|             |  | Detailed information, including the lateststatistical data, is also requested on theprogressive realization of economic, social andcultural rights in East Jerusalem, keeping in mindthe concerns raised by the Committee in therelevant paragraphs of the concludingobservations. In addition, the Committee alsorequests updated information on the target datesfor recognizing unrecognized villages and anoutline plan for the delivery of basic servicesincluding water, electricity, access roads, healthcare and primary education, to which the villagersare entitled as citizens of Israel. The Committeerequests that the additional information alsoinclude an update on the Outline Plan of Ein Hodand progress in the recognition of Arab El-Na'im,as well as an update on the Jahalin Bedouinscamped in Abu Dis who are awaiting a courtdecision on their resettlement. The Committeerequests the submission of detailed additionalinformation in this respect in time for thetwenty-third session of the Committee inNovember and December 2000 (para. 32). |              |  |

|             |  | Organizations in Geneva, reminded the State partythat the concluding observations requested thesubmission of additional information in time forthe Committee's twenty-fourth session(November-December 2000). Further, theCommittee emphasized that some of the additionalinformation, especially the material concerningthe occupied territories, was requested "in order tocomplete the State party's initial report andthereby ensure full compliance with its reportingobligations" (para. 32). In light of all thecircumstances, its concluding observations and thecurrent crisis in Israel and the occupied territories,the Committee resolved at itstwenty-fourth session to consider at its next(twenty-fifth) session the situation in the OPT,with a view to assisting the State party conform toits obligations under the International Covenant onEconomic, Social and Cultural Rights.Accordingly, the Committee urged Israel tosubmit up-to-date information on economic, socialand cultural rights in the occupied territories by1 March 2001. This information should giveparticular attention to the issues concerning theoccupied territories that were identified in theconcluding observations, as well as thosementioned in the Committee's letter. TheCommittee decided to consider the additionalinformation, and any other reliable material |          | Geneva in its noteverbale dated3 November 2000informed theCommittee that thesecond periodicreport " willinclude issuesreferred to, andinformationrequested by, theCESCR in itsconcludingobservations toIsrael's InitialReport ofNovember 1998".The Mission alsoinformed theCommittee that "It isexpected that thesecond periodicreport will be readyfor submission nolater thanMarch 2001." |
