2. To assess the implementation of relevant Security Council resolutions, in particular resolution 2051 (2012), and review the progress the Government of Yemen has made towards launching the National Dialogue Conference, restructuring the security and armed forces under a unified professional national leadership structure, ending all armed conflicts and addressing the economic as well as the humanitarian situation.
3. To consider the security situation in Yemen, including the ongoing work of the Government of Yemen to combat Al-Qaida in the Arabian Peninsula and to carry out security sector reforms.
4. To meet, discuss and evaluate the transition with a cross-section of Yemeni parties and international partners in Sana'a, including, if possible, the Gulf Cooperation Council and Yemeni actors, including civil society representatives.
5. To assess progress made towards activating pledges made in Riyadh on 4 September 2012 and at the Friends of Yemen ministerial meeting held in New York on 27 September 2012.
6. To reiterate the importance of immediate donor coordination and funding in order to alleviate the critical humanitarian situation in Yemen.
7. To recognize the many challenges still facing Yemen in the transition process and highlight the continued concern of the Security Council about those hindering or interfering in the transition, noting that resolution 2051 (2012) allows for the imposition of sanctions on spoilers.
8. To express strong support for the role of the international community in implementing the Gulf Cooperation Council initiative, including the five permanent members of the Security Council, the Gulf Cooperation Council, the representative of the European Union and the Secretary-General's Special Adviser and his good offices in Yemen.

The Council also welcomes the issuance of a decree regarding the formation of the Executive Bureau for the Mutual Accountability Framework.

The Council reiterates the need for the transitional period to be a Yemeni-led process, underpinned by a commitment to democracy, good governance, the rule of law, national reconciliation and respect for the human rights and fundamental freedoms of all people in Yemen.

The Council emphasizes the need for the National Dialogue Conference to be conducted in an inclusive manner involving the full participation of all segments of Yemeni society, including representatives from the south and other regions, and the full and effective participation of youth and women, as stipulated in the final report of the Preparatory Committee. The Council calls upon all parties to honour the timetable and benchmarks set out in the transition agreement and for all sides to act in good faith, in a peaceful, transparent, constructive and reconciliatory manner. The Council maintains its expectation that the National Dialogue Conference will lead to a constitutional referendum and elections by February 2014.

The Council urges all the parties in Yemen to adhere to resolving their differences through dialogue and consultation, reject acts of violence to achieve political goals, refrain from provocations and fully abide by resolutions 2014 (2011) and 2051 (2012). The Council expresses concern over reports of interference in the transition by individuals in Yemen representing the former regime, the former opposition and others who do not adhere to the guiding principles of the agreement on the implementation mechanism for the transition process, including former President Ali Abdullah Saleh and former Vice-President Ali Salim al-Beidh. The Council reiterates its readiness to consider further measures, including under Article 41 of the Charter of the United Nations, if actions aimed at undermining the Government of National Unity and the political transition continue.

The Council expresses concern over reports of money and weapons being brought into Yemen from outside for the purpose of undermining the transition.

The Council reaffirms its commitment to the unity, sovereignty, independence and territorial integrity of Yemen.

The Council urges the Government of Yemen to pass legislation on transitional justice to support reconciliation without further delay. The Council further urges the need to respect the rule of law and protect human rights in accordance with Yemen’s international legal obligations, particularly those of women and persons belonging to vulnerable groups, such as children. They take note of the intention expressed in your letter.

At its 6994th meeting, on 10 July 2013, the Council decided to invite the representative of Lebanon to participate, without vote, in accordance with rule 37 of its provisional rules of procedure, in the discussion of the item entitled:

“The situation in the Middle East

“Report of the Secretary-General on the implementation of Security Council resolution 1701 (2006) (S/2013/381)”.

At the same meeting, following consultations among members of the Security Council, the President made the following statement on behalf of the Council:¹⁹

The Security Council has been briefed by the United Nations Special Coordinator for Lebanon and the Under-Secretary-General for Peacekeeping Operations following the report of the Secretary-General on the implementation of Security Council resolution 1701 (2006).²⁰

The Council recalls all its previous resolutions and the statements by its President on the situation in Lebanon.

The Council is encouraged by the calm that continues to prevail across the Blue Line and in the area of operations of the United Nations Interim Force in Lebanon. It urges all parties to make every effort to ensure that the cessation of hostilities is sustained, and emphasizes the need for them to continue working with the Special Coordinator and the Force, including through the tripartite mechanism, to focus again on the goal of a permanent ceasefire and to reflect positively on ways forward on all outstanding issues in the implementation of Council resolutions 1559 (2004), 1680 (2006) and 1701 (2006) and other relevant Council resolutions. The Council also recalls the necessity for all parties to ensure the security of the contributing troops and that the freedom of movement of the Force is fully respected and unimpeded.

The Council expresses deep concern at all violations of the sovereignty of Lebanon and calls upon all parties to fully respect the sovereignty, territorial integrity, unity and political independence of Lebanon within its internationally recognized borders, in accordance with the relevant Council resolutions.

As the impact of the Syrian crisis on the stability and security of Lebanon becomes more and more apparent, the Council underscores its growing concern at the marked increase of cross-border fire from the Syrian Arab Republic into Lebanon, which caused death and injury among the Lebanese population, as well as incursions, abductions and arms trafficking across the Lebanese-Syrian border. The Council also expresses its concern at all other border violations. The Council echoes the protest by the President of Lebanon, Mr. Michel Sleiman, in his letter dated 19 June 2013,²¹ at such repeated shelling from the conflicting parties, including by the Syrian Arab Armed Forces and Syrian armed opposition groups, which violates the sovereignty and territorial integrity of Lebanon.

The Council further notes with deep concern new developments with regard to the involvement of Lebanese parties in the fighting in the Syrian Arab Republic. The Council calls upon all Lebanese parties to recommit to Lebanon's policy of disassociation, to stand united behind President Sleiman in this regard and to step back from any involvement in the Syrian crisis, consistent with their commitment in the Baabda Declaration of 11 June 2012.²² The Council further echoes President Sleiman's call upon the parties in the Syrian Arab Republic to avoid military action near the Lebanese border.

In the face of attempts to undermine the stability of the country, the Council encourages all parties in Lebanon to demonstrate renewed unity and determination to resist a slide into conflict and commends in this regard the continued efforts of President Sleiman to preserve the unity and stability of Lebanon and underlines that continued broad political support is needed for the institutions of the State.

The Council urges all parties in Lebanon to continue to engage with the Prime Minister designate, Mr. Tammam Salam, so as to allow the urgent formation of a government. The Council further encourages all Lebanese leaders to resume efforts to agree on arrangements for parliamentary elections, consistent with Lebanon's long-standing democratic tradition and in conformity with the legal and constitutional framework.

The Council also stresses the need to support the security and judicial authorities so as to combat impunity in respect of acts of violence. It also recalls the need to put an end to impunity in Lebanon and reiterates its full support for the work of the Special Tribunal for Lebanon and urges the Lebanese authorities to continue to meet their international obligations in this regard, including on financial matters. The Council calls upon all parties to fully cooperate with the Tribunal.

The Council also condemns recent violence by armed groups across Lebanon, including in Tripoli and Sidon, the latter of which left at least 16 soldiers dead and over 50 others wounded, and expresses condolences to the families of the victims. The Council also acknowledges the crucial role played by the Lebanese security and armed forces in extending and sustaining the authority of the State and responding to new security challenges. The Council calls upon Lebanon's leaders across the whole spectrum and Lebanese of all communities to offer every possible support to the Lebanese Armed Forces as a national and neutral institution and central pillar of the country's stability.

The Council is gravely concerned at the dramatic influx of refugees fleeing violence in the Syrian Arab Republic, now totalling over 587,000 Syrian refugees and an additional 65,500 Palestinian refugees in Lebanon. The Council commends Lebanon's generous efforts in hosting and assisting those refugees and encourages the establishment of fully empowered institutional structures to carry out planning, delivery and coordination responsibilities.

The Council stresses the need for strong, coordinated international support for Lebanon to help it to continue to withstand the multiple current challenges to its security and stability. It encourages increased international support to the Lebanese Armed Forces, in response to their recently launched capabilities development plan as well as in the context of the strategic dialogue between the Lebanese Armed Forces and the Force. It notes the particular urgency of assistance which would strengthen the capabilities of the Lebanese Armed Forces with respect to border control.

As for the refugee crisis, the Council underlines the need for assistance on an unprecedented scale, both to meet the needs of the refugees and of host communities, and to assist the Lebanese authorities, who face extraordinary financial and structural challenges as a result of the refugee influx. The Council calls in this regard upon the international community to provide the required assistance as swiftly as possible in response to the latest joint appeal of the United Nations and the Government of Lebanon and in this regard urges those Member States which committed themselves to providing funds to live up to their pledges.

“The situation in Cyprus

“Report of the Secretary-General on the United Nations operation in Cyprus (S/2013/7)”.

Resolution 2089 (2013) of 24 January 2013

The Security Council,

Welcoming the report of the Secretary-General of 7 January 2013 on the United Nations operation in Cyprus,²⁴

Noting that the Government of Cyprus has agreed that, in view of the prevailing conditions on the island, it is necessary to keep the United Nations Peacekeeping Force in Cyprus beyond 31 January 2013,

Noting also the intention of the Secretary-General to report on his good offices in the next reporting period, echoing the Secretary-General’s firm belief that the responsibility for finding a solution lies first and foremost with the Cypriots themselves, and reaffirming the primary role of the United Nations in assisting the parties to bring the Cyprus conflict and division of the island to a comprehensive and durable settlement,

Welcoming the progress made so far in the fully fledged negotiations, and the leaders’ joint statements, including those of 23 May and 1 July 2008,

Recalling the importance that the international community attaches to all parties engaging fully, flexibly and constructively in the negotiations, noting that the move towards a more intensive phase of negotiations has not yet resulted in an enduring, comprehensive and just settlement based on a bicomunal, bizonal federation with political equality, as set out in the relevant Security Council resolutions, encouraging the sides to resume the substantive negotiations on the core issues, and stressing that the status quo is unsustainable,

Welcoming the efforts of the Secretary-General to stimulate progress during his meetings with the two leaders on 30 and 31 October 2011 and 23 and 24 January 2012, and expressing continued support for his efforts,

Noting the need to advance the consideration of and discussions on military confidence-building measures, and calling for renewed efforts to implement all remaining confidence-building measures and for agreement on and implementation of further steps to build trust between the communities, ²³ Resolutions or decisions on this question were first adopted by the Security Council in 1963.

Reaffirming the importance of continued crossings of the Green Line by Cypriots, and encouraging the opening by mutual agreement of other crossing points,

Convinced of the many important benefits, including economic benefits, for all Cypriots that would flow from a comprehensive and durable Cyprus settlement, urging the two sides and their leaders to foster positive public rhetoric, and encouraging them clearly to explain the benefits of the settlement, as well as the need for increased flexibility and compromise in order to secure it, to both communities well in advance of any eventual referendums,

Considering that undermining the credibility of the United Nations undermines the peace process itself,

Highlighting the importance of the supporting role of the international community, and in particular that of the parties concerned, in taking practical steps towards helping the Greek Cypriot and Turkish Cypriot leaders to exploit fully the current opportunity,

Taking note of the assessment of the Secretary-General that the security situation on the island and along the Green Line remains stable, and urging all sides to avoid any action which could lead to an increase in tension, undermine the progress achieved so far or damage the goodwill on the island,

Recalling the Secretary-General's firm belief that the situation in the buffer zone would be improved if both sides accepted the 1989 aide-memoire used by the United Nations,

Noting with regret that the sides are withholding access to the remaining minefields in the buffer zone, noting that demining in Cyprus must continue, noting also the continued danger posed by mines in Cyprus, and urging rapid agreement on facilitating the recommencement of demining operations and clearance of the remaining minefields,

Highlighting the importance of the activities of the Committee on Missing Persons in Cyprus, urging the opening up of access to all areas to allow the Committee to carry out its work, and trusting that this process will promote reconciliation between the communities,

Agreeing that active participation of civil society groups, including women's groups, is essential to the political process and can contribute to making any future settlement sustainable, recalling that women play an important role in peace processes, welcoming all efforts to promote bicomunal contacts and events, including on the part of all United Nations bodies on the island, and urging the two sides to promote the active engagement of civil society and the encouragement of cooperation between economic and commercial bodies and to remove all obstacles to such contacts,

Stressing the need for the Council to pursue a rigorous, strategic approach to peacekeeping deployments,

Welcoming the intention of the Secretary-General to keep all peacekeeping operations under close review to ensure efficiency and effectiveness, including a review of the Force when appropriate, and noting the importance of contingency planning in relation to the settlement, including recommendations, as appropriate, for further adjustments to the mandate, force levels and other resources and concept of operations of the Force, taking into account developments on the ground and the views of the parties,

Welcoming also the continued efforts of Mr. Alexander Downer as the Special Adviser to the Secretary-General on Cyprus with a mandate to assist the parties in the conduct of fully fledged negotiations aimed at reaching a comprehensive settlement, and the efforts of Ms. Lisa Bittenheim as the Special Representative of the Secretary-General in Cyprus,

Echoing the Secretary-General's gratitude to the Government of Cyprus and the Government of Greece for their voluntary contributions to the funding of the Force and his request for further voluntary contributions from other countries and organizations, and expressing its appreciation to Member States that contribute personnel to the Force,

Welcoming and encouraging efforts by the United Nations to sensitize peacekeeping personnel in the prevention and control of HIV/AIDS and other communicable diseases in all its peacekeeping operations,

(b) To enable national Governments in conceiving and developing the programmes of disarmament, demobilization and reintegration, which must follow a political process in an inclusive manner, with a view to ensuring effective transition from disarmament and demobilization to reintegration, taking into consideration the different needs of all parts of the affected population, and in accordance with specific needs of a situation;

(c) To support the strengthening of rule of law institutions of the host country, in a coordinated manner with other United Nations entities, within the scope of respective mandates, in helping national authorities to develop critical rule of law priorities and strategies to address the needs of police, judicial institutions and the corrections system and critical interlinkages thereof, with a view to supporting the ability of States to provide critical functions in these fields, and as a vital contribution to building peace and ending impunity;

Recognizing also the need to investigate and prosecute not only suspects captured at sea, but also anyone who incites or intentionally facilitates piracy operations, including key figures of criminal networks involved in piracy who illicitly plan, organize, facilitate or finance and profit from such attacks, and reiterating its concern over persons suspected of piracy having to be released without facing justice, reaffirming that the failure to prosecute persons responsible for acts of piracy and armed robbery at sea off the coast of Somalia undermines anti-piracy efforts of the international community, and being determined to create conditions to ensure that pirates are held accountable,

Further reaffirming that international law, as reflected in the United Nations Convention on the Law of the Sea of 10 December 1982,⁵¹ sets out the legal framework applicable to combating piracy and armed robbery at sea, as well as other ocean activities,

Commending also the efforts of flag States for taking appropriate measures to permit vessels sailing under their flag transiting the high risk area to embark vessel protection detachments and privately contracted armed security personnel, and encouraging States to regulate such activities in accordance with applicable international law and permit charters to favour arrangements that make use of such measures,

Noting the request of some Member States on the need to review the boundaries of the high risk area on an objective and transparent basis taking into account actual incidents of piracy, noting that the high risk area is set and defined by the insurance and maritime industry,

Welcoming the capacity-building efforts in the region made through the International Maritime Organization Djibouti Code Trust Fund and the Trust Fund to Support Initiatives of States Countering Piracy off the Coast of Somalia, as well as the European Union planned programming under its Mission on Regional Maritime Capacity-building in the Horn of Africa (EUCAP NESTOR), and recognizing the need for all engaged international and regional organizations to cooperate fully,

Noting with appreciation the efforts made by the International Maritime Organization and the shipping industry to develop and update guidance, best management practices and recommendations to assist ships to prevent and suppress piracy attacks off the coast of Somalia, including in the Gulf of Aden, and the Indian Ocean area, and recognizing the work of the International Maritime Organization and the Contact Group on Piracy off the Coast of Somalia; and in this regard noting the efforts of the International Organization for Standardization, which has developed industry standards of training and certification for private maritime security companies when providing privately contracted armed security personnel on board ships in high-risk areas,

Noting with concern that the continuing limited capacity and domestic legislation to facilitate the custody and prosecution of suspected pirates after their capture has hindered more robust international action against the pirates off the coast of Somalia, and too often has led to pirates being released without facing justice, regardless of whether there is sufficient evidence to support prosecution, and reiterating that, consistent with the provisions of the United Nations Convention on the Law of the Sea concerning the repression of piracy, the Convention for the Suppression of Unlawful Acts against the Safety of Maritime Navigation of 10 March 1988⁵⁷ provides for parties to create criminal offences, establish jurisdiction and accept delivery of persons responsible for or suspected of seizing or exercising control over a ship by force or threat thereof or any other form of intimidation,

Underlining the importance of continuing to enhance the collection, preservation and transmission to competent authorities of evidence of acts of piracy and armed robbery at sea off the coast of Somalia, and welcoming the ongoing work of the International Maritime Organization, the International Criminal Police Organization (INTERPOL) and industry groups to develop guidance to seafarers on the preservation of crime scenes following acts of piracy, and noting the importance for the successful prosecution of acts of piracy of enabling seafarers to give evidence in criminal proceedings,

Recognizing that pirate networks continue to rely on kidnapping and hostage-taking and that these activities help to generate funding to purchase weapons, gain recruits and continue their operational activities, thereby jeopardizing the safety and security of innocent civilians and restricting the flow of free commerce, and welcoming international efforts to collect and share information to disrupt the pirate enterprise, as exemplified by INTERPOL's Global Database on Maritime Piracy; and noting the ongoing initiative aimed at establishing the Regional Anti-Piracy Prosecutions and Intelligence Coordination Centre, hosted by Seychelles,

Reaffirming international condemnation of acts of kidnapping and hostage-taking, including offences contained within the International Convention against the Taking of Hostages,⁵⁸ and strongly condemning the continuing practice of hostage-taking by pirates operating off the coast of Somalia, expressing serious concern at the inhuman conditions that hostages face in captivity, recognizing the adverse impact on their families, calling for the immediate release of all hostages, and noting the importance of cooperation between Member States on the issue of hostage-taking and the prosecution of suspected pirates for taking hostages,

⁵⁷ United Nations, Treaty Series, vol. 1678, No. 29004.

⁵⁸ Ibid., vol. 1316, No. 21931.

Commending the efforts of Kenya and Seychelles to prosecute suspected pirates in their national courts, welcoming and looking forward to further engagement of Mauritius and the United Republic of Tanzania, and noting with appreciation the assistance being provided by the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime, the Trust Fund to Support Initiatives of States Countering Piracy off the Coast of Somalia and other international organizations and donors, in coordination with the Contact Group on Piracy off the Coast of Somalia, to support Kenya, Seychelles, Somalia and other States in the region to take steps to prosecute, or incarcerate in a third State after prosecution elsewhere, pirates, including facilitators and financiers ashore, consistent with applicable international human rights law, and emphasizing the need for States and international organizations to further enhance international efforts in this regard,

Welcoming the readiness of the national and regional administrations of Somalia to cooperate with each other and with States that have prosecuted suspected pirates with a view to enabling convicted pirates to be repatriated back to Somalia under suitable prisoner transfer arrangements, consistent with applicable international law, including international human rights law,

Welcoming also the report of the Secretary General, as requested in resolution 2020 (2011), on the implementation of that resolution and on the situation with respect to piracy and armed robbery at sea off the coast of Somalia,⁵⁵

Taking note with appreciation of the reports of the Secretary-General on the modalities for the establishment of specialized Somali anti-piracy courts, prepared pursuant to paragraph 26 of resolution 1976 (2011) and paragraph 16 of resolution 2015 (2011),⁵⁹ and the ongoing efforts within the Contact Group on Piracy off the Coast of Somalia and the United Nations Secretariat to explore possible additional mechanisms to effectively prosecute persons suspected of piracy and armed robbery at sea off the coast of Somalia, including those ashore who incite or intentionally facilitate acts of piracy,

Stressing the need for States to consider possible methods to assist the seafarers who are victims of pirates, and welcoming in this regard the ongoing work within the Contact Group on Piracy off the Coast of Somalia and the International Maritime Organization on developing guidelines for the care of seafarers and other persons who have been subjected to acts of piracy,

Recognizing the progress made by the Contact Group on Piracy off the Coast of Somalia, the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime and the United Nations Political Office for Somalia in the use of public information tools to raise awareness of the dangers of piracy, highlight the best practices to eradicate this criminal phenomenon and inform the public of the dangers posed by piracy,

Noting with appreciation the ongoing efforts of the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime and the United Nations Development Programme to support efforts to enhance the capacity of the corrections system in Somalia, including regional authorities, notably with the support of the Trust Fund to Support Initiatives of States Countering Piracy off the Coast of Somalia, to incarcerate convicted pirates consistent with applicable international human rights law,

Bearing in mind the Code of Conduct concerning the Repression of Piracy and Armed Robbery against Ships in the Western Indian Ocean and the Gulf of Aden (Djibouti Code of Conduct), noting the operations of the newly established information-sharing centres in Yemen, Kenya and the United Republic of Tanzania and the ongoing work regarding a regional maritime training centre in Djibouti, and recognizing the efforts of signatory States, including new signatory States South Africa and Mozambique, to develop the appropriate regulatory and legislative frameworks to combat piracy, enhance their capacity to patrol the waters of the region, interdict suspect vessels and prosecute suspected pirates,

Emphasizing that peace and stability within Somalia, the strengthening of State institutions, economic and social development and respect for human rights and the rule of law are necessary to create the conditions for a durable eradication of piracy and armed robbery at sea off the coast of Somalia, and further emphasizing that Somalia's long-term security rests with the effective development by Somali authorities of the Somali National Security Forces, ⁵⁹ S/2011/360 and S/2012/50.

Welcoming, in this regard, the election of the President on 10 September 2012 and the subsequent appointment of a Prime Minister and Cabinet, and considering that this represents the completion of the transition in Somalia and an important milestone in Somalia's path to more stable and accountable governance,

Noting that the joint counter-piracy efforts of the international community and the private sector have resulted in a sharp decline in pirate attacks as well as hijackings since 2011, and emphasizing that, without further action, the significant progress made in reducing the number of successful pirate attacks is reversible,

Determining that the incidents of piracy and armed robbery at sea off the coast of Somalia exacerbate the situation in Somalia, which continues to constitute a threat to international peace and security in the region,

Acting under Chapter VII of the Charter of the United Nations,

1. Reiterates that it condemns and deplores all acts of piracy and armed robbery against vessels in the waters off the coast of Somalia;

2. Recognizes that the ongoing instability in Somalia is one of the underlying causes of the problem of piracy and contributes to the problem of piracy and armed robbery at sea off the coast of Somalia;

3. Stresses the need for a comprehensive response to repress piracy and tackle its underlying causes by the international community;

4. Underlines the primary responsibility of Somali authorities in the fight against piracy and armed robbery at sea off the coast of Somalia, and requests the Somali authorities, with assistance from the Secretary-General and relevant United Nations entities, to pass a complete set of counter-piracy laws without further delay, and to declare an exclusive economic zone in accordance with the United Nations Convention on the Law of the Sea,⁵¹

7. Calls upon States to cooperate also, as appropriate, on the issue of hostage-taking, and the prosecution of suspected pirates for taking hostages;

8. Notes again its concern regarding the findings contained in the report of the Monitoring Group on Somalia and Eritrea of 13 July 2012⁶⁰ and resolution 2020 (2011) that escalating ransom payments and the lack of enforcement of the arms embargo established by resolution 733 (1992) of 23 January 1992 are fuelling the growth of piracy off the coast of Somalia, and calls upon all States to cooperate fully with the Monitoring Group, including on information-sharing regarding possible arms embargo violations;

9. Recognizes the need for States, regional organizations and other appropriate partners to exchange evidence and information with a view to the arrest and prosecution of key figures of criminal networks involved in piracy who illicitly plan, organize, facilitate or finance and profit from piracy operations, and keeps under review the possibility of applying targeted sanctions against such individuals or entities if they meet the listing criteria set out in paragraph 8 of resolution 1844 (2008);

10. Renews its call upon States and regional organizations that have the capacity to do so to take part in the fight against piracy and armed robbery at sea off the coast of Somalia, in particular, consistent with the present resolution and international law, by deploying naval vessels, arms and military aircraft and through seizures and disposition of boats, vessels, arms and other related equipment used in the commission of piracy and armed robbery at sea off the coast of Somalia, or for which there are reasonable grounds for suspecting such use;

⁶⁰ S/2012/544, p. 211.

12. Encourages Member States to continue to cooperate with Somali authorities in the fight against piracy and armed robbery at sea, notes the primary role of Somali authorities in the fight against piracy and armed robbery at sea off the coast of Somalia, and decides to renew, for a further period of 12 months from the date of the present resolution, the authorizations as set out in paragraph 10 of resolution 1846 (2008) and paragraph 6 of resolution 1851 (2008), as renewed by paragraph 7 of resolution 1897 (2009), paragraph 7 of resolution 1950 (2010) and paragraph 9 of resolution 2020 (2011) granted to States and regional organizations cooperating with Somali authorities in the fight against piracy and armed robbery at sea off the coast of Somalia, for which advance notification has been provided by Somali authorities to the Secretary-General;

13. Affirms that the authorizations renewed in the present resolution apply only with respect to the situation in Somalia and shall not affect the rights or obligations or responsibilities of Member States under international law, including any rights or obligations under the United Nations Convention on the Law of the Sea, with respect to any other situation, and underscores in particular that the present resolution shall not be considered as establishing customary international law; and affirms further that such authorizations have been renewed only following the receipt of the letter dated 5 November 2012 conveying the consent of Somali authorities;

14. Also affirms that the measures imposed by paragraph 5 of resolution 733 (1992) and further elaborated upon in paragraphs 1 and 2 of resolution 1425 (2002) of 22 July 2002 do not apply to weapons and military equipment destined for the sole use of Member States and regional organizations taking measures in accordance with paragraph 12 above or to supplies of technical assistance to Somalia solely for the purposes set out in paragraph 6 of resolution 1950 (2010) which have been exempted from those measures in accordance with the procedure set out in paragraphs 11 (b) and 12 of resolution 1772 (2007) of 20 August 2007;

15. Requests that cooperating States take appropriate steps to ensure that the activities they undertake pursuant to the authorizations in paragraph 12 above do not have the practical effect of denying or impairing the right of innocent passage to the ships of any third State;

16. Calls upon the Somali authorities to make all efforts to bring to justice those who are using Somali territory to plan, facilitate or undertake criminal acts of piracy and armed robbery at sea, and calls upon Member States to assist Somalia, at the request of Somali authorities and with notification to the Secretary-General, to strengthen capacity in Somalia, including regional authorities, and stresses that any measures taken pursuant to the present paragraph shall be consistent with applicable international human rights law;

17. Calls upon all States, in particular flag, port and coastal States, States of the nationality of victims and perpetrators of piracy and armed robbery and other States with relevant jurisdiction under international law and national legislation, to cooperate in determining jurisdiction and in the investigation and prosecution of all persons responsible for acts of piracy and armed robbery off the coast of Somalia, including anyone who incites or facilitates an act of piracy, consistent with applicable international law, including international human rights law, to ensure that all pirates handed over to judicial authorities are subject to a judicial process, and to render assistance by, among other actions, providing disposition and logistics assistance with respect to persons under their jurisdiction and control, such as victims and witnesses and persons detained as a result of operations conducted under the present resolution;

18. Also calls upon all States to criminalize piracy under their domestic law and to favourably consider the prosecution of suspected, and imprisonment of convicted, pirates apprehended off the coast of Somalia, and their facilitators and financiers ashore, consistent with applicable international law, including international human rights law;

19. Reiterates its decision to continue its consideration, as a matter of urgency, of the establishment of specialized anti-piracy courts in Somalia and other States in the region with substantial international participation and/or support, as set forth in resolution 2015 (2011), and the importance of such courts having jurisdiction over not only suspects captured at sea, but also anyone who incites or intentionally facilitates piracy operations, including key figures of criminal networks involved in piracy who illicitly plan, organize, facilitate or finance and profit from such attacks, emphasizes the need for strengthened cooperation of States and regional and international organizations in holding such individuals accountable, and encourages the Contact Group on Piracy off the Coast of Somalia to continue its discussions in this regard;

20. Welcomes, in this context, the fact that the report of the Secretary-General pursuant to resolution 2015 (2011)⁶¹ contains detailed implementation proposals on ways to ensure that suspected pirates are held accountable through the due process of law in accordance with international standards, and encourages action in this field at the federal level in Somalia;

21. Urges all States to take appropriate actions under their existing domestic law to prevent the illicit financing of acts of piracy and the laundering of its proceeds;

28. Urges States individually or within the framework of competent international organizations to positively consider investigating any new allegations of illegal fishing and illegal dumping, including of toxic substances, with a view to prosecuting such offences when committed by persons under their jurisdiction; encourages increased efforts to monitor and report on such allegations; takes note of the report of the Secretary-General,⁵⁵ which acknowledges difficulty in providing detailed information related to illegal, unreported and unregulated fishing and dumping off the coast of Somalia without adequate monitoring or reporting systems, and states that the United Nations has received little evidence to date to justify claims that illegal fishing and dumping are factors responsible for forcing Somali youths to resort to piracy, and that there is currently no evidence of toxic waste dumping on land and at sea; emphasizes that the concerns about protection of the marine environment as well as resources should not be allowed to mask the true nature of piracy off the coast of Somalia, which is a transnational criminal enterprise driven primarily by the opportunity for financial gain; and notes the intention of the Secretary-General to include updates on these issues in his reports relating to piracy off the coast of Somalia;

29. Welcomes the recommendations and guidance of the International Maritime Organization on preventing and suppressing piracy and armed robbery against ships, underlines the importance of implementation of such recommendations and guidance by all stakeholders, particularly the shipping industry, and of flag States ensuring, as appropriate, the implementation of such recommendations and guidance, and urges States, in collaboration with the shipping and insurance industries, and the International Maritime Organization to continue to develop and implement avoidance, evasion and defensive best practices and advisories to take when under attack or when sailing in the waters off the coast of Somalia, and further urges States to make their citizens and vessels available for forensic investigation, as appropriate, at the first suitable port of call immediately following an act or attempted act of piracy or armed robbery at sea or release from captivity;

30. Encourages flag States and port States to further consider the development of safety and security measures on board vessels, including, where applicable, developing regulations for the deployment of privately contracted armed security personnel on board ships through a consultative process, including through the International Maritime Organization and the International Organization for Standardization;

31. Invites the International Maritime Organization to continue its contributions to the prevention and suppression of acts of piracy and armed robbery against ships in coordination, in particular, with the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime, the World Food Programme, the shipping industry and all other parties concerned, and recognizes the role of the International Maritime Organization concerning privately contracted armed security personnel on board ships in high-risk areas;

32. Notes the importance of securing the safe delivery of World Food Programme assistance by sea, and welcomes the ongoing work of the World Food Programme, the European Union operation Atalanta and flag States with regard to vessel protection detachments on World Food Programme vessels;

The Council expresses the importance of the Assistance Mission supporting a Somali-led peace and reconciliation process. The Council notes the closure of the former United Nations Political Office for Somalia and thanks the former Special Representative, Mr. Augustine P. The Council stresses the role of the Assistance Mission in supporting the Federal Government of Somalia in coordinating international support and calls for cooperation from international partners and organizations, including the African Union, the Intergovernmental Authority on Development and the European Union.

The Council welcomes sustained international engagement on Somalia. In that context the Council welcomes the intention of the European Union to hold a conference on Somalia in Brussels in September 2013. The conference will help to deliver tangible peace dividends for all Somalis as well as signalling a new partnership between Somalia and the international community on political reconstruction and economic development. The Council also notes the recent special meeting on Somalia held in the margins of the Fifth Tokyo International Conference on African Development.

The Council underlines its gratitude to the African Union Mission in Somalia and its strategic partners for their efforts, alongside the Somali armed forces, who have been working to provide the security space for progress towards peace and stability in Somalia. The Security Council pays tribute to the bravery and sacrifices of all African Union Mission personnel and extends its gratitude to the people and Governments of troop-contributing countries and strategic partners. The Council welcomes the intention of the Secretariat to conduct a joint review of the Mission with the African Union and emphasizes the importance of both organizations working closely together in this exercise.

The Council is grateful for international support to the African Union Mission, including from the European Union for its valuable contribution to the budget of the Mission. The Council reiterates its request for new and existing donors to support the Mission, including through the provision of uncaveated funding for the Mission to the United Nations trust fund.

⁶⁸ S/PRST/2013/7.

The Council welcomes the recent progress which has been made in security but recognizes that these gains are fragile. The Council underlines the importance of international support to the Federal Government of Somalia in building professional, accountable and capable security forces as part of a comprehensive approach to security sector reform in Somalia, including reform of the justice sector, human rights and establishing the rule of law.

The Council remains concerned at the fragile security situation in Somalia and the threat that Al-Shabaab continues to pose to peace and security. The Council reiterates its condemnation, in the strongest terms, of the recent attacks which targeted civilians supporting the peace and reconciliation process in Somalia.

The Council reiterates the importance of the Federal Government of Somalia addressing outstanding issues which are vital for the long-term stability of Somalia, including political reconciliation, the development of a federal system, the constitutional review process and subsequent referendum on the constitution, and preparations for elections in 2016. The Council underlines the importance of effective engagement between the Assistance Mission and the Federal Government on all these issues. The Council reiterates its call for the full inclusion of women in all political processes.

The Council stresses its respect for Somalia's sovereignty, territorial integrity, political independence and unity. The Council underlines the importance of constructive engagement between the Federal Government of Somalia and local and regional administrations. In this regard, the Council notes the reopening of the dialogue between the Federal Government of Somalia and "Somaliland" in Ankara in April 2013. The Council encourages the continued commitment of the parties to the dialogue.

The Council stresses the importance of developing peaceful and cooperative relationships between the States of the region. The Council notes the efforts of the Federal Government of Somalia to rebuild good-neighbourly relations to enhance collective security. The Council takes note of the communiqué of the twenty-second summit of the Intergovernmental Authority on Development, held in Addis Ababa on 24 May 2013. The Council shares the concerns of the Intergovernmental Authority on the situation in Kismayo, and in that context calls upon all parties to refrain from any actions which may threaten the peace and stability of Somalia. The Council welcomes the commitment of the Federal Government to lead reconciliation efforts in the Juba regions, with the support of the Assistance Mission, the Intergovernmental Authority and other appropriate actors. The Council expresses its intention to keep the situation under review.

The Council emphasizes the need for the international community to provide well coordinated, timely and sustained humanitarian assistance to the millions of Somalis who remain in urgent need of life-saving humanitarian support; and development assistance with a focus on livelihood recovery and building community resilience to support Somalia's transition to sustainable peace and economic development.

The Council expresses its deep concern at reports of continued violations and abuses of human rights in Somalia by all parties to the conflict, including reports of grave violations and abuses against children. The Council also expresses concern at reports of sexual violence perpetrated against internally displaced persons by organized armed groups and members of the Somali armed forces. The Council calls upon the Federal Government of Somalia to ensure that all perpetrators of violations and abuses of human rights and violations of international humanitarian law are held fully accountable, in line with the relevant provision of international humanitarian law and human rights law.

The Council welcomes the signing by the Federal Government of Somalia of a joint communiqué with the United Nations on the prevention of sexual violence in Somalia, which took place in the margins of the Somalia Conference. The Council underlines the importance of full and swift implementation of these commitments, including the visit of the team of experts and subsequent recommendations for action. The Council welcomes the commitments by the Federal Government to eliminate the killing and maiming of children and to end the recruitment and use of children by parties to armed conflict. In this regard the Council underlines the importance of full and swift implementation of the two action plans signed by the Federal Government.

The Council remains concerned by the threat posed by piracy and armed robbery at sea off the coast of Somalia. The Council stresses the primary responsibility of Somalia in the fight against piracy and armed robbery at sea. The Council welcomes the substantial reduction in the number of successful piracy-related attacks brought about by effective counter-piracy measures through increased national, bilateral and multilateral initiatives and regional cooperative mechanisms, and recognizes the need for counter-piracy efforts to continue, because these gains are reversible as long as the conditions ashore are conducive to piracy activity at sea. The Council encourages the Federal Government of Somalia to adopt and implement anti-piracy legislation without further delay.

The Council reiterates the urgent need for the competent authorities to investigate and prosecute not only suspected pirates captured at sea, but also anyone who incites or intentionally facilitates piracy operations, including key figures of criminal networks involved in piracy who illicitly plan, organize, facilitate or finance and profit from such attacks. The Council keeps under review the possibility of applying targeted sanctions against such individuals or entities if they meet the listing criteria set out in paragraph 8 of resolution 1844 (2008).

The members of the Council will keep the situation under close review.

At its 7009th meeting, on 24 July 2013, the Council considered the item entitled “The situation in Somalia”.

Decision

On 12 June 2013, the President of the Security Council addressed the following letter to the Secretary-General.⁸⁶

I have the honour to refer to the letter dated 5 March 2013 from the President of the International Tribunal for the Former Yugoslavia, Judge Theodor Meron, in which he seeks the support of the members of the Security Council in facilitating the completion of the work of the Tribunal through the appointment of an additional judge to be deployed to the Appeals Chamber.

The members of the Council note that the Tribunal has less than the maximum number of 16 permanent judges permitted under article 12, paragraph 1, of its statute. The members of the Council have carefully analysed the current situation in the Tribunal based on the completion strategy report of the Tribunal⁸⁷ and the April 2013 consolidated comprehensive plan and the updated and detailed schedules for each of the individual cases which the Tribunal presented to the Council pursuant to its resolution 2081 (2012). The members of the Council reasonably expect that an additional permanent judge would assist in the effective and timely completion of the mandate of the Tribunal in accordance with resolution 1966 (2010).

Therefore, I am pleased to inform you that the members of the Council have decided that one permanent judge of the Tribunal should be elected under article 13 bis, paragraph 1, of the statute, to be immediately assigned and redeployed to the Appeals Chamber.

In this regard, the members of the Council request you to invite States to submit nominations within a period of 30 days. From the nominations received, the Council will establish a list of three candidates, or, should there be only two nominations, a list of two candidates, taking into account the adequate representation of the principal legal systems of the world and the nationalities of the current permanent judges of the International Tribunal for the Former Yugoslavia and the International Criminal Tribunal for Rwanda. The term of office of the judge elected will be the same as the term of office of the judges of the International Tribunal for the Former Yugoslavia currently serving in the Appeals Chamber.

“The question concerning Haiti

“Report of the Secretary-General on the United Nations Stabilization Mission in Haiti (S/2012/678)”.

⁹⁴ Resolutions or decisions on this question were first adopted by the Security Council in 1993.

Resolution 2070 (2012)
of 12 October 2012

The Security Council,

Reaffirming its previous resolutions on Haiti, in particular resolutions 1542 (2004) of 30 April 2004, 1576 (2004) of 29 November 2004, 1608 (2005) of 22 June 2005, 1658 (2006) of 14 February 2006, 1702 (2006) of 15 August 2006, 1743 (2007) of 15 February 2007, 1780 (2007) of 15 October 2007, 1840 (2008) of 14 October 2008, 1892 (2009) of 13 October 2009, 1908 (2010) of 19 January 2010, 1927 (2010) of 4 June 2010, 1944 (2010) of 14 October 2010 and 2012 (2011) of 14 October 2011,

Reaffirming its strong commitment to the sovereignty, independence, territorial integrity and unity of Haiti,

Recognizing that Haiti continued to make considerable strides since the tragic earthquake of 12 January 2010 and achieved, over the past year, a number of political milestones indicative of progress in the process of stabilization, in particular the ratification by the parliament of a new Prime Minister, the installation of the Superior Council of the Judiciary and the publication of the constitutional amendments,

Noting the key importance of the realization of the partial legislative, municipal and local elections, and noting in this regard the importance of the installation of the country's Permanent Electoral Council as established in the constitutional amendments,

Recognizing that the overall security situation, while fragile, has improved since the adoption of resolutions 1908 (2010), 1927 (2010) and 1944 (2010), and remained relatively stable since the adoption of resolution 2012 (2011), allowing the United Nations Stabilization Mission in Haiti to continue to draw down its post-earthquake troop levels and to adapt its configuration without undermining the security and stability of Haiti, and recognizing the importance of conditions-based security-related decisions about the future of the Mission,

Noting with concern an increase in homicides, particularly in major urban areas, and the continuing threat of criminal gangs,

Recognizing the critical role of the Mission in ensuring stability and security in Haiti, commending the Mission for continuing to assist the Government of Haiti to ensure a secure and stable environment, expressing its gratitude to the personnel of the Mission and to their countries, and paying tribute to those injured or killed in the line of duty,

Welcoming the continued commitment by the Government of Haiti to strengthen the rule of law and to make further progress in security sector reform,

Welcoming also the elaboration of the five-year 2012–2016 Haitian National Police development plan presented by the Mission and the Haitian National Police; underscoring the need for the Government of Haiti, with the assistance of the international community, as requested, to take steps to ensure that the Haitian National Police meets the benchmarks for its strengthening and reform contained in the plan; and encouraging the Government, with the support of the Mission, to regularly inform the Haitian people and key stakeholders, as appropriate, on progress towards these benchmarks,

Underlining, with the installation of the Superior Council of the Judiciary, the need to further strengthen Haitian judicial and correctional systems in order to support a more integrated and cohesive Haitian security sector, supported by the United Nations Development Programme, welcoming the capacity development assessment of the Ministry of Justice and Public Security, which resulted in an action plan for its institutional reform, and acknowledging that attendant human rights concerns that still remain in the correctional system such as prolonged pretrial detentions, prison overcrowding, sanitary conditions and access to health-care services, including hygiene, are significant challenges to sustainable administrative reforms,

Acknowledging that, while important progress has been made, Haiti continues to face significant humanitarian challenges, with over 390,000 internally displaced persons still dependent on assistance for their basic survival, an ongoing cholera epidemic, and living conditions in the camps that need to be further addressed,

Commending the wide range of recovery efforts delivered in the aftermath of the January 2010 earthquake by the United Nations system in Haiti, especially the United Nations-supported housing and debris removal programmes and the successful use of military engineering units of the Mission,

Acknowledging extreme vulnerability to natural disasters, stressing the leading role of the Government of Haiti in the post-disaster recovery and reconstruction process, including risk reduction and preparedness efforts, and underlining the necessity for increased coordination and complementary efforts among all United Nations actors and other relevant stakeholders in assisting the Government in this regard, as well as in the overall support to Haiti's post-earthquake recovery and social and economic development,

Emphasizing that progress in the recovery and reconstruction of Haiti, as well as in Haiti's social and economic development, including through effective international development assistance and increased Haitian institutional capacity to benefit from this assistance, are crucial to achieving lasting and sustainable stability, and reiterating the need for security to be accompanied by social and economic development,

Welcoming the establishment of the Aid Coordination Mechanism, which succeeds the Interim Haiti Recovery Commission, and the continued support by the Haiti Reconstruction Fund,

Welcoming also the finalization by the Mission and the United Nations country team in Haiti, in close consultation with the Government of Haiti, of the new integrated strategic framework for the period 2013–2016, which identifies United Nations priorities and is aligned with the Government of Haiti's strategic development plan and with the Mission's future conditions-based consolidation plan,

Noting the ongoing efforts of the Government of Haiti to control and eliminate the cholera epidemic, urging the United Nations entities in coordination with other relevant actors to continue to support the Government in addressing the structural weaknesses, in particular in the water and sanitation systems, underscoring the importance of strengthening the Haitian national health institutions, and recognizing United Nations efforts to combat cholera,

Urging donors to complete the pledges made at the conference held in New York on 31 March 2010 in order, inter alia, to help to promote access to services and jobs for the most vulnerable, and underlining national responsibility to provide clear guidance on the priorities,

“Report of the Secretary-General on children and armed conflict (S/2013/245)”.

At the same meeting, the Council also decided to extend invitations, under rule 39 of its provisional rules of procedure, to Ms. Leila Zerrougui, Special Representative of the Secretary-General for Children and Armed Conflict, Mr. Hervé Ladsous, Under-Secretary-General for Peacekeeping Operations, and Ms. Yoka Brandt, Deputy Executive Director of the United Nations Children’s Fund.

At the same meeting, the Council decided to extend an invitation, under rule 39 of its provisional rules of procedure, to Mr. Ioannis Vrailas, Deputy Head of the Delegation of the European Union to the United Nations.

At the same meeting, following consultations among members of the Security Council, the President made the following statement on behalf of the Council:¹⁷⁸

The Security Council takes note with appreciation of the twelfth report of the Secretary-General, of 15 May 2013, on children and armed conflict¹⁷⁹ and the recommendations contained therein, as well as the positive developments referred to in the report, and notes the continuing challenges in the implementation of its resolutions and statements by its President on children and armed conflict reflected therein.

The Council reiterates its primary responsibility for the maintenance of international peace and security in accordance with the Charter of the United Nations and, in this connection, its commitment to address the widespread impact of armed conflict on children.

The Council reiterates further its equally strong condemnation of all violations of applicable international law involving the recruitment and use of children by parties to armed conflict, as well as their re-recruitment, killing and maiming, rape and other sexual violence, abductions, attacks against schools or hospitals and denial of humanitarian access by parties to armed conflict. The Council condemns all other violations of international law, including international humanitarian law, human rights law and refugee law, committed against children in situations of armed conflict. The Council demands that all relevant parties immediately put an end to such practices and take special measures to protect children.

The Council stresses the primary role of Governments in providing protection and relief to all children affected by armed conflict, and reiterates that all actions undertaken by United Nations entities within the framework of the monitoring and reporting mechanism must be designed to support and supplement, as appropriate, the protection and rehabilitation roles of national Governments.

The Council notes that reference to a situation in the report of the Secretary-General on children and armed conflict is not a legal determination, within the context of the Geneva Conventions¹⁷⁰ and the Additional Protocols thereto,¹⁷¹ and that reference to a non-State party does not affect its legal status.

The Council welcomes the progress made in preventing and responding to violations and abuses committed against children, especially with regard to the increasing number of action plans signed or under negotiation by parties to armed conflict, and the thousands of children that have been demobilized, rehabilitated and reintegrated.

¹⁷⁸ S/PRST/2013/8.

¹⁷⁹ S/2013/245.

The Council remains strongly concerned about the continued high number of perpetrators who persist in committing violations and abuses against children in situations of armed conflict in open disregard of its resolutions on the matter. The Council stresses its commitment to effectively deal with persistent perpetrators, and welcomes in this regard the ongoing consideration by its Working Group on Children and Armed Conflict of options for increasing pressure on persistent perpetrators of violations and abuses committed against children in situations of armed conflict, in accordance with its resolutions 1998 (2011) and 2068 (2012).

The Council underlines the importance of concrete time-bound action plans to prevent and halt violations and abuses committed against children, and reiterates its call upon parties to armed conflict listed in the annexes to the report of the Secretary-General on children and armed conflict that have not already done so, to prepare and implement, without further delay and in collaboration with the Office of the Special Representative of the Secretary-General for Children and Armed Conflict, action plans to halt the recruitment and use of children, patterns of killing and maiming children, recurrent attacks on schools and/or hospitals, recurrent attacks or threats of attacks against protected persons in relation to schools and/or hospitals, in violation of applicable international law, as well as rape and other sexual violence against children.

The Council also reiterates its call to all parties listed in the annexes to the report of the Secretary-General on children and armed conflict to address all other violations and abuses committed against children and undertake specific commitments and measures in this regard.

The Council encourages Member States to devise ways, in close consultations with the United Nations country-level task force on monitoring and reporting and United Nations country teams, to facilitate the development and implementation of time-bound action plans and the review and monitoring by the United Nations country-level task force of obligations and commitments relating to the protection of children and armed conflict.

The Council welcomes the increased engagement between concerned Governments and the United Nations at country level for better protection of children affected by armed conflict, and notes the value of interministerial committees as a successful framework for partnership with Governments to discuss and follow up on child protection commitments and to foster action plan implementation.

The Council recognizes that sufficient and sustained resources are critical to the protection efforts of children affected by armed conflict, especially the timely implementation of action plans. The Council requests the Special Representative of the Secretary-General for Children and Armed Conflict to devise ways to coalesce the donor community in order to address funding gaps, in particular to ensure the timely and sustainable funding of action plans and associated monitoring, and encourages bilateral and international partners to provide financial support and capacity-building in this regard.

The Council reiterates its readiness to adopt targeted and graduated measures against persistent perpetrators of violations and abuses committed against children, taking into account the relevant provisions of its resolutions 1539 (2004), 1612 (2005), 1882 (2009), 1998 (2011) and 2068 (2012), and to consider including provisions pertaining to parties to armed conflict that engage in activities in violation of applicable international law relating to the rights and protection of children in armed conflicts, when establishing, modifying or renewing the mandate of relevant sanctions regimes. The Council encourages its relevant sanctions committees to continue to invite the Special Representative of the Secretary-General for Children and Armed Conflict to brief them on specific information pertaining to her mandate that would be relevant to the work of the committees and encourages the sanctions committees to bear in mind the relevant recommendations of the report of the Secretary-General on children and armed conflict, and encourages the Special Representative of the Secretary-General to share specific information contained in the reports of the Secretary-General with relevant sanctions committees expert groups. The Council further requests enhanced exchange of pertinent information on violations and abuses committed against children in armed conflict between its Working Group on Children and Armed Conflict and relevant sanctions committees and their expert groups.

The Council stresses that ending impunity and holding perpetrators accountable is a crucial element in halting and preventing violations and abuses committed against children and recalls the primary responsibility of States in that regard, including to hold accountable those responsible for genocide, crimes against humanity, war crimes and other egregious crimes perpetrated against children. The Council recognizes that lack of capacity and resources can hamper efforts of national authorities to effectively prosecute alleged perpetrators of crimes against children in situations of armed conflict. The Council calls upon relevant United Nations entities as well as Member States to support efforts to strengthen national accountability mechanisms, including building investigative and prosecutorial capacities.

The Council stresses further that the fight against impunity and to ensure accountability for genocide, crimes against humanity, war crimes and other egregious crimes perpetrated against children has been strengthened through the work on and prosecution of these crimes in the international criminal justice system, ad hoc and mixed tribunals as well as specialized chambers in national tribunals. The Council highlights in this regard the contribution of the International Criminal Court, in accordance with the principle of complementarity to national criminal jurisdictions as set out in the Rome Statute,¹⁷² towards holding accountable those responsible for such crimes. In this regard, the Council reiterates its call on the importance of State cooperation with these courts and tribunals in accordance with the respective obligations of the States.

The Council underlines the importance of engaging armed forces and armed groups on child protection concerns during peace talks and calls upon Member States, United Nations entities and other parties concerned to ensure that child protection provisions, including those relating to the release and reintegration of children formerly associated with armed forces or armed groups, are integrated into all peace negotiations and peace agreements.

The Council further calls upon Member States, United Nations entities, including the Peacebuilding Commission, and other parties concerned to ensure that post-conflict recovery and reconstruction planning, programmes and strategies prioritize issues concerning children affected by armed conflict.

The Council reaffirms the important role being played by child protection advisers in peacekeeping, peacebuilding and political missions deployed in line with the relevant country-specific resolutions of the Council and in accordance with the Policy Directive on Mainstreaming the Protection, Rights and Well-being of Children Affected by Armed Conflict of the Department of Peacekeeping Operations of the Secretariat, and in this regard expresses its intention to further strengthen provisions for the protection of children in all mandates of relevant United Nations peacekeeping, peacebuilding and political missions, including through ensuring the consistent deployment of child protection advisers.

The Council welcomes the continued strengthening of the monitoring and reporting mechanism as requested in its resolutions 1612 (2005), 1882 (2009) and 1998 (2011), and commends the role of the United Nations Children's Fund and other United Nations entities at the field level in the collection of information on violations and abuses committed against children, in the preparation and implementation of action plans, as well as in the implementation of the conclusions of its Working Group on Children and Armed Conflict. In this regard, the Council further encourages the Secretary-General to ensure that adequate child protection expertise is available to the Resident Coordinator in situations listed in the annexes of the annual reports of the Secretary-General on children and armed conflict.

The Council reiterates its request to the Secretary-General to ensure that, in all his reports on country-specific situations, the matter of children and armed conflict is included as a specific aspect of the report, and expresses its intention to give its full attention to the information provided therein, including the implementation of relevant Council resolutions and of the recommendations of its Working Group on Children and Armed Conflict, when dealing with those situations on its agenda, as well as to give specific attention to child protection issues when undertaking its relevant field visits.

The Council recognizes the valuable contribution pertinent regional and sub-regional organizations and arrangements make for the protection of children affected by armed conflict. In this regard, the Council encourages the continued mainstreaming of child protection into the advocacy, policies, programmes and mission planning of these organizations and arrangements, as well as the training of personnel and inclusion of child protection staff in their peacekeeping and field operations, and establishment, within their secretariats, of child protection mechanisms, including through the appointment of child protection focal points.

The Council stresses the important role of the Special Representative of the Secretary-General for Children and Armed Conflict in carrying out her mandate for the protection of children in situations of armed conflict, in accordance with relevant resolutions of the Council, as well as the importance of her country visits in facilitating better coordination among United Nations partners at the field level, promoting collaboration between the United Nations and concerned Governments, enhancing dialogue with concerned Governments and parties to an armed conflict, including by negotiating action plans, securing commitments, advocating for appropriate response mechanisms and ensuring attention and follow-up to the conclusions and recommendations of the Security Council Working Group on Children and Armed Conflict.

The Council recalls its invitation to the Special Representative of the Secretary-General for Children and Armed Conflict to brief the Council on questions relating to the delisting process and progress made, enabling an exchange of views.

The Council commends the sustained activity of its Working Group on Children and Armed Conflict and stresses the importance of continuing to adopt timely conclusions and recommendations, in line with its resolution 1612 (2005) and subsequent resolutions. Furthermore, the Council invites its Working Group to make full use of its toolkit¹⁸⁰ in light of ongoing discussions on enhancing compliance, and in this regard to continue considering the issue of persistent perpetrators and action plan implementation.

The Council reiterates its determination to ensure respect for and the implementation of its resolutions and statements by its President on children and armed conflict to date, as well as respect for other international commitments and obligations for the protection of children affected by armed conflict.

Resolution 2092 (2013)
of 22 February 2013

The Security Council,

Recalling its previous resolutions, the statements by its President and its statements to the press on the situation in Guinea-Bissau, in particular resolutions 2030 (2011) of 21 December 2011 and 2048 (2012) of 18 May 2012,

Taking note of the report of the Secretary-General on Guinea-Bissau dated 16 January 2013¹⁸⁴ and the recommendations contained therein, and welcoming the activities undertaken by the United Nations Integrated Peacebuilding Office in Guinea-Bissau despite the political and security challenges in the field,

Remaining seriously concerned about the situation in Guinea-Bissau since the military coup of 12 April 2012 that undermined the conclusion of the democratic electoral process in Guinea-Bissau, ¹⁸⁷ Resolutions or decisions on this question were first adopted by the Security Council in 1999.

¹⁸⁸ S/PRST/2013/2.

The Council expresses its deep concern that civilians continue to account for the vast majority of casualties in situations of armed conflict.

The Council recognizes that States bear the primary responsibility to protect civilians, as well as to respect and ensure the human rights of all individuals within their territory and subject to their jurisdiction, as provided for by relevant international law.

The Council reaffirms that parties to armed conflict bear the primary responsibility to take all feasible steps to ensure the protection of civilians, and urges parties to armed conflict to meet the basic needs of civilians, giving particular attention to the specific needs of women and children, refugees, internally displaced persons, as well as other civilians who may have specific vulnerabilities, including persons with disabilities and older persons.

The Council reiterates its demand that all parties to armed conflict comply strictly with the obligations applicable to them under international humanitarian, human rights and refugee law. The Council stresses the need for parties to take all required measures to avoid civilian casualties and to respect and protect the civilian population.

The Council remains committed to addressing the impact of armed conflict on civilians and its consequences in post-conflict situations, in particular on women and children. In this respect, in reaffirming the principles of international humanitarian law, the Council strongly condemns all violations of international law against civilians, in particular the deliberate targeting of civilians, indiscriminate or disproportionate attacks and sexual and gender-based violence, including the use of sexual violence for political motivations and as a tactic of war. The Council expresses grave concern about situations in which armed forces and groups persist in committing violations and abuses against children exposed to and affected by armed conflict and post-conflict situations, in open disregard of applicable international law and the resolutions of the Council on this matter. The Council demands that all relevant parties immediately put an end to these violations and abuses, calls upon them to cooperate with the United Nations, and reaffirms its readiness to adopt targeted and graduated measures. The Council calls upon States to ensure that perpetrators of violations and abuses of international law are held fully accountable.

The Council reaffirms its strong opposition to impunity for serious violations of international humanitarian law and human rights law and emphasizes, in this context, the responsibility of States to comply with their relevant obligations to end impunity and to thoroughly investigate and prosecute persons responsible for war crimes, genocide, crimes against humanity or other serious violations of international humanitarian law. The Council recognizes international commissions of inquiry and fact-finding missions as valuable mechanisms to verify and investigate allegations of serious violations of international human rights and humanitarian law, and in accordance with their respective mandates to make recommendations to advance accountability and justice and protection for victims. The Council considers the possibility of using the International Humanitarian Fact-Finding Commission established by article 90 of Additional Protocol I to the Geneva Conventions.¹⁸⁹

The Council notes that the fight against impunity and accountability for the most serious crimes of international concern has been strengthened through the work on and prosecution of these crimes in the International Criminal Court, in accordance with the Rome Statute,¹⁹⁰ in ad hoc and “mixed” tribunals as well as specialized chambers in national tribunals. In this regard, the Council reiterates its previous call regarding the importance of State cooperation with these courts and tribunals in accordance with the respective obligations of States, and expresses its commitment to effective follow-up of Council decisions in this regard. The Council intends to forcefully continue to fight impunity and also draws attention to the full range of justice and reconciliation mechanisms, including truth and reconciliation commissions, national reparation programmes and institutional and legal reforms, including guarantees of non-recurrence. The Council notes that, consistent with its functions in relation to international peace and security, it seeks to remain engaged in all stages of the conflict cycle. The Council also notes that it will continue to explore ways to prevent the outbreak of armed conflict and develop measures to address the root causes of conflicts in order to ensure sustainable peace. The Council further stresses the importance of the peaceful settlement of disputes, conflict prevention and resolution to prevent their escalation and their impact on civilians.

The Council notes with concern the current and ongoing humanitarian impact of armed conflict and regrets the impact of armed conflict on the civilian population, including in or near densely populated areas, with negative effects continuing even after the armed conflict has concluded. The Council condemns all acts of violence and other forms of intimidation deliberately directed at humanitarian personnel, as well as attacks on peacekeepers. The Council calls upon parties to armed conflict to comply with the obligations applicable to them under international humanitarian law to respect and protect humanitarian personnel and relief consignments and to take all required steps to facilitate the safe, rapid and unimpeded passage of relief consignments, equipment and personnel.

The Council calls upon all parties to armed conflict to comply with their obligations under international humanitarian law to respect and protect, and refrain from attacking, medical personnel, provided that they take no action adversely affecting their status as civilians, and facilities, as well as from using medical infrastructure in fighting. The Council further urges that medical personnel be granted all available help for the performance of their duties.

The Council expresses deep concern about the severity and frequency of attacks against schools, threats and attacks against teachers and other protected persons in relation to schools and the use of schools for military purposes, and the significant implications of such attacks on the safety of students and their access to education. The Council calls upon all parties to armed conflict to put an end to such practice and to refrain from attacks against teachers and other protected persons in relation to schools, provided that they take no action adversely affecting their status of civilians.

The Council also expresses deep concern about acts of violence against journalists, media professionals and associated personnel in armed conflict, in particular deliberate attacks in violation of international humanitarian law, and calls upon all parties to armed conflict to put an end to such practice. The Council recalls, in this regard, that journalists, media professionals and associated personnel engaged in dangerous professional missions in areas of armed conflict shall be considered as civilians and shall be respected and protected as such, provided that they take no action adversely affecting their status as civilians. The Council also recognizes the acute impact of conflict on refugees and internally displaced persons. The Council stresses the need for all actors to work together for a durable solution for refugees and internally displaced persons, including voluntary safe, dignified and sustainable return, resettlement or local integration, as appropriate.

The Council further recognizes the importance of registration as a tool of protection and as a means to the quantification and assessment of needs for the provision and distribution of humanitarian assistance to refugees. Further, the Council calls upon all actors to take adequate and necessary measures to ensure respect for the principles of refugee protection and obligations under refugee law, including the civilian and humanitarian character of refugee camps.

The Council emphasizes the need for peacekeeping missions with protection of civilian mandates to ensure their implementation, and stresses the importance of continued and further engagement by senior mission leadership, with a view to ensuring that all mission components and all levels of the chain of command are properly informed of and are involved in the mission's protection mandate and their relevant responsibilities. The Council recognizes the need for strong leadership in peacekeeping missions, and also encourages further coordination between United Nations and regional and subregional institutions, as appropriate, on issues relating to the protection of civilians in peacekeeping operations.

The Council also emphasizes the importance of ensuring that peacekeeping missions with protection of civilian mandates develop mission-wide protection strategies for incorporation in the overall mission implementation plans and contingency plans in consultation with the host Government, local authorities, troop- and police-contributing countries and other relevant actors. The Council stresses the importance of ensuring the widest possible dissemination of tools created to develop mission-wide strategies and requests that mission reporting include information on their use and effectiveness in protecting civilians, as well as recommendations on necessary updates and revisions, based on field experience. The Council also emphasizes that effective interaction and coordination of United Nations peacekeeping missions with host Government authorities, civil society and local populations, as well as with humanitarian actors, is essential for improving and strengthening their respective and the overall protection response. In this regard, the Council also emphasizes the importance of effective interaction and coordination as appropriate both among United Nations peacekeeping missions and between United Nations peacekeeping missions and political missions. The Council welcomes progress made by the Secretary-General in elaborating a conceptual framework, outlining resource and capability requirements and developing operational tools for the implementation of protection of civilian mandates. In this context, the Council reiterates the importance of including provisions on the protection of women and children, including the appointment of gender advisers, women protection advisers and child protection advisers, as appropriate, in the mandates of United Nations missions.

The Council reaffirms its practice of ensuring that mandates of United Nations peacekeeping and other relevant missions include, where appropriate and on a case-by-case basis, provisions regarding the protection of civilians, stresses that mandated protection activities must be given priority in decisions about the use of available capacity and resources, including information and intelligence resources, in the implementation of mandates, and recognizes that the protection of civilians when and as mandated requires a coordinated response from all relevant mission components.

The Council recognizes the need for systematic monitoring and reporting on progress to protect civilians in armed conflict. The Council reaffirms its practice of requiring mission-specific benchmarks, as and where appropriate, to measure and review progress made in the implementation of peacekeeping mandates and, in this regard, underlines the importance of clear mission-specific benchmarks in the context of mission transition.

The Council further stresses that United Nations entities should continue to support and supplement, as appropriate, efforts of national Governments in the implementation of resolution 1325 (2000).

The Council takes note of the report of the Secretary-General on women and peace and security for the purpose of implementation of resolution 1325 (2000),¹⁹⁸ and particularly welcomes its call for the enhanced participation, representation and involvement of women in the prevention and resolution of armed conflict and in peacebuilding, as well as a stronger commitment to address challenges to such engagement of women at all levels.

The Council also urges Member States to bring to justice those responsible for crimes of this nature.

The Council notes that the fight against impunity for the most serious crimes of international concern committed against women and girls has been strengthened through the work of the International Criminal Court, ad hoc and mixed tribunals, as well as specialized chambers in national tribunals. The Council reiterates its intention to continue forcefully to fight impunity and uphold accountability with appropriate means.

The Council draws attention to the importance of a comprehensive approach to transitional justice in armed conflict and post-conflict situations, encompassing the full range of judicial and non-judicial measures, as appropriate.

Resolution 2106 (2013)
of 24 June 2013

The Security Council,

Reaffirming its commitment to the continuing and full implementation, in a mutually reinforcing manner, of resolutions 1265 (1999) of 17 September 1999, 1296 (2000) of 19 April 2000, 1325 (2000) of 31 October 2000, 1612 (2005) of 26 July 2005, 1674 (2006) of 28 April 2006, 1738 (2006) of 23 December 2006, 1820 (2008) of 19 June 2008, 1882 (2009) of 4 August 2009, 1888 (2009) of 30 September 2009, 1889 (2009) of 5 October 2009, 1894 (2009) of 11 November 2009, 1960 (2010) of 16 December 2010, 1998 (2011) of 12 July 2011 and 2068 (2012) of 19 September 2012, and all relevant statements by its President,

Thanking the Secretary-General for his report of 14 March 2013¹⁹⁹ and taking note of the analysis and recommendations contained therein, but remaining deeply concerned over the slow implementation of important aspects of resolution 1960 (2010) to prevent sexual violence in armed conflict and post-conflict situations, and noting, as documented in the report of the Secretary-General, that sexual violence occurs in such situations throughout the world,

Recognizing the declaration on preventing sexual violence in conflict, adopted by the Ministers for Foreign Affairs of the Group of Eight in London on 11 April 2013, and the commitments it makes in this regard,

Recognizing also that consistent and rigorous prosecution of sexual violence crimes, as well as national ownership and responsibility in addressing the root causes of sexual violence in armed conflict are central to deterrence and prevention, as is challenging the myths that sexual violence in armed conflict is a cultural phenomenon or an inevitable consequence of war or a lesser crime,

Affirming that women's political, social and economic empowerment, gender equality and the enlistment of men and boys in the effort to combat all forms of violence against women are central to long-term efforts to prevent sexual violence in armed conflict and post-conflict situations and emphasizing the importance of the full implementation of resolution 1325 (2000) while noting the ongoing work on a set of indicators for the implementation of resolution 1325 (2000) and subsequent resolutions on women and peace and security, and recognizing the efforts of the United Nations Entity for Gender Equality and the Empowerment of Women (UN-Women) in this area,

Noting with concern that sexual violence in armed conflict and post-conflict situations disproportionately affects women and girls, as well as groups that are particularly vulnerable or may be specifically targeted, while also affecting men and boys and those secondarily traumatized as forced witnesses of sexual violence against family members, and emphasizing that acts of sexual violence in such situations not only severely impede the critical contributions of women to society, but also impede durable peace and security as well as sustainable development,

Recognizing that States bear the primary responsibility to respect and ensure the human rights of all persons within their territory and subject to their jurisdiction as provided for by international law, and reaffirming that parties to armed conflict bear the primary responsibility to ensure the protection of civilians,

Reaffirming its respect for the sovereignty, territorial integrity and political independence of all States in accordance with the Charter of the United Nations,

Recalling the inclusion of a range of sexual violence offences in the Rome Statute of the International Criminal Court²⁰⁰ and the statutes of the ad hoc international criminal tribunals,

Noting the provision in the Arms Trade Treaty²⁰¹ that exporting States parties shall take into account the risk of covered conventional arms or items being used to commit or facilitate serious acts of gender-based violence or serious acts of violence against women and children,

Recalling that international humanitarian law prohibits rape and other forms of sexual violence,

Recalling also the human rights due diligence policy on United Nations support to non-United Nations security forces²⁰² as a tool to enhance compliance with international humanitarian, human rights and refugee law, including to address sexual violence in armed conflict and post-conflict situations,

Having considered the report of the Secretary-General, and stressing that the present resolution does not seek to make any legal determination as to whether situations that are referred to in the report of the Secretary-General are or are not armed conflicts within the context of the Geneva Conventions of 1949²⁰³ and the Additional Protocols thereto of 1977,²⁰⁴ nor does it prejudge the legal status of non-State parties involved in these situations,

1. Affirms that sexual violence, when used or commissioned as a method or tactic of war or as a part of a widespread or systematic attack against civilian populations, can significantly exacerbate and prolong situations of armed conflict and may impede the restoration of international peace and security, emphasizes in this regard that effective steps to prevent and respond to such acts significantly contribute to the maintenance of international peace and security, and stresses women's participation as essential to any prevention and protection response;

2. Notes that sexual violence can constitute a crime against humanity or a constitutive act with respect to genocide, further recalls that rape and other forms of serious sexual violence in armed conflict are war crimes, calls upon Member States to comply with their relevant obligations to continue to fight impunity by investigating and prosecuting those subject to their jurisdiction who are responsible for such crimes, encourages Member States to include the full range of crimes of sexual violence in national penal legislation to enable prosecutions for such acts, and recognizes that effective investigation and documentation of sexual violence in armed conflict is instrumental both in bringing perpetrators to justice and ensuring access to justice for survivors;

3. Also notes that the fight against impunity for the most serious crimes of international concern committed against women and girls has been strengthened through the work of the International Criminal Court, ad hoc and mixed tribunals, as well as specialized chambers in national tribunals, and reiterates its intention to continue forcefully to fight impunity and uphold accountability with appropriate means;

4. Draws attention to the importance of a comprehensive approach to transitional justice in armed conflict and post-conflict situations, encompassing the full range of judicial and non-judicial measures, as appropriate;

5. Recognizes the need for more systematic monitoring of and attention to sexual violence in armed conflict and post-conflict situations and other women and peace and security commitments in its own work, and in this regard expresses its intent to employ, as appropriate, all means at its disposal to ensure women's participation in all aspects of mediation, post-conflict recovery and peacebuilding and to address sexual violence in conflict, including in the establishment and review of peacekeeping and political mandates, public statements, country visits, fact-finding missions, international commissions of inquiry, consultations with regional bodies and in the work of relevant Security Council sanctions committees;

6. Also recognizes the need for more timely, objective, accurate and reliable information as a basis for prevention and response, and requests the Secretary-General and relevant United Nations entities to accelerate the establishment and implementation of monitoring, analysis and reporting arrangements on conflict-related sexual violence, including rape in situations of armed conflict and post-conflict and other situations relevant to the implementation of resolution 1888 (2009), as appropriate, and taking into account the specificity of each country;

7. Calls for the further deployment of women's protection advisers in accordance with resolution 1888 (2009) to facilitate the implementation of Council resolutions on women and peace and security and calls upon the Secretary-General to ensure that the need for and the number and roles of women's protection advisers are systematically assessed during the planning and review of each United Nations peacekeeping and political mission, and to ensure that these experts are adequately trained and deployed in a timely manner, and recognizes the role of United Nations Action against Sexual Violence in Conflict in facilitating coordinated responses of relevant peacekeeping, humanitarian, human rights, political and security actors and emphasizes the need for enhanced coordination, information sharing, analysis, response planning and implementation across these sectors;

²⁰⁴ Ibid., vol. 1125, Nos. 17512 and 17513.

8. Recognizes the distinct role of gender advisers in ensuring that gender perspectives are mainstreamed in policies, planning and implementation by all mission elements, and calls upon the Secretary-General to continue to deploy gender advisers to the relevant United Nations peacekeeping and political missions as well as humanitarian operations and to ensure comprehensive gender training of all relevant peacekeeping and civilian personnel;

9. Acknowledges the efforts of United Nations entities in ensuring United Nations commissions of inquiry in armed conflict and post-conflict situations have, where necessary, sexual and gender-based crimes expertise to accurately document such crimes, and encourages all Member States to support these efforts;

10. Reiterates its demand for the complete cessation with immediate effect by all parties to armed conflict of all acts of sexual violence and its call for these parties to make and implement specific time-bound commitments to combat sexual violence, which should include, inter alia, issuance of clear orders through chains of command prohibiting sexual violence and accountability for breaching these orders, the prohibition of sexual violence in codes of conduct, military and police field manuals or equivalent, and to make and implement specific commitments on timely investigation of alleged abuses and further calls upon all relevant parties to armed conflict to cooperate in the framework of such commitments, with appropriate United Nations mission personnel who monitor their implementation, and calls upon the parties to designate, as appropriate, a high-level representative responsible for ensuring implementation of such commitments;

11. Emphasizes the important role that can be played by women, civil society, including women's organizations, and formal and informal community leaders in exerting influence over parties to armed conflict with respect to addressing sexual violence;

12. Reiterates the importance of addressing sexual violence in armed conflict whenever relevant, in mediation efforts, ceasefires and peace agreements, requests the Secretary-General, Member States and regional organizations, where appropriate, to ensure that mediators and envoys, in situations where it is used as a method or tactic of war, or as part of a widespread or systematic attack against civilian populations, engage on sexual violence issues, including with women, civil society, including women's organizations, and survivors of sexual violence, and ensure that such concerns are reflected in specific provisions of peace agreements, including those related to security arrangements and transitional justice mechanisms, urges the inclusion of sexual violence in the definition of acts prohibited by ceasefires and in provisions for ceasefire monitoring, and stresses the need for the exclusion of sexual violence crimes from amnesty provisions in the context of conflict resolution processes;

13. Urges existing sanctions committees, where within the scope of the relevant criteria for designation, and consistent with resolution 1960 (2010), to apply targeted sanctions against those who perpetrate and direct sexual violence in conflict, and reiterates its intention, when adopting or renewing targeted sanctions in situations of armed conflict, to consider including, where appropriate, designation criteria pertaining to acts of rape and other forms of serious sexual violence;

14. Recognizes the role of United Nations peacekeeping contingents in preventing sexual violence, and in this respect calls for all predeployment and in-mission training of troop- and police-contributing country contingents to include training on sexual and gender-based violence, which also takes into account the distinct needs of children, and further encourages troop- and police-contributing countries to increase the number of women recruited and deployed in peace operations;

15. Requests the Secretary-General to continue and strengthen efforts to implement the policy of zero tolerance on sexual exploitation and abuse by United Nations personnel, and urges concerned Member States to ensure full accountability, including prosecutions, in cases of such conduct involving their nationals;

16. Requests the Secretary-General and relevant United Nations entities to assist national authorities, with the effective participation of women, in addressing sexual violence concerns explicitly in:

(a) Disarmament, demobilization and reintegration processes, including by establishing protection mechanisms for women and children in cantonment sites, as well as for civilians in close proximity to cantonment sites and in communities of return, and by offering trauma and reintegration support to women and children formerly associated with armed groups, as well as ex-combatants;

(b) Security sector reform processes and arrangements, including through the provision of adequate training for security personnel, encouraging the inclusion of more women in the security sector and effective vetting processes in order to exclude from the security sector those who have perpetrated or are responsible for acts of sexual violence;

(c) Justice sector reform initiatives, including through legislative and policy reforms that address sexual violence; training in sexual and gender-based violence of justice and security sector professionals and the inclusion of more women at professional levels in these sectors; and judicial proceedings that take into account the distinct needs and protection of witnesses as well as survivors of sexual violence in armed conflict and post-conflict situations, and their family members;

17. Recognizes that women who have been forcefully abducted into armed groups and armed forces, as well as children, are especially vulnerable to sexual violence in armed conflict and post-conflict situations and, as such, demands that parties to armed conflict immediately identify and release such persons from their ranks;

18. Encourages concerned Member States to draw upon the expertise of the United Nations Team of Experts established pursuant to resolution 1888 (2009), as appropriate, to strengthen the rule of law and the capacity of civilian and military justice systems to address sexual violence in armed conflict and post-conflict situations as part of broader efforts to strengthen institutional safeguards against impunity;

19. Recognizing the importance of providing timely assistance to survivors of sexual violence, urges United Nations entities and donors to provide non-discriminatory and comprehensive health services, including sexual and reproductive health, psychosocial, legal and livelihood support and other multi-sectoral services for survivors of sexual violence, taking into account the specific needs of persons with disabilities, calls for support to national institutions and local civil society networks in increasing resources and strengthening capacities to provide the above-mentioned services to survivors of sexual violence, encourages Member States and donors to support national and international programmes that assist victims of sexual violence, such as the Trust Fund for Victims established by the Rome Statute²⁰⁰ and its implementing partners, and requests the relevant United Nations entities to increase the allocation of resources for the coordination of gender-based violence response and service provision;

20. Notes the link between sexual violence in armed conflict and post-conflict situations and HIV infection, and the disproportionate burden of HIV and AIDS on women and girls as a persistent obstacle and challenge to gender equality, and urges United Nations entities, Member States and donors to support the development and strengthening of capacities of national health systems and civil society networks in order to provide sustainable assistance to women and girls living with or affected by HIV and AIDS in armed conflict and post-conflict situations;

The Council recognizes that terrorism will not be defeated by military force or security forces, law enforcement measures and intelligence operations alone, and underlines the need to address the conditions conducive to the spread of terrorism, including by, but not limited to, strengthening efforts for the successful prevention and peaceful resolution of prolonged conflicts, and also promoting the rule of law, the protection of human rights and fundamental freedoms, good governance, tolerance and inclusiveness.

The Council stresses the importance of the continued implementation of the United Nations Global Counter-Terrorism Strategy²¹⁵ in an integrated and balanced manner and in all its aspects, and takes note of the third review of the Strategy by the General Assembly in 2012.

The Council welcomes the significant increase in individuals escaping or defecting from the Lord's Resistance Army over recent months, and strongly supports ongoing efforts to promote defections through the distribution of leaflets, targeted radio broadcasts and the establishment of safe reporting sites. The Council calls upon the remaining Lord's Resistance Army fighters to leave the group's ranks and participate in the disarmament, demobilization, repatriation, resettlement and reintegration process. The Council urges the United Nations Organization Stabilization Mission in the Democratic Republic of the Congo, the United Nations Integrated Peacebuilding Office in the Central African Republic, the United Nations Mission in South Sudan, and other United Nations actors in the Lord's Resistance Army-affected region to continue to work with regional forces and non-governmental organizations to promote defections and support the disarmament, demobilization, repatriation, resettlement and reintegration efforts across the Lord's Resistance Army-affected area. The Council welcomes the high-level symposium on the disarmament, demobilization, repatriation, resettlement and reintegration of the Lord's Resistance Army on 30 November 2012 in Addis Ababa, and urges the missions in the region to quickly implement the specific standard operating procedures for the disarmament, demobilization, repatriation, resettlement and reintegration of former Lord's Resistance Army combatants. Given the resource constraints, the Council especially encourages the Special Representative of the Secretary-General for Central Africa, Mr. Moussa, and the United Nations Regional Office for Central Africa to work with the United Nations Integrated Peacebuilding Office in the Central African Republic to develop a plan to augment its support for the disarmament, demobilization, repatriation, resettlement and reintegration efforts in the Central African Republic. The Council calls upon international partners to provide further strategic support as needed.

The Council commends efforts by international donors to provide humanitarian assistance to Lord's Resistance Army-affected populations in the Central African Republic, the Democratic Republic of the Congo and South Sudan. The Council welcomes the steps taken to deliver an enhanced, comprehensive and more regional approach to the humanitarian situation, including assistance to victims of sexual violence and other attacks and urges further progress in this regard. The Council reaffirms the requirement for all parties to promote and ensure safe and unhindered access for humanitarian organizations to the civilian population, in accordance with international law, including applicable international humanitarian law, and guiding principles of humanitarian assistance. The Council expresses concern about the lack of regular humanitarian access to many Lord's Resistance Army-affected communities in the Central African Republic and the Democratic Republic of the Congo, principally because of poor infrastructure, and encourages increased United Nations efforts and international donor support for humanitarian access.

The Council recalls that the arrest warrants issued by the International Criminal Court for Mr. Joseph Kony, Mr. Okot Odhiambo and Mr. Dominic Ongwen on charges of, inter alia, war crimes and crimes against humanity, including murder, rape and the enlistment of children through abduction, have yet to be enforced, and calls upon all States to cooperate with the Ugandan authorities and the Court in order to implement those warrants and to bring to justice those responsible for the atrocities.

The Council requests that the Secretary-General keep it informed on the activities of the United Nations Regional Office for Central Africa, the progress of implementation of the regional strategy and the efforts being undertaken respectively by missions in the region and other relevant United Nations agencies to that end, including through a single report on the Regional Office and the Lord's Resistance Army, to be submitted before 15 May 2013.

At its 6971st meeting, on 29 May 2013, the Council considered the item entitled:

“Central African Region

“Report of the Secretary-General on the activities of the United Nations Regional Office for Central Africa and on the Lord's Resistance Army-affected areas (S/2013/297)”.

At the same meeting, the Council decided to extend an invitation, under rule 39 of its provisional rules of procedure, to Mr. Abou Moussa, Special Representative of the Secretary-General for Central Africa and Head of the United Nations Regional Office for Central Africa.

At the same meeting, following consultations among members of the Security Council, the President made the following statement on behalf of the Council:²⁴⁶

The Security Council reiterates its strong condemnation of the attacks and atrocities carried out by the Lord's Resistance Army and its violations of international humanitarian law and abuses of human rights. The Council condemns further the Lord's Resistance Army's recruitment and use of children in armed conflict, killing and maiming, rape, sexual slavery and other sexual violence and abductions. The Council demands an immediate end to all attacks by the Lord's Resistance Army and urges the Lord's Resistance Army to release all those abducted, disarm and demobilize.

The Council welcomes the conclusions of the Working Group on Children and Armed Conflict concerning the situation of children and armed conflict affected by the Lord's Resistance Army.²⁴⁷ The Council calls for their full implementation.

The Council welcomes the development of the implementation plan for the United Nations regional strategy to address the threat and impact of the activities of the Lord's Resistance Army²⁴⁴ as well as other strategic documents. The Council urges the United Nations Regional Office for Central Africa, in its coordination role, as well as the United Nations political and peacekeeping missions in the region and other relevant United Nations presences, to enhance their efforts in support of the implementation of the strategy, as appropriate and within the limits of their mandates and capacities. The Council also calls upon the international community to provide assistance where possible.

The Council reiterates its support for the African Union Regional Cooperation Initiative against the Lord's Resistance Army, welcomes the finalization of the concept of operations and other strategic documents required for the operationalization of the African Union Regional Task Force, and encourages the deployment of child protection advisers. The Council urges all regional Governments to fulfil their commitments under the Initiative, and encourages neighbouring States to cooperate with it, in order to end the Lord's Resistance Army threat. The Council further encourages all States in the region to take measures to ensure that the Lord's Resistance Army is not able to operate with impunity in their territory. The Council underlines the need for all military action against the Lord's Resistance Army to be conducted in compliance with applicable international law, including international humanitarian law, human rights law and refugee law, and to minimize the risk of harm to civilians in those areas. The Council welcomes the steps taken to deliver an enhanced, comprehensive and more regional approach to the humanitarian situation, including assistance to victims of sexual violence and other attacks, and urges further progress in this regard.

The Council underlines the primary responsibility of States in the Lord's Resistance Army-affected region to protect civilians. In this regard, the Council welcomes the efforts undertaken by the Central African Republic, the Democratic Republic of the Congo, South Sudan and Uganda to end the threat posed by the Lord's Resistance Army, and urges further efforts from these countries, as well as from other countries in the region. In this regard, the Council encourages those countries affected by the Lord's Resistance Army which have not yet done so to establish standard operating procedures for the reception and handover of Lord's Resistance Army children to civilian child protection actors.

The Council expresses concern at the recent pause of counter-Lord's Resistance Army operations in the Central African Republic in the context of the current crisis in the country due to the seizure of power by force on 24 March 2013 by the Séléka coalition as well as the ensuing violence and looting, which worsened the humanitarian and security situation and weakened the institutions of the Central African Republic. Recognizing the need in the short term for the transitional authorities of the Central African Republic, the Economic Community of Central African States, the African Union and the United Nations to strengthen their coordination to solve the current crisis in the Central African Republic as soon as possible, and emphasizing that those responsible for any abuses or violations of human rights or violations of international humanitarian law must be held accountable, the Council encourages continued coordination to allow regional counter-Lord's Resistance Army operations to resume in the Central African Republic as soon as possible. In this regard, the Council calls upon the transitional authorities in the Central African Republic to uphold their commitment to the African Union Regional Task Force and allow regional counter-Lord's Resistance Army operations to resume without hindrance. The Council underlines its appreciation for Uganda's steadfast commitment and leadership to counter the Lord's Resistance Army.

The Council welcomes the efforts of the United Nations Organization Stabilization Mission in the Democratic Republic of the Congo in tackling the Lord's Resistance Army. In this context, the Council encourages further and reinforced efforts by the Mission to tackle the Lord's Resistance Army, including through the training and capacity-building of the Armed Forces of the Democratic Republic of the Congo, support to the Joint Information Operations Centre and implementation of the disarmament, demobilization, repatriation, resettlement and reintegration programme to encourage and facilitate further Lord's Resistance Army defections.

The Council notes the mandate of the United Nations Organization Stabilization Mission in the Democratic Republic of the Congo and the United Nations Mission in South Sudan to help to protect civilians in Lord's Resistance Army-affected areas in their respective countries, and urges their continued efforts to implement this mandate, as well as the mandate of the African Union-United Nations Hybrid Operation in Darfur and the United Nations Integrated Peacebuilding Office in the Central African Republic to cooperate and share swiftly information related to the regional threat of the Lord's Resistance Army. The Council stresses the need for enhanced cross-border coordination, including through the adoption of common standard operating procedures and swift information-sharing between these missions, as well as among all other actors in the region, to better anticipate Lord's Resistance Army movements and imminent threats of attack. The Council expresses concern about the continued reports of Lord's Resistance Army attacks in the Democratic Republic of the Congo during the first quarter of 2013, and calls upon those forces of the United Nations Organization Stabilization Mission in the Democratic Republic of the Congo operating in Lord's Resistance Army-affected areas to reinforce their efforts to target and promote defections from the Lord's Resistance Army through active patrols and increased information-sharing.

The Council takes note of reports suggesting the existence of a Lord's Resistance Army base in the disputed enclave of Kafia Kingi, on the border of the Central African Republic and between South Sudan and the Sudan.

The Council encourages the United Nations, the African Union and the Economic Community of Central African States to work together, including through joint field assessments, to develop a common operating picture of the Lord's Resistance Army's current capabilities and areas of operation, as well as to investigate the Lord's Resistance Army's logistical networks and possible sources of military support and illicit financing, including alleged involvement in elephant poaching and related illicit smuggling. The Council calls upon the Secretary-General to report on possible findings in his reports on implementation of the United Nations counter-Lord's Resistance Army strategy.

The Council urges the United Nations Organization Stabilization Mission in the Democratic Republic of the Congo, the United Nations Integrated Peacebuilding Office in the Central African Republic, the United Nations Mission in South Sudan and other United Nations actors in the Lord's Resistance Army-affected region to continue to work with regional forces and non-governmental organizations to promote a common approach to defections and support the disarmament, demobilization, repatriation, resettlement and reintegration efforts across the Lord's Resistance Army-affected area. The Council highlights the importance of programmes in support of the release, return and successful reintegration of children abducted by the Lord's Resistance Army, in particular those targeting community acceptance of such children.

The Council commends efforts by international donors to provide humanitarian assistance to Lord's Resistance Army-affected populations in the Central African Republic, the Democratic Republic of the Congo and South Sudan. The Council reaffirms the requirement for all parties to allow safe and unhindered access for humanitarian organizations to the civilian population, in accordance with international law, including applicable international humanitarian law, and the United Nations guiding principles of humanitarian assistance. The Council expresses concern about the lack of regular humanitarian access to many Lord's Resistance Army-affected communities in the Central African Republic and the Democratic Republic of the Congo, including because of poor infrastructure, and encourages increased United Nations efforts and international donor support for humanitarian access.

The Council recalls that the arrest warrants issued by the International Criminal Court for Mr. Joseph Kony, Mr. Okot Odhiambo and Mr. Dominic Ongwen on charges of, inter alia, war crimes and crimes against humanity, including murder, rape and the forced enlistment of children, have yet to be enforced, and calls upon all States to cooperate with relevant national authorities and the Court, in accordance with their respective obligations, in order to implement those warrants and to bring to justice those responsible.

The Council requests that the Secretary-General keep it informed on the activities of the United Nations Regional Office for Central Africa, the progress of implementation of the regional strategy and the efforts being undertaken respectively by missions in the region and other relevant United Nations agencies to that end, including through a single report on the Regional Office and the Lord's Resistance Army, to be submitted before 15 November 2013.

expresses its gratitude to the Chairperson of the Implementation Panel, President Thabo Mbeki, and the Special Envoy of the Secretary-General for the Sudan and South Sudan, Mr. Haile Menkerios, for their briefings of 9 August 2012 and for their tireless efforts to broker agreements between the two parties.

The Council affirms its strong commitment to the sovereignty and territorial integrity of both the Sudan and South Sudan. It recalls the importance of the principles of good-neighbourliness, non-interference and regional cooperation.

The Council welcomes significant reduction in violence and tension between the two countries.

The Council commends the African Union, including the African Union High-level Implementation Panel, the African Union Peace and Security Council and the African Union Commission, for its constructive leadership in this process, as further demonstrated by the communiqué issued by the Peace and Security Council on 3 August 2012,²⁵¹ and underscores its continued support for those mediation efforts. In this respect the Security Council supports the convening by the Implementation Panel, supported by the Chairperson of the Intergovernmental Authority on Development, of a round of interactions with the parties, including a summit meeting of the two Presidents, to enable them to reach the necessary agreements on all outstanding issues.

The Council welcomes the fact that the Sudan and South Sudan have reached an agreement on oil and related financial arrangements that should help to alleviate the sharply deteriorating economic conditions affecting each of them. The Council encourages the parties to swiftly finalize the details and the signing of the agreement and move forward with transparent implementation of the agreement, in order for production and transportation to resume as soon as possible.

The Council notes the decision by the Sudan and South Sudan to constitute a joint delegation to approach various countries and institutions to request financial assistance to address the urgent needs of both countries.

The Council notes with interest the agreement by the parties to establish a panel of experts to provide an authoritative, non-binding opinion on the status of the border, and hopes that this process will facilitate a speedy outcome in accordance with the African Union road map and resolution 2046 (2012).

The Council welcomes the memorandums of understanding reached separately by the Government of the Sudan and the Sudan People's Liberation Movement-North with the United Nations, the African Union and the League of Arab States to enable the urgent delivery of humanitarian assistance to affected civilian populations in Southern Kordofan and Blue Nile States in accordance with the tripartite plan proposed by the United Nations, the African Union and the League of Arab States. It calls upon the Government of the Sudan and the Sudan People's Liberation Movement-North to fully and faithfully implement the terms of that plan to expedite the unhindered delivery of this assistance as rapidly as possible, in accordance with applicable international law, including applicable international humanitarian law, and the accepted principles of humanity, neutrality, impartiality and independence in the provision of humanitarian assistance. The Council stresses the urgency of immediately delivering humanitarian relief supplies to the affected civilian populations, so as to avoid any further suffering or loss of life.

The Council recalls the deadline of 2 August 2012 imposed in resolution 2046 (2012) and regrets that the parties have not yet been able to finalize agreements on a number of critical issues, particularly the establishment of the Safe Demilitarized Border Zone; the activation of the Joint Border Verification and Monitoring Mechanism and of the Ad Hoc Committee; resolution of the status of the disputed and claimed border areas and the demarcation of the border; the status of nationals of one country resident in the other; and the temporary security and administrative arrangements for Abyei agreed by the parties on 20 June 2011,²⁵² as well as agreeing on the final status of Abyei.

²⁵¹ S/2012/624, enclosure.

²⁵² See S/2011/384, annex.

The Council strongly urges the Government of the Sudan to accept the African Union administrative and security map of November 2011 without further delay in order to enable the full activation of the Safe Demilitarized Border Zone and the Joint Border Verification and Monitoring Mechanism as required by the Council, and reiterates that the centre line of the Zone in no way prejudices the current or future legal status of the border, ongoing negotiations on the disputed and claimed areas, and demarcation of the border. The Council commends the Government of South Sudan for its formal acceptance of the African Union map but calls upon it to withdraw any forces located to the north of the centre line of the Zone.

The Council expresses serious concern at the security incident of 20 July 2012, condemns all violations of resolution 2046 (2012), in particular aerial bombardments, harbouring of or support to rebel groups and cross-border military movements, and demands an immediate halt to such actions.

The Council acknowledges that the majority of security forces have been withdrawn from the Abyei Area by the Governments of the Sudan and South Sudan, and reiterates its call upon the Government of the Sudan to redeploy the Sudanese oil police from Abyei without preconditions. The Council further calls upon the Abyei Joint Oversight Committee to speedily finalize the establishment of the Abyei Police Service, to enable it to take over policing functions throughout the Abyei Area, including the protection of the oil infrastructure. It also underlines the urgent need for the establishment of the Abyei Area Administration, Council and Police Service, in accordance with the Agreement of 20 June 2011,²⁵² and calls upon the parties to reach agreement on these without further delay and to refrain from unilateral actions in this regard.

The Council recalls its decision in resolution 2046 (2012) that the Government of the Sudan and the Sudan People's Liberation Movement-North should extend full cooperation to the African Union High-level Implementation Panel and the Chairperson of the Intergovernmental Authority on Development to reach a negotiated settlement on the basis of the Framework Agreement of 28 June 2011.

The Council recalls its resolution 2046 (2012) and the African Union road map and demands that the Sudan, South Sudan and the Sudan People's Liberation Movement-North urgently and in good faith finalize and fully implement agreements on all relevant issues as specified in resolution 2046 (2012), and in this regard the Council reiterates its intention to take appropriate additional measures under Article 41 of the Charter of the United Nations, as necessary.

The Council recalls its resolution 2046 (2012) and reiterates its request to the Secretary-General, in consultation with the African Union High-level Implementation Panel, the Chairperson of the Intergovernmental Authority on Development and the Chairperson of the African Union Commission, to report to the Council by 2 September 2012 on the status of negotiations. The Council also looks forward to reviewing the African Union's determinations as indicated in paragraph 18 of the communiqué of the Peace and Security Council of 3 August 2012 and in this regard requests the Secretary-General to report to the Security Council thereafter on the status of negotiations, including detailed proposals on all outstanding issues.

The Council expresses its sadness at the untimely passing of the Prime Minister of Ethiopia, Mr. Meles Zenawi. The Council acknowledges and pays tribute to his tireless efforts as Chairperson of the Intergovernmental Authority on Development in supporting and contributing to the efforts of the African Union High-level Implementation Panel in realizing its mandate on the Sudan and South Sudan. The Council recalls in particular the readiness of Prime Minister Zenawi to deploy 4,200 Ethiopian troops to Abyei in the United Nations Interim Security Force for Abyei.

The Security Council,

Recalling its previous resolutions and the statements by its President concerning the Sudan,

Reaffirming its commitment to the cause of peace throughout the Sudan, to the sovereignty, independence, unity and territorial integrity of the Sudan and to the full and timely implementation of resolution 1591 (2005) of 29 March 2005, and recalling the importance of the principles of good-neighbourliness, non-interference and cooperation in the relations among States in the region,

Recognizing that the Darfur conflict cannot be resolved militarily and that a durable solution can only be obtained through an inclusive political process,

Reiterating its full support for efforts to reach a comprehensive and inclusive solution to the conflict in Darfur, welcoming the Doha Document for Peace in Darfur²⁶¹ as a basis for these efforts, and reiterating the need for the completion of the political process and an end to the violence and abuses in Darfur,

Urging the Government of the Sudan and the Liberation and Justice Movement to deliver on the commitments made in the Doha Document for Peace in Darfur, and urging all parties, in particular other armed movements that have not signed the Doha Document, to engage immediately and without preconditions and to make every effort to reach a comprehensive peace settlement on the basis of the Doha Document, and to agree upon a permanent ceasefire without further delay,

Expressing concern about the political and military links between non-signatory armed groups in Darfur and groups outside Darfur, and demanding that any form of direct or indirect external support for such groups cease, and condemning any actions by any armed group aimed at the forced overthrow of the Government of the Sudan,

Demanding that the parties to the conflict exercise restraint and cease military action of all kinds, including aerial bombardments,

²⁵⁹ S/2012/944.

²⁶⁰ S/2012/943.

²⁶¹ S/2011/449, enclosure 2.

Demanding also an immediate and complete cessation by all parties to armed conflict of all acts of sexual violence against civilians, in line with resolutions 1325 (2000) of 31 October 2000, 1820 (2008) of 19 June 2008, 1888 (2009) of 30 September 2009 and 1889 (2009) of 5 October 2009, recruitment and use of children and other grave violations and abuses against children, in line with resolutions 1612 (2005) of 26 July 2005, 1882 (2009) of 4 August 2009, 1998 (2011) of 12 July 2011 and 2068 (2012) of 19 September 2012, and indiscriminate attacks on civilians, in line with resolution 1894 (2009) of 11 November 2009,

Deploring the continued obstacles that have been imposed by the Government of the Sudan on the work of the Panel of Experts on the Sudan during the course of its mandate, including delays in the issuance of visas, restrictions to the freedom of movement of the Panel and the African Union-United Nations Hybrid Operation in Darfur and limitations on access by the Panel to areas of armed conflict and reported violations of human rights and international humanitarian law, while noting the improved interaction between the focal point of the Government of the Sudan and the Panel,

Deploring also the three incidents of interference by the Government of the Sudan with the work of the Panel of Experts, as set out in paragraphs 18 to 22 of the final report of the Panel of 24 January 2013,²⁶²

Welcoming the enhanced cooperation and information-sharing between the African Union-United Nations Hybrid Operation in Darfur and the Panel of Experts, called for in the guidelines of the Department of Peacekeeping Operations of the Secretariat and with the assistance of the Operation focal point,

Calling upon the Government of the Sudan to fulfil all its commitments, including lifting the state of emergency in Darfur, allowing free expression and undertaking effective efforts to ensure accountability for serious violations of international human rights and humanitarian law, by whomsoever perpetrated,

²⁶² See S/2013/79.

²⁶³ General Assembly resolution 22 A (I).

Noting that acts of hostility, violence or intimidation against the civilian population, including internally displaced persons, in Darfur and other activities that could endanger or undermine the commitment by the parties to a complete and durable cessation of hostilities would be inconsistent with the Doha Document for Peace in Darfur,

3. Requests the Panel of Experts to provide, no later than 31 July 2013, a midterm briefing on its work and no later than 90 days after the adoption of the present resolution an interim report to the Committee and a final report to the Security Council no later than 30 days prior to the termination of its mandate, with its findings and recommendations;

7. Regrets that some individuals affiliated with the Government of the Sudan and armed groups in Darfur continue to commit violence against civilians, impede the peace process and disregard the demands of the Council, expresses its intention to impose targeted sanctions against individuals and entities that meet the listing criteria in paragraph 3 (c) of resolution 1591 (2005), and encourages the Panel of Experts, in coordination with the joint African Union-United Nations mediation, to provide to the Committee, when appropriate, the names of any individuals, groups or entities that meet the listing criteria;

8. Requests the Panel of Experts to continue to investigate the role of armed, military and political groups in attacks against African Union-United Nations Hybrid Operation in Darfur personnel in Darfur, and notes that individuals and entities who plan, sponsor or participate in such attacks constitute a threat to stability in Darfur and may therefore meet the designation criteria provided for in paragraph 3 (c) of resolution 1591 (2005);

9. Expresses its concern that certain items continue to be converted for military purposes and transferred to Darfur, and urges all States to be mindful of this risk in the light of the measures contained in resolution 1591 (2005);

10. Calls upon the Government of the Sudan to remove all restrictions, limitations and bureaucratic impediments imposed on the work of the Panel of Experts, including by issuing timely multiple-entry visas to all members of the Panel for the duration of its mandate and by waiving the requirement of Darfur travel permits for said Panel members;

11. Urges the Government of the Sudan to respond to the Committee's requests on measures put in place to protect civilians in various parts of Darfur, including those affected by new displacements; investigations conducted and accountability measures undertaken for killings of civilians and perpetrators of human rights abuses and violations of international humanitarian law, including, notably, the killings of civilians in Abu Zereiga in June 2011, Hashaba in August 2012 and Sigili in November 2012; investigations conducted and accountability measures undertaken for attacks against peacekeepers and humanitarian personnel; and the situation of civilian populations in areas such as eastern Jebel Marra, where the Panel of Experts, the African Union-United Nations Hybrid Operation in Darfur and humanitarian agencies and personnel have been denied access, and measures taken to allow unimpeded and regular access for humanitarian relief to these areas;

12. Urges all States, relevant United Nations bodies, the African Union and other interested parties to cooperate fully with the Committee and the Panel of Experts, in particular by supplying any information at their disposal on implementation of the measures imposed by resolutions 1556 (2004) and 1591 (2005);

14. Expresses its concern that the travel ban and asset freeze on designated individuals is not being implemented by all Member States, and requests the Committee to respond effectively to any reports of non-compliance by Member States with paragraph 3 of resolution 1591 (2005) and resolution 1672 (2006) of 25 April 2006, including by engaging with all relevant parties;

15. Expresses its intention, following the midterm report, to review the state of implementation, including obstacles to full and effective implementation of the measures imposed in resolutions 1591 (2005) and 1945 (2010), with a view to ensuring full compliance;

17. Welcomes the work of the Committee, which has drawn on the reports of the Panel of Experts and taken advantage of the work done in other forums, to draw attention to the responsibilities of private sector actors in conflict-affected areas;

18. Decides to remain actively seized of the matter.

²⁹⁹ S/PRST/2011/4.

The Council takes note with appreciation of the report of the Secretary-General on peacebuilding in the immediate aftermath of conflict.³⁰⁰

The Council reaffirms that national ownership and national responsibility are key to establishing sustainable peace and reaffirms also the primary responsibility of national authorities in identifying their priorities and strategies for post-conflict peacebuilding.

The Council emphasizes the importance of inclusivity in advancing national peacebuilding processes and objectives in order to ensure that the needs of all segments of society are taken into account. The Council calls upon the United Nations to support national efforts to include relevant national actors in peacebuilding activities and processes.

The Council welcomes initiatives by post-conflict countries to reduce poverty, deter conflict and provide better conditions for their populations and underlines that the primary responsibility for successful peacebuilding lies with Governments and relevant national actors, including civil society, in countries emerging from conflict, and that the United Nations can play a critical role in support of national reconciliation, security sector reform, demobilization, disarmament and reintegration, restoring the rule of law and national institutions, revitalizing the economy and providing basic services and other key peacebuilding efforts in post-conflict countries.

The Council reaffirms that sustainable peace requires an integrated approach based on coherence among political, security, development, human rights, including gender equality, rule of law and justice activities. In this regard, the Council stresses the importance of the rule of law as one of the key elements of peacebuilding, emphasizing that courts must provide justice and equal protection under the law for all citizens, and recognizing the need for enhanced efforts aimed at capacity building in justice and security institutions, especially in the police, prosecutorial, judicial and corrections sectors.

The Council stresses the need for more coordinated, coherent and integrated peacebuilding efforts and emphasizes that better coordination between United Nations missions, United Nations country teams and other regional and development actors, including regional organizations, is of paramount importance in ensuring greater efficiency and effectiveness in the delivery of critical peacebuilding tasks. The Council further emphasizes the need for greater clarity on the respective roles and responsibilities of these actors in the delivery of critical peacebuilding tasks, based on their comparative advantages.

The Council recalls its resolution 1645 (2005) and recognizes the important role of the Peacebuilding Commission in advancing and supporting an integrated and coherent approach to peacebuilding, including promoting improved coherence and alignment of partners' policies around national peacebuilding strategies and priorities. The Council reiterates its support for the work of the Commission and expresses its continued willingness to make use of its advisory, advocacy and resource mobilization role, including through targeted advice on international and national commitment to long-term peacebuilding objectives in countries on the Commission's agenda. The Council further emphasizes the role of the Commission in support of a seamless transition of mandated missions in countries on its agenda, in particular through the mobilization of sustained international support to critical national capacity needs.

The Council notes with appreciation the contribution that peacekeepers and peacekeeping missions make to early peacebuilding, and emphasizes that mandated peacebuilding tasks must also contribute to long-term peacebuilding objectives in order to ensure sustainable progress towards achieving peacebuilding objectives and facilitating the drawdown and transition of peacekeeping missions. The Council recognizes the need to integrate mission expertise and experience into the development of peacebuilding strategies.

The Council further emphasizes the importance of focused, well-defined, balanced and sustained support to partnerships with post-conflict countries, on the basis of mutual commitments, to implement national strategies aimed at effective peacebuilding, including the reconstruction and building of institutions necessary for recovery from conflict, which are based on the achievement of results and mutual accountability. The Council urges Member States and other partners to increase efforts towards achieving the objective of ensuring sustained and predictable financing for peacebuilding, including through the Peacebuilding Fund and multi-donor trust funds.

The Council underlines the importance of effective collaboration with international financial institutions, regional development banks and the private sector in ensuring support to job creation and the long-term socio-economic development needs of post-conflict countries.

The Council encourages national Governments, the United Nations, regional and subregional organizations to broaden and deepen the pool of civilian expertise for peacebuilding in the immediate aftermath of conflict, including from countries with relevant experience in post-conflict peacebuilding or democratic transition, giving particular attention to mobilizing capacities from developing countries and from women, as vital for successful United Nations peacebuilding endeavours. The Council also encourages national Governments, the United Nations and regional and subregional organizations to use existing civilian expertise and further develop them, bearing in mind the necessity to minimize possible duplication of efforts and to ensure their consistency and complementarity. The Council further underlines the importance of intergovernmental deliberations taking forward the process in accordance with General Assembly resolution 66/255 and the imperative of mandating and deploying civilian expertise in compliance with relevant United Nations rules and procedures.

The Council underlines the usefulness of sharing the experience of countries which have gone through conflict and post-conflict situations and comparable transitions, and emphasizes the importance of effective regional, South-South and triangular cooperation.

The Council recognizes the important role of women in the prevention and resolution of conflicts and in peacebuilding, and underlines the primary role of national Governments affected by armed conflict in enhancing the participation of women in the prevention and resolution of conflict and in peacebuilding within the framework of the women, peace and security agenda, including by consulting relevant women's organizations from the earliest stages of planning and priority-setting. The Council welcomes the call of the Secretary-General for the enhanced participation, representation and involvement of women in the prevention and resolution of armed conflict and in peacebuilding, as well as for a stronger commitment to addressing challenges to such engagement of women at all levels.

The Council reiterates the importance of addressing crimes committed against women in armed conflict, including killing and maiming and sexual violence issues, from the outset of peace processes, mediation efforts, ceasefires and peace agreements, particularly in provisions for security arrangements, transitional justice and reparations, as well as in the context of security sector reform.

The Council emphasizes the importance of investing in the economic capacities of women and youth for stable post-conflict recovery and encourages Member States to support such investment.

The Council reaffirms its decision in paragraph 14 of its resolution 1998 (2011) to continue to include specific provisions for the protection of children in the mandates of relevant United Nations missions.

The Council recognizes that transnational organized crime, including illegal activities such as drug trafficking and the illicit trade in arms, negatively impacts the consolidation of peace in countries emerging from conflict, and underlines the importance of increasing international and regional cooperation on the basis of common and shared responsibility to address it effectively and build national capacities for crime prevention and criminal justice. The Council underlines, in this regard, the importance of enhancing cooperation among peacebuilding actors within the same region, to address these challenges in a coordinated manner and in close collaboration with and with the consent of relevant national authorities, regional and subregional organizations as well as United Nations regional offices.

The Council requests the Secretary-General to brief the Council and the General Assembly by December 2013 and to submit a report no later than December 2014 on further progress in the United Nations peacebuilding efforts in the aftermath of conflict, including the issue of the participation of women in peacebuilding, and placing particular emphasis on the impact on the ground, including lessons learned from United Nations peacebuilding activities in country-specific contexts, and on progress in taking forward the elements included in this statement, taking into consideration the views of the Peacebuilding Commission.

The Security Council reaffirms its primary responsibility for the maintenance of international peace and security, in accordance with the Charter of the United Nations, and recognizes the primary responsibility of States in the eradication of piracy.

The Council continues to be gravely concerned by the threat that piracy and armed robbery at sea pose to international navigation, the safety of commercial maritime routes, and the security and economic development of States in the regions concerned, as well as to the safety and welfare of seafarers and other persons, including through their being taken as hostages, and the increasing violence employed by pirates and persons involved in piracy and armed robbery at sea. The Council condemns in the strongest terms hostage taking and the use of violence against hostages, and calls upon States to also cooperate, as appropriate, to secure the early release of hostages, including through sharing of information and intelligence.

The Council reaffirms its respect for the sovereignty, territorial integrity and political independence of the States concerned.

The Council stresses the need for a comprehensive response by the international community to repress piracy and tackle its underlying causes for a durable eradication of piracy and armed robbery at sea and illegal activities connected therewith.

The Council invites all States, the International Maritime Organization, the International Labour Organization and other relevant international organizations and agencies to adopt or recommend, as appropriate, measures to prevent hijackings, measures to protect the interest and welfare of seafarers who are victims of pirates, both during their captivity through the provision of medical and other humanitarian assistance, as well as after their release from captivity, including their post-incident care and reintegration into society, and in this regard takes note of the proposals for a hostage support programme developed by the United Nations – the United Nations Political Office for Somalia and the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime.

The Council reaffirms that international law, as reflected in the United Nations Convention on the Law of the Sea of 10 December 1982,³²² in particular articles 100 to 107, sets out the legal framework applicable to combating piracy and armed robbery at sea, as well as other ocean activities, and calls upon States to take appropriate steps under their national law to facilitate, in accordance with international law, the apprehension and prosecution of those who are alleged to have committed acts of piracy, including the financing or facilitation of such acts, also taking into account other relevant international instruments consistent with the Convention.

The Council reiterates its call upon States, particularly concerned States, to criminalize piracy under their domestic law and to favourably consider the prosecution of suspected, and imprisonment of convicted, pirates and their facilitators and financiers ashore, consistent with applicable international law, including international human rights law.

The Council urges States and international organizations, as well as the private sector, to share evidence, information and intelligence, as appropriate, for anti-piracy law enforcement purposes, including for ensuring effective prosecution of suspected, and imprisonment of convicted, pirates, and encourages existing and future initiatives in this regard.

The Council welcomes the fact that effective counter-piracy measures through increased national, bilateral and multilateral initiatives as well as regional cooperative mechanisms have led to a substantial reduction in the number of successful piracy-related attacks in different regions, and recognizes the need for continuing efforts with these counter-piracy measures as these gains are reversible as long as the conditions ashore are conducive to pirate activity at sea.

The Council welcomes the commitments made for continued efforts to repress piracy, including efforts by bilateral donors and regional and international organizations to strengthen the capacity of the relevant States to counter piracy and armed robbery at sea, including through prosecution of those responsible for acts of piracy and armed robbery at sea and imprisonment of convicted pirates, and in this connection welcomes the important contribution of the Trust Fund to Support Initiatives of States Countering Piracy off the Coast of Somalia and the International Maritime Organization Djibouti Code Trust Fund, and urges both State and non-State sectors affected by piracy, most notably the international shipping community, to contribute to them. The Council also notes the work of the International Piracy Ransoms Task Force to explore options for dealing with the issue of ransom payments to pirates, recognizing its importance.

The Council stresses that the coordination of efforts at the regional level is necessary for the development of a comprehensive strategy to counter the threat of piracy and armed robbery at sea, in order to enable the prevention and disruption of such criminal activities, and also notes the need for international assistance as part of a comprehensive strategy to support national and regional efforts to assist the Member States taking steps to address piracy and armed robbery at sea and the illegal activities connected therewith.

The Council reiterates the urgent need to investigate and prosecute not only suspects captured at sea but also anyone who incites or intentionally facilitates piracy operations, including key figures of criminal networks involved in piracy who illicitly plan, organize, facilitate, or finance and profit from such attacks.

The Council encourages Member States to continue to cooperate with each other in the fight against piracy and armed robbery at sea off the coast of Somalia, underlines the primary responsibility of Somali authorities in the fight against piracy and armed robbery at sea off the coast of Somalia, and requests the Somali authorities, with assistance from the Secretary-General and relevant United Nations entities, to pass a complete set of counter-piracy laws without further delay, and to declare an exclusive economic zone in accordance with the United Nations Convention on the Law of the Sea.

The Council commends the efforts of the European Union operation Atalanta, the North Atlantic Treaty Organization operations Allied Protector and Ocean Shield commanded by the States members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, the Combined Maritime Forces' Combined Task Force 151 commanded by Denmark, New Zealand, Pakistan, the Republic of Korea, Singapore, Thailand, Turkey and the United States of America, and other States acting in their national capacity in cooperation with Somali authorities and each other, to suppress piracy and to protect vulnerable ships transiting through the waters off the coast of Somalia, and appreciates the efforts of Member States, including China, India, Japan, Malaysia, the Republic of Korea and the Russian Federation, which have deployed ships and/or aircraft in the region, as stated in the report of the Secretary-General.³²³

The Council welcomes the initiatives already taken by States and regional organizations, including the Economic Community of Central African States, the Economic Community of West African States, the Gulf of Guinea Commission and the Maritime Organization of West and Central Africa, to enhance maritime safety and security in the Gulf of Guinea.

The Council also appreciates the efforts of States in the region of the Gulf of Guinea, and encourages international partners to provide support to States and regional organizations for the enhancement of their capabilities to counter piracy and armed robbery at sea in the region, including their maritime capability to conduct regional patrols and operations in accordance with applicable law.

The Council commends the continued efforts of the Contact Group on Piracy off the Coast of Somalia to coordinate international efforts in different aspects of the fight against piracy.

³²³ S/2012/783.

The Council appreciates the assistance being provided by the United Nations through the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime and the United Nations Development Programme and through other international organizations and donors, in coordination with the Contact Group on Piracy off the Coast of Somalia, to enhance the capacity of the judicial and corrections systems in Somalia, Kenya, Seychelles and other States in the region to prosecute suspected, and imprison convicted, pirates consistent with applicable international human rights law, and encourages coordination of United Nations actions, including those of its agencies, funds and programmes, in order to improve the effectiveness of international efforts.

The Council emphasizes the importance of promptly reporting incidents to enable accurate information on the scope of the problem of piracy and armed robbery against ships and, in the case of armed robbery against ships, by affected vessels to the coastal State, underlines the importance of effective and timely information-sharing with States potentially affected by incidents of piracy and armed robbery against ships, and takes note of the important role of the International Maritime Organization in this regard.

The Council notes the adoption by the International Maritime Organization of guidelines to assist in the investigation of the crimes of piracy and armed robbery against ships, revised interim guidance to shipowners, ship operators and shipmasters on the use of privately contracted armed security personnel on board ships in the high-risk area, and the revised interim recommendations for flag States, port States and coastal States regarding the use of privately contracted armed security personnel on board ships in the high-risk area, and encourages flag States and port States to further consider the development of safety and security measures on board vessels, including regulations for the deployment of privately contracted armed security personnel on board ships through a consultative process, including through the International Maritime Organization and the International Organization for Standardization.

The Council notes the request of some Member States on the need to review the boundaries of the high-risk area on an objective and transparent basis taking into account actual incidents of piracy, noting that the high-risk area is set and defined by the insurance and maritime industry.

The Council takes note of the ongoing cooperation between the International Maritime Organization, the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime and the Division for Ocean Affairs and the Law of the Sea of the Office of Legal Affairs of the Secretariat with respect to the compilation of national legislation on piracy, encourages countries that have not yet provided their legislation to do so, and notes that copies of national legislation received by the Secretariat have been placed on the website of the United Nations.

The Council requests the Secretary-General to include in his relevant reports to the Council the information concerning the implementation of the present statement, including any new information and observations, taking into account the work of relevant stakeholders, including regional organizations, on possible ways to advance international efforts to combat the problem of piracy and armed robbery at sea and associated hostage taking.

The members of the Council have taken note of the request contained in your letter that the time frame for the issuance of the report be extended and look forward to the submission of the report by 14 June 2013.

At its 6965th meeting, on 13 May 2013, the Council decided to invite the representatives of Algeria, Benin, Côte d'Ivoire, Ethiopia, the Sudan and the United Republic of Tanzania to participate, without vote, in accordance with rule 37 of its provisional rules of procedure, in the discussion of the item entitled:

“Peace and security in Africa

“The challenges of the fight against terrorism in Africa in the context of maintaining international peace and security

“Letter dated 30 April 2013 from the Permanent Representative of Togo to the United Nations addressed to the Secretary-General (S/2013/264)”.

At the same meeting, following consultations among members of the Security Council, the President made the following statement on behalf of the Council:³⁴⁰

The Security Council reaffirms its primary responsibility for the maintenance of international peace and security, in accordance with the Charter of the United Nations.

³³⁸ S/2013/277.

³³⁹ S/2013/276.

³⁴⁰ S/PRST/2013/5.

The Council notes with deep concern that terrorism continues to pose a serious threat to international peace and security, the enjoyment of human rights and the social and economic development of States and undermines global stability and prosperity in Africa and, in particular, that this threat has become more diffuse, with an increase, in various regions of the world, of terrorist acts including those motivated by intolerance and extremism.

The Council recalls all its resolutions and statements on counter-terrorism, reiterates its strong condemnation of terrorism in all its forms and manifestations, committed by whomever, wherever and for whatever purposes, and expresses its determination to combat, by all means, terrorism in all its forms and manifestations in accordance with the Charter and international law, including applicable international human rights, refugee and humanitarian law.

The Council is deeply concerned by the increasing violence perpetrated by armed groups, the number of which is growing in several regions and subregions of Africa. The Council is all the more concerned as the States in these regions are faced with difficulties such as porous borders, which continue to pose challenges to border control, and the increasing illegal trafficking of arms; these States furthermore face difficult socioeconomic situations, which result in a lack of means and resources to effectively combat terrorism. The Council recognizes the importance of strong and effective national, subregional and regional institutions in this regard.

The Council recognizes that terrorism will not be defeated by military force or security forces, law enforcement measures and intelligence operations alone and underlines the need to address the conditions conducive to the spread of terrorism, including but not limited to strengthening efforts for the successful prevention and peaceful resolution of prolonged conflicts and promoting the rule of law, the protection of human rights and fundamental freedoms, good governance, tolerance and inclusiveness.

The Council underscores that the long-term fight against terrorism must adopt a comprehensive approach by dealing with the challenges of increasing economic growth, promoting good governance, reducing poverty, building state capacity, extending social services and fighting corruption, particularly in Africa, but also in other regions.

The Council reaffirms that terrorism cannot and should not be associated with any religion, nationality or civilization.

The Council also reaffirms that Member States shall refrain in their international relations from the threat or use of force against the territorial integrity or political independence of any State, shall give the United Nations every assistance in any action it takes in accordance with the Charter and shall refrain from giving assistance to any State against which the United Nations is taking preventive or enforcement action.

The Council notes with concern that terrorist threats jeopardize the security of the countries in the subregions concerned and, consequently, of the entire continent and negatively impact the efforts by African States to promote social and economic development. The Council recognizes that development and security are mutually reinforcing and are vital to an effective and comprehensive approach to countering terrorism.

The Council notes the changing nature and character of terrorism in Africa, expresses its concern regarding the connection, in many cases, between terrorism and transnational organized crime and illicit activities such as drug, arms and human trafficking and emphasizes the need to enhance coordination of efforts at the national, subregional, regional and international levels in order to strengthen a global response to this serious challenge and threat to international peace and security.

The Council recalls its resolutions 1267 (1999) and 1989 (2011), 1373 (2001), 1540 (2004) and 1624 (2005), as well as other applicable international counter-terrorism instruments, stresses the need for their full implementation, renews its call upon States to consider becoming parties as soon as possible to all relevant international conventions and protocols and to fully implement their obligations under those to which they are parties and notes the decision by the Ad Hoc Committee established by General Assembly resolution 51/210 of 17 December 1996, noting that more time was required to achieve substantive progress on the outstanding issues, to recommend that the Sixth Committee, at the sixty-ninth session of the General Assembly, establish a working group with a view to finalizing the process on the draft comprehensive convention on international terrorism.³⁴¹

³⁴¹ Official Records of the General Assembly, Sixty-eighth Session, Supplement No. 37 (A/68/37), para. 12.

The Council considers sanctions an important tool in countering terrorism and underlines the importance of prompt and effective implementation of the relevant resolutions, in particular Council resolutions 1267 (1999) and 1989 (2011), as key instruments in the fight against terrorism. The Council reiterates its continued commitment to ensure that fair and clear procedures exist for placing individuals and entities on sanctions lists and for removing them, as well as for granting humanitarian exemptions.

The Council reiterates the need to increase ongoing cooperation among the committees with counter-terrorism mandates established pursuant to its resolutions 1267 (1999) and 1989 (2011), 1373 (2001), 1540 (2004) and 1988 (2011) and their respective groups of experts.

The Council reiterates its readiness to impose sanctions on individuals and entities that harbour, finance, facilitate, support, organize, train or incite individuals or groups to perpetrate acts of violence or terrorist acts against other States or their citizens in Somalia or the region, in accordance with its relevant resolutions, and other regional networks as well as individuals, groups, undertakings and entities that do not cut off all ties to Al-Qaida and associated groups, including Al-Qaida in the Islamic Maghreb, the Mouvement pour l'unicité et le jihad en Afrique de l'Ouest and Ansar Eddine, in accordance with its resolution 2083 (2012).

The Council notes the relevant instruments of the African Union on the prevention of and the fight against terrorism, in particular the 1999 Algiers Convention on the Prevention and Combating of Terrorism³⁴² and its additional Protocol and the Plan of Action on the Prevention and Combating of Terrorism, and welcomes the steps taken by African States at the national and regional levels to combat terrorism.

The Council, taking note of the decision of the African Union contained in the communiqué of 8 December 2011 issued by its Peace and Security Council, strongly condemns incidents of kidnapping and hostage-taking with the aim of raising funds or gaining political concessions, notes the increase in such kidnappings in the Sahel region and underscores the urgent need to address these issues. The Security Council further expresses its determination to combat kidnapping and hostage-taking in the Sahel region, in accordance with applicable international law, and in this regard notes the publication by the Global Counterterrorism Forum of the Algiers Memorandum on Good Practices on Preventing and Denying the Benefits of Kidnapping for Ransom by Terrorists.

The Council reiterates the obligation of Member States to refrain, consistent with international law, from providing any form of support, active or passive, to entities or persons involved in or associated with terrorist acts, including by suppressing recruitment of members of terrorist groups and eliminating the supply of weapons to terrorists, and recognizes the need to prevent and suppress the financing of terrorism and terrorist organizations, including from the proceeds of illicit activities such as organized crime, and the trafficking and illicit production of narcotic drugs and their chemical precursors, and the importance of continued international cooperation towards that aim.

The Council acknowledges the important work of United Nations entities and other multilateral organizations in supporting efforts to prevent and suppress the financing of terrorism and terrorist organizations, in particular the work of the Financial Action Task Force, the Eastern and Southern African Anti-money-laundering Group, the Intergovernmental Action Group against Money-Laundering in West Africa and the Middle East and North Africa Financial Action Task Force in promoting capacity and cooperation.

The Council emphasizes that continuing international efforts to enhance dialogue and broaden understanding among civilizations in an effort to prevent the indiscriminate targeting of different religions and cultures and addressing unresolved regional conflicts and the full range of global issues, including development issues, will contribute to strengthening the international fight against terrorism.

The Council reaffirms the need for African States to work closely and directly through the relevant bodies of the African Union and other regional frameworks for the implementation of enhanced measures for cooperation, mutual assistance and coordination between security agencies, prosecutors and judges, with a view to making the collective endeavours of Africa more effective and, specifically, more proactive in combating terrorism, and emphasizes the need to take all necessary and appropriate measures, in accordance with international law, to include protections for the right to life and other human rights in Africa.

The Council is concerned about extremism and the incitement of terrorism in African States and emphasizes the importance of countering violent extremism in the fight against terrorism, including by addressing the conditions conducive to the spread of terrorism and building community resilience to resist incitement by promoting tolerance, diversity, respect and dialogue.

The Council recognizes the support provided by bilateral and multilateral actors, including the African Union, the European Union, the Organization of Islamic Cooperation, the League of Arab States and subregional organizations such as the Economic Community of West African States, the Community of Sahelo-Saharan States, the Intergovernmental Authority on Development and the Arab Maghreb Union, to efforts aimed at combating terrorism in Africa and calls upon the international community and the United Nations system to strengthen their cooperation with counter-terrorism subregional bodies such as the African Centre for Studies and Research on Terrorism.

The Council recalls the crucial role of the Security Council Committee established pursuant to resolution 1373 (2001) concerning counter-terrorism (the Counter-Terrorism Committee) and its Executive Directorate in ensuring the full implementation of resolutions 1373 (2001) and 1624 (2005) and underlines the importance of capacity-building and technical assistance with a view to increasing the capabilities of Member States for an effective implementation of its resolutions, encourages the Counter-Terrorism Committee Executive Directorate to continue to work with Member States, at their request, and to assess and facilitate technical assistance, in particular, in close cooperation with the Counter-Terrorism Implementation Task Force, as well as with all bilateral and multilateral technical assistance providers, and welcomes the focused and regional approach of the Counter-Terrorism Committee Executive Directorate aimed at addressing the counter-terrorism needs of each Member State and region.

The Council notes with appreciation the activities undertaken in the area of capacity-building by United Nations entities, including the Counter-Terrorism Implementation Task Force, in coordination with other relevant international, regional and subregional organizations, to assist African Member States, upon their request, in implementing the United Nations Global Counter-Terrorism Strategy³⁴³ and encourages the Task Force to ensure focused delivery of capacity-building assistance.

The Council urges Sahel and Maghreb States to enhance interregional cooperation and coordination in order to develop inclusive and effective strategies to combat, in a comprehensive and integrated manner, the activities of terrorist groups, namely Al-Qaida in the Islamic Maghreb, the Mouvement pour l'unicité et le jihad en Afrique de l'Ouest and Ansar Eddine, and prevent the expansion of those groups as well as to suppress the proliferation of all arms and fight transnational organized crime, including drug trafficking, and in this regard takes note of the outcome of the conference on border-control cooperation in the Sahel and the Maghreb organized by the Counter-Terrorism Committee Executive Directorate and the Counter-Terrorism Implementation Task Force in Rabat from 13 to 15 March 2013, as well as the outcome of the ministerial meeting on the enhancement of security cooperation and the operationalization of the African Peace and Security Architecture in the Sahelo-Saharan region held in Nouakchott on 17 March 2013.

The Council recognizes the importance of an effective criminal justice response to terrorism by national jurisdictions and underlines the importance of strengthening cooperation among Member States and with United Nations entities and subsidiary bodies with a view to enhancing their individual capabilities, including by supporting their efforts to develop and implement counter-terrorism practices based on the rule of law, and notes the publication by the Global Counterterrorism Forum of the Rabat Memorandum on Good Practices for Effective Counter-terrorism Practice in the Criminal Justice Sector.

The Council recognizes that the scourge of terrorism can be defeated only by a sustained and comprehensive approach involving active participation and collaboration of all States, and relevant international and regional organizations and civil society, and underlines the need to address the conditions conducive to the spread of terrorism, as outlined in the United Nations Global Counter-Terrorism Strategy. The Council encourages Member States to develop comprehensive and integrated counter-terrorism strategies.

The Council invites the Secretary-General to submit, within six months, a concise report providing a comprehensive survey and assessment of the relevant work of the United Nations to help States and subregional and regional entities in Africa in fighting terrorism, with a view to continuing consideration of possible steps in this regard.
