reservations as to whether the required majority to convene a special session was achieved and about the procedure that ensued to ascertain that majority, as placed in the relevant summary records.

A. Opening and duration of the session

5. The Commission held its fourth special session at the United Nations Office at Geneva on 23, 24 and 27 September 1999. It held six meetings (E/CN.4/1999/S-4/SR.1-6) 1/ during the session.

6. The fourth special session was opened by Ms. Anne Anderson (Ireland), Chairperson of the Commission at its fifty-fifth session.

7. At its 1st meeting, on 23 September 1999, the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights made a statement.

B. Attendance

8. The session was attended by representatives of States members of the Commission, by observers for other States Members of the United Nations and

14. At its 1st meeting, the Commission considered the organization of its work.

15. The Commission accepted the recommendation of its officers regarding limitation of the frequency and duration of statements. Members of the Commission were limited to one statement of 10 minutes. In case of joint statements by States or non-governmental organizations, more time, within reasonable limits, would be given to the speakers. If, after a collective statement exceeding 10 minutes, some States wished to take the floor again, they would be given half the time normally accorded.

16. The Commission also accepted the recommendation that if a group of States comprises both members of the Commission and observers, the group statement could be inscribed on the speakers' list for members even if the State making the statement does not have membership status.

17. The Commission further accepted the recommendation that, with regard to rights of reply, a limitation of two replies, 5 minutes for the first and 3 minutes for the second, at the end of the day or at the end of the general debate on any particular item(s), would be observed.

18. The Commission followed the practice established at its previous special sessions, whereby the requirement stipulated in rule 52 of the rules of procedure of the functional commissions of the Economic and Social Council that proposals and substantive amendments be discussed or put to the vote no earlier than 24 hours after copies had been circulated to all members, was waived.

F. Resolution and documentation
