The Assembly also approved the provisional programme of work and timetable of the First Committee for 2017 (decision 71/518), and the proposed programme of work and timetable of the Special Political and Decolonization Committee (Fourth Committee) (decision 71/522), the programmes of work of the Second Committee (decision 71/543) and the Third Committee (decision 71/538) and the provisional programme of work of the Sixth Committee (decision 71/528) for the seventy-second session of the Assembly.

At its resumed seventy-first session, the General Assembly welcomed the report of the Ad Hoc Working Group on the Revitalization of the Work of the General Assembly and the updated inventory of Assembly resolutions on revitalization annexed thereto. It decided to establish, at its seventy-second session, an ad hoc working group on the revitalization of the work of the General Assembly, open to all Member States, to identify further ways to enhance the role, authority, effectiveness and efficiency of the Assembly, inter alia, by building on the progress achieved in past sessions of the Assembly as well as on previous resolutions, including evaluating the status of their implementation, and to submit a report thereon to the Assembly at its seventy-second session. The Assembly also decided that the Ad Hoc Working Group would continue its review of the inventory of Assembly resolutions on revitalization annexed to the report of the Ad Hoc Working Group submitted at the seventy-first session and, as a result, continue to update the inventory to be attached to the report at the seventy-second session of the Assembly. Furthermore, the Assembly took note with appreciation of the multilingual web page devoted to the revitalization of the work of the Assembly, accessible directly from the United Nations website (www.un.org/en/ga/revitalization), and invited the Secretariat to continue updating that web page and its substantive content in a cost-effective manner (resolution 71/323).

At the same session, the General Assembly requested each Main Committee to further discuss its working methods at the beginning of every session and invited the Chairs of the Main Committees to brief the Ad Hoc Working Group at the seventy-second session on any best practices and lessons learned with a view to improving such working methods as appropriate. The Assembly called for the six Chairs of the Main Committees to meet periodically during the Assembly session to share best practices and increase the coherence and complementarity in the work of the Main Committees. The Assembly requested the President of the General Assembly at its seventy-second session to identify proposals through consultations with all Member States and the President of the Economic and Social Council, as well as through the convening of the General Committee, aimed at addressing gaps and duplication in the agenda of the General Assembly as they relate to the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development, taking into account the report on the strategic alignment of future sessions of the Assembly and other relevant inputs, for the consideration of Member States during the seventy-third session of the Assembly.

Also at the same session, the General Assembly encouraged the scheduling of future high-level meetings during the first half of the year, from within existing resources, taking into account the calendar of conferences and without prejudice to the current practice of convening one high-level meeting in September at the beginning of each session of the Assembly; called for strict adherence by each speaker to the time limits in the Assembly, where applicable, and in particular during the general debate, the high-level meetings of the Assembly and the high-level thematic debates convened by the President of the General Assembly; invited the Chairs of meetings of the Assembly and United Nations conferences, especially when there is very limited time available for debate, to consider recommending the “all protocol observed” principle, whereby participants are encouraged to refrain from listing standard protocol expressions during their statements; recalled the interim arrangement adopted in Assembly decision 68/505 on the pattern for the rotation of the Chairs of the Main Committees until the seventy-third session; reiterated its request that the Ad Hoc Working Group prepare long-term arrangements concerning the election of Chairs and Rapporteurs of the Main Committees of the Assembly with the aim of establishing a predictable, transparent and fair mechanism, in consultation with regional groups, and to submit them to the Assembly not later than the seventy-second session and, in that regard, invited Member States to present proposals and begin giving early attention to conclude a future arrangement which would come into effect as of the seventy-fourth session of the Assembly with the annex to resolution 68/307 containing the guidelines on the election of the Chairs and Rapporteurs of the Main Committees to be considered in this context (resolution 71/323).

Also at its resumed seventy-first session, the General Assembly requested the Co-Chairs of the Ad Hoc Working Group to continue to convene the interactive and comprehensive dialogue between the Permanent Missions and the Secretariat within the framework of the Ad Hoc Working Group, aimed at identifying issues in the interaction of the Secretariat with the Permanent Missions and identifying solutions in better meeting the needs and requirements of the Permanent Missions regarding standard operating procedures used at the United Nations Headquarters in New York; decided that during the calendar year 2018, official meetings of the day, forthcoming official meetings and summaries of official meetings would be published in the Journal of the United Nations in all six official languages and that all other meetings and information, contained in the remaining part of the current version of the Journal, would be published in the languages currently used from January to August; and called upon all relevant intergovernmental bodies to review the need and content of the Journal summaries of their meetings and other announcements, and to take the steps necessary with a view to ensuring a more streamlined format of the Journal (resolution 71/323).

At its seventy-first session, the Assembly considered this question under the item entitled “Review of the efficiency of the administrative and financial functioning of the United Nations” (see also item 135).

At its fifty-eighth session, in 2003, the General Assembly decided that the programme narratives of the programme budget fascicles should be identical to the biennial programme plan; decided also to keep the current format of the proposed programme budget and to maintain the level of information contained therein; requested the Secretary-General to include in the introduction of the budget fascicles information on the new and/or revised mandates approved by the Assembly subsequent to the adoption of the biennial programme plan; and requested the Secretary-General to ensure that resources were clearly identified in all the sections of the proposed programme budget for the performance of the monitoring and evaluation functions (resolution 58/269).

At its sixtieth session, the General Assembly endorsed the proposal that the request for a subvention to the United Nations Institute for Disarmament Research be submitted for review and approval by the General Assembly on a biennial basis in the context of its consideration of the proposed programme budget for the related biennium (resolution 60/248, sect. The Assembly requested the Secretary-General to prepare the proposed programme budget for the biennium 2018-2019 on the basis of the priorities and the strategic framework as adopted in the resolution (resolution 71/6).

The General Assembly underlined the importance of the resident coordinator system and requested the Secretary-General to present to the Assembly at its seventy-second session a refined proposal on the cost-sharing arrangement and management of the financing thereof and to submit associated costs in the proposed programme budget for the biennium 2018-2019 (resolution 71/272 B, sect. At its twenty-ninth session, in 1974, the General Assembly established the Committee on Conferences, composed of 22 Member States (resolution 3351 (XXIX)).

At its forty-third session, the General Assembly decided to retain the Committee on Conferences as a permanent subsidiary organ composed of 21 members to be appointed by the President of the Assembly, after consultations with the Chairs of the regional groups, for a period of three years (resolution 43/222 B) (see also item 116 (f)).

At its seventy-first session, the General Assembly noted with satisfaction that the Secretariat had taken into account the arrangements referred to in relevant resolutions of the General Assembly concerning Orthodox Good Friday, Yom Kippur, Day of Vesak, Diwali, GURPURAB, Orthodox Christmas and the official holidays of Eid al-Fitr and Eid al-Adha, and requested all relevant intergovernmental bodies to continue to observe the applicable decisions when planning their meetings (resolution 71/262, sect. I).

At the same session, the General Assembly requested the Committee on Conferences to consult those bodies that had consistently utilized less than the applicable benchmark of their allocated resources for the past six years, with a view to making appropriate recommendations in order to achieve the optimum utilization of conference-servicing resources. The Assembly urged the secretariats and bureaux of bodies that underutilize their conference-servicing resources to work more closely with the Department for General Assembly and Conference Management of the Secretariat and to consider changes to their programmes of work, as appropriate, including adjustments based on previous patterns of recurring agenda items, with a view to making improvements in their utilization factors (resolution 71/262, sect. II).

Also at the same session, the General Assembly welcomed the efforts undertaken by the Secretary-General to increase the utilization rates of conference-servicing resources, and in that regard encouraged the Secretary-General to enhance the efficiency of conference servicing and to report thereon to the Assembly at its seventy-second session, and requested the Secretary-General to continue his efforts aimed at improving conference servicing at the four main duty stations, including through addressing or eliminating possible duplication, overlap and redundancy, and identifying innovative ideas, potential synergies and other cost-saving measures, without compromising quality or affecting the provision of services, and to report annually on the progress made in that regard (resolution 71/262, sect. II).

Also at its seventy-first session, the General Assembly re-emphasized the need to continue to improve all conference facilities, including the videoconferencing infrastructure, at all four main duty stations and at the regional commissions, and in that regard requested the Secretary-General to report thereon no later than at the seventy-second session of the Assembly. The Assembly welcomed the measures taken to ensure access to and use of conference services and conference facilities for persons with disabilities, including the establishment of the Accessibility Centre, and encouraged the Secretary-General to continue further efforts in that regard and to report thereon to the Assembly at its seventy-second session. The Assembly requested the Secretary-General to continue to address issues related to the accessibility of conference facilities as a matter of priority and to report thereon to the Assembly at its seventy-second session (resolution 71/262, sect. II).

At the same session, the General Assembly welcomed the integrated global management rule as an efficient approach, where feasible, to servicing meetings away from duty stations, in that regard requested the Secretary-General to strengthen his efforts to realize further savings by rigorously applying the integrated global management rule to applicable meetings, without jeopardizing the quality of services, and to report thereon to the Committee on Conferences at its substantive session in 2017, and also requested the Secretary-General to continue to report on the financial savings achieved through the implementation of the integrated global management projects (resolution 71/262, sect. II).

Also at the same session, the General Assembly noted with appreciation the efforts of the Secretary-General in the context of the integrated global management initiative to establish and implement at the four main duty stations common performance indicators and single information technology systems (such as gData, gDoc, gMeets and gText), and requested the Secretary-General to report thereon to the Assembly at its seventy-second session. The Assembly acknowledged that the concept of integrated global management had been fully mainstreamed into all areas of the conference services across the four main conference-servicing duty stations, and requested the Secretary-General to keep the Assembly and its Committee on Conferences apprised of progress made in ensuring integrated global management and to provide accurate and up-to-date information on new initiatives falling under the purview of the Committee (resolution 71/262, sect. III).

Also at its seventy-first session, the General Assembly requested the Secretary-General to continue to report to the Assembly on concrete measures taken by author departments and the Department for General Assembly and Conference Management to improve the predictability of document delivery and ensure accountability for the meeting of deadlines in order to ensure the timely issuance of documentation. The Assembly also requested the Secretary-General to continue to seek ways to promote workload-sharing among the four main duty stations and to report thereon to the Assembly at its seventy-second session (resolution 71/262, sect. IV).

At the same session, the General Assembly recalled paragraph 86 of its resolution 70/9, and in that regard requested the Secretary-General to entrust the Department of Public Information with presenting a proposal for the digitization of important older United Nations documents at all four main duty stations for consideration by the General Assembly through the Committee on Information no later than at the main part of its seventy-second session, outlining, inter alia, the definition of important older United Nations documents, as well as the scope and estimated quantity, cost and time frame, and also requested the Secretary-General to seek additional voluntary contributions for the digitization of older United Nations documents, including by broadening the donor base, and to report thereon in the context of that report (resolution 71/262, sect. IV).

Also at the same session, the General Assembly reiterated the need for the Secretary-General to ensure the compatibility of technologies used in all duty stations and to ensure that they are user-friendly in all official languages. The Assembly requested the Secretary-General to continue to maintain and update the global terminology portal in order to ensure its availability to United Nations staff, Member States and the general public with a view to achieving harmonization of the terminology used at all United Nations duty stations (resolution 71/262, sect. V).

Also at its seventy-first session, the General Assembly requested the Secretary-General to refrain from making any change of a substantive nature to agreed texts of both draft and adopted resolutions and to report thereon to the Assembly at its seventy-second session (resolution 71/262, sect. V).

141. Scale of assessments for the apportionment of the expenses of the United Nations

The regular budget of the United Nations is apportioned among its Member States in accordance with the scale of assessments approved by the General Assembly on the recommendation of the Committee on Contributions (see item 116 (b)). The scale of assessments has also been used to apportion the costs of the capital master plan. The scale, as modified by the provisions of resolutions 55/235 and 55/236 and other resolutions concerning the financing of peacekeeping operations, has also been used to apportion the cost of peacekeeping operations among Member States. The assessment rates used for the regular budget and peacekeeping operations have also been used for apportioning the costs of the International Criminal Tribunal for Rwanda, the International Tribunal for the Former Yugoslavia and the International Residual Mechanism for Criminal Tribunals.

At its fifty-fourth session, in 1999, the General Assembly decided that requests for exemption under Article 19 of the Charter must be submitted by Member States to the President of the Assembly at least two weeks before the session of the Committee on Contributions, so as to ensure a complete review of the requests (resolution 54/237 C).

At its fifty-seventh session, the General Assembly endorsed the conclusions and recommendations of the Committee on Contributions concerning multi-year payment plans, as contained in paragraphs 17 to 23 of its report (A/57/11). Among those recommendations were that the Secretary-General should be requested to provide information on the submission of multi-year payment plans to the Assembly through the Committee and to submit an annual report to the Assembly through the Committee on the status of Member States' payment plans as at 31 December each year (resolution 57/4 B).

At its seventieth session, the General Assembly adopted a scale of assessments for the period from 2016 to 2018, based on the recommendations of the Committee on Contributions and using the same methodology applied to the preparation of the scale of assessments for the five previous scale periods. The Assembly requested the Committee, in accordance with rule 160 of the rules of procedure of the Assembly, to consider all relevant data in appeals submitted by Member States that might affect their capacity to pay, and encouraged Member States to submit national accounts data under the 1993 and the 2008 System of National Accounts on a timely basis. The Assembly also requested the Committee, in accordance with its mandate and the rules of procedure of the Assembly, to review and make recommendations on the elements of the methodology of the scale of assessments in order to reflect the capacity of Member States to pay, and to report thereon to the Assembly by the main part of its seventy-third session (resolution 70/245).

At its seventy-first session, the General Assembly continued its consideration of the item (resolution 71/2).

At its fifty-sixth and sixty-fourth sessions, the General Assembly deferred consideration of the item until its subsequent session (decisions 56/458 C and 64/548).

At its seventy-first session, the General Assembly took note of the preliminary nature of the findings and lessons learned in the implementation of the first managed mobility exercise for Political, Peace and Humanitarian Network (POLNET) staff members and requested the Secretary-General to conduct further analysis and to report thereon to the Assembly at its seventy-second session in order to realize the full benefits of mobility. The Assembly also requested the Secretary-General to ensure the necessary cooperation among related departments and offices in the implementation of the new staff selection and managed mobility system, and requested him to report thereon in his next progress report on mobility. The Assembly further requested the Secretary-General to provide detailed information on his proposal to include vacant positions at B, C, D and E duty stations in the managed mobility system in his next progress report (resolution 71/263, sect. 143. Joint Inspection Unit

At its twenty-first session, in 1966, the General Assembly established the Joint Inspection Unit for an initial period of four years (resolution 2150 (XXI)), and subsequently decided to continue the Unit until 31 December 1973 (resolution 2735 A (XXV)) and then for a further period of four years beyond that date (resolution 2924 B (XXVII)). At its thirty-first session, the Assembly approved the statute of the Unit as a subsidiary organ of the Assembly and of the legislative bodies of the specialized agencies that accepted the new statute (resolution 31/192). The membership of the Unit was increased from 8 to not more than 11 Inspectors, with effect from 1 January 1978.

The General Assembly continued to reaffirm the statute of the Unit and its unique and independent system-wide role in the areas of inspection, evaluation and investigation at various sessions from its forty-eighth to seventieth sessions (resolutions 48/221, 50/233, 54/16, 60/258, 61/238, 61/260, 62/226, 62/246, 63/272, 64/262, 65/270, 66/259, 67/256, 68/266, 69/275 and 70/257).

At its fiftieth session, in June 1996, the General Assembly requested the Secretary-General, and invited the executive heads of organizations participating in the Unit, to take the necessary measures to ensure that the thematic reports of the Unit were listed under the appropriate substantive agenda items of the work programmes of the Assembly, other pertinent organs and bodies of the United Nations and the appropriate legislative organs of the other participating organizations (resolution 50/233).

At its fifty-fourth session, the General Assembly endorsed the follow-up system annexed to the Unit's report (A/52/34) and invited the Unit to include in its annual reports approved recommendations that had not been implemented (resolution 54/16).

At its fifty-fifth session, the General Assembly decided to consider the annual reports of the Unit on an annual basis (resolution 55/230).

At its fifty-ninth session, the General Assembly decided that the Unit should include in its annual reports information on implementation and the results achieved by organizations in respect of their follow-up to the recommendations of the Unit, as endorsed by their legislative bodies, and the arrangements put in place by participating organizations for reporting thereon (resolution 59/267).

At its sixty-first session, the General Assembly requested that reports of the Unit include information on savings, acceptance rate of recommendations and implementation status by impact category (resolution 61/238, sect. I).

At the same session, the General Assembly decided to consider jointly the annual report and programme of work of the Unit, starting from the sixty-second session (resolution 61/260).

At its sixty-second session, the General Assembly invited the Unit to report in the context of its annual reports on experience in the implementation of the follow-up system by the participating organizations (resolution 62/246).

At its sixty-ninth session, the General Assembly reiterated its requests that the Unit issue its reports in all the official languages of the United Nations, well in advance of meetings of the legislative organs of participating organizations. The Assembly also reiterated its request to the executive heads of the participating organizations to fully comply with the statutory procedures for consideration of the reports of the Unit, to make full use of the web-based system of the Unit and to provide an in-depth analysis of how the recommendations of the Unit are being implemented (resolution 69/275).

At its seventy-first session, the General Assembly considered the report of the Unit for the year 2016 and programme of work for 2017. The Assembly welcomed the coordination of the Unit with the Board of Auditors and the Office of Internal Oversight Services and encouraged those bodies to continue to share experiences, knowledge, best practices and lessons learned with other United Nations audit and oversight bodies, as well as with the Independent Audit Advisory Committee, with a view to avoiding overlap or duplication and achieving further synergy, cooperation, effectiveness and efficiency, without prejudice to the respective mandates of the audit and oversight bodies (resolution 71/281).

At the same session, the General Assembly recognized that the effectiveness of the Unit system-wide is a shared responsibility of the Unit, the Member States and the secretariats of the participating organizations, and also recognized the need to continue to enhance the impact of the Unit on the management efficiency and transparency of the participating organizations within the United Nations system (resolution 71/281).

Also at the same session, the General Assembly reiterated its requests to the Secretary-General and the other executive heads of the participating organizations to fully assist the Unit with the timely provision of all information requested by it. The Assembly requested the Secretary-General to intensify efforts to ensure that the United Nations system gives timely and due consideration to the recommendations of the Unit and to improve the implementation rates thereof. The Assembly reiterated its request to the Unit to consider optimizing the number of projects in its programme of work through prioritization (resolution 71/281).

144. United Nations common system

The General Assembly, by its resolution 3042 (XXVII), decided in principle to establish an international civil service commission for the regulation and coordination of the conditions of service of the United Nations common system. By its resolution 3357 (XXIX), the Assembly approved the statute of the International Civil Service Commission. The United Nations common system comprises 13 organizations that have accepted the Commission's statute and, together with the United Nations itself, participate in the United Nations common system of salaries and allowances. Other organizations have not formally accepted the statute but fully participate in the Commission's work or apply the common system of salaries, allowances and benefits. Under its statute, the Commission is required to submit an annual report to the Assembly, which is also to be transmitted to the governing organs of the other organizations of the common system, through their executive heads.

At its seventy-first session, the General Assembly recalled its request, contained in its resolution 70/244, that the Commission continue to monitor progress in achieving gender balance, and in that regard requested the Commission to continue to provide information to the Assembly at its seventy-second session on the progress made by organizations of the United Nations common system in the implementation of existing gender policies and measures towards achieving the goal of 50/50 gender balance and strengthening geographical diversity within the common system. The Assembly also requested the Commission to include information on the margin, as well as on the development of the margin over time, in an annex to its annual reports, and further requested the Commission, during its next review of the General Service salary survey methodologies under the Flemming principle, to consider the possibility of further increases in the weight of the local national civil services among the retained employers, taking into account that the United Nations is a civil service organization, as well as past experiences of the Commission from the previous round of surveys (resolution 71/264).

145. Administrative and budgetary coordination of the United Nations with the specialized agencies and the International Atomic Energy Agency

Article 17, paragraph 3, of the Charter of the United Nations provides that the General Assembly shall examine the administrative budgets of the specialized agencies referred to in Article 57 with a view to making recommendations to the agencies concerned. General Assembly resolution 14 (I) provides that one of the functions of the Advisory Committee on Administrative and Budgetary Questions is to examine on behalf of the Assembly the administrative budgets of the specialized agencies and proposals for financial arrangements with such agencies. This provision is repeated in rule 157 of the rules of procedure of the Assembly. At its forty-seventh session, the Assembly requested the Secretary-General to submit the next statistical report by the Administrative Committee on Coordination to the Assembly at its forty-ninth session and thereafter every second year, and to add to the material covered therein information on assessed and voluntary contributions paid by Member States and non-Member States in each of the two prior calendar years (decision 47/449).

The General Assembly considered the item at its sixty-first to seventieth sessions (resolutions 61/275, 61/279, 62/87, 62/225, 62/232, 62/236, 62/247, 63/248, 63/265, 64/232, 65/250, 66/236, 67/258, 68/21, 69/252 and 70/111).

At its sixty-fourth session, under the item entitled “Review of the implementation of General Assembly resolutions 48/218 B, 54/244 and 59/272”, the Assembly endorsed the observations, comments and recommendations on the effectiveness, efficiency and impact of OIOS contained in the annex to the annual report of the Independent Audit Advisory Committee (A/64/288) (resolution 64/263).

At its sixty-seventh session, the General Assembly requested the Secretary-General to entrust the Office with publishing audit reports on the website of the Office, on an experimental basis, and decided that a final decision on the continuation of the experiment should be made in the context of the review of the mandate of the Office to be conducted during the sixty-ninth session of the Assembly (resolution 67/258).

At its sixty-ninth session, under the item entitled “Review of the implementation of General Assembly resolutions 48/218 B, 54/244, 59/272 and 64/263”, the General Assembly requested the Secretary-General to entrust the Office with publishing audit and evaluation reports on the website of the Office as from 1 January 2015, and also requested the Secretary-General to take all measures necessary to ensure that the credibility of the Organization and its staff was protected (resolution 69/253).

At its seventieth session, the General Assembly encouraged the Secretary-General to continue his efforts to update the administrative instructions related to the work of the Office, in particular ST/AI/371 and ST/AI/371/Amend.1, so as to ensure that they reflected the mandate of the Office as well as of other investigation functions. In addition, the Assembly noted the lengthy delays in the average time to complete investigations and emphasized the need for the Office to take appropriate steps to address those delays as a matter of priority and to report thereon in the context of future annual reports. The Assembly noted the ongoing professional initiatives aimed at strengthening the functioning of the Office, encouraged continued efforts in that regard, including an assessment of working relationships across the divisions, and looked forward to updates in the context of future annual reports (resolution 70/111).

At its seventy-first session, the General Assembly reaffirmed the independence and the separate and distinct roles of the internal and external oversight mechanisms and recalled that the Office should exercise operational independence relating to the performance of its internal oversight functions, under the authority of the Secretary-General, in accordance with the relevant resolutions. The Assembly requested the Secretary-General to continue to promote effective coordination and collaboration with regard to the audit, evaluation and investigation functions of the Office in order to ensure an integrated approach to its oversight function, bearing in mind the operational independence of the Office, and to ensure that all relevant resolutions pertaining to the work of the Office are brought to the attention of the relevant managers and that all relevant resolutions, including those of a cross-cutting nature, are taken into account by the Office in the conduct of its activities. The Assembly also requested the Secretary-General to continue to ensure the full implementation of the accepted recommendations of the Office, including those relating to cost avoidance, recovery of overpayments, efficiency gains and other improvements, in a prompt and timely manner, and to provide detailed justifications in cases in which recommendations of the Office are not accepted. The Assembly stressed the need for the Office to increase emphasis on investigations involving cases of fraud and recognized its role in supporting the Organization to assess, analyse and act upon all fraud risks, and requested the Secretary-General to continue to make every effort to fill the remaining vacant posts, particularly in the Investigations Division and in the field, in accordance with the relevant provisions governing recruitment in the United Nations (resolution 71/7).

147. Administration of justice at the United Nations

The General Assembly considered the item at its fifty-fifth to fifty-ninth and sixty-first to seventieth sessions (resolutions 55/258, 57/307, 59/283, 61/261, 62/228, 63/253, 64/119, 64/233, 65/251, 66/237, 67/241, 68/254, 69/203 and 70/112 and decisions 56/458 C, 58/576, 61/503 A, 63/531, 64/527, 64/553 and 65/213).

At its sixty-second session, the General Assembly established: (a) a two-tier formal system of administration of justice, comprising a first instance United Nations Dispute Tribunal and an appellate instance United Nations Appeals Tribunal; (b) the Office of Administration of Justice, comprising the Office of the Executive Director and the Office of Staff Legal Assistance, as well as the Registries for the United Nations Dispute Tribunal and the United Nations Appeals Tribunal, the Registries to be overseen by the Principal Registrar; (c) a single integrated and decentralized Office of the Ombudsman for the United Nations Secretariat, funds and programmes with branches in several duty stations and a new mediation division; (d) the Internal Justice Council; and (e) the Management Evaluation Unit in the Office of the Under-Secretary-General for Management (resolution 62/228).

At its sixty-third session, the General Assembly adopted the statutes of the United Nations Dispute Tribunal and the United Nations Appeals Tribunal and decided that the Tribunals would be operational as of 1 July 2009 and that all persons who had access to the Office of the Ombudsman under the previous system would also have access to the new informal system (resolution 63/253). The statutes have been amended at subsequent sessions (resolutions 66/237, 69/203, 70/112 and 71/266).

Consideration of the item in the Fifth Committee

At its seventy-first session, the General Assembly recalled its decision that the interim independent assessment, established to examine the system of administration of justice in all its aspects, should include consideration of the relationship between the formal and informal systems and whether the aims and objectives of the system set out in resolution 61/261 were being achieved in an efficient and cost-effective manner. The Assembly noted with appreciation the findings of the Interim Independent Assessment Panel that the system had made a good start and was an improvement over the previous system, and that the aims and objectives of the system had been achieved to a very great extent. The Assembly endorsed recommendations 9, 13, 15, 33, 35 and 36 of the Panel, aimed at further improvement of the system, and requested the Secretary-General to ensure their implementation within existing resources and to report thereon and on measures taken to strengthen protection from retaliation in his future reports. The Assembly decided to consider the issues related to resource requirements for improving the functioning of a transparent, professionalized, adequately resourced and decentralized system of administration of justice at the United Nations at its seventy-second session. The Assembly also requested the Secretary-General to provide comprehensive information concerning remedies available to non-staff personnel for discussion on the matter at its seventy-second session (resolution 71/266, sects. I and IV).

At the same session, with regard to the informal system, the General Assembly welcomed the promulgation of the revised terms of reference and guidelines for the Office of the United Nations Ombudsman and Mediation Services. The Assembly encouraged the Office to intensify its outreach activities to encourage informal dispute resolution. It recognized the efforts of the Office concerning the informal resolution of conflict, noted with appreciation its activities to promote conflict competence within the Organization and requested the Secretary-General to provide more detailed information on the impact of conflict prevention training and on efforts to enhance cooperation between the formal and informal parts of the system in his next report. The Assembly welcomed the analysis of the root causes of conflict included in the report of the Secretary-General on the activities of the Office (A/71/157) and urged the Secretary-General to address the systemic issues identified in the report in order to improve upon the policies and procedures of the Organization. The Assembly recognized that access to the Office is a challenge for staff in the field, encouraged the development of measures to address those challenges and requested the Secretary-General to report thereon at its seventy-second session (resolution 71/266, sect. II).

Also at the same session, with regard to the formal system, the General Assembly recognized the ongoing positive contribution of the Office of Staff Legal Assistance to the system of administration of justice. The Assembly reiterated that decisions taken by the Tribunals should conform with its resolutions on human resources management. It stressed the ability of the Tribunals to award costs against parties that manifestly abuse the proceedings and encouraged the Tribunals to proactively manage cases and/or to summarily dismiss cases under appropriate circumstances. The Assembly emphasized the importance of the publication of the judgments of the Tribunals in order to make the reasoning behind the decisions well known across the Organization and encouraged the exploration of better approaches when referring to personal data in judgments to protect the privacy of individuals who have no means to respond publicly. The Assembly extended the mandates of three ad litem judge positions and the incumbent judges in the United Nations Dispute Tribunal for one year, from 1 January to 31 December 2017. It requested the Secretary-General to continue to track data on the number of cases received by the Management

Evaluation Unit and the Dispute Tribunal to identify any emerging trends and to include in future reports both his observations on those statistics and his views on the effectiveness of the Management Evaluation Unit. The Assembly noted the work of the interdepartmental working group on the delegation of authority with regard to disciplinary matters and indicated that it looked forward to receiving updates in the next report of the Secretary-General. The Assembly requested the Secretary-General to continue to ensure the accountability of managers whose grossly negligent decisions had led to litigation and subsequent financial loss, to review referrals and other potential options for accountability with the aim of ensuring its enforcement, and to report on both matters at the seventy-second session. The Assembly further extended the experimental period for the voluntary supplementing funding mechanism with respect to additional resources for the Office of Staff Legal Assistance (by way of a payroll deduction not exceeding 0.05 per cent of a staff member's monthly net base salary, in accordance with paragraph 33 of resolution 68/254) from 1 January to 31 December 2017, encouraged the Secretary-General to strengthen incentives for staff not to opt out of the voluntary supplemental funding mechanism, particularly in locations where the participation level was low and requested the Secretary-General to explore options to ensure the sustainability of the mechanism, to continue to collect and examine data relating to staff contributions to the Office and to report on both matters to the Assembly in his next report. The Assembly approved the Code of Conduct for Legal Representatives and Litigants in Person annexed to the resolution and the proposal of the Secretary-General to amend the statute of the Dispute Tribunal concerning eligibility criteria for the appointment of the judges and the statutes of both Tribunals concerning the authority of their Presidents to monitor the timely delivery of judgments (resolution 71/266, sect. III).

Also at its seventy-first session, the General Assembly stressed that the Internal Justice Council could help to ensure independence, professionalism and accountability in the system of administration of justice and requested the Secretary-General to entrust the Council with including the views of both the Dispute Tribunal and the Appeals Tribunal in its reports. The Assembly invited the Sixth Committee to consider the legal aspects of the report to be submitted by the Secretary-General, without prejudice to the role of the Fifth Committee as the Main Committee entrusted with responsibilities for administrative and budgetary matters (resolution 71/266, sect. IV).

Consideration of the item in the Sixth Committee

At the seventy-first session, as set out in a letter from the Chair of the Sixth Committee (see A/C.5/71/10, annex), the Sixth Committee considered the legal aspects of the reports of the Secretary-General and of the Internal Justice Council on the administration of justice at the United Nations and the report of the Secretary-General on the activities of the Office of the United Nations Ombudsman and Mediation Services. The Sixth Committee drew the attention of the Fifth Committee to a number of specific issues relating to the legal aspects of those reports.

150. Administrative and budgetary aspects of the financing of the United Nations peacekeeping operations

Cross-cutting issues

At its resumed seventy-first session, in June 2017, the General Assembly recalled its resolution 68/282 of 30 June 2014, considered the letter dated 8 February 2017 from the Chair of the 2017 Working Group on Contingent-Owned Equipment and took note of the report transmitted therein, took note of the report of the Secretary-General on the triennial review of the rates and standards for reimbursement to Member States for contingent-owned equipment and the related report of the Advisory Committee on Administrative and Budgetary Questions and endorsed the conclusions and recommendations contained in the report of the Advisory Committee (resolution 71/296).

At the same session, the General Assembly welcomed the determination of the Secretary-General to fully implement the United Nations policy of zero tolerance for sexual exploitation and abuse and requested the Secretary-General to report on the results achieved and challenges encountered in his next report on special measures for protection from sexual exploitation and sexual abuse. The Assembly expressed serious concern over the allegations of sexual exploitation and abuse reported in 2016, in particular the number of allegations involving the most egregious forms of sexual abuse, noted that proposals of the Secretary-General on promoting protection from sexual exploitation and abuse require further consultations with Member States, in particular with troop- and police-contributing countries, in order to accommodate their views and concerns, and requested the Secretary-General to hold such consultations and to report on the outcomes at the second part of the resumed seventy-second session of the Assembly. The Assembly noted with appreciation the work of the Special Coordinator on Improving the United Nations Response to Sexual Exploitation and Abuse and requested the Secretary-General to continue his efforts to harmonize, system-wide, the United Nations approach to addressing sexual exploitation and abuse. The Assembly also requested the Secretary-General to outline specific measures for increasing cooperation within the United Nations system to address identified gaps in screening and investigative capacity and in the case management and reporting of allegations of sexual exploitation and abuse in his next report (resolution 71/297).

Also at the same session, the Assembly welcomed the steps taken to introduce victims' assistance support functions at Headquarters and in the field and looked forward to future proposals from the Secretary-General in that regard, requested the Secretary-General to include in his next report a holistic analysis of United Nations inter-agency cooperation at the country level for the provision of assistance and support to victims of sexual exploitation and abuse and welcomed his determination to fully enforce the newly promulgated policy on the protection of whistle-blowers in order to empower and encourage staff to report wrongdoing, including in cases of sexual exploitation and abuse. The Assembly also welcomed the determination of the Secretary-General to strengthen the investigative capacity, in cases of sexual exploitation and abuse, of the Secretariat and its separately administered funds and programmes system-wide and looked forward to receiving information thereon in the next report. The Assembly commended the intention of the Secretary-General to instruct senior leadership to develop and submit an annual plan of action to combat sexual exploitation and abuse, with specific actions and timelines, and requested the Secretary-General to report to the Assembly thereon in the context of his next report. The Assembly also requested the Secretary-General to immediately inform the Member States concerned about allegations of sexual exploitation and abuse, of which United Nations entities might become aware, in missions operating under a Security Council mandate and to ensure that the Member States concerned receive all available information to allow for appropriate follow-up by their national authorities. It reaffirmed that all personnel across the United Nations system must be held to the same standard of conduct so as to preserve the image, credibility, impartiality and integrity of the United Nations and remained committed to further consideration of ways of ensuring managerial, command and individual accountability. The Assembly welcomed the strong commitment of troop- and police-contributing countries to the United Nations policy of zero tolerance for sexual exploitation and sexual abuse and commended their efforts in this regard; encouraged the Secretary-General to foster capacity-building and learning, including by facilitating the cooperation of troop- and police-contributing countries on best practices; called upon Member States to take appropriate steps to investigate allegations of sexual exploitation and abuse, hold perpetrators accountable and repatriate units when there is credible evidence of widespread or systemic sexual exploitation and abuse by those units; urged all non-United Nations forces authorized under a Security Council mandate to take adequate measures to prevent and combat impunity for sexual exploitation and abuse by their personnel; and requested the Secretary-General to continue to include in future reports information on allegations of sexual exploitation and abuse by non-United Nations forces operating under a Security Council mandate. The Assembly noted that the report of the Secretary-General on special measures for protection from sexual exploitation and abuse did not contain recommendations on mitigating risk factors linked to recent allegations of sexual exploitation and abuse and requested the Secretary-General to include in his next report recommendations on comprehensively mitigating those risk factors (resolution 71/297).

Also at its resumed seventy-first session, the Assembly requested the Secretary-General to provide full justification for any proposed requirements in the context of his proposals for the regular budget for the biennium 2018-2019 and the proposed budgets of the relevant peacekeeping missions for the period 1 July 2018 to 30 June 2019, ensure transparency and cost-efficiency in budgeting for the Office of the Victims' Rights Advocate and its staff and include detailed information on related costs, functions, duties, workload, expected accomplishments and indicators of achievement, in accordance with relevant rules and regulations, in the context of future budget proposals. The Assembly also requested the Secretary-General to report in future budget requests for peacekeeping operations on the findings of risk assessments conducted by missions regarding sexual exploitation and abuse and actions under way to address those risks and to include an assessment of the implementation by missions of the zero-tolerance policy for all United Nations uniformed and civilian personnel (resolution 71/297).

Financing of the United Nations Logistics Base at Brindisi, Italy

At its resumed seventy-first session, in June 2017, the General Assembly considered the reports of the Secretary-General on the financing of the United Nations Logistics Base and the report of the Office of Internal Oversight Services on its review and evaluation of strategic deployment stocks. The Assembly approved the cost estimates for the United Nations Logistics Base at Brindisi, Italy, amounting to $81,000,000 for the period from 1 July 2017 to 30 June 2018, and decided on the financing of the requirements for the United Nations Logistics Base for the same period (resolution 71/294).
